Ghosts.

Not Col. Ingersoll's "aristocracy of the air," but real human ghosts. Ghosts that were once healthy men and women, but are now simply the "ghosts of what they once were." As we meet them, and inquire the cause of the change, they repeat the old, old story, "a cold," "neglected cough," "catarrh," "overwork," or "dyspepsia," "liver complaint," and "constipation," with unsuccessful physicians and remedies. In offering his Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets for the cure of the above affections, Dr. Pierce does not recommend them as a "sure cure" in all stages. For if the lungs be half wasted away, or there be a cancerous complication, no physician or medicine can cure. The Discovery is, however, an unequaled pectoral and blood-purifier. It speedily cures the most aggravated cough, or cold, and in its early or middle stages, consumption. By correcting all irregularities of the stomach and liver, it readily cures blotches, pimples, scrofulous ulcers, "bunches" or tumors. Hundreds testify that it has restored their health, after eminent physicians had failed. For constipation use the Pellets. As a local remedy for catarrh, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

—It is a terrible thing to be in debt. If a man owes you a small sum of money you can almost know he feels bad about it, though he never mentions the subject.

—Mr. Gibson, proprietor of the Gibson house, Cincinnati, wooed Miss Bunce, but his parents objected to the match, and he, although forty-five years old, conformed to their wishes. Miss Bunce held him to his engagement, however, until he had bought her release for $50,000 in notes of $10,000 each. Afterward he renewed his courtship and she gave him back the notes, whereupon he cut her acquaintance. That is the story as told by Miss Bunce in her suit for damages.

—The cheapest freighting in the country is said to be the carrying of coal from Pittsburg to places on the Ohio river. Barges capable of carrying 24,000 bushels are built for $800 each, and kept loaded in readiness for a freshet in the river. When the desired high water comes, from eight to twelve of these boats are strung together and started down stream, with a steamboat in front to guide them and increase the speed. The boats are sold to be broken up on arrival at their destination.

—A few days since a party of gentlemen were together. One man, a joker, stepped up to a member of the party and, holding a long hair before his eyes, said: "See here, old fellow, this looks suspicious. Where did this long hair come from?" "Why, that's from my wife's head!" "Are you sure of it?" "Sure of it? of course I am. You don't suppose you would find any other woman's hair about me, do you?" "No, probably not; but I am sorry you are so sure it is your wife's hair, for I just picked it off the coat of this gentleman," pointing to a friend near by.

—A prominent lawyer of Toledo, while eating his breakfast a few mornings since, saw a cow pass in front of his house that very much resembled his own, an animal which has the bad habit of straying away. Dropping his half finished breakfast, and with hat and in slippers, the lawyer gave chase to the animal, which he supposed was his own. It was a hard race between the dignified attorney and the old cow. She made good time and so did the lawyer. At last, however, after a hot chase of several blocks, he caught her and led her back in triumph to the barn, where he was disgusted to find his own cow quietly feeding.

—At one of the fashionable retail stores in New York—where a well-ordered luncheon has for some time been in use—there are also comfortable chairs and a table, on which are the newspapers and pens, paper and envelopes for any one who wishes to send off a hasty note. Near by is a post office, where there is every convenience and better attendance than is given in some of the city post offices. To these attractions there has lately been added a perfume fountain; this has several pretty designed figures of children on it which drop the perfume from the vases or horns of plenty which they carry into little shells; a little boy dressed as a jockey dispenses Jocky Club; this fountain is always surrounded by ladies and children, who carry away on their handkerchiefs enough perfume to last them for hours.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Propr, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of clean, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Heated feeling about Stomach, Rush of blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugarcoated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Propr, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into the throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, fetid, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, coughing, or distruction of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be applied, or a powder applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which dry medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined bodies.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will die well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without a right cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but at nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, encrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head is cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen.—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 16.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made me familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Nasal Syringe, and full directions for its use. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Manchester & Lawrence Railroad.

The annual report of the directors of this corporation gives the net earnings of the road last year as $100,411, from which two dividends of $50,000 each have been paid. The business of the road, as shown by the tons of freight and number of passengers carried, is larger than that of the preceding year. Of the gross earnings, $53,151 is credited to passengers, and $32,327 to freight. The road repairs cost $10,228, and the wood purchased $11,735; insurance and taxes, $29,776.21. In all, 120,906 passengers were carried during the year, of which 70,457 were local. The relations of the road with connecting roads are reported entirely satisfactory. The directors say: "It would be for the interests of the stockholders that authority should be obtained from the legislature by which additional arrangements might be made by this corporation with its connecting roads, both above and below, in order to facilitate the transaction of the business coming to this road, and they believe that thereby the convenience of the public might be promoted and pecuniary advantage accrue to this corporation." The annual meeting of the corporation will be held on Friday of this week.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Storer Encampment extends a cordial invitation to all Soldiers and Sailors of the late war living in this city and vicinity, and also to the sons of soldiers and sailors, to participate with them in the observances of Memorial Day.

PER ORDER.

That Cold of Yours may run into consumption if you don't take Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

That Hectic Flush Denotes Danger. Relieve yourself by using and at once too, Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

In the cure of Consumption there is probably no known Medicine equal to the Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, St. John, N. B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonishing. We write this unsolicitated by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.

Ghosts.

Not Col. Ingersoll's "aristocracy of the air," but real human ghosts. Ghosts that were once healthy men and women, but are now simply the "ghosts of what they once were." As we meet them, and inquire the cause of all this change, they repeat the old, old story, "a cold," "neglected cough," "catarrh," "overwork," or "dyspepsia," "liver complaint," and "constipation," with unsuccessful physicians and remedies. In offering his Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets for the cure of the above affections, Dr. Pierce does not recommend them as a "sure cure" in all stages. For if the lungs be half wasted away, or there be a cancerous complication, no physician or medicine can cure. The Discovery is, however, an unequaled pectoral and blood-purifier. It speedily cures the most aggravated cough, or cold, and in its early or middle stages, consumption. By correcting all irregularities of the stomach and liver, it readily cures blotches, pimples, scrofulous ulcers, "bunches" or tumors. Hundreds testify that it has restored their health, after eminent physicians had failed. For constipation use the Pellets. As a local remedy for catarrh, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

—It is a terrible thing to be in debt. If a man owes you a small sum of money you can almost know he feels bad about it, though he never mentions the subject.

—Mr. Gibson, proprietor of the Gibson house, Cincinnati, wooed Miss Bunce, but his parents objected to the match, and he, although forty-five years old, conformed to their wishes. Miss Bunce held him to his engagement, however, until he had bought her release for $50,000 in notes of $10,000 each. Afterward he renewed his courtship and she gave him back the notes, whereupon he cut her acquaintance. That is the story as told by Miss Bunce in her suit for damages.

—The cheapest freighting in the country is said to be the carrying of coal from Pittsburg to places on the Ohio river. Barges capable of carrying 24,000 bushels are built for $500 each, and kept loaded in readiness for a freshet in the river. When the desired high water comes, from eight to twelve of these boats are strung together and started down stream, with a steamboat in front to guide them and increase the speed. The boats are sold to be broken up on arrival at their destination.

—A few days since a party of gentlemen were together. One man, a joker, stepped up to a member of the party and, holding a long hair before his eyes, said: "See here, old fellow, this looks suspicious. Where did this long hair come from?" "Why, that's from my wife's head!" "Are you sure of it?" "Sure of it? of course I am. You don't suppose you would find any other woman's hair about me, do you?" "No, probably not; but I am sorry you are so sure it is your wife's hair, for I just picked it off the coat of this gentleman," pointing to a friend near by.

—At one of the fashionable retail stores in New York—where a well-ordered luncheon has for some time been in use—there are also comfortable chairs and a table, on which are the newspapers and pens, paper and envelopes for any one who wishes to send off a hasty note. Near by is a post office, where there is every convenience and better attendance than is given in some of the city post offices. To these attractions there has lately been added a perfume fountain; this has several pretty designed figures of children on it which drop the perfume from the vases or horns of plenty which they carry into little shells; a little boy dressed as a jockey dispenses Jocky Club; this fountain is always surrounded by ladies and children, who carry away on their hankerchiefs enough perfume to last them for hours.

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE
GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more orignal matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.
TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow blotches upon the face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, thermal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are expanded. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood, both by digestion.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Hooted Appetite, Sick Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of Instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried thoroughout and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures the recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprr. CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined leads.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing; a one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and many remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as much but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutional in its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the cold poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen.—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostrils. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored, I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. B. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

Manchester & Lawrence Railroad.

The annual report of the directors of this corporation gives the net earnings of the road last year as $100,411, from which two dividends of $50,000 each have been paid. The business of the road, as shown by the tons of freight and number of passengers carried, is larger than that of the preceding year. Of the gross earnings, $53,151 is credited to passengers, and $32,327 to freight. The road repairs cost $10,228, and the wood purchased $11,735; insurance and taxes, $29,776.21. In all, 120,906 passengers were carried during the year, of which 70,457 were local. The relations of the road with connecting roads are reported entirely satisfactory. The directors say: "It would be for the interests of the stockholders that authority should be obtained from the legislature by which additional arrangements might be made by this corporation with its connecting roads, both above and below, in order to facilitate the transaction of the business coming to this road, and they believe that thereby the convenience of the public might be promoted and pecuniary advantage accrue to this corporation." The annual meeting of the corporation will be held on Friday of this week.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Storer Encampment extends a cordial invitation to all Soldiers and Sailors of the late war living in this city and vicinity, and also to the sons of soldiers and sailors, to participate with them in the observances of Memorial Day.

William Lloyd Garrison.

William Lloyd Garrison died in New York at 10:45 o'clock P. M. on Saturday, his four sons and his daughter being by his bedside at the time.

Mr. Garrison was the pioneer and leader of the anti-slavery party, at a time when it took strength of character and personal courage to proclaim such doctrines even at the north. At the same time, he may fairly be called a conservative abolitionist, for slavery once dead he was ready to see the Anti-Slaverly Society adjourn without day. The war ended, Mr. Garrison ceased to be an agitator, and his later course has been marked by none of that perpetual unrest which has distinguished Mr. Wendell Phillips.

Mr. Garrison was born Dec. 12th, 1804, in Newburyport, Mass. He served an apprenticeship to the printing business in the office of the Newburyport Herald, and at once began his career as a newspaper writer. His hostility to slavery, war, and intemperance, dates back to his earliest years, and as early as 1828, in the Bennington (Vt.) Journal of the Times, his anti-slavery articles attracted such attention that he received an offer to go to Baltimore to conduct a journal specially devoted to that cause. From that time forward he devoted himself to advocating emancipation, both in and out of season, and did not moderate either his sentiments or his language. Indeed, he did not hesitate to advocate the dissolution of the Union, deeming its condition immoral; and the Constitution, because it seemed to him to recognize the rights of slaveholders, he denounced as "a covenant with death and an agreement with hell."

He began the publication of the Liberator in Boston, Jan. 1st, 1831, and kept it alive until 1865, when in the last number he was able to print the proclamation declaring adopted the amendment to the Constitution forever forbidding slavery in the United States. He was president of the Anti-Slavery Society from 1843 till he resigned in 1865, taking the ground that its usefulness was ended.

He made several visits to England, where he was very handsomely treated. Several volumes by Mr. Garrison have been published, but his work has been mostly speeches and editorials.

Registration of Births and Deaths.

The Great and General Court of New Hampshire meets at Concord in a few days to attend to the legislative needs of the State, and after its adjournment there will be no other regular session until June, 1881. Our attention has recently been drawn to the very defective condition of the State laws concerning the registration of marriages, births and deaths; and we suggest to our members of the legislature that an act which should secure a proper registration in place of the incomplete and practically worthless registration now provided for, would be of positive value and could not stir up any political hornet's nest.

The registration law of the State can be found in Chapter 181 of the General Laws, the first section providing that the secretary of State shall furnish blanks to clergymen and others authorized to marry, and to physicians, selectmen, town clerks, and clerks of the Society of Friends, for recording births, marriages and deaths. The same section specifies what particular items of information regarding the persons whose marriage, birth or death is reported, should be given.

Section 2. Every person authorized to unite persons in marriage shall make a record of every marriage solemnized before him in conformity with the preceding, and shall annually in the month of April deliver to the clerk of the town in which the marriage took place, such record for the year ending on the last day of March next preceding, or a copy thereof. Also every clerk of the Society of Friends shall do the like. If the parties do not reside in the town where the marriage is solemnized the person solemnizing shall forthwith make return of the record of such marriage or a copy thereof, to the clerk of the town in which the intention of marriage of the parties was entered.

Section 3. Every physician attending at the birth of any child in this State, or in the last sickness and at the time of the death of any person dying in this State, shall make a record of such birth or death, in conformity with the requisitions prescribed for blank records of births or deaths in the first section of this chapter; and shall annually, before the 15th day of April, deliver such record, for the year ending on the last day of March next preceding, or a copy thereof, to the selectmen of the town in which such birth or death may have occurred. For his services in recording and making return of each birth and death as herein before provided, he shall receive from the selectmen the sum of twenty-five cents.

Section 4. The selectmen and assessors of each town, while taking the inventory in the month of April, shall ascertain, by inquiry in each family or household, the statistics of births and deaths in said town during the year ending on the last day of March preceding, according to the requisitions prescribed for blank records of births and deaths in the first section of this chapter, and, combining the information thus obtained with that contained in the records furnished them by physicians as provided in the preceding section, shall enter upon blanks furnished them for the purpose by the secretary of State, separate records of the births and deaths occuring in said town during the year aforesaid, and deliver such records, annually, on or before the last day of April to the clerk of said town.

Section 5. The clerk of every town shall annually in the month of May, embody and chronologically record, upon blanks in conformity with the requirements of the first section of this chapter, all the information within his control going to make full and complete records of all the births, marriages and deaths occurring in his town during the year ending on the last day of March next preceding; and on or before the second Monday of May, annually, transmit certified copies of such records to the secretary of State, together with the names, residences and official stations of all such persons as have neglected to make returns to him in relation to the subject matters of such records which the law required them to make.

Section six provides that the secretary shall cause the returns to be arranged, indexed and bound and abstracts to be published, and send one copy to each town and one copy to each State and Territory in the Union.

Section seven makes the town clerk's record of birth, marriage or death prima facie evidence.

Section 8. If any person shall willfully neglect or refuse to perform any duty imposed upon him by the provisions of this chapter, he shall be fined not more than $100 for each offence, one half for the use of the town in which the offence occurred, the other half to the use of the complainant.

An inspection of the foregoing provisions will show their inefficiency, and the almost utter worthlessness of any record kept in accordance with them.

Take for instance the registration of marriages. A principal object of this is to prevent fraud in matrimonial affairs, by maintaining an accurate record; and to afford parties legally married official proof of their union, in case it (or the legitimacy of their children) should ever be called in question, and other proof be wanting. Under an efficient registration law these ends are to a very great extent attained; but under the law and practice in this State the recording of a marriage depends on the person solemnizing it living throughout the year, so as to make up his record at its end, and on his paying attention to that duty, and being able to find his own records of such marriages. A couple may have their marriage registered; but in case the minister or justice marrying them dies or moves out of the State before the end of the year, or forgets or neglects to make returns, official record of their marriage will never be made. As to the $100 fine for not making returns, it is enough to say that it has never been imposed in a single instance—and never will be.

Now let us consider the law regarding the registration of births and deaths. The importance of having a strict law—and of a strict observance of such law—in respect to the certifying of births and deaths cannot be overrated. Its rigid observance is one of the best safeguards society affords for the protection of human life. It arrests the would-be infanticide, who would gladly strangle the life from the feeble infant, unwelcome in wedlock, or born of an unholy love; it points the eyes of the would-be poisoner to the ominous word, conviction; and in fine, interposes the security law grants to every human life, as well to the feeble infant, as to stalwart manhood and senile age. But does our State law fill this bill? Not in any degree worth mentioning. The only provision made is for the registration of births and deaths attended by physicians, and the registration of those even may be delayed from the first day of April to the 15th of the following April—more than a year—and even then their registration may not be, and very often is not, attended to. There in no provision for recording births or deaths which occur without the attendance of a physician, excepting that made in section four, and that evidently would not reach the cases which registration is especially intended to do, viz.: cases which the parties interested wish to conceal; nor does it provide any means by which families moving from one town to another can secure the recording of a birth or death where a physician has not been in attendance.

We think it not too much to say that for all practical purposes, either for protecting human life or for furnishing legal evidence of marriage or legitimacy, the registration laws of New Hampshire are worthless, and the registration had under them a ridiculous farce. Will some sensible legislator introduce a bill for an effective, thorough and sensible system of registration?

The Malden Murder.

The mother of the infant found dead in Malden, Mass., on the 17th inst., has been arrested, and proves to be Carrie Porter of Peabody, who made Buzzell's acquaintance in Lynn, where she worked in a shoe factory. She is about twenty-eight years old, and has always borne a good character; she has attended the Baptist Sunday school, and her mother is a member of that church; her family is respectable. Miss Porter says the child was born at the house of Buzzell's sister, Mrs. Carrie Mayo, in Chelsea; that on the day of the murder Buzzell took her to ride in a team, with the child, and on arriving in Malden told her to kill the infant, which she refused to do, when he took it from her, strangled it, and threw it over the fence. John N. Buzzell was arraigned at Malden on Friday for willful murder, pleaded not guilty, and was held for further examination without bail.

Consistency.

The Senate on Friday voted a half million dollars more to the national board of health, making $750,000 in all, to help keep the yellow fever out of the southern States. This generous appropriation was urged and voted for by the same men who deny that the national government has any right to protect the lives and liberties of its citizens in the same States; in other words, while the State governments alone have a right to protect citizens of the Nation in the exercise of their political rights, it is the Nation's duty to protect the southern cities from the evils consequences of their own uncleanliness.

Congress.

The Senate on Friday passed the bill to prevent the introduction of epidemic diseases. The House concurred in the Senate amendments to the legislative appropriation bill, and it goes to the President with the partisan legislation to permit free democratic fraud at the polls tacked to it; it will of course be vetoed—and then the democrats will consult King Caucus to see what must be done.

After an all night session Friday night, the House adjourned Saturday morning at nine o'clock, the democrats having been unable to get a vote on the swindling silver bill. The House met again at noon, and after some time a vote on the bill was taken by agreement, and it passed by a vote of 114 to 97, when the House adjourned.

Naval Matters.

The Constitution arrived at New York on Saturday, from Havre.

The cost of repairing the machinery of the Marion, after a three years' cruse, did not exceed $150.

The proceedings and finding of the court martial in the case of 1st Lieut. F. A. Mullany, of the marine corps, are still under consideration by the revising power.

Favorable reports of the results of the trial of Thiers' ventilating apparatus on board the Tallapoosa during her last trip, have been made to the Secretary of the Navy. The officers of that vessel were struck with the difference in the atmosphere of all parts of the ship while the vessel was under way, and consider the ventilator a most valuable means of purification. As a fog horn the appliance is also a success. It can be heard a mile or two.

The Powhatan left Port Royal, S. C., May 23d, for Hampton roads.

Lieut. J. W. Miller is detached from the naval academy, and ordered to the tug Standish as executive officer.

A CARD.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1872, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

AROUND HOME.

The Cocheco Manufacturing Co. pays a dividend of three per cent, June 2d; the Jackson Co. pays $30 per share, June 19th; the Amoskeag Co. pays its dividend June 16th.

Rev. James DeNormandie preached to a large congregation, in the Unitarian church at Exeter on Sunday. Many persons from the other churches in the town were present.

Mr. Patrick Morrison, a blacksmith in the employ of the Eastern railroad, was hurt while working at the round-house on Saturday by the falling of a rail upon his leg, and had to be taken home in a hack. His injuries are not thought to be serious.

The U. S. S. Kearsarge will take out in her crew quite a number of young men of this city, among them being Joseph Quinn, William Harvey, George Woods, Charles Chase, Barney Lynch, Walter Prior, and a young fellow named Lyons.

The steamtug George A. Dean, Doane master, which came to this port from Boston week before last on account of some trouble in connection with her construction account, left for Baltimore last week, and put into Newport, R. I., Thursday, for coal and water.

Thomas Philbrook, of Hampton, fell from a car loaded with sleepers at the Eastern railroad wharf on Noble's island, Saturday forenoon, into the water thirty-five feet below, it being then about half tide. He was speedily helped out, spitting blood freely, and sent home on a train.

St. John's and St. Andrew's lodges, of this city, on Friday evening voted to accept the invitation of the Masonic fraternity of Portland to take part in the observances of St. John's day, June 24th, in the latter city, and committees were appointed to arrange the details of the excursion.

Great Falls is to have a "grand thirty-hours' go-as-you-please" race at the town hall, June 4th and 5th, with four prizes, of $100, $50, $30, and $20, the race to be open to all residents in Strafford county, and York county, Me., excepting only McLaughlin, the winner in the last big race at Dover.

The members of Storer Encampment, Post 1, G. A. R., are notified to meet at Mercantile hall on Monday at 1:30 o'clock P. M., to attend the funeral of their late comrade John Moore. All surviving members of Co. K, 13th N. H. Vols., and other soldiers and sailors, are invited to join with the Post in paying deserved respect to his memory.

A hen belonging to Burleigh S. Wells is the most eccentric old hen ever heard of in this part of the world. She left her nest of eggs on which she had been placed to set, and stepped into a barrel containing some kittens and hovered her old wings over the little pussies, refusing to leave them. The old cat couldn't drive her, and man, woman or child couldn't stir her, at last accounts.—Great Falls Journal.

An ecclesiastical council is called by the Union church in Kennebunk for June 3d, to install as its pastor Rev. George A. Lockwood. The churches invited are the Second and Pavilion churches of Biddeford, the State street church of Portland, the First and Second churches of Wells, the South church of Kennebunkport, and the churches of Alfred and Lyman.

The number of births in the city during the year ending March 31st, 1879, was 140; number of deaths during the same period, 129. These numbers are only approximately correct—a sort of rough guess, which is all that the present absurd and inefficient law regarding the registration of vital statistics admits of. The actual number of both births and deaths is no doubt considerably larger than the record shows.

The following items of personal information concerning officers of the navy well known here, we take from the Army and Navy Journal: Paymaster George H. Griffing was registered in Paris week before last. Capt. Henry Erben was present at the reception of the Army and Navy club on Thursday evening, May 15th. Naval Constructor Philip Hichborn recently narrowly escaped serious injury by the parting of a defective fall used in hoisting timber at League island. Commodore Earl English is having built two fine dwellings in Washington, D. C.

The Great Falls Journal says that four or five citizens of that place who have summer residences at York beach, on visiting them recently found they had been broken into and clothing and other articles stolen therefrom.

There was no alarm of fire about half past two o'clock Sunday afternoon, caused by smoke issuing from the cellar of the store No. 29 Market street, formerly the Ten Cents Savings bank. The fire department were quickly on hand, but as the smoke was caused by the building of a fire in the furnace there was no occasion for there service.

The schooner E. H. Pray, which was "wrecked" with an axe and a two-inch auger in Communipaw bay a year or more ago by her captain, Melvin H. Clark, formerly master of the tug Mystic on the Piscataqua, has for some months been engaged in the coasting trade, from which Clark made such a bold attempt to summarily and effectually remove her. We believe no trace of the dishonest skipper has ever been found, he having succeeded much better in concealing himself than he did in attempting to conceal the schooner and her stolen cargo. He was a smart seaman, but evidently a great scamp.

A grand variety entertainment will be given in Music hall to-morrow evening by local talent, for the benefit of Mr. Tony Broderick, who is about to remove to Santa Fe, New Mexico. The beneficiary, who is well known and popular, will appear in the performances, and the boys will do their best to "give Tony a good send off" and merit the large audience we have no doubt will be present. Tickets to all part of the house, twenty-five cents; seats reserved without extra charge, at Dr. Preston's. The performers of the evening give a really good variety show—not merely "a good show for amateurs to give," but what would be called a good show for a travelling company, and much better than some of the latter afford. See adv't.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been left for record in the office of the register of deeds:

PORTSMOUTH.

Thomas Wiggin, of Portsmouth, to Frank B. Wiggin, of Portsmouth, land, $1500.

Thomas Wiggin, of Portsmouth, to Horace M. Wiggin, of Portsmouth, land and buildings, $2000.

EXETER.

Sarah J. Haynes and George L. Wentworth, of Boston, Mass., and Amasa Haynes, of Exeter, to Eunice Haynes, of Exeter, land on Hampton road, $150.

EPPING.

Joan E. McClure, of Cambridge, Mass., to John L. Folsom, of Epping, pasture land partly in Nottingham and partly in Epping, $925.

JOHN MOORE.

By the death of John Moore on the 23d inst., Storer Encampment, G. A. R., loses one of its most active members, who has taken a deep interest in its welfare, and punctually attended all its meetings until prostrated by sickness. He enlisted in Co. K, Capt. M. T. Betton, 13th Reg't N. H. Volunteers, in 1862, and served three years; and his captain testifies that at no time did he ever shirk any duty, no matter how arduous or under what circumstances,—in fair weather or storm, when well fed or half starved, he always responded with alacrity to every call. One of his comrades in the Post writes:

Though but an unpretending mechanic his death leaves a sense of loss in the heart of every one who remembers his honest, manly character. None but a soldier can appreciate him fully, for none other can know what sterling manliness is required to take one through the ordeal of a three years' campaign as cheerfully, dutifully and uncomplainingly as John Moore went. He like a true knight marched, and starved, and fought, three long years for the country we all love; and those who remember his sturdy valor, and whose patriotism has not weakened in these "Piping times of peace," will sadly place the flowers on Jack's grave, as he has many times tenderly placed them on the graves of others.

Mr. Moore was a respected member of Strawberry Bank Encampment and New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows, and of Storer Encampment, Post 1, G. A. R., which bodies will attend his funeral this afternoon at two o'clock, at the Episcopal church.

News and Notes.

The Thirteenth Regt. New York National Guard, of which Henry Ward Beecher is chaplain, visited Montreal last week and was received with marked honors, a $400 flag (the British union jack) being presented the regiment as a memento of the occasion.

At Kingston, Ga., Thursday morning, Thompson Morris and Joseph Morris violated a town ordinance by firing a pistol. Burroughs, the town marshal, collected $1 fine from each. Thompson Morris followed Burroughs to the depot, and slapped his face. Joseph Morris snapped his pistol at Burroughs, who commenced firing at his assailants and retreating across the railroad tracks, the Morrises advancing and emptying their pistols, then throwing stones, until both fell from wounds. Thompson Morris died in thirty minutes, and Joseph is mortally wounded.

In a fight at Culpepper, Va., on Thursday, between D. M. Ream, editor of the Culpepper Times, Philip M. Jones and G. W. Jamison, seven pistol shots were fired by different parties. Ream was shot in the abdomen and fatally wounded, and Jones received a ball in the shoulder. Jamison, who did the most firing was not hurt. Ball was refused Jamison, who was committed to jail.

W. P. Healy and Thomas Hartland, the lawyers who ran away with the books of the New York mine from Marquette, Mich., in the Tilden income case, were each fined $200 Thursday.

Capt. W. R. Hoel, of the United States lighthouse steamer Lily, living near the village of Waynesville, Ohio, has for some time suspected his wife of holding improper relations with Dr. J. B. Hough, his family physician. Thursday night Hoel left home obstensibly for Cincinnati, but returned and concealed himself in the house. Friday morning he surprised his wife and Dr. Hough, who were together in the parlor, and drawing a large sized revolver fired at Hough without effect. He then began clubbing the doctor with the pistol, and while doing so it was discharged, the ball entering Hoel's heart, killing him instantly. Hough was seriously injured.

Burglars entered the house of Mr. George E. Davis at Lawrence, Mass., Thursday night, stole jewelry and money to the amount of $1000, and had a nice time in the parlor besides, drinking three bottles of champagne and smoking a number of choice cigars which they found in the house. It is supposed the inmates of the house were stupefied by chloroform.

Edward Reinhart, the husband of the young woman whose dead body was found in a barrel in Silver lake, on Staten island, N. Y., last September, has been convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hung on the 17th of July. He acknowledged placing the body where it was found, but claimed that the woman died from malpractice, in which he had no share; but the evidence all went to show that the case was one of brutal murder.

The fishing schooner William V. Hutchings arrived at Gloucester, Mass., Tuesday afternoon the 20th inst., with flag at half mast, having lost two of her crew, John Wilkes and Edward Clous, both of Marblehead, who left the vessel Sunday to visit their trawls, some sixty miles off Noman's Land. A thick fog came up and they were unable to regain the vessel. After rowing some ten hours they heard some one splitting wood on board of a vessel, and following the sound, were soon alongside. It proved to be the Carthage of Gloucester, and they were cordially received on board, arriving home five hours after the Hutchings; the crew of the latter vessel ran their flag up at once, with three cheers.

Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. K. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms coming within the province of our several specialities.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, cloth, post-paid for $1.50 or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid.
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for those diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it the
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Prostration, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those desiring further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

THE
Alpine Silver Mining Co.,
OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSABLE.
Daniel J. Spinze, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no ailment that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smellmay be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had catarrh for nine years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored; I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's improved inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

"The Novel Reader."

Long years ago, when the trashy at best and often pernicious old-fashioned novels then in vogue gave our grandmothers an uncompromising prejudice against all works of fiction, the following appropriate poem appeared in the Portsmouth Commercial Advertiser, a very excellent weekly published by Charles Turell:

THE NOVEL READER.

She slumbered in the rocking-chair
She's occupied all day,
And in her lap, half-open there,
The last new novel lay.

She dreams, not she, of earthly things,
For in her busy brain,
The history's imaginings
Are acted o'er again.

Her hair, which long unkempt had been,
Is hanging loosely 'round,
The curls, by many a shining pin,
In closest durance bound.

Upon the hearth the dying brands
Their latest radiance shed;
A flaring candle near her stands,
With a crown about its head.

She wakes, but 'tis, alas, to see
The candle's latest beam,
Nor in the blackened coals can she Revive one friendly gleam.

In darkness, then, she gropes her way,
Wearied, with aching head,
And leaving every door ajar,
Creeps, shivering, into bed.

We certainly have improved upon the past, when such literary garbage as Tom Jones, Joseph Andrews, The Monk, The Abbess, Charlotte Temple, The Gamesters, and Eliza Wharton, were so widely read, for the want, to much extent, of something better of the kind, or modern uovels would not find so intelligent a class of readers. J. H. B.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Storer Encampment extends a cordial invitation to all Soldiers and Sailors of the late war living in this city and vicinity, and also to the sons of soldiers and sailors, to participate with them in the observances of Memorial Day.

PER ORDER.

That Cold of Yours may run into consumption if you don't take Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

That Hectic Flush Denotes Danger. Relieve yourself by using and at once too, Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

In the cure of Consumption there is probably no known Medicine equal to the Syrup of Hypophosphites prepared by Mr. James I. Fellows, chemist, St. John, N. B. A number of cases have come under our notice the past year when the results which have followed its use have been astonishing. We write this unsolicitated by any one, and advise the afflicted to try it.

"Locusts and Wild Honey."

This is something we have not heard much about since reading of John the Baptist, but Mr. John Burroughs, the genial writer of our day, takes this as the title of his last book, because it carries with it a suggestion of the wild and delectable in nature, of the free and ungarnered harvests in which the depths of the wilderness everywhere abound, and which the observing eye and industrious ear can ever enjoy. It is a book for the lover of out-of-doors life in this beautiful season to appreciate; not to read by the register or the anthracite, but on the piazza, in the woods, by the seashore and among the mountains.

Mr. Burroughs' writings have a peculiar charm. We do not mean that every one in the hurry and bustle of a busy life can rest long enough to imbibe the good he suggests in his chapters, but to the seeker after rest the enjoyment of the beautiful in nature, and the simple and often unnoticed in life's pathway, there is a keen relish in his books. We ramble with him on our summer vacation, we wade up the trout brook, we watch the summer clouds, we metaphorically enjoy his luscious country-grown strawberries, and we go through his volume as through a period of invigorating recreation with a refreshing relish. The book is seasonably produced by Messrs. Houghton, Osgood & Co., uniform with the author's "Birds and Poets," and is to be found upon Mr. Myers' counter at the price of $1.50. If one cannot go into the country at this season, the "Birds and Poets" and "Locust and Wild Honey" will be found in a great degree to be the next best substitute for this enjoyment.

News and Notes.

John N. Buzzell, the murderer of his illegitimate child in Malden, Mass., has confessed the crime, but says he was so drunk at the time that he knew nothing about what he was doing. The child's mother, Carrie Porter, was committed to Cambridge jail without bail, Saturday, to answer to a charge of murder.

A linseed oil factory and a large storehouse were burned in Brooklyn, N. Y., Saturday morning, the loss being $750,000.

Miss Mary Greene, of Providence, R. I., celebrated her centennial last week. She was born May 22d, 1779, and has lived to a "green old age."

The Connecticut River Lumber Company, owning steam saw mills at Northampton, Holyoke and Hartford, and driving annually down the Connecticut river eleven million feet of spruce logs, suffers great loss by the stealing of logs as they float down. The latest discovered theft is at North Hadley, Mass., where twenty thousand feet of the company's logs are reported to have been found in the sawmill yard of a prominent citizen and politician, a warrant for whose arrest has been issued. It is reported that a large quantity of the company's logs was found in his mill yard a year or two ago, and that he indemnified the company.

The ship Young America recently arrived at San Francisco from New York, in a passage of 115 1-2 days. She fell in with the British clipper ship Langdale off Cape Horn, and the vessels were in company from that time up to their arrival, neither gaining any decided advantage over the other. It was a very interesting race between the two vessels, and showed that they were very evenly matched. One day both vessels, sailing together, made 278 miles in the twenty-four hours.

A despatch from Calcutta reports the sinking of the steamship Ava, an iron screw vessel of 2600 tons, by a collision, with the loss of sixty-six seamen and four passengers.

An infant daughter of the young wife of Rev. Jonas Burnham, of Farmington, Me., a well-known Congregational clergyman, was brought into the Congregational church in that town a few Sabbaths since and publicly baptized by Rev. Lyman Abbot of New York, the father being in the 81st year of his age. Who shall say that the divine command "to multiply and replenish the earth" is not binding alike upon all ages?

The Cincinnati Gazette has a correspondent employed, going from county seat to county seat in Kentucky, the "dark and bloody ground," gathering statistics of indictments for homicides. This does not take account of murders in that State where there is no indictment. He has already gathered statistics of 500 cases of shooting affrays with intent to kill, in which 160 actual murders were committed.

New Jersey cannot claim the honor of being the first State to naturalize a woman. Margaret Landergan of Portland was naturalized in the United States district court of Maine, June 20th, 1867.

M. Frank Paige, the Boston swindler, was on Saturday sentenced to two years in the house of correction,—a very light punishment.

Resumption has been an accomplished fact for five months, and the treasury has sustained the strain tolerably well. In fact, in the exchange of greenbacks and gold, the treasury holds $200,000 in gold more than it had on the first of January.

In the case of Dr. Witham, on trial at Portland last week for the murder of an illegitimate child, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. He was then put under bonds of $400 to answer the charge of adultery.

John Burroughs, in his "Locusts and Wild Honey," tells of a friend who "in his youth used to go hunting with his gun loaded for wild turkeys, and though he frequently saw plenty of smaller game he generally came home empty-handed, because he was loaded only for turkeys."

Allen Nichols of Southport, Conn., director in the local savings bank, vestryman for many years in Trinity church, and highly respected, hanged himself Thursday while insane.

A wedding appointed to take place at Hartford, Conn., last week, was postponed on account of the failure of the bridegroom, Charles H. Watson of New York, to appear. No trace of him can be obtained, and the reason of his disappearance is unknown.

A band of youthful burglars, numbering ten or more, its members bound to secrecy by the strongest oaths, has just been discovered in Royalton, Vt. Their ages range from fifteen to twenty-two years, and some of them belong to very respectable families. Their operations have been upon stores, shops and dwellings, and they have committed nine or ten different burglaries. Five of the boys have been arrested and some of the property recovered. Dime novels and "boys' story papers" did the business.

Wesley W. Bishop, the Norwich, Conn., murderer, recently sent to State prison for life, came near fatally poisoning a Methodist minister six years ago, when he kept a drug store at Norwich, Conn., by trying to put up a prescription while intoxicated. This closed his career as a druggists.

Mrs. Peleg W. Gardiner, an aged lady of Providence, R. I., was robbed in her house last week by burglars, who nearly strangled her and another old lady to prevent their giving an alarm. The scamps have been arrested, and prove to be Erwin Shattuck, a grandson of Mrs. Gardiner's, and George A. Randolph, a clerk in a wholesale drug store. Neither of them is yet twenty years old.

Advices from Taylorville, Mo., say that a man named McMahon, working for Mr. Ellis, a farmer near that place, committed a criminal assault upon the grown up daughter of Mr. Ellis on Thursday night last, and then fled. Ellis started in pursuit of McMahon, but failing to find him returned for help. When near home McMahon sprang upon him from concealment, wrestled his gun from him and shot him dead. Great excitement prevailed in the neighborhood, and a large party of citizens started to hunt for McMahon.

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Charles H. Bell signifies that he does not propose to enter the lists for governor after Gov. Head, and does not propose to push for the senatorship in June. However, as to the latter "Barkis is willin'."

The Concord railroad directors have at last concluded that the passenger station at Nashua is not up to the requirements of the business of that place. Nashua should have fewer stations, and then the facilities would be better.

One of the judges of the supreme court at a term in this county, when asked by one of his fellow judges if he had been working hard at the term, replied, "yes; I was kept at work approving bills against the county concerning which I knew nothing."

There were severe frosts in the northern and central portions of the State, Friday night.

W. F. Parker, the Nashua incendiary and burglar, has been committed for trial in default of $10,000 bonds.

Henry Young, who a few weeks ago nearly killed his wife with an axe at Pittsfield, and was afterwards sent to the asylum for the insane in Concord, committed suicide on the 21st inst. He tore a sheet into strips, with which he hanged himself.

The arrangements for the inauguration of Gov. Head on Thursday, June 5th, are substantially as follows: The governor-elect, escorted by the Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, will arrive at the Concord railroad station at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, when he will be joined by Gov. Prescott and staff. A salute will be fired, when he will be escorted about the city by three regiments of infantry, two companies of cavalry and three sections of artillery. Inauguration will occur at the conclusion of the parade. A detachment of past commanders of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston are expected to be present as guests of the Amoskeag Veterans. Gov. Talbot of Massachusetts and Gov. Van Zandt of Rhode Island will be guests of the governor-elect. Arrangements have been made for reduced fares for passengers on the various railroads.

On Wednesday night of last week thieves made lively work at Raymond. They broke into the apothecary store of Dr. T. M. Gould and rifled the money drawers, taking about $9 in change; also the meat market of Benj. Marland, securing about $2. The dwelling of Charles Prescott was entered, but nothing was obtained, the thieves probably being frightened away.

The Profile & Franconia Notch railroad opens for travel on the 20th of June. Its cost is about $110,000, and it will be kept in running order during about 100 days of the year. The road is three-foot guage, starts at Bethlehem station, and runs through an almost unbroken forest for ten miles. After leaving Bethlehem, not a highway or fence is crossed by the road.

An Old Negro on the Exodus.

A vigorous old colored man of seventy years, on his way to St. Louis, said to a reporter: "Forty years ago I was taken south in irons, not that I was a criminal or vicious, but that I was a slave, I have remained here during the war, through pestilence and horrors of reconstruction, and have never failed to assist in making a crop. I have borne the evils of bad masters, civil and military, but the present system of working and disposing of crops is such that I can't live here. No masters ever exacted of me the labor necessary now to keep out of debt. Year after year we have fewer luxuries, until it is impossible to provide warm clothing in winter and medicine in summer. I know it is not because I don't earn it, for we make good crops of cotton and live as cheap as possible, but the books always show me in debt. 'There is no law to protect us. Our old masters rent us land and collect it. The stores supply us and sell our cotton. No account of the sales or statements are given us to show what we have bought or our cotton sold for. If we get angry we get curses and threats, and sometimes blows. Kansas has no terrors for us."

Naval Matters.

Lieut. William F. Low is detached from the Vandalia, and placed on sick leave.

Passed Asst. Eng. William S. Moore is detached from the Minnesota, and placed on waiting orders.

The U. S. Pensacola has arrived at Callao, having on board a number of American families flying from Iquique.

AROUND HOME.

The Granite State base ball club played a practise game at the Plains, Monday afternoon, with a picked nine, the club winning by a score of twenty-seven to four, in five innings.

The Nashua Telegraph thinks Portsmouth should have more money at interest. The fact is the people here, as the money rate was low, have used the money on hand to pay their debts.

The first story of Mr. Jones' new brick building at his brewery and near the malt house has been built. The work is under contract to Mr. A. B. Trefethen. The iron pillars are cast by the Somersworth Machine Co., and are upon the spot ready to be set up.

Grand variety entertainment at Music hall this evening by local performers—good ones, too—for the benefit of Mr. Tony Broderick. Tickets only twenty-five cents to all parts of the house; seats reserved at Dr. Preston's without extra charge. The boys who will appear have fairly earned their good reputation in their several specialties, and will to-night endeavor to excel all their previous efforts. If they equal the other shows they have given they will deserve a full house.

The funeral of Mr. John Moore was attended Monday afternoon by the Odd Fellows and Grand Army, the turnout being large when it is considered that a great proportion of the members of these organizations are mechanics or business men who can ill spare an hour from their occupations on a working-day. The especially large delegation from the Grand Army was a graceful testimonial of the esteem in which the faithful and patriotic soldier, and honest and unassuming man, was held by his former comrades.

James Gilchrist, alias Scotty, was before Judge Batchelder on Monday for drunkenness, and was ordered to Brentwood for thirty days, costs being taxed at $6.90. Lena Andrews and Hannah Smith, for drunkenness, were each assessed $9.90; county farm, in default of payment. Jeff C. Rowe was complained of for assault on Wm. H. Dennett; one complaint was nol. pros'd, and on another Mr. Rowe was discharged. James Hanson, for drunkenness, was assessed $9.90, which he will board out in jail.

Mr. Charles A. Hazlett's beautiful night-blooming cereus was observed by many admiring visitors on Sunday evening. Two flowers opened their petals as the night advanced, displaying that beautiful, delicate sight which of course cannot be described, but for a view of which the enthusiastic admirers sacrificed the comfort of a night's repose. Mr. Hazlett is an enthusiast upon the subject of rare flowers and fishes, and has a tastefully constructed hot-house and aquarium which is warmed by steam in winter.

One would suppose from reading the aggregate costs of the courts in this county, that the only economical service which the county receives is the publication of the treasurer's report, which is done at ruinously low rates by a paper in Exeter and one in this city, while many of the heaviest tax-payers never see a statement of these figures. Would it not be well for the law to require the report to be printed and sent by each paper to its subscribers, as a supplement; or which is far better, would it not be well to in some way reduce the county expenditures?

The Boston Post says that "The Wentworth, at Newcastle, which has just been purchased by Messrs. F. W. Hilton and Frank Jones, and will be opened the 25th of June, is destined to take the lead among those beautiful semi-seaside resorts in which the New England coast abounds. Under the enterprising and generous management of Mr. Hilton, whose success at the Rockingham entitles him to all praise, there is every prospect of a brilliant future for this charmingly situated hotel. Its spacious piazzas command views of the Isles of Shoals, the White Mountains, Portsmouth, and the beautiful surrounding country, while in its interior details no expense has been spared to give every comfort that the most exacting guest could desire. Hon. Frank Jones, who is associated with Mr. Hilton in this promising undertaking, is a prince of good fellows, and a man of rare tact and business ability; and with two such favorites at the helm, the Wentworth is bound to sail in smooth waters from the opening day."

Some of the guide-boards in North Hampton sadly need repainting.

John W. F. Hobbs, Esq., is adding an extension to his barn on his attractive place in North Hampton.

The house and outbuildings of Mrs. Mary Lane, at Biddeford, were destroyed Monday morning by an incendiary fire. Loss about $1000; insured.

The reform club held a very interesting meeting at the Mission hall Sabbath evening. A large number took part, and the brethren are determined to do what they can, independent of their particular ideas of the work, to get men to sign the pledge. If a man wants to talk legal suasion, let him talk, or moral suasion, just as he thinks best, with the best of feeling.

Mr. Samuel Donnell of this city a few days since received a letter from California, written by a brother who left this city for San Francisco in December, 1849, in the barque Martha, Capt. Grace, and who had long been supposed to be dead, no tidings of him having ever reached home since his arrival in California. He recently landed in San Francisco from the ship Palestine, and wrote to enquire about the Portsmouth men who went out with him in the old Martha, but giving no account of his whereabouts and occupation for the past thirty years.

We find the following item in an exchange: "The farmers of Rockingham county are complaining bitterly of the ravages of a new grub worm about two inches long and one-third of an inch in diameter. On a single farm in Stratham millions have been unearthed by ploughing, having destroyed all signs of vegetation, leaving the land a barren waste. The remedies thus far applied prove futile." We shouldn't wonder if this objectionable straddlebug was identical with the "Great American Jargoozler," of which some thoughtful friend last autumn sent us a box-full—express charges fifteen cents, C. O. D. We utilized them for fish bait, and they proved highly popular with the fishes; all the same we don't want any more at that price.

On Monday, June 2d, there is to be a reunion in Augusta of the surviving members of the Maine legislature of 1851, who voted for the passage of the original Maine Liquor Law, as well as other friends of prohibition, the occasion being the 28th anniversary of the signing of the bill by Gov. Hubbard. The following is a list of the senators and representatives from York county: Senators—Sheldon Hobbs, Wells; Samuel C. Adams, Sanford; Joseph Titcomb, Kennebunk. Representatives—Edmund Currier, Jr., Kennebunkport; Christopher Littlefield, Wells; Edward D. Safford, Kittery; Isaac M. Hobbs, Berwick; James W. Joy, Limington; John Kezar, Parsonsfield; James M. Buzzell, Limerick; Samuel Roberts, Waterboro'; Stephen Lane, Buxton; Thomas Garvin, Shapleigh; Alexander Dennett, York; John Boothby, Saco; Richard M. Chapman, Biddeford; Samuel Mitchell, Alfred; Isaac P. Yeaton, Eliot; Orren B. Cheney, Lebanon.

MEMORIAL DAY.

A meeting of the general committee on Memorial day observances was held on Monday evening at the common council room. The reports of the several sub-committees were accepted, and the meeting adjourned to meet at the Court house on Thursday evening, 29th inst., at eight o'clock.

The evening exercise at Music hall will consist of an address by Major Myrick, singing by Music Hall quartette, readings by Miss Lizzie Varrell and Wm. Russel Foster, Esq., selections by the orchestra, and the reading by Mr. Stephen W. Clarke of a poem written by Miss Esther W. Barnes of this city. On the suggestion of many citizens that a small entrance fee should be exacted for the benefit of the charity fund of Storer Encampment, G. A. R., ten cents admission will be charged, to all parts of the house. Tickets securing seats will be on sale at Dr. Preston's store after nine o'clock this morning. An early call is advisable for those who would secure good seats.

The marshals and aids appointed to serve on the staff of the chief marshal are requested to meet at the office of Dr. Whittier at eight o'clock this (Thursday) evening.

The committee on preparation of flowers for Memorial day observances earnestly invite the ladies who in former years have assisted, and all others interested in the paying of a deserved tribute to the memory of the soldiers and sailors who died in the defence of their country, to meet at the Court house on Wednesday afternoon, May 28th, at three o'clock, to assist in making wreaths and arranging flowers to decorate their graves. It is hoped that many will respond, as there is work for all who may come.

PER ORDER.

EASTERN RAILROAD.

Mr. E. B. Phillips has been elected president of the Eastern railroad by the directors. It is reported that Mr. Phillips has already announced that at least $200,000 must be expended at once in order to put the road in the proper condition for the summer traffic.

The Boston Traveller of Monday evening says: The fact that the Eastern railroad on the 16th inst. to 16 1-4 and 16 1-2 road stock has risen from 12 3-4 on the 24th, has caused some gossip about town. A common theory is that the increase has been the necessary result of the election of Mr. Phillips to the presidency, that gentleman having a valuable reputation because of his successful management of the old Boston & Worcester, and the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern roads; but those who are in a position to know the inside of the movement say that this is not the whole of the theory. They assert, and their assertions are reiterated by prominent brokers, that a leading State-street firm made nearly all of the loading purchases during the past week, and that there is an order in the possession of that firm from a foreign corporation for 6000 shares. From these statements they deduce the opinions that it is proposed to consolidate the control of the Eastern railroad property on a solid financial basis; that the Boston & Maine Company is willing to unite with the Eastern on a plan of five or six shares of the former in exchange for one share of the Boston & Maine; that Mr. Phillips will be president of both roads, and that Mr. Furber, the superintendent of the Boston & Maine railroad, may be general manager of the consolidated lines. These are rumors on the street, not vouched for as absolutely true, but they serve to indicate the direction of stock gossip.

LEGS.

There was a fifteen-mile race in Great Falls on Friday night of last week, between two men named Harrington and Cummings, the former belonging in Great Falls and the latter in Dover, on a wager of $25. Harrington won, in two minutes less than two hours.

Dover is to have a "heel-and-toe" walk between Charles G. Locke of Portsmouth and Roland Eaton of Dover, for $50 a side, to come off in the city hall on Friday evening; and on the same evening and at the same place, a "go-as-you-please" race open to everybody, with a gold medal and silver cup for prizes.

The grand pedestrian contest projected to come off in Dover city hall, June 10th and 11th, has been changed as to programme. Instead of a "ladies'" race on the 10th and a "gents'" race next day, there is to be "one grand thirty-six-hours race for gents, go-as-you-please," commencing on the 10th, for $220 and a "State champion belt," entries to be received from all parts of New Hampshire. The winner will receive the belt and $100; $60 to second, $40 to third and $20 to fourth.

LETTER FROM NEWINGTON.

SHANNON VILLA, NEWINGTON,
May 22d.

One can hardly realize the grand transformation scene which nature has undergone within the last two weeks. Trees, whose skeleton branches then hardly shew any signs of awakening life, are now decked with deep green foliage. The prolific yield of apples of last season would seem not to warrant a large crop this fall, but the trees as a general thing are coming forward nobly, and indicate under present circumstances an abundant harvest. The late season has proved an advantage to the farmer, as the land has not been exposed to the severe changes in spring, and has kept its moisture and proved much easier to cultivate. Fruit trees and other vegetation are more advanced than last spring, and a very small quantity of seed has rotted in the ground.

The potato bug has commenced its ravages on the young shoots of the potato vine, and the extra work necessary to their destruction is not a pleasant perspective to the farmer whose physical resources are drawn on to a great extent, from spring to fall, in ploughing, sowing and reaping.

Within the last few years but few raids have been made by dogs on sheep, but on Thursday morning two dogs, whose owners are at present unknown, attacked two flocks of sheep in adjoining pastures, belonging to Mr. John Stone Pickering and Mr. Ephraim Pickering. The dogs would not leave the sheep until clubs were used. Mr. Ephraim Pickering had five sheep badly bitten, and one lamb killed. Last fall he lost fifty-six ducks in one day from the depredations of a dog. Mr. J. S. Pickering has one sheep and one lamb missing, one sheep and one lamb killed, and others seriously injured. Mr. Charles Pickering started out in quest of the dogs, but as yet has not been able to find them.

Newington is identified to Portsmouth not only in being a suburban town but in the change of residents, as within ten minutes' walk are two former citizens of Portsmouth, Mr. David D. Badger and Mr. Nathan Jones. Both own farms bordering on the Greenland road and Great bay, and which are under good cultivation. The view from either, including water, woods and hills, is fine beyond expression, and a morning or twilight ride, with the scene of fields regal in their spring robe will amply repay for time and money invested. Political.

Congressman Fernando Wood, in an unguarded moment, remarked that the democrats cannot carry New York unless the Federal election laws are repealed. Which is to say that all the expectation the democratic party has of success in 1880 depends upon the work done by Boss Tweed and his two courts in issuing 70,000 bogus naturalization papers in 1867 and 1868.

The extreme State sovereignty doctrine held by the southern politicians, and whose practical assertion by secession in 1861 was the immediate cause of the late war, can no longer be entertained. If the war definitely settled any one question other than that of slavery, it was the question of State sovereignty. —Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche.

The New Stock Speculations.

The new combination method of operating in stocks which Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have inaugurated, is attracting unusual attention in financial circles, by reason of its remarkable success. A customer in Providence invested nine times, and made over $5,000 in three months, by using from $50 to $500 capital. By this system, orders from thousands of customers, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and operated as a mighty whole, thus giving to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and shrewdest skill. Profits are divided every 30 days. Any amount from $10 to $75,000 can be used in Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s combination with equal proportionate success. $15 will make $75 profit in the month. $200 will return $1,600, or 8 per cent. on the stock, and so on as the market varies. The new circular gives "two unerring rules for success," and shows how any one can operate profitably. Mailed free. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

Ghosts.

Not Col. Ingersoll's "aristocracy of the air," but real human ghosts. Ghosts that were once healthy men and women, but are now simply the "ghosts of what they once were." As we meet them, and inquire the cause of all this change, they repeat the old, old story, "a cold," "neglected cough," "catarrh," "overwork," or "dyspepsia," "liver complaint," and "constipation," with unsuccessful physicians and remedies. In offering his Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets for the cure of the above affections, Dr. Pierce does not recommend them as a "sure cure" in all stages. For if the lungs be half wasted away, or there be a cancerous complication, no physician or medicine can cure. The Discovery is, however, an unequaled pectoral and blood-purifier. It speedily cures the most aggravated cough, or cold, and in its early or middle stages, consumption. By correcting all irregularities of the stomach and liver, it readily cures blotches, pimples, scrofulous ulcers, "bunches" or tumors. Hundreds testify that it has restored their health, after eminent physicians had failed. For constipation use the Pellets. As a local remedy for catarrh, use Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

—The absorbing question—"What will you take?"

—Princess Louise occupies herself with wood inlaying—while many of her humbler sisters have to toil at laying in wood.

—Saratoga prices will be found reasonable this year, and "permanent families" are offered inducements that are really extraordinary.

—"My dear sir," said she timidly, "I am such a silly child, while you are so witty and accomplished, and have such an irresistible way of putting things, that I wish you would show me how to"—"How to what?" "How to let you know delicately, but firmly, that I want you to let me have fifty dollars that I am most desperately in need of."

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $250,000.00

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. B. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms coming within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities a superior, for the treatment of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent postpaid for $1.50 or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cataract, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, sought it out as the chief or crowning gem of my medical cabinet. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions Proceeding from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purposes, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the special system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Alpine Silver Mining Co.,

OF COLORADO.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.

PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.

UNASSESSIBLE.

Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold! The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, are ready to answer in the emphatic negative with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what follows by a persistent use of this remedy. The hardened incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored, I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

PITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. F. DERBY.

PITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BOSTON, May 23d.

And so the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children is making a fuss about the Children's "Pinafore" at the Museum, and has induced the school committee to request the police commissioners to withdraw the license which they gave to Manager Field! I really think that these people might find much better business in which to engage, for with all possible sympathy for children I certainly can see no "cruelty" in this case. When little ones are kept out of their beds until midnight in order that they may play at evening performances, there is cause for alarm, perhaps; when they are thrown into undesirable company on the stage and in the green-room it is undoubtedly wrong. But these boys and girls are having the most glorious time, singing easy, familiar choruses, and skipping about on the stage with all the abandon and delight of the merry, healthy youngsters that they are, and are only required to be present a couple of hours each day, for which they earn a sum of money weekly which is a perfect godsend to the comparatively poor families which they represent. In fact, the only claim which the Society makes, I understand, is that they are kept out of school. Would it not be better that the Society should take measures to prevent children from doing as much studying as is now demanded, for after their daily five hours in school, Boston children are given tasks to learn which require several hours' study out of school hours. Thus the conscientious, ambitious little student has no time left for out-door relaxation, and of course there soon follows poor health, loss of memory, complete breaking down of the constitution and early death.

There is certainly no cruelty practiced on the children at the Museum, and the performance is as delightful a one as has been seen in Boston for years, quite throwing in the shade even the "ideal Pinafore" at the Boston. The audience is half made up of delighted children, and I hope they will have the opportunity of seeing this innocent and charming performance for weeks to come. At the regular performances, the society comedy of "Snowball" is running to crowded houses.

At the cosy little Gaiety, Joe Emmett is still singing and dancing in jolliest mood in his popular "Fritz," this week, but next week the famous magician Hermann comes and will of course draw large audiences as he always does. His tricks are really wonderful, and his wife, who is the "hidden hand" in them all, is very pretty and very bright. I remember a somewhat clumsy fellow who used to act as his assistant, and with whom the clever magician was wont to wax wrathy on occasions when things didn't always pass off as nicely as they do now. But there is everything in the "conditions," as the spiritualists say. For instance, you know his trick of throwing playing-cards to the furthermost corners of great theatres? Well, one day I was behind the scenes at a theatre where he was playing and he handed me one of his personal cards, and having some of them in his hands attempted to "fly" them at the empty galleries, but they would not fly worth a cent. He played a trick or two that did work, however, while we were talking, but as they were rather good jokes on my astonished self, I guess I won't tell them.

It's rather late now, but I really must say a word about the Selma Borg concert of last week, for the Finnish music was beautiful in the extreme, and utterly unlike anything I ever heard before. The Germania orchestra did itself great credit under the baton of Miss Borg herself, who seemed perfectly at home, and was just her own eccentric, unconventional but charming self, on the stage as off. She was quite overwhelmed with beautiful floral gifts, and was recalled rapturously by the audience several times. It was odd, really, to see a woman leading the Germanias; and during the pauses of the music, those who sat in the right balcony could hear the tinkle, tinkle of a piano in the neighboring Alston hall, where a woman was doing long-distance walks. I know the comparison is a comical one, but I only mention it to illustrate the fact that women are "up and doing" in the Hub, in more ways than one.

A Lowell lady, Mrs. S. R. Graham Clark, has just appeared in the walks of literary life, as the author of a really charming Sunday-school book,—not the "goody-goody" kind—which Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co. have just published, called "Yensie Walton." It is a very pretty story, full of interest and appealing directly to the sympathies of the reader, for poor little Yensie has a hard time of it with her coarse tyrant aunt who is determined to make a household slavie of the little orphan. The "History of Rome," in Miss Yonge's "Young Folks' History" series is in the binder's hands, and "France" is in press, and they will be gladly added to the Histories of Greece, Germany and England, which this house has published, and which are already deservedly popular.

Messrs. Lee & Shepard have issued nothing new since I wrote last, but they are making big sales on some of their winter books, perhaps the most popular among which are the "England from a Back Window," by J. M. Bailey, "the Danbury News man," whose fame is, I hear, quite as great on the other side of the water as on this; and B. P. Shillaber's "Ike Partington and his Friends." It seemed like hearing from a long-lost dear old friend to read afresh of the almost classical Ike and his mother. I heard it whispered that Mr. Shillaber is engaged on another work, but dare not announce it "officially" yet.

One of the most truly charming books of the season is, John Burroughs' "Locusts & Wild Honey," just published by Houghton & Osgood. It is not given to every one to see nature with such happy eyes as this writer possesses, and it is, therefore a deed of very kindness to the world to lend us the use of his rose-tinted spectacles. The little volume contains eight or ten of his dainty sketches on birds, bees, trout, and other topics, in all of which hidden beauties are revealed and every day matters made newly attractive.

Did I not write you about that remarkable old negro whom they call "Uncle Tom?" Well, the autobiography of his life is just published by B. B. Russell & Co., under the title "Uncle Tom's Story of his Life, from 1789 to 1879." It is a wonderfully interesting narrative, full of incident and really valuable descriptions of old-time southern life and manners. His own history is so strange and unusual a one, as to constitute a decided novelty in modern literature. The book is handsomely gotten out and fully illustrated, and the story is prefaced by notes and supplemented by appendices, written by people of no less note than Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, Wendell Phillips, John G. Whittier and Bishop Gilbert Haven.

The excitement of shopping has waxed beautifully less since the "cold snap" of the past two days has followed so suddenly upon the "hot spell" of the previous ten days, and people are snuffling around with colds and headaches, who prematurely thought that midsummer had begun and who thereupon divested themselves of their flannel underclothing. Beautiful spring always plays this joke upon us unhappy New Englanders. Being myself in the uncomfortable headachey condition alluded to, I'm out of conceit with spring clothing, and that's why I haven't a word to say to-day about new fashions, except that wraps of all kinds are both necessary and stylish, and that a large variety, from the tiny shoulder-cape to the enveloping ulster, is an altogether imperative feature of the wardrobe.

ROBIN.

Portsmouth Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1879.

Lawlessness in the South.

On Saturday and Sunday fourteen men, four whites and ten blacks, were arrested near Murfreesboro, Tenn., on charges of burglary, robbery, arson and murder. Great excitement prevailed and things looked stormy for the prisoners, the indignation of the public having been stimulated by the confessions of John Hale and Burrel Smith, two of the gang, that they were at the killing of Major Pugh about a week ago. Things had such a serious look that in answer to despatches from the authorities Gov. Marks went to Murfreesboro and delivered a strong speech, urging the people to join him in an honest and earnest effort to uphold and enforce the law, and not to allow lynch law to prevail. Several prominent citizens also addressed the crowd to the same effect. The prisoners were finally removed to another jail to avoid mob law.

On the 26th inst., at Marshall, Texas, while William Wilkeson was speaking with a Mrs. Angell concerning his marriage with her daughter, to which Mrs. Angell objected, her son approached from the rear, firing at Wilkeson with a shot-gun. Wilkeson wrested the gun away and shot young Angell fatally in the stomach. The latter then drew a pistol and shot Wilkeson in the wrist.

In Wetzel county, West Virginia, a gang of so-called vigilants styling themselves "Red Men" recently attacked the house of a man named Huseabaugh, injuring his wife and children severely, and served a notice on the man to leave the county or they would hang him. Huseabaugh's offence is not stated. Ellen Kendall was notified to leave the county within three days, or she would be hanged to the same tree that John Wallace was suspended from; her crime consisted in refusing to keep company with one of the gang. The town of Littleton has been notified by the gang that summary vengeance awaits it on account of the sympathy its people manifested to those aggrieved by the visits of the "Red Men." The justice of the peace of Wetzel county was warned to leave the State within three days, which order he hastily obeyed. Threats and warnings against other parties have been made, and general fear and lawlessness pervades the county.

The Louisville Courier-Journal says the "Underwood war" has again broken out in Carter county, Kentucky. Elva Underwood, while at work near his house, was shot from an ambush, Thursday, and when his children reached him he was dying. George Underwood, Elva's father, was killed in a similar manner, and Jesse Underwood has entered the field as the avenger of his family's wrongs. It is feared there will be a fearful amount of bloodshed, and the farmers in that neighborhood, afraid of becoming victims of the assassins, are forsaking their fields. Information is also received from Breathitt county that Andrew Carpenter, while at work in his yard, was shot by an unknown party in ambush. Fears are entertained that this is but a forerunner of more bloodshed.

Concord Railroad Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Concord railroad was held in Concord on Tuesday, when the usual attack on the management was made by John H. Pearson, and replied to by John H. George. Dexter Richards, Josiah Minot, J. T. Vose, B. A. Kimball, Fred. Smyth and S. N. Bell were chosen directors.

News and Notes.

J. G. Kennedy, agent of the six Chinese companies in Washington, referring to General Grant's remarks about Chinese immigration, says that there was no trouble in California between the natives and Chinese until foreigners of other countries began to arrive there. Then they discovered that Chinese labor interfered with their's, and it is from this class that the Chinese receive the greatest hostility.

Hamlin, a convict in the Connecticut State prison, under sentence of death, sells photographs of himself to visitors for the benefit of the widow of the man he murdered.

Mrs. Mary Trowbridge, who died on the 25th inst., in Boston, was born March 3d, 1778, thus having attained the remarkable age of 101 years. Her maiden name was Stone. Up to her centennial birthday she retained her mental faculties unimpaired. Since that time she has gradually failed, seeming to suffer no pain, and died very peacefully.

Barque Rockwood sailed from Liverpool for New York on the 18th of December last, and has not since been heard of. A boat was picked up at the Western islands on the 29th of March, badly smashed, and with the name "Rockwood" painted on a sheet of copper nailed to her quarter. It is probable that this is all that will ever be known of the vessel's fate.

Schooner Guy Cunningham, of Gloucester, Mass., lost two of her men on the banks May 21st, in a fog, and they were reported as probably dead. A telegram from Liverpool, N. S., dated the 26th, announces their arrival at that port in an exhausted condition, they having pulled in from the banks in their dory.

The first conviction under the Connecticut tramp law was had at Bridgeport on Monday. The maximum penalty of the law is one year in the State prison.

Two well-known citizens of Naples, Me., were recently swindled out of $400—the one, a forehanded farmer, of $250, the other, a farmer who is obliged to work hard to earn his daily bread, of $150—by the self-styled agent of a "patent apple-tree trimmer." Both men gave their notes for the respective amounts, which the wily rascal sold in Portland, and now the victims have been notified by a lawyer of that city that the notes must be cashed forthwith.

Billy Catlin, the leader of the Little Falls, N. Y., grave robbers and burglars, has been sentenced to ten years in State prison for burglary, and five years additional for grave-robbing.

The secretary of the treasury requests the holders of called bonds maturing before the 1st of July to send them to the department for payment during June.

A committee of the Chicago city council appointed to examine into the condition of the new city building now in process of erection there, reports that there are many and serious defects in the stone workmanship and the character of the work done, and that the whole structure should be pulled down and rebuilt according to contract. The expense entailed by following this advice will approach half a million dollars.

Papers have been found showing conclusively that Cashier Kreiger, of the Broadway savings bank of St. Louis, Mo., has for three years been acting in collusion with M. H. Goldsoll, the latter obtaining $300,000 of the bank's funds, all which is utterly lost to the institution. Kreiger is in jail.

At Lake Charles, Louisiana, Saturday afternoon, in the Calcasieu river, during a thunder storm, a whirlwind struck the small mail propeller Ramos, capsizing her and causing her to sink instantly in thirty feet of water. The captain and engineer swam ashore, but the passengers, six in number, were drowned.

Joseph Casey, eleven years old, employed in filling and lighting street lamps in Bellevue, a suburb of Scranton, Pa., on Saturday night while on a ladder upset an oil can over his clothes, when, as is alleged, another boy applied a match to him, enveloping him in flame from head to foot. He rushed for the river, a quarter of a mile away, and had nearly reached it before he was overtaken by citizens, who threw parts of their clothing over him, extinguishing the flames, but not before he had received fatal injury.

The frigate Saratoga was at Fayal, Azores islands, April 18th. The Wyoming left Jaffa for Beirut April 13th.

New Hampshire Items.

The annual meeting of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad was held in Plymouth on Monday afternoon, and the old board of directors re-elected. J. Thomas Vose of Boston was re-elected president at the subsequent meeting of the directors.

The roof of the south drift from the new shaft in the Dodge mine at Lyman caved in on Saturday, carrying the shaft-house and buildings with it. This part of the mine is being worked by the Essex company of Newburyport.

A young man named Reed, about thirty years old, employed in the hotel at Charlestown, N. H., drove to Bellows Falls, Vt., Monday, to attend Coup's circus, and being drunk, he ran the toll-bridge three times without paying. The fourth time the toll gatherer, Buss, endeavored to stop him by lowering the gate. The horse on a full run passed under, and Reed, who made no effort to stop him, was struck on the forehead and had his skill fractured, injuring him probably fatally. He is unmarried, and is reported as generally quiet and steady.

The freight and engine houses of the Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad at Plymouth were burned Monday evening, with a carload of excelsior and 300 bbls. of flour. Loss not over $5000; buildings insured.

The Boston Lancers have been invited be Gen. Natt Head to be present at his inauguration as governor of New Hampshire. A delegation of the past and present officers of the Lancers will attend.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Storer Encampment extends a cordial invitation to all Soldiers and Sailors of the late war living in this city and vicinity, and also to the sons of soldiers and sailors, to participate with them in the observances of Memorial Day.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

$100,000 Going a-Begging.

At the last June Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery Company a worthy but impecunious coal merchant of New Orleans drew, for ten dollars invested, one hundred thousand dollars. There are just as good opportunities for some one offered under the management of Generals Beauregard and Early, at New Orleans, on June 17th next. For Further information, Address M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergyman's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This prep ration seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Lungs cannot be made but can be saved by the use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup if taken in time.

PLEASANT AND PALATABLE, as well as efficacious is Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye put up by C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston. As a remedy for colds it has no equal.

Great Joy over the fact that your cough can be thoroughly cured by Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

AROUND HOME.

Better secure your seats for Memorial exening exercises at once, at Preston's.

The Rockingham County Sunday School Convention meets in the Methodist church at Salem to-day.

Horseback exercise is the prevalent indulgence just at this period by many persons in Portsmouth.

The house and barn of John Potts, in Biddeford, were burned Monday night. Loss $1200; insured.

Craig and Chapman, of Stratham, have in their greenhouses over twenty-five thousand verbenas. They furnish a beautiful sight.

Contrary to expectation, the apple bloom in Greenland and Stratham is reported as being very heavy, even more so than last year.

The encampment members of Odd Fellows are requested to meet at Odd Fellows' hall this (Wednesday) evening for the purpose of drill.

The land, buildings and machinery of the Jarvis Brothers' Hosiery Co. will be sold at public auction this forenoon at eleven o'clock. See adv't.

Work in the departments of steam engineering, equipment, and yards and docks at the navy yard has been suspended, owing to lack of funds.

Hilliard & Morrill's wood and lumber yard at Kingston was burned over on Monday; 700 cords of wood and 400,000 feet of lumber were destroyed. Loss $5000; no insurance.

The sale of tickets for the Music hall exercises on the evening of Memorial day commenced Tuesday morning at Dr. Preston's drug store, and a large number were taken before night.

Fred P. Wilson, at the hardware and paint store No. 37 Congress street, is selling white lead, warranted pure, for 6 3-4 cents a pound; five-hundred-pound lots, at $6.50 per hundred.

The steamer James Sampson made a trip to South Berwick on Monday evening, bringing down a lodge of Odd Fellows to visit the lodge at Kittery. The South Berwick brethren returned at midnight in the steamer.

Mr. William Hurd, of Dover, on Sunday commenced a tent campaign against intemperance and liquor selling. He has a tent capable of holding between 1000 and 1500 persons, and large meetings were held in it Sunday afternoon and evening.

The entire stock of goods in the store on Market street recently occupied by Mr. T. F. Stackpole will be disposed of on the premises at noon to-day, by sheriff's sale. The goods will be sold in one lot, to the highest bidder, for cash. See adv't.

The grand jury of the supreme court for York county, at Alfred, have found an indictment against Luther P. Call, late collector at Kittery, for embezzlement of the town funds. The case of George Bowden of York against Nathaniel G. Marshall, proprietor of the Marshall house at York harbor, for alleged libel, has been entered on the docket of the court.

A terrible accident occurred at Biddeford in the quarry of Gooch & Bragdon, Monday, by which two men, George Littlefield, foreman, and Eli Ayer, were blown up and fearfully mangled. They attempted to drill out an old hole, when the charge ignited with terrible results. Mr. Littlefield had both arms, his nose and the top of his head blown off, his injuries being fatal. Mr. Ayer lost one arm, and had his face badly bruised and burned, but may recover.

The following item is going the rounds of the papers; "Two men are travelling through the small towns in Maine, selling a worthless blue powder, which they represent will render kerosene oil non-explosive. It is composed of whiting and blueing." A surer and better way of avoiding kerosene accidents than the use of any patent powder or other nostrums, is to use only the brilliant and non-explosive oils such as are sold by Charles E. Laighton & Son, Henry F. Gerrish, Butler & Laighton, and John P. Sweetser; the "Astral" and "Devoe's" can't be made to blow up, though heated so hot as to be uncomfortable to handle.

G. A. R. NOTICE.

The committee on preparation of flowers for Memorial day observances earnestly invite the ladies who in former years have assisted, and all others interested in the paying of a deserved tribute to the memory of the soldiers and sailors who died in the defence of their country, to meet at the Court house on Wednesday afternoon, May 28th, at three o'clock, to assist in making wreaths and arranging flowers to decorate their graves. It is hoped that many will respond, as there is work for all who may come.

PER ORDER.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The Memorial day procession will form on Market square at 2:30 o'clock, and move at three o'clock sharp, in the following order:

City Marshal.
Platoon of Police.
Chief Marshal S. C. Whittier.
Chief of Staff, Adolph Nelson.
Aids: T. E. O. Marvin, Oliver M. Knight, A. H. Sides, Nelson Goodrich, J. M. Hawkes, David Urch, A. P. Preston, W. G. Myers, Daniel M. Linergan, Arthur W. Walker, J. E. Curtis, Geo. Stearns, Fred P. Wilson.

FIRST DIVISION.
George E. Hodgdon, Marshal.
Aids: Howe Call, Samuel W. Moses, Jr., Frank Grindell.
Dover Band.
Battalion U. S. Marines, Major George Butler, commanding:
Portsmouth City Guard, Capt. J. E. Ford.
Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, Capt. Shirley B. Cunningham.
Storer Encampment, Post 1, G. A. R., Commander James R. Morrison commanding, bearing wreaths and flowers.

SECOND DIVISION.
Aids. Marshal. Aids.
Kittery Band.
Strawberry Bank Encampment, No. 5, I. O. O. F., Oliver Locke, Chief Patriarch.
Fire Department.
Samuel S. Fletcher, Chief Engineer.
Assistant Engineers: Thornton Betton, J. Frank Shannon, Willard Sears, John S. Whidden.
Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No. 2, John D. Randall, Foreman.
Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. 4, J. S. Ranks, Foreman.
Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Edward D. Coffin.
Officers of the Army and Navy, City Government and disabled veterans, in carriages.
Citizens generally.

From Market square down Daniel street to Chapel, through Chapel to State, up State to Middle, down Middle to Congress, through Congress and Vaughan to Deer, where a halt will be made to meet the Grand Army delegation appointed to decorate the graves in the North and Union cemeteries; then up Deer street, through Bridge, Islington, Cabot and Middle to Haymarket square, countermarch by the right to Richards avenue and South street, to Sagamore road, entering the cemetery by the south gate; a hollow square will be formed on the lawn near the lot set apart for a soldiers' monument, and the memorial exercises will take place.

At the close of the ceremonies the procession will re-form and march by Sagamore road, South street, Pleasant, Court, Middle and Congress streets to Market square, where there will be a battalion dress parade, with Major Butler as commandant and Capt. Fagan as adjutant, at the close of which the battalion will dismiss.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, May 27; Batchelder, J.

James Glinnen and Edwin Hewston, two "simple drunks," $9.90 each.

Henry Barrett, complained of for threatening to do injury to Mary Russell, was discharged, the evidence offered of threats being all hearsay.

WAR OF RACES.

Portsmouth had a little "war of races" last week, which occasioned considerable fun for the spectators. A gang of five urchins, consisting of four white boys and a juvenile darkey, the latter being evidently the leader, declared a war of annoyance on the Chinese laundrymen, and commenced hostilities at once. The little scamps, headed by the colored boy, would creep up to the laundry door and shout in chorus such injurious assertions as "Old—John—Chi-na-man," or "Old—Sam—Lee-e-ee," and then make a brilliant retreat, the performance immensely disgusting the industrious Celestials, who however took no active measures in self-defence; but at last the little darkey, made bold by previous immunity, resorted to something which he thought might be more effective than words, and threw a handful of mud in through the open door of the laundry. It was more effective. The spectators who had been curiously watching the maneuvres of the gang of urchins saw them suddenly scatter, each one holding his cap in his hand and running as if for dear life; and then John Chinaman, with slippers on his feet and fire in his eye, came out through the laundry door as though he had been shot from a mortar, landing pretty nearly in the middle of Congress street at the first bound, and taking after the little darkey. The boy could run like a deer, and he dodged in and out among the teams along the north side of Congress street, up nearly to High street; but fast as he ran the irate laundryman surpassed him, and after heading him off at High street and racing him in another eccentric course back as far as Frye's store, he caught the culprit and administered several vigorous cuffs, in addition to a lecture on the enormity of his conduct, which being delivered in the tea-chest language must have been very impressive and conscience-arousing. As soon as he was let go the little darkey went up street at a rate that made him look like a black streak along the pavement, and the victorious Celestial returned to his work, to be no more molested that afternoon, at any rate. Should Dennis Kearney ever come this way we expect we shall see that little darkey in the procession bearing a banner with "The Chinese must go" written on it in the most sanguinary of characters.

PEDESTRIANISM.

A boys' pedestrian match came off in Eagle hall, Dover, Saturday night, the trial being to see who could go the longest distance in five hours. The winner scored a little over thirty-two miles. The winner of the second prize, who scored thirty-one miles, ran his first twenty-one miles without stopping.

A race at South Berwick ended at eleven o'clock Saturday night, the winner having made a hundred and one miles and won $40, the second man, with a record of ninety-two miles, getting $20. There were nine contestants, one of them being named "Kittery."

THE STATE REGISTRATION LAWS.

Mr. Editor: I was much interested in your recently published article in regard to the lax laws of our State concerning the registration of births, marriages and deaths, and the inefficient and worthless registration had under those laws, as I am personally aware of just how valuable that registration is. I was born in this city; at least I have been told so many times, one of my informants being the excellent old lady, still living, who officiated as midwife on that occasion; and the old family bible has an extended record of the event, as also of the marriage of my parents, whose marriage certificate is in my possession. Some years ago, not being certain as to whether a certain figure in the bible record was a "9" or an "0." I thought I would verify it by the public record; but a careful search showed that not only was there no such record of my parents' marriage, but that I was never born at all! The deaths of my parents I found to be duly recorded—both wrong; as the record (which is prima facie evidence under the laws) stands, my father died eight days after my mother; the facts being that my mother attended his funeral two weeks before the time when the record says he died, and herself lived nearly two months afterward. The registration laws of New Hampshire are indeed a farce.

REASON.

Note.—We are not at all surprised at the circumstances mentioned by our contributor; the wonder is that the deaths of the parents were found on record; that they were "both wrong" is not half so astonishing. Some months ago we received a letter from a lawyer in Pennsylvania, asking us to transmit a certified copy of the record of birth of two female children who were born in this city on dates furnished, one of them twenty-one years ago; this record was of the last importance to the children mentioned, now young women, and any reasonable bill for expenses and compensation for trouble would be gladly paid. A thorough search of the city records for the years specified, and for two years preceding and following, showed that there was no record whatever of the birth of the parties, and that was all the information we were able to send our correspondent.—Ed.

Pasture.

We think a great mistake is made in putting cows suddenly from hay and stabling to young grass and open air. Your cow will lose both in milk and flesh, and indeed you may lose the cow herself. Put out your cow, especially if she be a heifer of good stock, only one or two hours a day at first. In a few days she will get used to new food and new air. But do not turn out a cow to look after herself very early in the season.—Herald.

How to be Beautiful.

Many hundred thousand dollars are annually expended by ladies, for "artificial" appliances to hide the shrunken and wasted form, or the sallow skin, blotches, or liver spots, which are due to female weakness, dyspepsia, torpid liver, and constipation. If a small per cent. of this sum were invested in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, ladies would soon really be what they seem to be. It readily corrects those weakness and diseases upon which debility and emaciation depend. It cures dyspepsia by toning up the system, and when used in connection with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, speedily overcomes all irregularities of the liver and bowels. No "bloom of youth," no "beautifier of the complexion," can impart such permanent beauty of face and form as Dr. Pierce's health-giving Favorite Prescription.

GAZETTE

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)

DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, in the formation of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the BUFFALO MEDICAL INSTITUTE. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the same style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:

Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER R. SMITH, Treas.

NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.

CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.

LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic disorders peculiar to women.

NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous disorders, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.

NO NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (116 pages, 10 cents post-paid).

SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Substitute for Medicine" sent on receipt of 10 cents.)

Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.

To designate this natural specific, I have named it

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, of all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapper bottle.)

The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressed when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single class of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all circumstances of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.

Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

American and Foreign PATENTS.

[ESTABLISHED 1865.]

GILMORE & CO., successors to CHIPMAN, GLOSMER & CO., Solicitors, Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.

Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.

Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is their motto. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructively to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple yet neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subsided and healed; the mucous membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh from childhood, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. F. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada; WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Silliness Gone Crazy.

At a fair held recently in a Congregational church a little girl, who received the largest number of votes as the most popular young miss, was awarded a doll, and the most popular young lad an equally appropriate gift. We have always thought the awarding of prizes to the minister most liked, or the lady most beautiful, was sufficiently nonsensical, but when a little girl just old enough to play with dolls is pointed out as the most popular in the society, it becomes not only foolish but wrong. There are many ways to spoil a child, but this is one of the easiest and quickest.—Congregationalist.

How to be Beautiful.

Many hundred thousand dollars are annually expended by ladies, for "artificial" appliances to hide the shrunken and wasted form, or the sallow skin, blotches, or liver spots, which are due to female weakness, dyspepsia, torpid liver, and constipation. If a small per cent. of this sum were invested in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, ladies would soon really be what they seem to be. It readily corrects those weakness and diseases upon which debility and emaciation depend. It cures dyspepsia by toning up the system, and when used in connection with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, speedily overcomes all irregularities of, the liver and bowels. No "bloom of youth," no "beautifier of the complexion," can impart such permanent beauty of face and form as Dr. Pierce's health-giving Favorite Prescription.

Nashua & Lowell Railroad Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Nashua & Lowell railroad company was held in Nashua on the 28th inst., and was quite lively. On the presentation of the directors' report Col. John H. George made a bitter attack on the management, Mr. C. V. Dearborn replying in the defence. George then made insulting allusions to Dearborn, who retorted that George was a liar and a notorious blackguard. George then assaulted Mr. Dearborn, and struck him in the face three times before the bystanders could separate them. The old directors were re-elected.

New Bill for Counting the Presidential Vote.

The House Committee on the state of the law respecting the ascertainment and declaration of the result of the election of President and Vice President, have agreed upon a bill, and authorized the chairman to report it to the House, with the approval of the committee. The provisions of the measure are as follows:

First—Electors of President and Vice President are to be appointed in each State on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November.

Second—They vote by ballot on the second Monday in December next after their appointment.

Third—They make three certificates, one of them to be delivered to the President of the Senate, by special messenger, before the second Monday in January then next, another to be sent to him by mail forthwith, and the third to be delivered forthwith to the District Judge of the district in which they meet.

Fourth—If the certificate is not received by the President of the Senate on or before the second Monday in January, he must notify the Secretary of the State forthwith, who shall send a special messenger to the District Judge for the certificate deposited with him.

Fifth—Controversies as to electoral votes in any State may be passed upon by its highest judicial tribunal, which shall send its decision, under seal, to the President of the Senate.

Sixth—Both Houses of Congress shall meet on the second Monday in February next after the meeting of the electors. The President of the Senate shall preside. Two tellers shall be appointed by the Senate, and two by the House.

Seventh—The President of the Senate shall open all the certificates, and all the votes shall be counted by the two Houses in the alphabetical order of the States as certified, unless rejected by both Houses. If there be a controversy in any State and a certified decision of it by its highest judicial tribunal, the electoral votes of that State shall be counted in accordance therewith, unless the decision be reversed by both Houses. If there be a controversy and no such judicial decision, the contested votes shall not be counted unless both Houses concur therein. If there be conflicting judicial decisions or conflicting certificates, the decision or certificate held by both Houses to be given by the proper authority shall be conclusive unless rejected by both Houses.

Eighth—The tellers make a list of the votes as counted and the President of the Senate announces the result, and said announcement, with a list of the votes, shall be entered on the journal of each House.

Ninth—On opening any certificate the President of the Senate calls for objections. Objection must be in writing, brief, without argument, and signed by one Senator and one Representative. Objections are decided separately by each House, the Senate withdrawing. During the meeting of the two Houses the presiding officer shall have power to preserve order, and no debate shall be allowed.

Tenth—In the separate meetings to decide upon objections, each Senator or Representative may speak five minutes, and once only; and after two hours of such debate the main question shall be put.

Eleventh—The joint meeting shall not be dissolved until the count shall be completed. No recess shall be taken except upon a question arising under this act, in which case either House, acting separately, may take a recess of such House not beyond the next day; but if the count be not completed before the first meeting on further or other recess shall be taken by either House.

Twelfth—Sections 131, 135, 136, 140, 141, 142, 147, 148 and 149 of the Revised Statutes are repealed.

The "Red Men" Remonstrated With.

The gang of lawless ruffians calling themselves "Red Men," who have terrorized the hilly region of West Virginia for some months past, recently received a decided set-back. Not long since they took one Taylor, who lived on the Turkey Fork of the Little Sandy river, from his house, and, after a severe castigation, ordered him out of the country. Taylor declined to go, and being isolated from his neighbors by several miles of hills and valleys, he prepared his house to stand a siege. He dug a tunnel under the floor of his house and carried it out about sixty feet before he brought it to the surface near the woods, intending to escape through this if the Red Men should fire his house. He then loaded his arms, consisting of several shot-guns and rifles, and with only his wife in the house, awaited the coming of his enemies. On Thursday night, May 22d, they came, twenty or twenty-five strong, and riding up to the door, demanded admittance. No answer was given to the demand, and they proceeded to batter down the door. As soon as the door fell they rushed in, but were received with a volley of buckshot and bullets. Several of them fell, and the Red Men retreated in disorder. Taylor awaited their return, but their courage or their powder had cooled out, and they failed to come to time. After about half an hour one of the besiegers hallowed from the woods, distant sixty or eighty yards, and told Taylor that if he would permit them to carry off their wounded, they would retire and leave him alone in the future. Taylor consented to this, and they went into his yard and carried off their wounded. On Friday the affair became bruited about, and it was ascertained that one Lowther was missing, while another man, Bumgardner, was wounded in the hand. It is thought several persons were killed, as clots and pools of blood were found in Taylor's yard. No one else from the neighborhood appears to be missing. Indictments are to be brought against several men as being participators in the outrage. In an adjoining county fifteen or eighteen have been identified, and will soon be arrested and brought to justice, and this fact coming to the knowledge of the members has caused a scattering of their forces.

A Truth-Telling Democrat.

On the morning after the all-night session of the House on the bill to compel the government to pay every holder of eighty-four cents' worth of silver a dollar for it, at about half-past seven o'clock a deputy sergeant-at-arms brought in the body of Anson McCook of New York, which was a very live, active, and protesting body. Mr. Blackburn, who was in the chair, submitted the usual questions as to the excuse that was to be offered, when McCook protested that the deputy-sergeant-at-arms had no right to take him into custody, for as matter of fact the sergeant-at-arms was himself absent. Mr. McCook further asked whether the occupant of the chair was not an interloper, and whether he was authorized to receive his excuse. Mr. Blackburn claimed to have authority, and McCook then, in a very marked exhibition of indignation, protested against having been brought from his bed at that time to attend the unprofitable proceedings of the House. He said he was perhaps technically in contempt for being absent without leave, but he said that he had a good deal of contempt for the House, and that that contempt was indulged in by the whole country! The democrats were very angry at this, and motions were immediately made that McCook be fined different sums ranging from $25 to $100. McCook, upon being further pressed, maintained his position and said that if he was to be fined $100 for his remarks he would cheerfully pay it. The difficulty was finally adjusted and the motions to fine him were withdrawn.

News and Notes.

William Lloyd Garrison's funeral took place in Boston on Wednesday, and was attended by a very large number of the "old guard abolitionists" and other persons, male and female, whose names have been prominently before the public for the past thirty years.

The "Boys' and Girls' Pinafore" at the Boston museum is one of the most attractive entertainments in the City of Notions. The petite Corinne as Little Buttercup is a most wonderful instance of operatic precocity. She seems fully to understand her part, and though but six years of age, her gestures and expressions are in perfect keeping with the part she so admirably sustains. Her correctness in tone and sweetness in song excite the admiration of the audiences at the Museum, and are followed by generous and frequent applause. The representation is given on four afternoons of the week and two forenoons.

The president of the Metropolitan life insurance company of New York is reported as saying that fighting possible frauds benefits the life insurance companies by scaring big policy holders into abandoning the policies upon which they have paid much money without getting anything in return, and that insurance officials approve of the same.

Eugene A. Loker, of Natick, Mass., has been paying attentions to the daughter of Elphalet Crouch. Crouch objected, whereupon Loker attempted to shoot him, for which he is held for trial.

The city authorities of Providence, R. I., have voted to change a thousand of the street lights from gas to gasoline burners.

While J. H. Lewis and son, farmers living near Winchester, Ind., were opening a ditch, they were ordered to stop by adjoining neighbors, John Lumpkins and his two sons. A quarrel ensued, in which Lumpkins' eldest son was instantly killed, the youngest son and his father receiving severe injuries. The younger Lewis was fatally injured. The elder Lewis has surrendered.

Two young men named Shephard Smith and George Ayer, of West Waterville, Me., went fishing on Monday of this week, at East Pond, about eight miles from Waterville, and started to cross the pond, a distance of two miles, in a row boat, and have not been heard from yet. Search was made, and an oar found, which is said to have belonged to their boat. It is supposed the boat capsized and they were drowned.

President Hayes and his family are preparing to take up their abode at the Soldiers' Home for the summer.

New Hampshire Items.

The protracted trial of the alleged Nashua "fire bugs" ended on Wednesday in a verdict of acquittal.

The Manchester print works will shut down Saturday till June 9th, excepting the repair shop and engraving department. This shut-down is made necessary by a change of patterns to suit the spring styles, the engravers being unable to keep up with the printers.

Political.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler has arrived in Washington, to take charge of the work of the republican congressional committee, as its secretary. There is no man in the country better able to run a political campaign so as to make it hot for the opposition.

A correspondent says: "Senators and members of Congress are leaving Washington for good, having paired, which looks like an early adjournment." The country would regard it as "for good" if the entire Confederate Congress would leave Washington at once, and never return.

—"Plain lobster" is on the bills of fare now; but did anybody ever see a really handsome lobster?

—A religious paper in Georgia says: Recently, during night services at Morganton, a screech owl sailed noiselessly up the aisle and perched himself complacently upon the bald head of a good brother sitting on the front bench just facing the preacher. The surprised look of the man and the Solomon look of this Roman-nose bird presented the funniest sort of contrast.

—A walking match by two San Francisco men without any legs, except wooden ones, proceeded uneventfully for three miles. Then one of the contestants remarked in reply to a spectator's question, that his legs had been cut off by a cannon ball. "Guess you mean a mowing machine," said the other pedestrian. Then the race ended; for the insulted veteran attacked his rival, and a fierce combat closed the contest.

—The scholars in a Binghamton school having been given the dangerous privilege of writing about any person in the room, one little chap was smart enough to get a hit at the teacher in behalf of his fellows in this wise: "Miss ——— is a small woman, about half as tall as Barnum's giant. She jerks the boys around and thinks she's smart, but she don't get there." The privilege has been stopped.

—Her liege lord has a bad cold, and she, though she is perpetually nagging him and even wishing he were dead, goes in tears to confide to a friend the gloomy apprehensions inspired by her poor dear husband's hacking cough. "Ah, my dear," she concludes, "I shall immediately call in the best medical talent the directory affords, for if I should lose my husband I know I should go wild." "After whom?" says her friend.

—It is all wrong to let your church choir go off singing in the opera of "Pinafore" between Sundays. A dreadful thing recently happened on this account at a California funeral. The pastor, a tall, white-haired man, much resembling an admiral, arose in the pulpit and had no sooner finished, in a sing-song tone, the remark, "We miss his presence in his usual haunts," than the choir sprang to its feet and shouted in return, "And so do his sisters and his cousins and his aunts." —Milwaukee Sentinel.

AROUND HOME.

Young people's union meeting at the mission hall this evening at 7:45 o'clock; all invited.

Commo. George H. Hooper, U. S. N., chief of the board of inspection, arrived at the navy yard on Wednesday, 28th inst., and received the regulation salute.

The Great Falls Manufacturing Co. has declared a dividend of three per cent, payable June 16th. The last previous dividend of this company was payable Jan. 1st, 1874.

The Exeter Gazette fails to find any confirmation of the story about millions of grubs being ploughed up in Stratham, and of vast injury done by them through their devouring the roots of the grasses.

C. E. Walker & Co. of this city have been awarded the contract for supplying coal for the county farm, four hundred tons, to be delivered on the cars at Epping, and twenty-five tons each to the jails in this city and Exeter.

While Collector Howard and Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Young are absent on a tour of recreation at the west, some one has abstracted the lead from between some of the curbing stones around one of the plats on the south side of the custom house. It is thus, during a brief respite from the vigilant labors of its faithful public servants, that this great country is despoiled by vandals.

The stock of dry goods in store Nos. 7 and 9 Market street was sold at auction (sheriff's sale) on the 28th inst., and was bid off by Mr. George Hill for sixty-two per cent of the appraised value, $8476.-22. It is understood that the purchase was made by Mr. Hill for another person. The fixtures and safe in the store were then sold for sixty per cent of the appraised value, to Mr. Hartley W. Mason.

Hon. Frank Jones is absent from the city on a brief visit to Washington, as a member of the House ventilating committee appointed by the last Congress. When the democrats get mixed in their congressional matters they send for Mr. Jones to advise upon the situation, and he has more than once given the managers judicious counsel when their caucus had dictated a course that had developed a blunder.

A few days since, as the fishing schooner Josephine was hauling from Rollins' wharf to Pier wharf, the tide gave her a shear and she hit the ledge just off the dock there, causing her to leak so badly that her pumps could not keep her free. She was hauled on the beach and patched up sufficiently to enable her to reach Gloucester. The rock she struck is an ugly obstruction and a dangerous one, and should have been long ago removed.

Our York correspondent "P." writes us as follows: "Edward S. Marshall, Esq., proprietor of the Marshall house at York harbor, Me., has sold his stage line and the good will thereof for a term of five years, to Mr. Joseph W. Bragdon of York, who intends to run as good a line of stages as passes over the road between York and Portsmouth. Mr. Bragdon is a young man of good business capacity, very pleasant and gentlemanly, and we doubt not will do well in this undertaking, as he has had some experience in staging for the past three years."

The flag at Liberty bridge was displayed at half-mast on Wednesday, the 28th inst., as a mark of respect to the late William F. Russell, whose funeral took place at 2:30 o'clock P. M. on that day from his late residence, and was largely attended, many prominent members of his party being present. Mr. Russell has been known as an energetic young business man, and a somewhat active political worker; under the administration of President Johnson he was appointed mail agent on the Concord & Portsmouth railroad; he was twice elected alderman from old ward three, and at the time of his death was a member of the board of inspectors of checklists, from ward four. His age was about thirty-four years.

A Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Journal writes that paper as follows concerning the two persons recently taken to the insane asylum from this city: "The cause of Goodwin's condition may be attributed largely to an unhealthy mental exercise. Being naturally of a religious turn of mind he has for many months devoted his spare hours to a study of the Bible, relying mainly upon his own interpretation of it, aided, as he himself confesses, by the light (?) thrown upon it by wandering revivalists whose aim seems to be to fan to a white heat the passions of their followers, leaving common sense or reason unexercised. Mr. Goodwin declared that he had committed 'the unpardonable sin,' that the heavens were to him as brass, and God was only an avenger. He was always a steady, temperate man, of quiet habits, and readily obtained employment. But just after the departure of Waite, the revivalist, last winter, his mental condition becoming disturbed, he was regarded as unsafe for a house-servant by reason of strange remarks of his about 'sacrificing' somebody, and he was discharged. Since then, having nothing to occupy his mind, he has given himself up to Bible reading, resulting as above related. A similar case is that of a young lady graduate of the high school, who, having become impressed with the idea that she had 'sinned away the day of grace,' grew uncontrollable, and was taken to the asylum at Concord. Public attention is being drawn to an inquiry into the soundness of religious teaching that is productive of such results."

MEMORIAL DAY.

Meeting of the general committee at the Court house this evening at eight o'clock; a full attendence is requsted.

The committee on decoration of graves will be at the south cemetery this (Thursday) afternoon from three to five o'clock, and on Friday morning from eight to ten o'clock, and will be glad to receive information from persons who have friends buried there, or who are knowing of the whereabouts of soldiers' or sailors' graves.

PROGRAMME OF EVENING EXERCISES,
Memorial Day, May 30th, 1879.

Selections by the orchestra, while the audience is assembling.
Introductory remarks by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, president of the evening.

Reading by Miss Lizzie Varrell, "Angels of Buena Vista."
Song, "Yes, let me like a soldier die," by George F. Monroe.
Reading by Stephen W. Clarke of a poem written for the occasion by Miss Esther W. Barnes of this city.
Selection by Music Hall quartette.
Singing of "Star-spangled banner," burden by Music Hall quartette, chorus by band and audience.

NOTICE TO FISHERMEN.

The board of directors of the Direct United States Cable Co. have issued the the following "notice to owners and masters of fishing vessels," as a means of protecting their cables from injury:

"In order to avoid the danger of losing their tackle, and also of damaging the cables of this company, captains are requested to give them a wide berth. Should any vessel, however, lose her anchor or tackle by reason of coming in contact with the telegraph cable, and will use every endeavor to save the same from damage, the company will—subject to immediate notice being given and full particulars furnished of the circumstances—reimburse the loss, subject to adjustment, upon being satisfied of the bona fides of the claim. The directors in adopting this course confidently believe that masters of vessels will do everything in their power to protect the cables from injury. As a means of verification and to enable the tackle to be cleared from the cable by the company's repairing ship if considered necessary, it is important (weather permitting) that the slipped anchor should be buoyed by means of a light hawser and wooden spar."

For the guidance and information of fishermen, charts showing the location of the Direct United States Cable Company's cables, with the depths of water, have been placed in the custom house in this city and at the cable station at Rye beach.

THE EXETER DUEL.

The account of the Exeter duel, published in a recent number of the Exonian, was in the main correct. The following is an account given by an eye witness: In the fall of the year 1817 there was a dancing school kept in town, which was quite largely attended by the young people. Among others were Miss Adeline Smith, the heroine of the great Exeter duel, Mr. Eben Swasey, and Horatio Nelson, its heroes. Both Swazey and Nelson were quite attentive to Miss Smith, and Nelson appears to have been more favored, for at the close of the dancing school, one evening, he bore off the maiden and left poor Swazey a victim of melancholy and despair. After consultation with his friends, Swazey issued a challenge to Nelson to fight a duel. The preliminaries were arranged, but there was a difficulty about procuring the necessary weapons. Dr. Charles Gilman succeeded in borrowing a pair of pistols from Mr. G. O. Lyford. They belonged to Mr. Hollis Kidder, who kept store where Geo. S. Cutts' clothing store now stands. The meeting took place in the large field on the bank of Fresh river, where Franklin street now is, on which was a barn, where were concealed a number of interested spectators. On arriving on the ground, Mr. Swazey grew melancholy, but his courage was kept up to the sticking point by the earnest remonstrances of his second. It was decided that the pistols should only be loaded with powder, a fact of which Nelson was aware, although Swazey was kept in ignorance of it. In loading the pistols, however, the seconds introduced a quid of tobacco. But one shot was fired, and Swazey was then told of the deception which had been practiced upon him, omitting the quid of tobacco. At this Swazey was indignant and protested that he heard the bullet whistle by his ear. Such is the account of the great Exeter duel. Neither of the heroes got the lady, who removed to Portland, Me., as plain Miss Smith, where she was afterwards married.—Exeter News-Letter.

—A mechanic of Reading, Penn., has invented a velocipede, the speed of which is calculated at a mile in two minutes. It has four wheels, each four feet nine inches in diameter, to make thirty-six feet each revolution.

—Now is the season of the year when the man who sees the sign, "Fresh paint," will walk up to the door, leave the marks of his dirty fingers on it, and go away muttering to himself, "That's so." This proves that he is just about as "fresh" as the paint is.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

Storer Encampment extends a cordial invitation to all Soldiers and Sailors of the late war living in this city and vicinity, and also to the sons of soldiers and sailors, to participate with them in the observances of Memorial Day.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2 50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

$100,000 Going a-Begging.

At the last June Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery Company a worthy but impecunious coal merchant of New Orleans drew, for ten dollars invested, one hundred thousand dollars. The Rich California Banker.

When it became known that one of the richest California bankers had left the Pacific Coast and transferred his base of operations to the New York Stock Exchange, all the shrewd financiers watched his course with keen interest to see how he would succeed. The result has emphatically proved the wealthy banker's sagacity. Besides having a much wider and more promising field to operate in, he is known to have been in several stock combinations that paid immense profits. By the combination method of operating in stocks Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., unite orders of thousands of customers, in different sums, into one vast capital, and operate them as a mighty whole, dividing profits pro rata among shareholders every 30 days. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with great success in these pools. $25 would pay $100 profit. $500 would make $5,000 or 10 per cent. on the stock during the month. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular (mailed free) gives "two unerring rules for success," and full particulars, so that any one can operate in stocks, and make money. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Exchange Place, N. Y.

A Calais letter says that the endeavor to fuse the democratic and greenback county tickets in Maine has failed. This is probably true. The leading greenbackers throughout the State appear to be convinced that they hold a good hand, and have concluded to "order it up and play it alone." The North Star, edited by Dr. Parker of the executive council, says: "We don't take to this amalgamation business naturally, and we don't mix worth a cent. All the democrats—as a party—want of the greenbackers is to aid them in raking the toothsome chestnut from the political fires."—Portland Advertiser.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES—In all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Tubrcular, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50 or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Lateral Curvature, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-foot, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while winnowing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exist this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, Deafness, are frequently its offspring, and the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple yet neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

It can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the discharge from the linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Gentlemen, the action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course, as though the system be acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal disease.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy or it sat night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored, have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact in every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE, the 'Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. F. DEWEY.

House Insects.

No insect which usually infests the house, and crawls over the floor or wood-work, can live under the application of hot alum water. It will destroy red and black ants, cockroaches and chintz-bugs. Take two pounds of alum and dissolve it in three or four quarts of boiling water; let it stand on the fire until the alum is all melted, than apply it with a brush (while nearly hot) to every joint and crevice in your closets, bedsteads, pantry shelves, etc. If in whitewash, it will keep off insects.—American Garden.

How to be Beautiful.

Many hundred thousand dollars are annually expended by ladies, for "artificial" appliances to hide the shrunken and wasted form, or the sallow skin, blotches, or liver spots, which are due to female weakness, dyspepsia, torpid liver, and constipation. If a small per cent. of this sum were invested in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, ladies would soon really be what they seem to be. It readily corrects those weakness and diseases upon which debility and emaciation depend. It cures dyspepsia by toning up the system, and when used in connection with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, speedily overcomes all irregularities of the liver and bowels. No "bloom of youth," no "beautifier of the complexion," can impart such permanent beauty of face and form as Dr. Pierce's health-giving Favorite Prescription.

—Always pointed and with an eye to business—A needle.

—No comedian can make as laughable a face as that made by the small boy when he brings a jelly jar down from the closet shelf and discovers it to be full of ten-penny nails.

—A five-year old girl, lost in Minnesota woods, had the good sense to hang bits of her dress on the bushes as she wandered, and these led to her discovery after she had lived four days on berries and wild onions.

—At a recent performance in the New Haven opera house, as a number of students left their seats between the acts, a good lady was heard to observe: "Ain't it too bad these fellows have to go home and go to studying?"

—"I wish I were you about two hours," she said, with great tenderness. "And why, my dear?" he asked, with considerable interest. "Because," she said, toying affectionately with his watch chain, "because then I would buy my wife a new bonnet."

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which constitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or interrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

FRIDAY, MAY 30, 1879.

Ohio Republican Convention.

The republican State convention of Ohio met in Cincinnati on Wednesday, May 28th, and nominated Hon. Charles Foster for governor, by a plurality of ten votes over Alphonso Taft, on the first ballot. The result was received with great cheering, and on motion of one of Judge Taft's leading supporters Mr. Foster's nomination was made unanimous. Andrew Hickenlooper was nominated for lieutenant governor, W. W. Johnson for supreme judge, James Tuvey for treasurer, and James Fullington for member of the board of public works. The proceedings of the convention were marked by complete harmony and great enthusiasm, and the platform adopted is a brief and outspoken one, declaring unequivocally for honest money, honest elections, and the constitutional supremacy of the Nation over every one of its component parts. The following is

THE PLATFORM.

Resolved, That the republican party of Ohio, re-affirming the cardinal doctrines of its adopted faith as heretofore proclaimed, especially pledges itself anew to the maintenance of free suffrage, equal rights, unity of the Nation and the supremacy of the national government in all matters placed by the Constitution under its control.

Second—That we earnestly appeal to the people in the exercise of their power through the ballot box, to arrest the mad career of the party now controlling both branches of Congress under the domination of a majority of men lately in arms against the government, and now plotting to regain, through the power of legislation, the cause which they lost in the field, namely: the establishment of State sovereignty by the overthrow of National supremacy.

Third—That the democratic party having committed itself to an attempt to break up the government by the refusing to appropriate to their legitimate objects the public moneys already collected from the people, unless the executive shall give his official signature to measures which he conscientiously disapproves, measures plainly intended to allow a free course to fraud, violence and corruption in national elections, and to impair the constitutional supremacy of the Nation, deserves signal condemnation from every honest and law abiding citizen.

Fourth—That the present extra session of Congress, thus compelled by democratic conspirators, has been prolonged beyond all possible excuse, not only to the depletion of the treasury, but also to the grave detriment of every industrial and commercial interest of the country, by the uncalled for agitation of several questions; by persistent efforts in their hostility to the resumption of specie payment, already happily accomplished; by constantly tampering with a currency unsurpassed in the world; by reopening and stimulating sectional controversy; by an avowed determination to repeal all war legislation, and by seeking to inaugurate a reactionary revolution designed to restore full power to a "solid south" in the affairs of the government.

Fifth—That the financial administration of the government by the republican party, in accomplishing the great work of resumption of specie payments; in restoring our currency to par value; in greatly reducing the burden of the national debt; in refunding a large proportion of the same at a rate of interest one-third less than the former rate, thereby alone saving the treasury thirteen million dollars a year, and in enchancing the national credit to a standing never before attained, is a source of just pride to the republicans of Ohio, and deserves the warm approbation of the American people.

Sixth—That this perpetual disturbance of the country, in response to the conciliatory measures of the administration, should, by the judgment of the people, be thoroughly condemned.

Seventh—That the democratic legislature of Ohio, going on from bad to worse, from the "O'Conor reforms" of our public institutions, resulting in scandals unnumbered and mischiefs unmeasured, to outrageous attempts to revise and reverse the will of the people as declared by their suffrages; foisting upon them legislative usurpation, defeated candidates for local offices, in place of those duly elected by lawful and unquestioned ballots cast in the interest of honest and decent home government, merits the most indignant rebuke of every intelligent voter of the State.

Eighth—That the memories of our dead heroes, who gave their lives to save the Nation from destruction, protest against the expulsion of their living comrades from the public offices, to gratify the partisan purposes of the dominant party in Congress.

Ninth—That we send a greeting to the President of the United States and our republican members of Congress, and we cordially thank and honor them for the firm and patriotic stand they have taken in opposition to the designs of the majority of the present Congress, and we hereby pledge them our earnest and undivided support.

Nine Children Poisoned.

At Newark, Vt., ten miles from Island Pond, a party of nine children on the 28th of May drank water from a brook, the water of which had been polluted by the carcasses of a horse and several sheep, and were poisoned, from the effects of which seven died soon after, their bodies becoming putrid and demanding immediate burial. The others cannot survive. A Mr. Morse lost two children; a Mr. Carpenter lost three, and two more are the ones referred to as dying, taking his entire family; and a Mr. Aldrich lost two.

Home Truths.

Mary Clemmer tells some home truths about men and things. Nothing, she says, so unerringly marks the intrinsic fibre of a man's nature as the quality of the men whom he chooses as his nearest companions. This is an æsthetic repetition of the old maxim, "a man is known by the company he keeps." She applies it to Grant in this wise: "The people have but to know and but to remember the character of the men lifted and held in place by this man—that their abuse and degradation of political power made the administration of Grant memorable as the most corrupt in the whole history of the whole government—to make it impossible that a like administration be ever repeated as a national affliction."—Boston Post.

That is very nice. But applying the same rule to the old hero of Cipher Alley, whose renomination the Post favors, it would be interesting to know just what that paper thinks of Tilden's retaining Moses Match Marble, Woolley and Coyle, Smith Weed, Nephew Pelton and the other copartceners who were his managers in the attempt to buy an electoral vote in Oregon, South Carolina and Florida, as his intimate friends and political managers after he—as he says—found out what they were attempting to do, on the same footing as they had been before.

Naval Fight.

Despatches from Peru, via London, May 29th, announce a desperate naval battle off Iquique, Peru, between the Chilian wooden men-of-war Esmerelda and Covadongs, and the Peruvian ironclad Independencia, in which the slaughter was terrible, all three of the vessels being sent to the bottom. All the ships were very heavily armed. The number of lives lost is not stated.

Another Veto.

President Hayes on Thurday sent to the House his message vetoing the legislative appropriation bill. The bill failed of a passage over the veto, the vote being 113 to 91—not the necessary two-thirds. The House then adjourned to Monday. The message is a "stalwart" document; in the closing sentence the President says he cannot approve of the repeal of the election laws at any time unless something more effective to prevent fraud should be offered.

Fatal Fire.

At Hagerstown, Md., Thursday, the Washington hotel, four stories high, with a porch on each story, took fire about the lower stairways, and was destroyed. A large number of people were in the house, and they had to climb down the porch pillars from story to story, to the ground. Two dead bodies were found in the ruins, and six others are missing and supposed burned. Fifteen persons were seriously injured by falls, and some of them will die; many others were slightly hurt.

News and Notes.

Under the new constitution of California, if it is ever enforced, the banks of San Francisco will be taxed on $72,694,838, instead of on $6,279,420, as at present. The Price Current of that city says that the assessment of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s bank would be increased ten fold; that of the Granger's bank twenty-six fold; that of the German Savings & Loan society over sixty times; that of the Hibernian Savings & Loan society over ninety fold: while that of the Savings & Loan society would receive an increase of more than 120 fold, and that of the Securities savings would approach 150 fold. The banks, of course, will levy the taxes either upon depositors or borrowers, who are largely "poor laboring-men." The savings banks of that city, which are especially the property of the poor, will be called on to pay $614,752 tax, against $9,195 last year.

The Senate on May 28th passed a bill making subsidiary silver coins exchangeable for lawful money, and making such coins legal tender in sums not exceeding $20.

The Boston base ball club captured a whitewashing from the Chicago club, in Boston, May 28th. The Chicagos scored six runs.

At Bakersfield, Cal., May 28th, a large mob of armed men broke into the jail and hung two prisoners named Yoakum, confined for murdering two men more than a year ago. The prisoners were hung in their cells, and shot after being hanged. All but a few of the mob were masked.

While boring an artesian well at Crane, Breed & Co.'s coffin factory at the foot of Eighth street, in Cincinnati, May 28th, the workmen, at a depth of 250 feet, struck a vein of gas which ignited and damaged the plating works. Loss $10,000; fully insured.

The express train on the Pittsburg division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Confluence, Pa., ran into a rock that had fallen on the track. Engineer Pritchard and an unknown tramp were instantly killed, and fireman Flaherty and another tramp seriously injured. The passengers were not harmed. The engine was wrecked. Pritchard died with his hand on the air-brake.

Barnum's circus tent, which it is said holds between 10,000 and 12,000 people, was crowded on the evening of May 28th, in Boston, and the sale of tickets was stopped an hour before the time for the show to commence. According to the reports, fully 10,000 people were turned away.

Ellen Meade has been sentenced to five years in the New York penitentiary, for throwing vitriol into a young man's face in a fit of jealousy.

Rev. W. H. H. Murray has sold the Golden Rule to a company of Boston men, of which Mr. Charles W. Baldwin is treasurer. The paper will be changed to a weekly. Mr. Murray will contribute religious and secular articles, and the editorial management will not be changed.

Vice President Wheeler's only sister died at Malone, N. Y., May 28th.

New Hampshire Items.

The annual meeting of the Northern railroad corporation was held in Concord on Thursday, and directors were elected as follows: George W. Nesmith, Uriel Crocker, Edward Lawrence, Francis B. Hayes, Josiah H. Benton, Jr., George E. Todd and Albert M. Shaw. G. W. Nesmith was elected president, George A. Kettle treasurer, and Wm. L. Foster of Concord clerk.

The sixtieth anniversary of the founding of the academy at Pembroke was celebrated May 28th with appropriate ceremonies, a large number of prominent men being present. A large oil portrait of the late Rev. Abraham Burnham, D. D., painted by Tenney, was presented to the academy by John A. Burnham of Boston.

Rev. Benjamin F. Clark, a native of Lyndeboro', died at North Chelmsford, Mass., May 28th, at the age of seventy-one years. He was for many years pastor of the Congregational church at North Chelmsford, but about eleven years ago gave up the ministry for politics, being especially active as an opponent of prohibition and in favor of a license law. He was twice elected a member of the Massachusetts Senate, and though perhaps over-zealous the sincerity of his convictions was not questioned.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

That Cold of Yours may run into consumption if you don't take Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

That Hectic Flush Denotes Danger. Relieve yourself by using and at once too, Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2 50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00 and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

$100,000 Going a-Begging.

At the last June Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery Company a worthy but impecunious coal merchant of New Orleans drew, for ten dollars invested, one hundred thousand dollars. There are just as good opportunities for some one offered under the management of G. Herald Beauregard and Early, at New Orleans, on June 17th next. For Further information, Address M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergyman's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Lungs cannot be made but can be saved by the use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup if taken in time.

PLEASANT AND PALATABLE, as well as efficacious is Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye put up by C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston. As a remedy for colds it has no equal.

Great Joy over the fact that your cough can be thoroughly cured by Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. AROUND HOME.

See auction adv. column for notices of sales of real estate Saturday.

C. Sullivan & Co. have received a fresh lot of salmon, which they are selling for thirty cents a pound.

Post-office hours to-day: General delivery from 8:00 A. M. to 11:00, and from 6:00 to 6:30 o'clock P. M. Box office open all day.

This being the day set apart for paying a tribute of honor to the Nation's dead, no paper will be issued from this office to-morrow.

Mr. Lemuel Perkins, an elderly gentleman of Greenland, was thrown from a cart on the 28th inst., and had one of his thighs broken.

In our next issue (Monday) we shall give as full a report of the Memorial day proceedings as is practicable, including Major Myrick's address in full.

A very interesting report of the proceedings of the Rockingham County Sunday School Convention, which met at Salem depot on Wednesday, will appear in our next issue.

George Littlefield, who was so terribly injured by the explosion of an old charge which he was drilling out at Bragdon's quarry in Biddeford early this week, died on the morning of the 28th inst. The other man hurt is doing well.

Jarvis Brothers' hosiery mill and the machinery therein, including a Harris-Corliss engine, were sold at auction by Mr. Wendell on the 28th inst., Mr. B. F. Webster of this city purchasing the building for $2000. Hall & Co., of Boston, and other parties out of the State, bought the machinery.

At a meeting of Subordinate Association No. 9, Provident Mutual Relief, held in this city on Wednesday of this week, Stephen W. Clarke, William P. Walker and Samuel C. Whittier were elected trustees for the ensuing year, and A. C. Hoyt clerk. It is said that there are now thirty-nine subordinate associations in the State.

Maggie Mitchell will appear at Music hall on Thursday evening, June 5th, in the new and beautiful five-act drama entitled "Lorle, or the artist's dream." The company numbers twenty-two persons, and is the strongest one with which Maggie Mitchell has ever travelled. Reserved seat tickets, at seventy-five and fifty cents each, according to location, will be on sale Monday morning at nine o'clock.

While Joshua T. Jones, of Boston, was out gunning with a party in a boat off Frost's point, Rye, on the 28th inst., his gun was accidentally discharged and the entire charge passed through his left hand, injuring it so badly that it was supposed amputation would be necessary. Owing to the confusion caused by the accident the boat was upset, and two of the party came near losing their lives, being picked up in a very exhausted condition.

We take the following items from the Weekly: "It is said that plans are nearly perfected for the new Episcopal church, and chime of bells, contemplated in the will of the late Geo. M. Marsh, for this city; that it will probably be located near the Creek; and that the estate will yield $40,000 or more for the purpose."—"The executors of the Dan'l Austin estate, in reply to numerous inquiries, state that as soon as some controverted questions are settled by the courts, they shall begin to pay the numerous small legacies;—but it is not expected the city of Portsmouth will realize anything from it."

The regular meeting of Portsmouth Grange was held Wednesday evening of this week at the beautiful home of Mr. Henry Bean in Newington, and a very large party attended. There was some little trouble in getting the grangers into the house to open Grange in due form, as the lovely scenery tempted them to remain outside, and tempted some to go outside again for another look after being once captured and conveyed inside. After the Grange business was concluded and the Grange adjourned, all present not members of the order were admitted, and the rest of the evening was delightfully spent in social converse, music, etc., not forgetting due attention to the delicious, plentiful and wholesome supper prepared by Mrs. Bean in defiance of previous prohibition. The company separated in time to reach their homes before midnight, the gathering having proved one of the pleasantest of the many pleasant Grange reunions.

Since the three years' pastorate of Rev. Father O'Callahan over St. Mary's church the debt, which was rising $27,000, has been reduced $12,000. We understand that work will soon commence at the church for putting in a steam heating apparatus, the present furnaces being insufficient to warm the building.—Times.

To-morrow, Saturday, May 31st, there will be an important auction sale of real estate belonging to the estate of the late Jeremiah D. Goodrich, including stores, dwellings, house lots and wharf property, fully specified in the advertisement in another column.

The Kearsarge was inspected on Thursday by the official board, which is composed as follows: Commo. George H. Cooper, Capt. John H. Upshur, Capt. James E. Jouett, Chief Engineer John W. Moore, Medical Director Richard C. Dean, Passed Asst. Paymaster J. Q. Barton; Lieut. Theodoric Porter, secretary.

At an adjourned meeting of the State Agricultural society, held in Manchester on Wednesday, May 28th, Hon. Warren Brown of Hampton Falls was chosen president, and Aaron Young of this city secretary; treasurer, George W. Riddle of Manchester; auditors, George A. Chandler of Manchester, Andrew H. Young of Dover. Among the directors chosen are Stephen Holt of Epping and Frank J. Claristy of Dover. The time of opening the annual State fair was fixed for Sept. 16th; the place of holding it, and the number of days it shall continue, were left with the executive committee.

That veteran sailor-man, Joseph Rogers, fell overboard on Wednesday of this week, as he was stepping ashore from the schooner Harry Withington, of Dennis, lying at Concord railroad wharf, but notwithstanding his advanced age and the fact that he was encumbered with clothing, he swam ashore without making any fuss at all about the matter. Mr. Rogers was born in Venice a long time ago, and in his early manhood served in the British navy under Lord Nelson. When the late Admiral Goldsborough (then a captain in the navy) superintended the building of the schooners Minna and Brenda, constructed by the late George Raynes for John M. Forbes & Co. of Boston twenty-five years ago, Mr. Rogers was at work in the riggers' gang, and Capt. Goldsborough was particularly fond of spinning yarns with the tough old salt, whom he even at that date regarded as an old veteran of Nelson's sea-lights. Although Mr. Rogers does not appear to know it, he is evidently an old gentleman; yet he shows no symptoms of decay, either physically or mentally, and being more active than a large proportion of the boys it is likely enough that he may yet outlive many of them.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, May 29th; Batchelder, J.

Elisha Bellamy, for drunkenness, was directed to hand over $9.90, including the price of an ordinary drunk and the costs of collection; he complied with the order, and went his way rejoicing.

CITY COUNCILS.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen held a special meeting Thursday afternoon.

Personal examination was made of the proposed new road asked for by Mr. Clough. Referred to city solicitor in relation to law points.

ALDERMEN—REGULAR MEETING.

City solicitor gave opinion in relation to power of the health committee in the matter of abatement of nuisances.

Mr. Alfred C. Hoyt explained to the board needed improvements in the School street school house. Referred to committee on school houses to report.

Petition from residents on Cass street, for a sewer, was referred to commitee on drains.

Dennis Shea asked leave to open Washington street for the purpose of laying drain; granted.

Edward J. Moulton asked leave to encumber State street for building purposes; granted.

Mrs. Kenney called the attention of the board to a nuisance near her dwelling. Referred to committe on mill pond nuisances with power.

Charles E. Mendum asked to have sidewalk on Fleet street relaid; referred to committee on streets.

A. J. Penhallow asked leave to encumber Pickering street for purpose of making repairs; granted.

The question of removal of the portico in front of Haliburton house was recommitted to committee on streets, with discretionary power.

Claim of Patrick Quill for damages was referred to the mayor with power.

Committee on fire depattment reported that they had received notice from the acqueduct company, that they would run a three-inch pipe into Market square reservior, or would furnish water for a new one. Subject referred to mayor and committee on fire department, to ascertain the probable cost of building a new reservior, and laying new pipe.

An ordinance transferring the unexpended appropriations was passed.

Voted that the board visit the places complained of as nuisances on Monday afternoon at half-past three o'clock.

COMMON COUNCIL.

An ordinance to regulate the erection of buildings in the compact part of the city was read once, and referred to committee on bills on second reading.

The appropriation bill as passed by the board of aleermen was concurred in by the council.

A resolution passed both boards that the mayor and committee on fire department, and chief engineer, be empowered to contract for a new second-class steam fire engine.

Adjourned for two weeks.

Portsmouth Cavalry, Capt. Edward D. Coffin.
Portsmouth Light Artillery, Capt. W. O. Sides; 1st Lieut., E. H. Leslie; 2d Lieut., Jos. R. Curtis.
Disabled veterans, in carriages.
Army and Navy guests and City Government in carriages.
Citizens generally.

The procession will move promptly at three o'clock, and march over the following route:

From Market square down Daniel street to Chapel, through Chapel to State, up State to Middle, down Middle to Congress, through Congress and Vaughan to Deer, where a halt will be made to meet the Grand Army delegation appointed to decorate the graves in the North and Union cemeteries; then up Deer street, through Bridge, Islington, Cabot and Middle to Haymarket square, countermarch by the right to Richards avenue and South street, to Sagamore road, entering the cemetery by the south gate; arriving, a hollow square will be formed, and the following exercises will take place:

Selection by band.
Prayer by Rev. E. M. Grant, chaplain.
Reading of general order.
Selection by band.
Brief address.
Decoration of graves.
Recall of procession at sound of bugle.
Volley by U. S. Marines.
Hymn, by people and band.
Benediction by chaplain.

At the close of the ceremonies the procession will re-form and march by Main avenue, South street, Pleasant, Court, Middle and Congress streets to Market square, where there will be a battalion dress parade, with Major Butler as commandant and Lieut. Samuel H. Gibson, U. S. M. C., as adjutant, at the close of which the battalion will dismiss.

The evening exercises at Music hall will commence at 8:00 o'clock, the doors being opened at 7:30 o'clock. The programme is as follows:

Selections by the orchestra, while the audience is assembling.
Introductory remarks by Ex-Gov. Goodwin, president of the evening.
Prayer by Rev. Charles A. Holbrook.
Reading by Stephen W. Clarke of a poem written for the occasion by Miss Esther W. Barnes of this city.
Singing by Music Hall quartette, "Vocal march."
Reading by Wm. Russell Foster, Esq., "The army of the dead."
Selection by orchestra.
Address by Major John D. Myrick, of Augusta, Me.
Solo and chorus by Music Hall quartette, "The red, white and blue."
Reading by Miss Lizzie Varrell, "Angels of Buena Vista."
Song, "Yes, let me like a soldier die," by George F. Monroe.
Selection by Music Hall quartette.
Singing of "Star-spangled banner," burden by Music Hall quartette, chorus by band and audience.

The committee on decoration of graves will be at the South cemetery this morning from eight to ten o'clock, to receive information relative to the location of unmarked graves of soldiers and sailors.

The aids are requested to meet at the corner of Congress and Fleet streets at two o'clock.

It is earnestly hoped that our business men will close their stores for at least half of the day, in accordance with the proclamation of Gov. Prescott.

Storer Encampment extends a cordial invitation to all Soldiers and Sailors of the late war living in this city and vicinity, and also to the sons of soldiers and sailors, to participate with them in the observances of Memorial Day.

Political.

Senator Bell has introduced in the U. S. Senate a bill in relation to the election of senators from the State of New Hampshire, which was referred to the committee on elections. It provides that so much of the act to regulate the times and manner of holding elections for senators in Congress, approved July 25th, 1866, as would at any time prevent the election of a senator for the State of New Hampshire by the legislature of that State, the beginning of whose constitutional term next precedes the expiration of the term of office of the predecessor of such senator, is hereby repealed.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION — BUFFALO AND LONDON — INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of several specialities.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the care of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this branch.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, you can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book," (160 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cataract (Stone in the Bladder), Strictures, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and will it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats mainly of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 51 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: "The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The Express management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing; one of the largest houses in the city. Memorial Address

Delivered by Major JOHN D. MYRICK, of Augusta, Me., at Music hall, Portsmouth, on the evening of May 30th, 1879:

You bid me speak for you! What utterance of mine can fitly interpret the significance of this occasion? How can I paint for you the glories of immortal deeds? How render into human speech the thrilling inspiration of this hour? How can I sing to you with mortal lips the celestial strains which come wafted down from the shining shores of the eternal?

Rather do the grandeur of this scene, the sacred memories of the hour, the swelling emotions which come thronging upon me, hold me by their spell, and awe me into solemn silence at the very threshold of my theme, while every symbol and token and well-remembered names, and every battle-torn standard and guidon tells, with magic tongue and matchless eloquence, the inimitable story of mighty achievements and undying fame!

How all our thoughts and fondest recollections are turning back at this hour to those days of feverish excitement, of swelling hope and anxious fear—those days of herculean effort and mortal strife; those days of proud achievement and grand realization; those illustrious days of victory and triumph!

Around me press those thronging memories of the past, sweeping up with blended bugle calls and all the legends of bivouac and battle! I see the darkening thunder cloud in early spring-time in the southern sky, growing blacker and more and more portentous; the launch of the dread thunderbolt of war, and how with one red, lurid flare the lightning stretched its horrid wing from ocean to ocean, and the rolling thunder echoed a million freemen to arms! the swift flight of a fiery meteor through the sky, scattering firebrands and destruction, and death, and untold horrors over the land. The farmer leaves his plough in the furrow, the artisan his hammer and his clanging anvil, the merchant his wares and merchandise, the student his books, the professional man his office. From field and forest, and inland river, from shore and mountain side, and western plain they come, breasting the awful storm and fronting the appalling shock of civil war.

As in the old heroic age the Spartan mother gave his shield to her eldest born, and with tearless eye and steady voice, sent him forth with the stern injunction "either with this or upon it,"—so in this later, more illustrious era, the loyal mothers of the north, as they girded their sons for battle, sternly bade them to do or die to save to save the Union and our Liberties or perish with them; and with firm, stout hearts, and a smile of loving, yearning tenderness, which irradiated a man's soul through many a weary night of dark disaster and defeat, sent them out to fight for God and Fatherland. I see the multitudinous camps, stretching mile on mile away, like some stately, grand metropolis, with their white canvass tents glistening in the noonday sun, the starry ensign proudly floating over all, or glimmering, weird and spectral, in the pale, dim moonlight; the numberless campfires, gleaming like beacons, clear and still, as they twinkle in the frosty winter air on hillside and from forest depths. There rises up before me the silvery mist which hovers o'er Potomac's tide, the soft, blue, dreamy haze which floats like a veil over the bright green hills of Maryland. Ah! when were ever skies so blue, or sun so golden, hearts so warm, souls so loyal and so true; when were ever hill and valley and mountain side so fair and beautiful as in that mellow autumn season? I see again the flame and smoke of combat covering as with a cloud the embattled hosts who fight beneath the murky canopy of death; I hear the terrible grumble and roar of the conflict, the fiercely surging billows of war, now rolling onward with majestic power, and now remorselessly hurled back, covered with the wreck and ruin of disastrous failure and discomfiture, engulfing thousands of our bravest and best, and shaking the mighty fabric of the government to its very centre. I see the great hospitals, with their thousands of bleeding victims, brought from smouldering, sanguinary fields, every spot where a man can lie covered with maimed and mangled heroism,—angels of mercy hovering over the couches of wounded and dying men, ministering to their needs and wants, and speeding the departing spirit on the wings of faith and prayer.

Still rise those mingled memories of joy and sadness. To-day and all this presence fade and vanish. Back to me comes that past, that grand and solemn past, peopling this great hall with myriad visions of bygone days. Into these aisles and by your sides shadowy forms are gathered, and seem to greet us with messages from the eternal camping grounds. The comrades who pined and wasted, and passed away on the hospital's feverish pallet, or died blessing the old flag in the prison pens of Salisbury and Andersonville; the brother who fell exhausted by the wayside; he who was with us as we crushed and trampled under foot the solid phalanx of the enemy in the magnificent and deadly charge, —all, all are here, reunited for one blest hour of sweet communion, the living and the dead,—those whose transcendent valor once them upward through the agony of their glory, and you whose peerless daring carried our standards in the foremost front of battle to the very gates of Richmond! Ah! how well, too, we remember that bright, sweet Sabbath morn at Appomattox, when, covered all over with glory, though humbled in defeat, sustained by a proud consciousness of heroic effort, though beaten and conquered —compelling admiration from the victors for their matchless endurance and heroism, even while they laid down their arms in surrender beneath the old flag,—the gallant army of northern Virginia, with manly tears and soldierly sorrow, reverently folded their banners, and the noblest and bravest and truest among them sought there to honorably bury them from mortal sight forever,—that joyful morning, when we beheld as from Pisgah's height, the fruition and the crowning glory of our four years' perseverance and sacrifice!

Let me briefly advert to a single incident of the war, which comes vividly to my mind to-night, and which is indelibly impressed upon the hearts and memories of all who participated in its scenes.

Suspecting a design on the part of his great antagonist to move his army, under cover of the Blue Ridge, into Maryland and Pennsylvania, and assume the offensive on the soil of the loyal north, General Hooker ordered a reconnoissance in force by the Cavalry Corps across the Rappahannock on the 9th of June, 1863,—Buford's division to cross at Beverly Ford, on the right, and Gregg's at Kelly's Ford below.

At midnight of the 8th, the camp was quietly aroused, and the command put in readiness to cross the river a little before daybreak. Shortly after dawn we heard the booming of Buford's guns, and their echoes nerved every heart with dauntless resolutions to manfully do its part in the coming conflict.

Men tightened the girths of their saddles, carefully examined their carbines and revolvers and tried the edge of their sabres, fully conscious of the responsibility which awaited them.

General Gregg effected the crossing with little opposition, and pressed rapidly forward, the second brigade in advance, steadily driving the enemy before him. Soon we heard their guns, and shortly after, the sharp crack of carbines and rattle of musketry, and Kilpatrick urged on his little brigade, roused to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, and guided by the sounds of the firing.

Men who have crossed a strong position on the crest of a hill whose sharp declivity rendered successful assault extremely difficult. Near the centre of this crest, from right to left, were Stewart's headquarters, in a clustering grove of trees, and here Stuart, commanding in person, had posted six pieces of artillery in such a manner as to completely sweep the hill and all its approaches. Again and again did the second brigade gallantly charge this position and its deadly guns. Again and again were they hurled back by the deadly fire of artillery, till broken, and torn and bleeding, they were forced to retreat in confusion. Then the enemy's cavalry swarmed over the hill by regiments, till three whole brigades appeared, and with headlong speed and murderous volleys they burst like a tornado upon the rear of our broken and routed battalions. It was at this critical juncture that the first brigade came up under Kilpatrick, who comprehending at a glance the position of affairs, made his dispositions accordingly. The 10th New York and Harris Light dashed forward to the rescue of their comrades and to check the enemy's pursuit, but after fighting like tigers some twenty minutes, they were gradually forced back, foot by foot and inch by inch, by the overwhelming numbers of the rebels.

Just at this moment the First Maine, which had been acting as rear guard of the division, debouched from the woods and deployed upon the field, forming its squadrons at the gallop. Kilpatrick, whose eager, impatient gaze had constantly turned to the point from which he expected succor, dashed back to the head of our column exclaiming—"Col. Douty, what can you do with your regiment?" "I can drive the rebels to hell, sir!" shouted the gallant Douty, and Kilpatrick gave the order to charge. And such a charge! How shall I describe it? Here was an immense open plain, filled with fleeing federals and pursuing rebels, horses galloping about riderless, men seeking escape on foot; the field sprinkled with the dead and wounded; the crash of artillery, the screaming of shells, the shrieking of shrapnel, the ringing of steel and the fierce shouts of infuriated combatants.

The rebels had mingled with our own men and were cutting down the fugitives without mercy, and a general panic and complete rout were imminent. In a moment, however, as by a stroke of magic, all was changed. The pursuers become the pursued. On sweeps the resistless column, bearing all before it! It leaps the ditch, crosses the railroad, reaches the hill, and now with a terrible battle cry of vengeance, it dashes up the steep ascent; it has gained the summit; it overleaps the guns, the affrighted cannoneers throw down their rammers or are sabred at their pieces, and with a cry of terror the rebel lines break in every direction. On come their merciless foes, sabres flash an instant in the sunlight, and when they rise again are red with traitors' blood! On, on, and we have passed the formidable barrier which has all the morning baffled and defeated the second brigade. On, on, with a fiercer and more terrible shock, and the clashing of steel and rattle of carbines tell of a second, more desperate encounter. But the rebel hordes cannot meet our long-armed, stalwart swordsmen, and again they give way, and again the sabres rise and fall, red and dripping with blood, as in charge after charge, with avenging fury, we burst like a thunderbolt upon their doomed squadrons, scattering them like chaff before the whirlwind, till crushed, and routed, and panic-stricken and dismayed, they fled with a shriek of horror from the disastrous field!

To-day we met in yonder consecrated city of the dead, that beautiful resting place of so many true, devoted heroes, who toiled and suffered, and fought and bled, and at last laid down their lives in behalf of the Union and the old flag. We should stand there with uncovered, reverently bowed heads, with hearts filled with deepest devotion, for the place where they lie is holy ground.

"Camping under the stars,
Tented 'neath swelling sod,
The host of martyrs sleep,
Waiting the trump of God."

We cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow that spot. The brave and gallant dead who sleep there have consecrated it more than church or State can ever do. "It is for us, the living, rather to be dedicated there to the unfinished work that they so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be there dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from those honored dead we take increased devotion to the cause for which they gave there life; that we there highly resolve that the dead shall not have died in vain."

Comrades, this is our sacred day, set apart and dedicated to memory of our departed heroes. We march to martial music, for they once "kept step to the music of the Union." We carry the flag, for they once followed it amid the flame and smoke of battle. We arm our color guard, for they once carried arms for the Stars and Stripes. We form in military lines, for they once stood shoulder to shoulder with us in ranks. We have the salute of artillery, for they once waked to the reveille of cannon. But our muskets are unloaded, for they fight with us no more. Over their resting places the sun rises and sets, and on their humble graves the winter snows and summer rains fall gently, but they who once stood the weary hours of the lonely picket guard, where no eye save God's looked down in sympathy and pity upon them, stand no more. Their watch is over, their duty done. Beneath their country's starry banner and the starry heavens of their God, they sweetly sleep till the great awakening of the Resurrection morning. We speak of them as dead, but they are

"Only gone before,
To that unknown, silent shore."

They "passed on" from sanguinary field, from hospital tent or prison pen, and we speak of them as "the dead of the war." But there is a rich, full sense, in which they are not dead. In their example, in their grand achievements, in their triumphant vindication of the "government of the people, by the people, for the people," they still live and can never die. They still speak to us in the thousand reminiscences which recall their doing and daring. They incite us to a faithful performance of our duties as citizens. They remind us that our obligations to be good men and true did not cease when we reverently folded our banners and were no longer thrilled by the clarion call of the bugles, but that there still remains another and a higher duty for us and for those who shall come after us, in establishing upon the impregnable foundations of truth and justice our Union and the principles of representative government, and transmitting them to our posterity. The Roman Senate decreed that "the Consul should see to it that no ill befell the Republic." That, too, is the duty devolved upon us of this generation and for the faithful discharge of that sacred trust we must answer hereafter to our own consciences to the valiant and true who fell at our side on "the perilous edge of battle," and to the great Judgd who knows our motives and weighs them in the scales of Eternal Justice!

If we are true to the memory of our cherished ones, if we catch the inspiration of their spirit and example, if we feel, as we may and should, the influence of their presence; if we are moved by the same divine impulses which swept them fearlessly onward through the portals of death, and sustained them in the agony of dissolution, then are they not wholly lost to us, then are they not dead, but only "gone before," and we may rejoice in the blessed hope that we shall hereafter become one with them in the deathless bonds of an eternal union. No, my friends, let us not think of them as dead, but only gone forward as scouts and advance guards, to select for us an encampment on the celestial hills. Their brave deeds, perchance no pen will chronicle, their generous actions none may relate, yet somewhere they are written in a record which is just and perfect, and which has place for the humblest as well as the highest, and are rewarded by an Almighty hand which cannot err. We cannot decorate the graves of all our comrades, but we lay our tributes of tendrest love and sympathy upon the graves on yonder hillside, let us stand in memory by the last resting places of those who sleep beneath the moaning pines of Virginia,—on the heights where, from the clouds of Lookout Mountain, they thundered down the defiance of the skies, —in the ghastly prison pens of Georgia and Carolina, under the grand, majestic shadow of the proud capitol, and where the great river whirls its turbid waters past Vicksburg's heights and Port Hudson's plains, sleeping where they fighting fell.

In the truest, fullest appreciation of the day, we meet in commemoration of all who have fallen, whether they lie in the quiet cemetery which overlooks with calm serenity the busy, bustling city beneath, or in some lonely far off spot, where no tomb shall ever plead remembrance—in distant southern soil, where, it may be, not even the simple words of "Unknown Soldier" mark their final resting places, or whether no useless coffin enshrouding their breast, but wrapped in the blanket, which is the soldier's martial shroud, they wait, upon the field won by their valor, the coming of the eternal day. A soldier who has followed the dear old flag, who has calmly faced death in its manifold shapes on a hundred battlefields, who has suffered hunger and thirst and exhaustion on forced marches, who has sweltered under a southern July sun, and shivered and frozen amid the snows of winter; who has marched and fought, day after day and weary month after weary month, struggling against adverse fortune, overwhelming odds, disaster and defeat; who has endured such tortures and hardships of prison life as man never endured before in the world's history, and who has preserved his faith, and his hope, and his loyal love of country,—a soldier brave and true, whose strength, whose energies, whose heart and soul, and life, even, were his country's,—is a sublime Epic!—a complete epitome of the war for Fatherland!

What a man will suffer for those he loves is the measure of the depth of his affection for his dear ones. What a man will endure for a great principle is the measure of the value of that principle to him. What he will undergo, at the call of his country, when her liberties are endangered, when a foe from without, or from within assails her integrity, is the true measure of the worth of country and government and society to him. A man becomes heroic, when he dares, and is willing to suffer, when he prefers the risk of suffering and of death, to ignoble, servile ease and safety; when he will even fight for human, natural rights, against wrong and oppression and arbitrary law.

My friends, war is a terrible evil! You who have never been brought face to face with its realities, whose firesides have never experienced its ravages, whose happy homes have never known invasion and its horrors can have but a very inadequate idea of what war is, with its wanton destruction, its blackened ruins, its devastated fields, its ruthless spoliation, its desolation, its blood, and ghastly wounds and suffering and agony. Its immediate effects are the same, in great degree, whether you are victor or vanquished. One of the most noted generals of modern times has well said that, in war, next to defeat the direst calamity which can befall an army is a great victory. But, my friends, there is another picture, even sadder than this. Peace may sometimes have its horrors as well as war. The peace which comes from the decline of patriotism; which comes from the death of public virtue; which is the silence of an indifferent or stifled public conscience; the blunting of public moral sense, blighted by selfishness or intemperance of power; the want of loyalty to truth and humanity; the peace where honor and integrity are left at the mercy of the mob; a peace, to gain which men will barter liberty and personal rights, will surrender their consciences and their reason in servile subjection to evil, will fawn and cringe and cower like galley slaves before their masters,—such a peace is accursed of God,—such a peace is the gravest disaster which can afflict a people; such a peace carries with it a stigma and degradation which words cannot describe, for it signifies a decay, a rottenness, a corruption, a moral gangrene which is the sure precursor of political dissolution, the beginning of the end of all government, and restraint, and personal accountability. I need not go beyond our own country for an illustration, beyond times and events within the memory of nearly all who hear me to-night. There are crises in a people's history, when it seems as if ten good men could not be found to save the land. Yet it is not that the men are wanting. They are only silent, only waiting, only biding their time. Let the danger assume tangible form; let the great soul of humanity cry out, and not only ten, but ten thousand faithful men shall spring to arms, — and if the exigency calls for more, we have, even in our day, seen a million brave men and true rise up, as if by magic, to prove that they were worthy sons of '76, and that the spirit of the fathers was not dead, but only sleeping. Let your thoughts go back to the winter of 1860-61, when a dark pall hung over the nation; when every southern breeze, as it came floating up to us, brought to our ears only treason and treachery, and bitterness and woe; when the cloud, at first no bigger than a man's hand, grew blacker and denser till it finally obscured the whole heavens, and the lightnings flashed and the thunder rolled across the startled sky; when many good men gave way to despair, and felt that the Union of our fathers was soon to become, if it were not already, only a story of the past; when scoffers at republicanism rejoiced over the failure of democratic government; when craven, time-serving politicians crept about with livid faces and trembling hands, and went down upon their quaking, cowardly knees to beg their masters for peace on any terms and at any price; when Freedom stood chained to the auction block in the national capital, and political honor and honesty seemed to have fled the national councils. We breathed a stifling atmosphere, we groped about blindly in the darkness; we stumbled in hesitancy and doubt, and the great mass of the people, abandoned by their recreant leaders and forsaken by their false prophets, called aloud unto God for light, for strength, for guidance, for some one to direct them through the wilderness of their perplexities. But human language cannot depict for you the unutterable horrors of those months, when the government was paralyzed; when the national arm was palsied; when patriotism seemed dead; when the virus of treason was creeping through all the veins and vitals of the Republic; when dark despair seemed settling down upon the popular mind, and a numbness had seized upon the hearts of the people!

On the 12th of April, 1861, the echoes of the first gun at Fort Sumter broke the horrid nightmare which had so long held our people spellbound. Their eyes were opened, their tongues were loosed, and then we saw such a popular outburst of patriotism as the world never before witnessed. After the anxiety and strain of those five months of deadly peace, war, even civil war, was a relief. Then commenced a struggle, for which history furnishes no parallel,—a struggle between right and wrong, justice and oppression, freedom and slavery, law and anarchy, union and secession, light and darkness, and you all know the result. Now, how stands the account? Judging by the standard already announced, what value should we attach to our country and our Union? $6,000,000,000 of money, 300,000 brave lives, 500,000 maimed and disabled survivors of the war for national unity and independence, testify the depth of devotion, the earnest allegiance of the American citizen to the government of our fathers, during those years of our trial and adversity.

The Grecian statesman said, "That city is best fortified against attack that is walled around with the ranks of its veteran soldiers." What a striking illustration of this truth has this nation afforded within the past few years. How signally have we verified the wisdom of this utterance in our own recent history! The American Soldier, the volunteer soldier, whose endurance and valor averted the doom impending over the nation and preserved our Union for future generations, is a true type of the normal American citizen, at his highest and best estate. He is a part of our life, our national being. It was not his profession, his ambition, his thirst for power, his lust of conquest, his avarice, his personal hatred of men or sections, that led him into the war, but simply duty; the same great inspiration which compelled and enabled him to pursue the ordinary avocations of life in shop and field. It is a philosophical theory of our government and institutions that a standing army is unnecessary, that a large military establishment is useless and uncalled for, because every man would feel that military service is a duty, a sacrifice which he must render his country in her hour of need. And it is our popular liberty which renders the performance of this duty imperative, which makes it easy to fulfil, which raises it from the level of a mere physical task, to the dignity and sublimity and grandeur of a moral obligation. I contend, and statistics will vindicate my claim, that no truer, braver, more faithful and incorruptible body of men was ever assembled or banded together than our armies during the war of the rebellion. I go still further, and assert that on them, their moral character and their integrity, the so-called vices and immoralities of military life made no impression, produced no evil results whatever; that these men returned to society, at the close of the war, as virtuous, as honest, as faithful and moral, as when they enrolled themselves under the standards they so proudly bore to victory, and came back more matured, more manly by far, than when they took up arms and assumed the responsibilities and burdens of the camp and battle-field.

One in ten of our whole population enrolled themselves in the Army and Navy of the Union, giving the strength and vigor of the best part of their youth and manhood to their country; and of this vast host, one in ten laid down their lives in her defence, and never has the world beheld a more incorruptible body of men than these American Volunteers. It could not be otherwise, for they represented the whole body of the people. They represented the character, and intelligence, and integrity, and virtue, and morality of the people. They stood for the love of liberty, the love of union, the patriotic impulse, the deliberate, stern purpose of the people; and after four and five years of constant, active service in the most gigantic civil war that ever shook to its very centre the mighty fabric of national unity and existence, they came back to you without any immediate personal advantage gained, without any benefit to themselves, except the preservation of the life and liberties of a great people, who, in less than ten years, have almost forgotten their sacrifices and the inestimable results of their work.

Fellow citizens, you remember well the misgivings and solicitude with which the nation looked forward to the disbanding of our armies at the close of the war. The absorption of two millions of veteran soldiers into the peaceful occupations of civil life was declared to be impossible. It was asserted by thousands and believed by millions more that this suddenly letting loose upon the society such a host of men, fresh from all the license of actual warfare, and tainted with all the fancied immoralities of camp life, would deluge the community with vice and evil influences and entail unutterable horrors upon the people. Such was the prediction, such the fear, and the world looked on to see the overthrow of democratic government by military despotism, by the men who had just rescued the Union from anarchy, and who now, under the lead of some successful general, would be used as subservient tools wherewith to set up a throne upon the ruins of republicanism, forgetting that our soldiers were thinking, moral beings, actuated by rational patriotic motives, and ignorant of the fact that such men can never be made the tools of designing demagogues, but would rally with one impulse for the overthrow of any individual despot, as they had already done for the destruction of a tyrannous oligarchy. The result was a signal and triumphant refutation of the calumny. Our armies were not composed of professional soldiers, whose lives had been spent in war and conquest, but of men who carried into the service with them loyal convictions, fostered from childhood by earnest, God-fearing mothers, who were prompted by the love of liberty and country, and were guided by principles of integrity and morality: During all the darkest hours of the war, in quarters and around the camp-fire, on the march, and on the lonely picket watch, where none but the Omniscient eye could read the secrets of their inmost souls, their thoughts reverted to the happy homes and cheerful firesides to which, their duty done, they hoped, God willing, to return. And so, when the last blow had been struck, the last engagement fought, the last gun fired, when victory had crowned our cause with unfading laurel—they turned their eager footsteps homeward, laid their proud standards wreathed with glory, their arms all unsullied, their trophies wrested from a gallant and stubborn foe on a hundred well contested fields, at the feet of the people whose battles they had fought so well, whose liberties they had rescued and preserved, and even while the nation looked on in speechless amazement, the mighty host faded away, the vast, superb army was absorbed into the body politic, and had already become only a name, a precious memory, its heroic deeds a story of the past! Where, in all history, can you find a grander, more imposing spectacle than this? Two millions of men in arms in response to the call of their chosen rulers, in obedience to a high and holy principle,—a trained, veteran army flushed with magnificent victory, disbanded at once, submissive to the same will that created it?

In that baptism of blood, by those cleansing fires, the nation was redeemed and purified. By the mortal agony of that terrible struggle was this people uplifted to a higher, truer life. The lofty spirit of allegiance, the deep, intense love of liberty and union which stirred the mighty heart of the great Republic, roused its latent energies, raised and equipped millions of men, tenderly cared for our sick and wounded soldiers, maintained the public credit, collected untold millions into the public treasury, and awed the nations of the old world by a sublime exhibition of the grandest elements of magnanimity and power—was the same spirit which pervaded and animated those disciplined, victorious armies, elated with triumph and conscious of their invincible might, making it possible for them to quietly melt away into the commonside of every day life.

Comrades of the Grand Army of Liberty, the question comes home to-day to every thinking man among us: Shall we keep and preserve the rich fruits of our triumph, the triumph of good government, the triumph of the Union, or shall we ignobly surrender them to partisan or sectional passion, to the control of demagogues, to the keeping of men who would prostitute power to their own base, selfish ends, who would stain our national honor, falsify our past proud record of national integrity, repudiate our obligations, and make our very name a by-word and a reproach among the nations of the earth? Our simple creed is "Fidelity to National Unity!" If dangers again menace the Union, whether from without or from within; if the old flag is again assaulted, whether by a foreign foe, or by traitors who, in the national capitol, threaten the subversion of the government by starving it into submission to their disloyal purposes; if peril to our institutions comes from abroad or from the vipers whom the nation has too confidingly nurtured in its bosom, let the people understand and rest assured that, from the survivors of the Union armies, 500,000 able-bodied, earnest men will, at the first alarm, spring again to arms, with all the alacrity and zeal which marked the immortal days of '61, and ere the sun that night shall sink behind the western hills he will look down upon half a million veterans of a four years' war, marching with a steady tread, like the travail of a mighty earthquake, to uphold and defend the honor of the Stars and Stripes! And the next time we meet the perfidious foes of the Union, we propose to fight it out, and politicians must stand aside for the men who do the fighting to settle the matter in their own time and fashion. Next time we propose to secure and garner up the fruits of our victory, we propose to make an end, forever and forever, of rebellion in the American Union! I speak in the interest of no political party. I care nothing for party names. I speak as a Union Soldier and I believe I give utterance to the sentiment of every true lover of his country, when I say that the next time treason to the flag dares to rear its head on American soil, it must be, not merely scotched as it was before, but it must be crushed, exterminated, annihilated, and the men who conquered Lee and Johnston in '65 will demand the post of honor in the new crusade for the Union!

Remember, comrades, the measure of our duty is the greatness of our opportunities, and the fullness of our advantages is the standard, according to which we shall be judged by the tribunal of man, and by the infallible arbitrament of heaven. Let us take this thought to our own hearts and consciences, and with a sincere and earnest determination to perform the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us remember that we must some day, as a nation, even as individuals, render an account of our stewardship, and be sure that according to our possibilities, it will be recompensed to us measure for measure, in the unerring judgment of God.

How many gallant comrades are slumbering all along the perilous, bloody pathways you trod so fearlessly, so unflinchingly! They are sleeping on the crimson fields of the Shenandoah Valley, by the passes of the Blue Ridge and along the mountain sides of Maryland to where immortal Gettysburg rears its consecrated heights. They are sleeping where they fell, on the sunny plains before Port Hudson, on Morris' Island, at Baton Rouge, and before the defences of Vicksburg. They are sleeping at Manassas and Belle Plain, by the sullen waters of the dark Rapidan, and along the banks of the Rappahannock down to bloody Fredericksburg. The joyous springtime brings its earliest flowers, nature's tenderest tribute, to deck their lowly resting places, at Bull Run, and South Mountain, and Antietam, and Mayre's Heights. The precious dust of our heroes sanctifies the gloomy thickets of the Wilderness, and Spottsylvania, and Cold Harbor, and the Chickahominy. Beneath the sobbing pines they are sleeping near Richmond, where the peaceful stars look pityingly down upon their hallowed graves. At Yorktown and Williamsburg, at Malvern Hill and Fair Oaks, and down by Deep Bottom, before the intrenchments of Petersburg, at Ream's Station and the Boydton Plank Road.—far across the Weldon railroad, at Hatcher's Run, and Five Forks, and Sailor's Creek, and on the slopes that amphitheatre Appomattox—they lie. Dead on the field of honor! Dead that the Republic might live!

"On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round,
The bivouac of the dead."

And that sublime old army itself! That peerless host whose illustrious arms are crowned with victorious laurel, whose triumphant standards are emblazoned with countless battles for God and Humanity! whose myriad heroes have gone to swell the exalted legions who died for Liberty and Truth! Ah, comrades, hushed are its bugles, whose thrilling reveilles broke the sweet stillness of the morning air as they saluted the coming day; silent its guns which thundered defiance to the foe; stilled are its deadly rifles, whose murderous volleys rolled back in billowing waves the flushed and exultant enemy; no longer, like battle meteors, flash its avenging sabres as our resistless squadrons sweep like a merciless whirlwind over the fiercely contested field; no more wave over us its standards which beckoned us onward to undying fame! Its old tattered, smoke grimed banners are reverently furled, its tents are all struck, its camp-fires dead.

"Dead is the roll of its drums,
Their distant echoes die,
They fade in the far off sky."

Broken are our serried ranks that never quailed before the rebel hordes. "Vanished the embattled hosts that shone in the morning sun, scattered the friendly band that shoulder to shoulder stormed the gates of glory!"

Yet, still lingers with us, like distant music gently wafted on the breath of evening, the sad, sweet refrain which comes up ever from those fields of deathless glory, and from beneath the whispering forest trees; and still, and ever, the loving spirit of the great All-Father, brooding with an infinite compassion over all his children, bends tenderly down to breathe his sweetest benediction upon every humble grave that covers a manly and soldierly heart!

Portsmouth Chronicle

MONDAY, JUNE 2, 1879.

Manchester & Lawrence Railroad.

The annual meeting of the stockholders in this corporation was held at Smyth's hall in Manchester on Friday. The attendance was small. There was no blackguardism or scrimmage, but the board of directors of last year, consisting of E. A. Straw, Benjamin F. Martin and Nathan Parker, Manchester; E. A. Abbot and Ass Fowler, Concord; J. W. Smith, Andover, Mass.; and Wm. A. Tower, Boston, were elected without opposition.

The board of directors are to meet this week in Boston, for organization.

News and Notes.

Joseph Baker, a French boy between fourteen and fifteen years of age, was drowned at Biddeford on the 28th ult. by falling from a floating log on which he was playing.

The Chicago base ball club beat the Bostons for the second time, Friday, by a score of eight to nothing.

A despatch to the Chilian minister in London says that the captain of the Esmeralda, one of the Chilian ships destroyed in the recent fight, finding his vessel disabled blew her up to prevent her falling into the hands of the Peruvians.

T. C. Packard, the leading tenor of the Carl Rosa opera troupe, who was in a few days to marry Miss Julia Garland, the leading soprano of the company, has become insane.

The yellow fever is raging at Hayti. The French minister, his private secretary and the first secretary of legation all died in a few hours after being attacked.

The office of Beach's soap factory at Lawrence, Mass., was broken into Friday morning, and a small sum of money, with bonds, notes, etc., stolen. One of the thieves, a noted rough and thief named Bernard Daley, was captured and some of the stolen articles found upon him.

Dr. Otis M. Fernald, a physician of Lawrence, Mass., whose reputation had previously been of the highest, has been sent to State prison for three years for burning his buildings with intent to defraud the insurance companies.

Eva Williams, aged fourteen, and Emma Davis, aged thirteen, daughters of the proprietors of the Chittenden hotel at Columbus, O., were drowned Friday night while bathing in the river.

Henry Punchard, of the engineering firm of Clark & Punchard, of London, has failed, with liabilities of $4,500,000. Mr. Clark, the other member of the firm, failed a month ago with liabilities of $3,800,000.

Twenty-five vessels and two hundred and twenty lives lost within the past five months is the calamitous record of the Gloucester fishing fleet.

Mount Ætna is having another grand blow out.

Lorillard's horse Parole won the gold cup at Epsom, England, on Friday.

Gray, the forger who was brought home from England, has gone to State prison in New York for ten years.

Advices from Newark, Vt., May 30th, say that up to the evening of that day eleven children had died from drinking the water of the poisoned brook. E. J. Morse lost two children, John Aldrich five, (his entire family—his wife has become insane,) Fred Simpson one, L. Simpson one, John Cole one and a Mr. Park one; and others were hourly expected to die. Potato tops poisoned with Paris green had been thrown into the brook, it is said, in addition to dead horses and sheep.

Naval Matters.

Pay Inspector A. H. Gilman has been nominated by the President to be pay director, Paymaster Joseph A. Smith to be pay inspector, and Passed Asst. Paymaster I. Goodwin Hobbs to be paymaster in the navy.

Lieut. Comdr. C. M. Anthony, commanding the Manhattan, is granted leave of absence for one month.

The Marion arrived at Key West May 23d, on her way to Mexico.

The Vandalia arrived at Key West from Aspinwall on the 29th ult.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

That Cold of Yours may run into consumption if you don't take Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

That Hectic Flush Denotes Danger. Relieve yourself by using and at once too, Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

$100,000 Going a-Begging.

At the last June Distribution of the Louisiana State Lottery Company a worthy but impecunious coal merchant of New Orleans drew, for ten dollars invested, one hundred thousand dollars. There are just as good opportunities for some one offered under the management of Generals Beauregard and Early, at New Orleans, on June 17th next. For Further information, Address M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Lungs cannot be made but can be saved by the use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup if taken in time.

PLEASANT AND PALATABLE, as well as efficacious is Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye put up by C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston. As a remedy for colds it has no equal.

Great Joy over the fact that your cough can be thorough y cured by Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. eod&w79

Fred E. Carleton, a Spaniard, left his wife in Manchester last April, taking with him money and jewels of hers to the amount of $700, and went to Cuba. He recently returned, and was arrested at Lawrence, Mass.

Col. George's indiscreet language at the Concord railroad meeting and his ill behavior at the Nashua & Lowell meeting, in behalf of consolidation, has accomplished more to prevent the success of the desired schemes of the Boston & Lowell railroad than all of Mr. Pearson's protests in a decade could have availed. Verily, "whom the gods would destroy they first make mad," or something else.

Large forest fires are reported as raging in the vicinity of Canaan and Enfield last week. Much valuable wood land and many cleared fields were burned over, and about 400 cords of cut wood destroyed.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler arrived home from Washington on Saturday, it is supposed to take a hand in the senatorial contest.

AROUND HOME.

Stoddard Brothers took nearly $300 at their stable, Memorial day, from the letting of horses.

Samuel H. Peck and wife, formerly of this city, were passengers in a steamer to Europe last week.

The Portsmouth cornet band has been re-organized, and Mr. William Critchley, Jr., elected leader.

Hon. Marcellus Eldredge on Thursday lost a valuable horse he recently purchased, the animal breaking his neck by a fall.

A little steamer belonging to Mr. George E. Fifield, of South Newmarket, brought twenty persons from that place to this city on Memorial day.

The laborers employed in the gravel pits at West Epping by the Concord railroad have carried the point for which they struck a week or two ago, the road having consented to raise their wages from eighty cents to a dollar a day.

The assessors find 3644 shares of railway stock, besides that of the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, owned by residents in Portsmouth April 1st, 1879. Upon this the city receives from the State treasury a part of the tax assessed to the corporations.

The Washington correspondent of the News Letter writes that the democrats are apprehensive that W. E. Chandler may be New Hampshire's next senator. Let the democrats be frightened if they want to; there is no republican who apprehends any such result.

An attempt was made by burglars one night last week to break into the residence of Mr. Samuel P. Treadwell, city treasurer, but the would-be thieves (of whom there were three) were frightened off by a neighbor, who, being aroused from sleep by their noise, gave an alarm which drove off the men before they had accomplished their designs.

The dead body of an infant was found in the mud at Kennebunkport on Friday; the tide at high water covers the spot where it was found, and as the villagers could not tell whether the body came down the river, was brought in by the flood tide, or was thrown from the bank near by, the discovery created a good deal of excitement in the town.

The post-office department gives notice to parties interested that on account of lack of funds the mail service on the new route between Exeter and Hampton will not commence this year. This is owing to the "economy" of the "democratic reform Congress," which cuts down the necessary appropriations for the mail service of the whole country below the point of necessary efficiency, but puts three-quarters of a million dollars in the hands of a committee to keep yellow fever out of the southern cities that invite its presence by their reckless disregard of sanitary laws and the common decency of clean liness.

Mrs. Munroe's juvenile dancing party on Saturday evening in Congress hall was a very pleasing entertainment. The little ones, especially the very little ones, looked sweetly, and did nicely. The card list of dances, (which consisted of six, besides the German,) was performed in a very pretty manner. It must require a deal of practice and perseverence on the part of a teacher to secure such grace of motion and accuracy of time as these children (mere babes, some of them) exhibited. The several figures of the German were very well done, proving Mrs. Monroe's reputation as an instructor of the terpsichorean art to be well founded.

Capt. Charles H. Thompson launched at Kennebunkport on the 27th ult., a centre-board schooner of about thirty-five tons, named the Lydia Grant, built for a coaster to ply between Cape Porpoise and Portland, owned by her master, Silas P. Grant, and others of Cape Porpoise. The same day Mr. George W. Maling launched a centre-board sloop yacht, twenty-seven feet long, and ten feet beam, named the Hirondelle, built for paymaster C. H. Nowell of the Boston & Maine railroad. Abraham Perkins launched on the 24th ult. a pleasure boat twenty-seven feet long, built for Edward H. Hale of Biddeford, and intended to run passengers between Saco and the pool during the summer.

Is it possible that the recent drouth has affected the quantity of water in the Piscataqua, or else why do the water carts sprinkle so sparsely?

At an adjourned town meeting the citizens of Wells voted to rebuild the town farm buildings recently burned. The estimated cost is $1,800; furnace extra.

The schooner John R. Halliday had her cargo of 597 tons of coal taken out in twenty-five hours last week at Concord railroad wharf, by the stevedore's gang of Mr. George Raitt. This is the best time yet made, so far as we have seen reported.

There are those who think if flower dealers occupy the sidewalk to sell flowers in the shadow of the city hall, the mayor, who is always especially neat in his habits, should cause the venders to clean up the walks after removing their wares, even if the police omit to require this obvious propriety.

Lieut. Edward F. Hickey has tendered to Col. Dillon, commanding the 1st. Regt. N. H. National Guard, his resignation as 1st lieutenant of Co. K, otherwise known as the Portsmouth City Guards. Lieut. Hickey has served five years in the militia of Massachusetts, Maine and New Hampshire, and by constant attention and study has thoroughly familiarized himself with the intricacies of military movements. His resignation is much regretted by the company, of which he has been a member for several months.

Capt. Henry Frisbee, a well known coasting captain belonging at Kittery point, recently went to New York as mate of the schooner Union Flag of this port. The vessel took a berth at one of the piers on the North river, and on Sunday evening, the 25th ult., when the captain between nine and ten o'clock retired he left the mate in the cabin, after which nothing was heard of him until his dead body was picked up in the East river on Saturday last. Foul play is suspected. Capt. Frisbee's age was about forty-two years. The body was brought home for interment.

About five o'clock Friday morning fire started in a fine summer cottage at Concordville," York beach, owned and at the time occupied by Mrs. Emery of "Concord, N. H., burning the same and six other cottages, all belonging to Concord parties. The contents of Dr. Russell's house were burned; all the rest being saved, though in a damaged state. Only one cottage was occupied at the time, while the others were being put in order for immediate occupancy. The insurance on the buildings is held manly in offices at Boston. Loss estimated at not far from $5,000, which is mostly covered. The origin of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to be incendiary.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, May 31; Batchelder, J.

James Gorman was arraigned on a charge of brawl and tumult, but was dismissed. He was then arraigned on a charge of malicious mischief, in that he committed assault and battery on a tin pan full of paste, and did throw the same out of a window to its grievous bodily harm; but though the assault on the paste pan was acknowledged, this complaint also was dismissed. Another complaint against Gorman, for assault on Charles O. Johnson, was nol. pros'd. These cases all grew out of a dispute concerning the repairing of a house, owned by Gorman and another person, Gorman objecting to its being done; and when he found papering being done by a woman he pitched in and pitched the paste dish out of the window.

At the conclusion of these cases Charles O. Johnson put on his hat and started to walk out of court, growling at the woman in a very audible tone, and making use of profane language; so the magistrate directed the city marshal to lock him up for two hours, to give him a chance to cool off.

John Dwyer, accused of keeping a disorderly house, was required to personally recognize in $100 for his appearance next Friday, the case being continued until that time.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION.

SALEM DEPOT, N. H., May 28th.

The Rockingham County Sunday School Association met here to-day at the Pleasant street Methodist church: Rev. Dr. Adams, the president being absent, Rev. Edward Robie, D. D. vice president, was in the chair.

Opening devotional exercises at ten o'clock A. M., conducted by Rev. O. S. Bakatel of Manchester; followed by words of hearty welcome to the delegates and other Sabbath school workers, by the very warm hearted pastor, Rev. C. M. Dinsmore.

At 10:30, report of secretary Frank R. Drake, giving some thoughts and statistics in regard to the county.

At eleven, sermon by Rev. George B. Spalding, D. D., of Dover; text—Mark, 4th chap., 26th, 27th and 28th verses; the subject being, "The growth of seed: 1st, The mystery of the growth of seed in the human heart; 2d, The spontaneous character of the growth; 3d, The progressiveness of the growth." Dr. Spalding is one of the first scholars and writers in the State, and under these heads he presented thoughts, clear and impressive, with an earnestness which is characteristic of the man. His illustrations were beautiful, drawn from nature and the experience of christian workers in the past.

The afternoon service was opened by a praise meeting which was a credit to the singers of Salem.

At 2:30 the discussion on the topic, "What are the elements of a successful Sunday school? How may we secure them?" was opened by Dr. Robie. He said the object of Sabbath schools was to bring men to a saving knowledge of Christ, and were successful when this object was secured. He spoke of the importance of a more thorough study of the lesson by teachers and scholars; the need of making the school a standard part of the service of the sanctuary, and of having faith in the power of the Divine Word.

Rev. N. Day of Newton followed, speaking of the need of efficient superintendents, punctual teachers, good library-books and papers, good singing, and the all-important presence of the Holy Spirit; these to be secured by having a consecrated church.

Rev. Mr. Chase of Kingston spoke of having lady superintendents, and of teaching our children good songs at home, and giving them pure literature.

Dr. Spalding spoke of being personal in instructing our scholars, — personal with men, personal with children.

Rev. G. W. Ruland of Greenland spoke of the need of having enthusiasm in superintendent and teachers.

Rev. E. Owen of Portsmouth spoke of having time for the school, and self-sacrificing men to conduct it.

At 3:30 Rev. O. S. Bakatel gave a most excellent essay upon the same subject as the discussion; said there should be a Sabbath school wherever there are ten children; spoke of having studious superintendents—those that have governing tact, grit and grace—men liberal to the extent of their ability with time and money; earnest, prayerful teachers; to hold our scholars we must benefit them; that school is most successful that most thoroughly studies the Word of God. Mr. Bakatel is one of the rising young Methodist preachers in our State,—eloquent and pointed in his thoughts.

John G. Lane, Esq., of Manchester, the secretary of the State Sabbath School Association, was present, and read a paper full of valuable thoughts and suggestions to Sabbath school workers.

The Convention was a success; over three hundred persons were present, representing all parts of the county. The collation prepared by the Salem people was bountiful; it would be hard to find a more cordial people than those at the pleasant little village of Salem Depot. One pastor said, "We should like to have two Sunday school conventions a year, both at Salem."

The officers of the Association for the coming year are:

Benjamin R. Jewell, Esq., South Hampton, president;

Prof. Albert C. Perkins, Exeter, and Rev. C. M. Dinsmore, Salem Depot, vice presidents;

Frank R. Drake, North Hampton, secretary and treasurer;

Rev. F. Owen, Portsmouth, Rev. N. Day, Newton, Hon. John W. Wheeler, North Salem, Rev. Eugene M. Grant, Portsmouth, Rev. Edward Robie, D. D., Greenland, executive committee.

There are ninety-eight schools connected with the Association, having a membership of 9677.

The next meeting is appointed for the third Wednesday of May, 1880; place to be announced.

MEMORIAL DAY---1879.

The programme for the day and evening was carried out in a manner creditable to all concerned, and particularly to the energetic chief marshal, Dr. S. C. Whittier, (himself a veteran of the war,) and the active and capable aids appointed by him. The procession formed without any of the changes during formation which have been common on former occasions, and moved very shortly after the advertised hour.

The line presented a really handsome appearance as it proceeded along the thickly peopled streets. The centre of observation of course was the corps of veterans, arrayed in the unpretending garb of the citizen, and bearing the colors for which they fought and profuse floral and evergreen tributes with which to deck the graves of their comrades who have marched along. The various companies of the National Guard turned out with well filled ranks, as did the two fire companies that took part; and all looked finely and marched well. The marine battalion from the navy yard, under command of Major George Butler, appeared better even than on any similar occasion previously, though they have always appeared finely; there was an air of extra neatness about them, even for marines, and their movements were executed with a precision and sort of confident "snap" that attracted the comments of persons unacquainted with military affairs, as well as of soldiers. On the dress parade their motions were as exact and simultaneous as though they had been all connected by wires and worked by electricity.

The exercises at the cemetery were as usual, and call for no special description. The brief address by Rev. E. M. Grant was in excellent taste, and a graceful tribute to the fallen brave.

In the evening, Music hall was filled. After the audience had assembled, and the orchestral selections had been performed, Chief Marshal S. C. Whittier stepped to the front of the stage and resigned the position he had so ably filled, in the following brief address:

Ladies and Gentlemen: In surrendering the authority with which through your kind courtesy I have been this day invested, there yet devolves on me the grateful duty of acknowledging the very general and hearty co-operation extended to me from every direction.

To His Honor the Mayor, to the military and the citizens' committee, to my chief of staff, marshals of divisions and aids, I am under especial obligation, for in addition to their practical experience and skill, they afforded prompt and unwavering support without which my position would have been anything but a bed of roses.

I am aware that it has become a matter of routine—the acknowledging of courtesies from the commandant and staff at the navy yard; but a renewal of such acknowledgments may be none the less sincere for its frequent repetition.

Lack of time alone prevents the enumeration of the military and civic bodies composing to-day's escort, to whom my grateful thanks are due.

To my comrades of the Grand Army, let me urge that they be not forgetful of Him who brought us safely through the ordeal of battle, and has preserved us in health and strength to witness this beautiful anniversary.

And among the memories of all pleasant days, may that of Memorial Day of '79 be not the least.

Dr. Whittier then introduced as President of the evening our honored citizen, Ex-Gov. Goodwin, who was of course heartily received, and who made brief and very appropriate remarks on taking the chair.

We have not space to particularize each feature of the exercises, further than to say that Miss Lizzie Varrell and Wm. Russell Foster, Esq., gave the audience much pleasure by their reading; the singing of Mr. George F. Monroe and the Music hall quartette was excellent, and was repeatedly and deservedly encored; Major Myrick's address (which we print in full in another place) showed careful preparation, was finely delivered and well received by the audience; Hon. Henry W. Blair, who arrived in the city a short time before the meeting commenced, made a brief but ringing speech; and though the exercises as a whole were rather too long, in our opinion, the interest was so well maintained that scarcely a person left the house until the end.

We close our account of the observances of the day, with the poem written by Miss Esther W. Barnes for the occasion, and read by Stephen W. Clarke, Esq., at an early stage of the evening exercises:

REQUIESCAT IN PACE.

A poem in commemoration of those who died upon the battle-field and on the sea,—"Martyrs of Liberty"—in our civil war.

Rest, heroes, rest! All conflicts now are ended.
Rest! with the martyr's crown upon each brow;
While grateful hearts and loving hands are trailing
Flowers of the summer o'er the green turf now.
Fresh is the memory of your deeds of daring.
Oh! bold, brave hearts! that rest beneath the sod—
And we will keep it fresh, with floral incense,
A spring-time offering of the gifts of God.
Rest, warriors, rest!

Ye can not die, while yet your memory liveth,
Unseen, where sacred thoughts are set apart:
Nor can your names from out Time's record perish,
While they are written on a Nation's heart!
Your blood has washed from off our country's banner
The deep, dark stain of Slavery's cruel wrong;
And now the stars and stripes more fitly symbol
The land of freedom, breathed in verse and song.
Rest, heroes, rest!

Your lives you laid upon your country's altar,
A bleeding sacrifice, by land and sea;
And we will never let the memory perish
Of deeds deserving immortality.
The roll of drum, the bugle-note, the clarion
No more shall call you to the field of strife;
But this "Memorial Day" to future ages
Shall tell how liberty was bought, with life.
Rest, patriots, rest!

"Lorle, or the Artist's Dream."

The new and beautiful five-act drama which Maggie Mitchell is to produce at Music Hall on next Thursday evening, is well adapted to the display of Miss Mitchell's varied powers, and is in many respects superior to any other in which she has ever appeared. "Lorle," the belle of a Swiss Canton, captures the heart of a German Artist, "Reinhard," who asks her to be his wife. She accepts, her father gives his consent, not without misgivings caused by the difference in station of the pair, and the two having separated after the parental blessing has been bestowed in due form, the artist retires to smoke a felicitous cigar in the summer-house. He falls asleep here, and the next three acts are devoted to the representation of a dream which disturbes his slumbers. The dream introduces scenes from the imaginary city of life of the young couple, makes "Reinhard" ill-treat his peasant wife, fall in love with a countess whom he had been attached to of old, and finally discard "Lorle," who dies of grief at her sad lot. The death scene, in which Miss Mitchell's acting rises even above her own high average, is very touching, and is in remarkable contrast to her previous act, the charms of which she lies in the delightful gaucherie displayed by the village girl on the occasion of her visit to one of the fine houses in her which her husband has taken her. The fifth act, of course, discloses the scene of the first. "Reinhard" wakes up in the morning, discovers that his misery is but a dream, and is married to his pretty little peasant.

Music Hall will no doubt be packed solid full on next Thursday evening, and it behooves everybody to be early in making choice of seats. The sale will commence at Dr. Preston's at nine o'clock to-day.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. CAPITAL $50,000.
WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
BUFFALO AND LONDON.
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this department.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent postpaid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (168 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are now prepared to perform most frequently are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Strictures, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. Our new pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a safe, simple and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, adopted it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among some of those in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in Dr. PIERCE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats fully on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office, Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.
Old Bounty Land Warrants.
The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,267,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.
Arrears of Pay and Bounty.
Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.
Pensions.
All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSABLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and barks of the subjected distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is useless, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all smells are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing, and purifying the secretions. Internally administered it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a second singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I testified with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home; unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my vocal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours, GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

WALTHAM, MASS., Jan. 8, 1876.

I have purchased the RADICAL CURE of GEO. H. ROBBINS, Druggist, Hanford Building.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

These Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of imitations in the form of Electric Plasters, claiming to be, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as proved by over one thousand uncollicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is a trial in a single case. The price is 25 cents, although the cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any dealer may, if he can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them and to offer medicine and endeavor to substitute others. Do not allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

How to be Beautiful.

Many hundred thousand dollars are annually expended by ladies, for "artificial" appliances to hide the shrunken and wasted form, or the sallow skin, blotches, or liver spots, which are due to female weakness, dyspepsia, torpid liver, and constipation. If a small per cent. of this sum were invested in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, ladies would soon really be what they seem to be. It readily corrects those weakness and diseases upon which debility and emaciation depend. It cures dyspepsia by toning up the system, and when used in connection with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, speedily overcomes all irregularities of the liver and bowels. No "bloom of youth," no "beautifier of the complexion," can impart such permanent beauty of face and form as Dr. Pierce's health-giving Favorite Prescription.

DISTRICT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.
In Bankruptcy.

THIS is to give notice that a Petition has been presented to the Court, this 10th day of May, 1879, by JAMES P. PACKER, of Greenland, a Bankrupt, paying that he may be decreed to have a full discharge from all his debts provable under the Bankrupt Act, and upon reading said Petition, it is Ordered by the Court that a hearing be had upon the same on the 10th day of June, A. D. 1879, before the Court at the U. S. Court Room in Manchester in said District, at 10 o'clock A. M., and that notice thereof be published in the Chronicle, a newspaper printed in said District, once a week for three weeks; and that all creditors who have proved their debts, and other persons in interest may appear at said time and place and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of the said Petition should not be granted.

CHAS. H. BARTLETT, Clerk of the District Court for said District.

TUESDAY, JUNE 3, 1879.

Tornadoes and Lightning.

A terrible tornado visited Kansas and Missouri on Friday night, doing immense damage to property and life.

At Irving, Kan., sixteen houses were blown down, eight persons killed and many wounded, and some are missing; churches, school houses and other buildings were also blown down. At Frankfort six persons were killed, at Carver twelve, and at Manhattan two; over sixty persons were badly hurt in the towns named, many of whom will die. At Delphos fifteen dead bodies were picked up in a space of two miles square, five being killed in one house. At Beloit three persons were killed.

At Lee's Summit, Mo., the tornado cut a furrow through the country a hundred yards wide and ten miles long, nine persons being killed and others mortally wounded. At Kirksville one person was killed. An eyewitness of the storm at Lee's Summit says the cloud was funnel-shaped, reaching to the earth, and finally arose in the air and disappeared; from this, and the fact that terrents of rain fell over the smitten district, it would appear that the disaster was occasioned by a water-spout.

It is believed that the total number of deaths in the two States will exceed one hundred, and the amount of property destroyed will foot up hundreds of thousands of dollars.

At Pittsfield, Mass., Saturday night, the barn of Andrew J. Whitman was struck by lightning and set on fire. P. P. Perry of Hancock, who was in the barn with Whitman, was killed, and Whitman was stunned; but the latter recovered in time to drag out Perry's body, and save the cattle and horses. At Westfield, Mass., Sunday evening, the house of Marquis Thompson was struck and damaged, and his wife fatally hurt; Mr. Thompson escaped with singed hair.

At ten o'clock Sunday night a lightning bolt struck the house of Cyrus Mitchell, on Amherst street, Nashua, N. H. It evidently entered the chimney on the east end of the building, scattering broken bricks in halves, as though cut by a mason, in every direction. The electric fluid passed along the eaves, setting fire to them, evidently expending its force on the ell part of the house, almost completely destroying it. Mrs. Mitchell, who was preparing clothes for Monday's wash, was knocked down; a young lady in the house was also shocked by the electric discharge. The upper portion of the building was completely destroyed by fire. The furniture etc., was removed without much damage. The loss is estimated at $1800; insured. There was a narrow escape from death by the inmates. The thunder storm was of about ten minutes duration.

Death of Gen. Shields.

Gen. James Shields died at Ottumwa, Iowa, Sunday night. He had been United States senator from Illinois, Iowa and Missouri, and served gallantly in the Mexican war and on the side of the Union during the rebellion, receiving several severe wounds. He was a true patriot, and esteemed by men of all parties.

The Manhattan Savings Bank Robbers.

The thieves implicated in the famous Manhattan bank robbery in New York, on the night of the 27th of October, 1878, are all known, and on Saturday night three of them, named Patrick Sleven, Henry Glenn and William Kelly, were arrested. Sleven, who was a night watchman at the bank at the time of the robbery, has made a full confession. Jimmy Hope and John Dobbs had been previously arrested, and three more members of the gang are known and will soon be in custody. The thieves stole money and securities worth nearly $3,000,000. Stevin says each member of the gang was assessed $600 after getting their money share, which was sent to defeat the bill introduced in Congress to duplicate the stolen bonds, as if it passed it would be difficult to negotiate the originals. Meanwhile the various town bonds stolen were negotiated, and Sleven got $2000 as his share therefrom, and Jimmy Hope went to Washington to have the bill stopped. Kelly, when arrested, denied his guilt, but when confronted with Slevin he burst out into a fit of swearing and said: "The bank had to pay a dividend on June 1st, and to do it would have to come to terms and settle with us."

Naval Matters.

The frigate Constitution sailed from New York for Philadelphia on Friday.

The Portsmouth sailed from Port Royal, S. C., for Hampton roads, May 27th.

The Trenton, bearing the flag of Rear Admiral Howell, arrived at Marseilles, May 19th.

News and Notes.

A man named Bishop of Little Rock, Ark., had been whipping his wife, and his father-in-law, Abner Greene, and brother-in-law, Pat Greene, hearing of it, went to remonstrate with him about it. Bishop fired at them as they entered the yard, killing his father-in-law instantly, and severely wounding the brother-in-law.

Judge Dillon, district judge of the 8th Iowa district, has resigned, to take effect Sept. 1st. Secretary McCrary it is said will leave the cabinet to take the vacant judgship.

Mrs. Julia McCarty, 104 years old, died in the Fall River city hospital on Thursday afternoon of last week. On the 22d ult. she jumped from a second-story window to the ground, a distance of twenty feet, without dislocating or breaking a bone. She lived in that city thirty-eight years, and her oldest son died ten years ago, aged seventy-six. Another son lives there, aged sixty-two. She lived to see eight grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Schooner City of Gloucester was totally wrecked on Whaleman's shoal on Sunday; crew saved. Schooner Charles S. Rogers, bound from Elizabethport for Boston with a cargo of iron pipe, was run down and sunk Saturday morning off Cape Cod by steam collier Hercules; the steamer saved all the crew except one man, who was drowned. Two unknown vessels, one laden with molasses and the other with turpentine, are supposed to have been lost with all hands at Myrtle Grove sound, N. C., a few days ago, the beach there being strewn with hogsheads of those commodities, which would not be likely to be both comprised in the cargo of one vessel; fragments of a copper-fastened vessel were also found.

Thomas Barrett of Scranton, Pa., while going home Saturday night, was attacked by Thomas Callahan and badly beaten. Barrett armed himself with a revoler, returned and shot Callahan dead. Barrett is in custody.

Three young women were thrown from a carriage in returning from church at Russell, Mass., Sunday afternoon, and seriously injured, one of them, Mary Loverlle, it is feared fatally. Mrs. Edward McCann, of Worcester, Mass., dropped dead from heart disease as she was entering a church Sunday night.

Col. Richard H. Rowe, a member of the city council of Wilmington, Del., was fatally shot Saturday by Hugh Dugan, a saloon keeper. Dugan immediately after the trouble gave himself up to the police, claiming that the shooting was accidental.

On Memorial day, in Concord, Mass., wholly by chance, the four sergeants who served in the same company in the rebellion were stationed together to decorate the grave of the fifth sergeant, who was killed in 1863. They had never been all together since they parted on being discharged from the service.

At Medway, Mass., Friday evening, Eaton & Wilson's wadding mill was burned; loss $10,000; no insurance. One fireman was burned to death.

Political.

Judge Mackey of South Carolina is too enthusiastic for a good witness. That weakness betrayed him into making the statement that democratic jurors may be depended on to give just verdicts in that State. The judge must have forgotten that in the Hamburg riot cases, tried a year ago, democratic jurors refused to give a verdict against the defendants, although the proof was of the most conclusive character.

Gen. Thomas W. Conway, of Louisiana, having recently incurred the displeasure of the extreme southern partisans, Congressman King charged that he (Conway) misappropriated the school funds of Louisiana when State superintendent of education, to which Conway replies in a card showing that the State treasurer, and not the State superintendent of education, was the custodian of these funds; that when they were paid out by him it was to local treasurers, who were bonded officers, and the superintendent could not in any way handle them to squander them or otherwise. So the allegation has no other foundation than the anxiety of partisan newspapers in favor of the new slavery in the south to blacken the reputation of one who aims, as he has ever done, to be a practical friend to the weak and helpless.

Some of the facts about the voting on the Warner silver bill are of interest. Those who favored it were 129 democrats, 10 nationals and 5 republicans. Those who opposed it were 115 republicans, 14 democrats, and 1 national. Of 144 members voting for or paired in favor of the bill, 97 were from the south. Out of 174 votes, the old loyal States gave a majority of 76 against the bill, and out of 101 votes given by the solid south, that section gave 94 majority in favor of the bill.

Gov. Stone of Mississippi recently told a Herald correspondent that there is no bulldozing in Mississippi; but of this there is a ready denial in the Brookhaven Ledger of that State, in the form of an editorial headed "bulldozing must stop," under which follows an account of a mass meeting held in that section to raise military companies to put down "bulldozing." It could scarcely be expected of the governor of a State, elected by bull-dozing, to acknowledge its existence.

New Hampshire Items.

Col. John B. Clark, of the Mirror, who is generally pretty clear in his vision, does not see why he should not be re-elected State printer this month. The Mirror establishment has every facility for doing the work, and just now Manchester is not in the field for any one for governor or United States senator.

Thomas McSherry of Suncook attended a christening on Sunday, and got drunk and fell down stairs, injuring his head so severely that he died soon after. He was thirty-five years old, and leaves a widow and three children.

A bearing in the case of the Nashua & Lowell railroad vs. the Peterboro' railroad, for rental, before the supreme court without a jury, Judge L. W. Clark presiding, commenced at Nashua on Saturday. Both roads are represented by eminent counsel.

Levi Streeter, of Troy, a farmer eighty-two years old, hung himself in his barn Saturday night.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

That Cold of Yours may run into consumption if you don't take Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

That Hectic Flush Denotes Danger. Relieve yourself by using and at once too, Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Lungs cannot be made but can be saved by the use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup if taken in time.

PLEASANT AND PALATABLE, as well as efficacious is Barrett's Rock Candy and Hermitage Rye put up by C. B. Barrett & Co., 45 North Market Street, Boston. As a remedy for colds it has no equal.

Great Joy over the fact that your cough can be thoroughly cured by Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. AROUND HOME.

Miss Vesta A. Bean of this city is teaching the school in district three of Seabrook this season.

Sunday was the hottest day in this city since 1871, the thermometer ranging from ninety-six to 102 in the shade at 2:30 o'clock.

Steam fire engines Moses H. Goodrich and Kearsarge were out on Haymarket square, Monday evening, to test the new hose just procured by the city.

Mr. H. L. Langsford of Cape Porpoise, Me., has bought and shipped, since December last, 40,000 merchantable lobsters to John W. Marston of Boston, at a cost of $3000.

Mr. George F. Odell of Greenland, while out bathing on Saturday, came near drowning. He was rescued in an insensible condition and it was a long time before he could be revived.

The steamer Appledore, which has for some days been on the ways at Neil's shipyard at Kittery, receiving a thorough overhauling, was floated on Monday. She is in fine order, and looks neat as a new pin.

Three ladies were baptised at Noble's island on Sunday morning at nine o'clock, by Rev. John A. Goss of the Christian church; in the afternoon they were received into the church, four others being at the same time admitted by letter.

While Sheriff Kent was conversing with another gentleman on State street, Monday forenoon, he was bitten in the right thigh by a large Newfoundland dog, six teeth penetrating the flesh. The wounds were immediately cauterized.

The sale of reserved seat tickets for Maggie Mitchell's entertainment commenced at nine o'clock Monday morning at Dr. Preston's drug store. At noon about about a hundred and fifty had been sold. Everything points to a crowded house.

A man was stunned by lightning, Saturday afternoon, in one of the buildings at Doane's fish wharves. He was standing between two open doors when the electricity passed through and knocked him senseless; no other harm was done, and the man soon recovered.

Shortly after nine o'clock Sunday evening the navy yard fire department was called out, by a sudden blazing up of escaping gas at the residence of Naval Constructor Wilson. That official had been called to the cellar with a lantern, to draw off water which had got into the pipe, and the sudden flow of gas therefrom caused the ignition. Fortunately no damage was done.—Times.

The new schooner Charles H. Trickey, of Dover, Kelley master, arrived below on Saturday morning, bound up the Cocheco with 350 tons of coal. This is her first visit to her hailing port, though we believe she took a cargo of ice from Maine to the port where she loaded with coal. She was built at Bath, Me., and her dimensions were given by us when she was first put on the stocks. She is a very handsome craft, and draws we are informed but ten feet of water with her present cargo on board.

On Sunday evening, at Exeter, as a meeting in Hurd's gospel tent was about to open, the tent was struck by a sudden gust of wind and blown down almost instantly. There were several hundred people in and about the tent, and about thirty kerosene lamps burning when the tent went down. No one was materially injured, and all extricated themselves from under the canvas. The damage to the property will not exceed $50. The lights went out in the fall, or there might have been an explosion or a fire.

A special train will be run over the Concord railroad from this city to the capital and back on Thursday, June 5th, "Election day," leaving this city at six o'clock in the morning, and starting from Concord on its return at ten minutes before six in the afternoon. Fare for the round trip: from this city or Greenland, to Concord and return, $2; from Newmarket junction, $1.75; from Epping, $1.65; from West Epping, $1.50. Tickets will be good only for June 5th, and passengers paying in the cars will be charged full rates. The ladies of the Freewill Baptist society of Concord will give an "inauguration dinner" of baked beans, brown bread, cold meats, cake, coffee, etc., at White's block, Capitol street, on election day, at twenty-five cents a meal; served from nine o'clock A. M. to four o'clock P. M.

A large number of ladies and gentlemen of Saco and Biddeford have given legal notice of their desire to be incorporated as a benevolent society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, and will meet for that purpose on the 11th inst.

Mr. Thomas Philbrick of Hampton, who fell from a car loaded with railroad sleepers at the Eastern railroad wharf on Noble's island eight or ten days ago, had three of his ribs broken and received severe internal injuries. He is still very ill at his home in Hampton, but there is hope of his recovery.

Azariah Caswell of Newmarket was knocked down with a slung shot, kicked and badly bruised, and robbed of a valuable watch and chain, at about eight o'clock on the night of the 25th ult., near Newmarket village. Mr. Caswell was alone at the time, and was attacked by three men, to whose identity there is no clue.

The Great Falls Journal says that horse trotting, pedestrian matches, base ball games, etc., are carried on every Sunday at the "riding park" in that town, and suggests that the authorities "pay an occasional visit over there, not to disturb the entertainment, of course, but merely see that the various amusements are carried on in a more orderly and quiet manner," as the noise and disorder are very annoying to residents near the park.

On Thursday evening of last week, at Dover, a little boy was caught between a train of cars on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad and a fence which separates the tracks of that road from the Boston & Maine road's premises, and had one leg and two ribs broken; he will probably recover, though he came very near being fatally jammed. No one connected with the railroad was to blame, as the lad was where he had no business to be, and it was impossible to stop the cars any sooner than was done.

The selectmen of Exeter are "out" with a card in which they show that they were unable to tax and therefore did not tax Hon. Amos Tuck this year for anything except his real estate, the same as other non-residents were taxed. They also say that the board of supervisors struck Mr. Tuck's name from the voting list last spring in accordance with his request, and his notification that his "legal residence" would hereafter "be elsewhere;" and that "for him again to become a citizen of Exeter will require six months actual residence."

One of the evidences that business is reviving is seen in the fact that the business of life insurance has reached the nadir of depression and has begun to revive. With low rates of interest on investments and better facilities for paying premiums, enquirers as to life insurance become more frequent and careful men begin to examine the condition of companies insuring lives. The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York has established a general agency for the State in this city. Heretofore the business in New Hampshire has been under the supervision of a general agent in Maine, but the growing business of this company warrants the establishing a general agency in this State and it is already located in Portsmouth.

The Dover Democrat of May 31st says: "The much talked of 'heel-and-toe' contest between Eaton of Dover, and Locke of Portsmouth, came off in city hall last night. It was only a ten-mile race, and was won by Eaton in one hour, forty-seven minutes and twelve seconds. Locke was ahead when within ten or twelve feet of the end of the last lap, but Eaton managed to come out about two feet in advance, and was declared the winner. It was said that they had up $50 a side on the result, but hardly anybody took any stock in that. They probably went for the gate money, and divided it. There were about two hundred people in the hall. No great excitement or interest in it any way."

The following from an Adelaide, South Australia, paper will interest the friends and acquaintances of Capt. Samuel Pray of this city, commanding the new barque Harvard, of Boston: "The Harvard is a very fine American barque, about the arrival of which some fun was occasioned as well as good proof afforded of how well some masters get on without sea pilots. The vessel left Boston with a cargo of ice for Madras, and after discharging went on to Batavia, where a fresh course was shaped for Adelaide. She had a long continuation of light variables during the passage, and the voyage was duly prosecuted until making the land, when so well had the reckoning been kept that the vessel reached through Investigator's Straits without sighting Cape Borda. She then steered up the Gulf, and the atmosphere became so smoky that she passed the pilot cutter, and at last found herself on the long spit in three and a half fathoms. Fortunately the master made continuous use of the lead, and this indicated his position. Consequently the craft was as soon as possible hauled on a wind, and at sunset she anchored in the roads. So fine an American vessel has seldom been seen here, and in addition to being a well-built craft she is furnished with all the improvements of the age."

It is whispered in political circles that Howe Call, Esq., of this city, heretofore the head and front of the greenback party in this section of the country, is not able to satisfy some of the impractical ultraists of the party, who have devoted less time and research to the great problem of finance than has this gifted orator, whose speeches at the west won for him so high a repute, and there is danger of his receiving a notice to quit the party he himself has founded. But the consolation is seen in the fact that the democracy of this county, who feel the want of a ready orator, are anxious to stretch forth the hand of welcome to their former comrade, and as they have no loaves and fishes to bestow, are ready to kill the fatted calf by clipping the wings of the War Eagle of Epping and giving to the returning prodigal the nomination for Congress in this district. It is also stated that the proposition was presented by two prominent members of the party from this city in Washington last week, and favorably considered.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, June 2; Batchelder, J.

John Harrington and his wife were complained of for an assault on D. J. Ayers, a special police officer at the Jones brewery. The evidence showed that the trouble was caused by strong drink, Mr. Ayers having been sent for to quiet some disturbance at Harrington's house, when the latter behaved somewhat improperly, and his wife, as was natural in a loyal spouse, but against the law, aided him. The officer displayed no vindictiveness in pressing the case, and the matter was finally settled to the apparent satisfaction of all concerned, including the offended majesty of the law, by the Harringtons both signing the pledge and being let off on probation.

Michael Harragan and Wm. Godfrey, both apparently bold sailor men, were assessed $9.90 each for drunkenness.

PORTLAND, SACO & PORTSMOUTH R. R. CO.'S ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual meeting of this corporation was held at the company's hall at Kittery on Monday. The attendance of the stockholders did not seem quite as large as usual. Gen. Rockwell, president of the company, called the stockholders to order and presided.

The records of the last annual meeting having been read, the president presented the report of the directors, which stated that the relations with the Eastern railroad continued to be of a most satisfactory character. That road as lessee had promptly paid its rental, and the joint notes referred to in the contract of settlement some time since. On the first of July next the whole amount will be paid of the outstanding $62,000 of the joint liability, clearing off every obligation and discharging the temporary mortgage of the road. The report further stated that the Eastern railroad had extended the same policy as to repairs on this fifty-four miles of road that had been shown in its own road. One end of the stone bridge at Kennebunk had been rebuilt; the pile bridge at Portland was to be. Steel rails, fifty-eight pounds to the yard, had been laid; there are now twenty-two miles of this rail, and before long all but fifteen miles of the road will be thus laid. The road had been improved, and thirteen miles of new fence built; a new freight depot at Eliot has been erected, as well as a depot at North Berwick for the joint use of the Eastern and Boston & Maine roads. The report quotes from the report of the railroad commissioner of the State of Maine as to its improved condition, etc. The directors say: "We miss from our annual gathering to-day one who has been identified with the interests of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad from its earliest days, and to whose wise counsels and faithful services we are largely indebted for the present value and good condition of the property. Your directors think it only fitting that they should record the name of the Honorable William H. Y. Hackett, as one whose memory should be honored by us for his faithful and efficient services on the board, no less than it has been by his fellow-citizens of the State of New Hampshire, as one of her noblest sons and most distinguished counsellors."

On motion of Mr. Stevens the report was accepted, and ordered to be entered upon the records.

A committee of three were then appointed by the chair under a vote to go into a ballot for seven directors. The committee consisted of H. J. Stevens of Boston, Nathaniel Ropes of Salem and William H. Hackett of Portsmouth. Their report shew the unanimous election of the following-named gentlemen: E. B. Phillips, Alfred P. Rockwell and George P. King, of Boston; S. Lothrop Thorndike, of Cambridge, Mass.; Samuel C. Lawrence, of Medford, Mass.; George E. B. Jackson and John B. Brown, of Portland, Me.

The new president went over the Portsmouth & Dover railroad after the adjournment. He is well-known as the former superintendent of the Boston & Worcester railroad, and comes to his new position as executive officer of the Eastern railroad at the unanimous request of the directors of that corporation. He is a practical man, of large experience, broad views and liberal ideas, and at the same time possesses a modest estimate of his own consequence. He will be the best man for the position the Eastern railroad has been able for many a day to secure, and if allowed to manage the property as his judgment dictates for the interest of the stockholders, will certainly bring it up if any one can.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette s published Every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goiter or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of cheap, drastic, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance from the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Inflamed Portion of the Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sensitive impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to the parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharges generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

THE
Alpine Silver Mining Co.,
OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Spiane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more complicedly developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, the money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all snuffs are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the morbid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus it acts on two processes in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Celebrated Concert Troupe as a choir singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. For a great time my excoriating skin in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head ached as I did, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twenty years.

Respectfully yours,

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

Plasters have now been before the public for years, and notwithstanding the numerous number of advertised plasters, such as Adhesive, Lottions, Salves, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and now with universal approval, are proved by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one sending form. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world for medicinal purposes. All we ask from every sufferer is a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although the cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any of the better class of dealers can be honest enough to recommend it. Dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for the sake of profit and endeavor to substitute others. Don't allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

The Great and General Court of the State assembles at Concord to-day.

Diphtheria, which has been prevailing in Franklin for some months, has taken a fresh start, twenty-eight new cases having been developed on Sunday last. The impurity of water furnished a school is alleged as the cause.

The Boston, Concord & Montreal railroad has reduced the local passenger rates to three and four cents per mile, and has also made satisfactory arrangements with the business men of Laconia and Lake Village to hold their freight from going via the Boston & Maine and the lake steamers. The reduction of fares is properly an equalization of rates on the basis of four cents per mile for local and three cents for through traffic. The change was proposed last fall, and has been decided upon for some time. It will make no difference on some portions of the line, but on others, where the rates have been excessive, it will put them on the same footing as the remainder.

Harry G. Lazier, Willie McCrillis and John Perkins, all of Meredith, were arrested there late Sunday evening, the first two for the theft of tools from Alfred Eastman, and the other for theft of tools from William Pike. They were tried on Monday and sentenced to the reform school for the rest of their minority. None of them are over seventeen years of age.

A Nashua girl broke her wrist badly while on the way to school, but said nothing about it until the session had closed.

At Lempster, two Sunday fishermen tied their horse to a fence, and while they were gone he got away, smashed the carriage, and broke his neck.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

That Cold of Yours may run into consumption if you don't take Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

They abide steadily by Good Works.

Generals G. T. Beauregard, of La., and J. A. Early, of Va., still continue to faithfully and energetically discharge their duties as commissioners on behalf of the State and people, and will give the next grand Semi-Annual Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery (the 199th in number of monthly drawings), their personal supervision, and assume the sole management of the distribution which occurs promptly at noon on Tuesday, June 17th, 1879, at the Opera House in New Orleans. For further information address, ere it is too late, M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

That Hectic Flush Denotes Danger. Relieve yourself by using and at once too, Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Lungs cannot be made but can be saved by the use of Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup if taken in time.

Great Joy over the fact that your cough can be thoroughly cured by Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4, 1879.

The South American War.

Chilian advices to the 24th of April report a fight off Loa between the Chilian gunboat Magallanes, carrying a 115-pound rifle and some smaller pieces, and the fast Peruvian corvette Union and gunboat Pilcomayo, the two carrying ten 70-pound rifles, besides smaller cannon. The Chilians claim to have damaged the Union and driven off the two Peruvians, but evidently the Magallanes suffered considerably. An engagement occurred between the Chilian iron-clad Blanco en Calada and the gunboat Chacabuco, and the Peruvian forts of Pisagua. The gunboat lost one killed and six wounded, but the town is reported to be almost demolished by the ships' fire. The inhabitants saw the affair from a safe distance, from a mountain in the rear of the town.

Panama letters of April 24th say: "The Peruvian transport Talisman was allowed to receive some seven hundred cases of arms and munitions of war here, although against the protest of the Chilian consul. The only action taken by the Chilian fleet for a week is the destruction of a submarine cable off Arica, the burning of the town of Mejillones de Peru, and the sinking of launches there. The Peruvian fleet still remains at Callao, apparently afraid of the Chilian iron-clads. President Daza is at Tacno, with 5000 men, awaiting the arrival of President Prado, who will take chief command while operation is being conducted on Peruvian soil. The Chilians have about 18,000 men at the desert of Atracarna, and are well prepared to receive their enemies; it will be some months, however, before the land forces can have a meeting. Business is in a fearful state in Peru. Exchange on New York is 218 per cent., and on England 16d, or at the rate of about thirty-two cents on the dollar. A further issue of bank bills is expected, to be guaranteed by the property of the nation."

Vice-Admiral Seymour of the British navy, in a letter to the London Post, says: "The facts concerning the recent naval engagement off the Peruvian coast are that the Peruvian iron-clad turret ship Huascar sunk the Chilian wooden ship Esmaralda, and the Peruvian armor plated ship Independencia, in pursuing the Chilian wooden ship Covadonga, ran on a reef and was wrecked.

News and Notes.

The latest reports of the destruction by the tornadoes in Kansas and Missouri show that the first accounts were not at all exaggerated. Thousands of families suffered, and hundreds are made destitute, while the loss of life was terrible. In the two towns of Irving and Frankfort, Kansas, twenty-one persons were killed and forty-eight severely wounded; many of the latter will die. It is known that more than forty lives were lost in Kansas and over eighty persons badly injured. The track of the cyclone varied in width from three-fourths of a mile to a mile, and at intervals it left the ground for a short distance and again descended. Whenever it touched the ground it swept everything clean of houses, trees and crops. When it crossed Blue river it lifted every drop of water in its course, and passing over a well in Irving scooped it dry. The accounts from Missouri are not so complete as from Kansas, but the loss of life and the destruction of buildings and growing crops was very great in that State also.

Medical investigation in the poisoning case at Newark, Vt., shows the disease to have been diphtheria, undoubtedly aggravated by the poisoned water, as before stated. A mild case of diphtheria now in the neighborhood, and which existed previous to this fatality, would lead to the supposition that the poisoned water did not originate the disease. There have been eleven deaths thus far, and all the others are recovering.

Baron Lionel Rothschild, the head of the great banking firm, died on Friday, at the age of seventy-one years.

The schooner Hattie M. Howes is reported at Cape Haytien May 24th with one man dead from yellow fever, and all the rest of the crew sick. The schooner had lost one entire crew, except the captain and mate, since leaving Miragoane. She is bound for New York.

William Urich, of Lebanon, Pa., on Monday mortally wounded a constable who went to his house to assist the tax collector in selling some of Urich's property that had been taken for non-payment of taxes. Urich then shot at the collector, the bullet grazing his shoulder, and finished by blowing out his own brains.

There was a sad case of "didn't know it was loaded" in Maine on Monday, when a daughter of James Johnson of Brunswick was mortally wounded by the discharge of a gun which an elder sister aimed at her in sport, supposing it was empty.

John Miles was on Monday sentenced by Judge Emerson, at Salt Lake city, to pay a fine of $100 and be imprisoned in Nebraska penitentiary for five years, for polygamy. Miles is a prominent Mormon, and the case has attracted unusual attention from the fact of its being the second conviction under the laws of the United States, and that Miles married three young women at the same time with the advice and consent of John Taylor, president of the Mormon church. Appeal has been taken to the supreme court of the Territory, and the bond fixed at $5000.

In the Maine supreme court at Portland, Monday, John O. Winship was formally disbarred. He is now serving a year in jail for fraud in bankruptcy.

Mr. Judah Delano, of Friendship, Me., a man seventy-four years old, cut his throat on Friday of last week, severing the windpipe. He was still alive on Monday, but there was no possibility of his recovery.

R. T. Coleman, a negro, is under arrest in Cumberland county, Va., charged with marrying two white women, and murdering them both.

At Montreal, Friday night, the watchman in the stables of a Mr. Morey was knocked down by a blow from a dumb bell, and stabbed in three places and otherwise injured, so that he subsequently died in hospital. The assassins their placed tow, saturated with coal oil, in nineteen new double carriages, lately added to the establishment at a cost of $1400 each, and set it on fire. A watchman in the neighborhood seeing smoke issuing from the building gave an alarm, but as the police entered the front door the perpetrators escaped at the rear. The property was mostly saved. The damages to the carriages by fire will reach $15,000. No arrests have been made, and it will be difficult to discover the perpetrators, unless some one turns Queen's evidence. The only reason that can be assigned for so daring an outrage is that very bad blood has been aroused between Morey, who is from Boston, and the cab drivers of the city. The former practically had the monopoly of the trade of the leading hotels in Montreal, and the cab drivers have frequently been prosecuted for interfering with his business. The latter have invariably got the worst of it in the courts, and became terribly exasperated. It is supposed they have resorted to this mode of retaliation for what they consider the wrongs they have suffered.

Mr. and Mrs. Quincy Phillips were passengers on the steamer Marathon from Boston for Liverpool on Saturday.

The Flurry in Four Per Cents.

During the past week there has been a remarkable decline in the price of United States four per cent bonds. For the five weeks succeeding the great Syndicate transactions of April, by which the last of these bonds passed from the hands of the government, the market had been singularly firm, and the price had advanced from week to week with great regularity. On Saturday the bonds closed firm at 103 1-2. Monday the decline began. The lowest point was touched Thursday morning, when 102 5-8 was the best bid that could be obtained. But in the afternoon of that day the recovery began, and was even more rapid than the decline. At the close of business 103—103 1-8 was bid and 103 1-2 asked.

These gyrations in securities that are ordinarily very steady have given rise to a good deal of discussion in banking circles. It is claimed in some quarters that the decline was the result of a gigantic bear raid, engineered by British and German operators. The premonitory symptom, it is said, was the declaration of the London Times, recently cabled, that the price of bonds was unreasonably inflated. This view of the matter, though it has some grounds of plausibility, is not justified, from the simple fact that the decline in the foreign markets was not so great by 1-4 as that in the American markets.

Through the flurry the Syndicate have held aloof from the market, maintaining their price at 103 1-2 and accrued interest, which is equal to about 104 1-8 flat. The individual members of the Syndicate all state that they have bought more bonds this week than they have sold. It is undeniable that a large portion of the sales at the decline were made short, and of course to the extent that this has been the case the speculators must now make corresponding purchases at an advance. These short sales may have been the first cause of the decline, but the only sufficient explanation of the whole movement is that it was one of those natural reactions that always occur from time to time during a long rise in any article. Some obscure cause precipitates a slight break, when the speculators, thinking that the advance has culminated, begin to sell out, and the more the price declines the more eager they are to sell. At last, when this floating stock is all absorbed, the upward march begins again.

One word as to the general influence affecting the market for four per cents, which must in the long run control their price. Ten-forty bonds to the amount of $195,000,000 have been called for redemption in July. Of this amount less than $70,000,000 have thus far been turned into the Treasury, so that the holders of $125,000,000 of these bonds must find a new investment for their capital. Of this amount $25,000,000 is a liberal allowance for the recent investments in railroad and other securities. As to the amount of 10-40s owned in Europe, an estimate by the bankers through whom about all of the interest payments were made, placed the sum at $60,000,000 at the time of the call. Some $20,000,000 have since been turned into the Treasury. If we suppose that the foreign holders of the remaining $40,000,000 will not purchase a single four per cent bond, the supply of four's in the hands of all dealers, at a liberal estimate, is only half large enough to meet the probable domestic demand. But the foreign holders of called bonds are just as eager for the four per cents as are the Americans. The Syndicate have thus far been able to furnish London with only $15,000,000, though the demand from that quarter was for $30,000,000. Consols are now so high that they pay only 3 1-8 per cent on the investment, while the American four per cents pay nearly 3 3-4 per cent.

There have been some fears during the past few weeks of a coming stringency in the money market. Such a contingency would undoubtedly exert a very unfavorable influence upon the market for Government securities. But the danger has been averted by the wise action of Secretary Sherman this week in announcing the immediate payment with rebate of all called bonds that mature previous to the 1st of July. This makes it certain that the money market will not be disturbed by the refunding operations. All the foreign money markets are extremely easy, and the market for exchange on London, which has been tending upward, has this week fallen. As for the domestic market, the midsummer glut of money will soon be upon us, which will not be broken till the latter part of August.—Boston Commercial Bulletin, May 31.

The Maverick National Bank of Boston, who are the leading dealers in Government Bonds in New England, state that the demand for the Four Per Cents, from Banks, Institutions and Individuals, is greater now than at any time since the loan was issued. Those having bonds to sell or exchange, or who have any business to transact in connection with government securities, will receive full and explicit information on application by mail or otherwise to A. P. Potter, President, Maverick National Bank, Boston.

Shooing the Devil.

A new industry has been developed. Like everything else, however, it is old. This is the manufacture of fancy horse-shoes for the ladies to hang as charms, and ornaments about their houses. These horse-shoes are "the rage" in other towns, and Newburyport is following the fashion. The editor of the Herald has seen a cabinet containing four beautiful specimens of different shapes, made for this purpose. One was a common fore shoe, another a narrow trotter's shoe, another a Clarke's patent covered shoe. They were wrought with a hammer, and then nickel plated. The workman was Thomas G. McGlew, who comes by his talent by long inheritance, his father and grandfather being foremost in the trade, the latter being the first man to construct a spring stage coach in this country, and himself the son of a blacksmith over the water. Young Mr. McGlew's handiwork will soon be publicly exhibited, and will, no doubt, attract many a new devotee to join in the fashion. The horse-shoe superstition origin is buried in the past; but however inefficient the shoes may be to shoo away Old Nick, or any other unwelcome visitor, they will certainly make beautiful ornaments.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS,

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

There seems to be no country under the sun where Dyspepsia is less prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and is to be found in almost every household; and consequently such a household remedy as the Bitters is of inestimable value to the American people. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. For sale by all druggists and respectable Dealers generally.

A CARD.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1878, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first-class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

AROUND HOME.

Eugene Foote, employed on a shifting engine on the Eastern railroad at this station, was badly bitten in the nose on Sunday by a dog.

Mr. George F. Sanborn of Rye has the finest looking field of potatoes in the town. The potato bugs are reported as plentiful throughout Rye.

This afternoon, if pleasant, the "Newcastles" and Granite States will play a match game of base ball at the plains. Game called at half-past two o'clock.

Among the first arrivals of summer visitors at Rye beach this season are Hon. Norman Williams and family of Chicago, Ill., who are stopping at Mr. L. T. Sanborn's.

Miss Clarissa Cushing of Dover on Saturday last sent $1000 to the trustees or wardens of the First Parish of that city, to be applied to liquidating the debt created by the recent remodelling of the church.

An observing farmer says that a new variety of bird has made its appearance in this vicinity this season, and is devouring the eggs of other birds. Ground sparrows, and all others, suffer from this raider.

The Concord railroad will carry the military men from this city to Concord and back on "Election day" for $1.60 each for the round trip, which is half the usual fare. Other passengers can procure round trip tickets for $2 each, if purchased before entering the cars.

Uri H. Jenness, Esq., of Rye, is confined to his residence on the South road with a synovial difficulty of his leg, which is under treatment by Dr. Wm. T. Merrill of Hampton. Mr. Jenness is a well-known Granger and a first-class farmer, and all who know him wish him a speedy recovery.

Ephraim Brooks, a Frenchman who was some time ago employed at Ward-well & Rand's steam sawmill at Greenland depot, and who stepped out one day leaving a large amount of unpaid bills behind, and also a wife and family, has been heard from in Dakota, whence he has sent for his family to join him.

Last week three officers were removed from the Boston custom house, and their offices abolished, making a saving of $3600 per year. Collector Board has so far made an annual saving of $40,000. Mr. William C. Ham of this city was one of the removed officials, having but a few minutes' notice of his discharge on Saturday.

Clement Noble, of Kennebunk, whose wife, Martha A. Noble, eloped with Rufus Duran on the 11th of January last, has been granted a divorce from the woman, with custody of minor child. Mrs. Noble has returned to her father's house at Kennebunk depot, and Duran is in Portland. Mrs. Duran has applied for a divorce from her worthless husband, who recently wrote her to know if she would receive him if he came back, and was curtly informed that the jail would receive him if he showed himself in Kennebunk.

The premises corner of Ceres and Bow streets, occupied for so many years as an eating house by Mr. John G. Rand, have been taken by Mr. George H. Atkins, late of the Franklin house, and opened as a hotel under the appropriate name of the Riverside house. Since Mr. Rand was driven out by the fire, some months ago, the premises have been extensively altered and improved; and the old tin kitchen, Dutch oven, and other antiquated articles that served as cooking utensils there for well nigh half a century, have given place to a range with all the modern improvements.

William Williamson, Esq., of Amesbury, Mass., has in his possession a copy of "Table of the Post Offices of the United States, Arranged by States and Counties, Oct. 1, 1830," which formerly belonged to the late Chief Justice Roger B. Taney, and upon the cover of which his name is inscribed. The list of postmasters in York county, Me., at that time (forty-nine years ago) shows that of the thirty-five in that county at that time but four now survive, as follows: Nathan Clifford, Newfield, now the senior justice of the United States supreme court; William T. Hilliard, Buxton, now of Bangor; Samuel Adams, Cape Neddick; and Oliver Browne, Kennebunkport.

The funeral of the late James F. Otis of Kittery takes place in that town this afternoon. The attention of Freemasons is called to a notice in our advertising columns.

Mr. C. P. Mills, of the Theological seminary at Andover, Mass., has declined the invitation to supply the pulpit of the Congregational church in Rye for one year.

But two companies of the National Guard will go to Concord from this city on "Election day," viz.: the Cavalry and City Guards. The Light Artillery will stop at home, but will fire a governor's salute of seventeen guns in honor of the day.

The canker worms commenced their summer work in this city promptly on the 2d inst., and the trees dishonored by their presence already present a woebegone appearance. So far the ravages of the pests seem to be confined to the trees that were despoiled by them last year and the year before.

The wreck of the schooner Henrietta, of Saco, which was abandoned five or six months ago, having been dismasted and waterlogged on the passage from a southern to a northern port with a cargo of lumber, was passed May 29th not far from where she was abandoned, by the barque Vesta. The Henrietta's deck-house and bowsprit were still standing.

One might just as well try to find fault with a sunbeam as with Maggie Mitchell. There is no such thing as criticism in her case. Her personations are unmistakably her own, and it would be inconsistent to attempt to say they were not thoroughly original in conception and action. No actress on the stage is on better terms with the people, and no actress moves them more easily to laughter or tears. Take Maggie Mitchell in any one of her characters and you find it is nature without the adornment of art. She has always been a favorite with Portsmouth's amusement-loving citizens, and the appearance of the diagram of Music Hall at Preston's drug store indicates clearly that she is a favorite still, and that a rousing house will greet her on Thursday evening. If you haven't already secured your seat, don't delay—the tickets are selling fast.

The following from a Philadelphia paper is of local interest to all consumers of coal: "The Philadelphia & Reading railroad company having announced an advance in tolls on coal for June 2d, has notified its miners that this advance would be followed by a corresponding advance of wages which for June will not be less than ten per cent below the basis, instead of twenty as now, and that the condition of the coal trade warrants the expectation of further advances of tolls and prices of coal for July and August, in which case there will be another advance in wages. This news, with the previous promise of steady work, creates a jubilant feeling throughout the Schuylkill region." This indicates, that coal is now as low as it is likely to be, and that any change in the retail price will probably be in an upward direction. Prudent householders will lay in their next winter's stock of fuel without waiting for the rise.

A SPRING AFTERNOON RAMBLE.

PUDDLE DOCK.

The section of Portsmouth that bears the above most unpoetical title, was once far less unattractive than at present. A time there was when the dwellings that surround that inlet of the Piscataqua were in much better condition than now, and were occupied by a class of people more ambitious of keeping the locality neat in appearance. The "hum of busy industry" was not wanting there; the "anvil chorus" could be heard from blacksmiths' shops in three or four different quarters, as well as the stirring sound of "the cooper's march," which is always so pleasant to hear, as busy hands sent forth that species of music from the coopers' shops near by. In one of the blacksmiths' shops were shod the horses of the Eastern stage-company, and the shoes, besides, and the nails by which they were fastened, were made there by hand-labor, instead of being turned out by the ton, by machinery, as such things are now-a-days. Urchins, while loitering on their way to school or returning from it, looked in

"to see the flaming forge,
And hear the bellows roar,"

as did the children in Longfellow's "Village Blacksmith," that has brought back such pleasant memories to many a one of their childhood's days. They loved, too, to look as on a wheel of one of the stages was being newly tired, to see the wood blaze as the hot iron was fitted around it, until quenched by water from the forge, a liquid that was said to have the power of removing freckles; with about as much of truth, probably, as other old wives' fables. Sounds of active industry could be heard from Safford's carriage shop; a horse and chaise could be had from Jones' well-kept stable for an out-of-town drive or an excursion to friends at a distance, so much enjoyed before the iron horse was dreamed of; and other avocations of dwellers thereabouts gave life to the now anything but attractive region. In an outbuilding, not far from the blacksmiths' shop where the horses were shod and the wheels were tired, it may be added, a man could be seen pulverizing to dust marble chips in a large iron mortar, with what the boys, as they peered in at the door, thought a crowbar for a pestle, for the first manufacturer, a druggist, of soda water in Portsmouth. Curiously amusing it is, now that it has become such a luxury, with its delicious syrups, to remember what a glass of soda then was, and if not bolted, as if for dear life, as it came hissing from the fountain, little would have remained, when the glitter and sparkle had evaporated, but the diluted spoonful of lemon syrup at the bottom of the glass.

One of the greatest changes in its aspect, from whatever cause it has come, has been the filling up of the dock at its borders. The boys, in swimming, on summer evenings, were wont to dive off into deep water at the old stage-stable wharf, and that at Tetherley's soap and candle works, where the good man, for many a long year, when the boys who had known him in their childhood, had grown up and married, many had left their birthplace and not a few had died, could still be seen at his work, as if Time, as he mowed down others in his path, had quite forgotten him. At the foot of the garden of a retired shipmaster, whose home was in Washington street, was a quantity of rough cork-bark, in large sheets, that afforded the boys much sport in taking surreptitious possession of it when bathing in moonlight or starlit evenings; keeping themselves above water upon it if they had not learned to swim. A small youngster at one time thought he had secured a prize when he got possession of a circular piece, just as it was peeled from the tree, and thrust himself into it up to his waist; but finding himself, after launching his bark, (without a poetical idea,) sunk head and shoulders under water, with no power to rise, while the rest of his body was floating upon the surface. Fortunately for him larger boys were there, who relieved him from his somewhat funny if dangerous predicament. Very doubtful it is, if, amid the thoughtlessness of the young, the idea occurred to him that had he been alone, even for a few minutes, nothing short of a miracle could have saved his life. Another sport of the boys, as well as skating upon the dock in winter, was during a mild spell at that season, or in the early spring, when, with the aid of a bean-pole, they made their way upon cakes of ice from point to point, regarding it as a grand achievement when they could progress as far as Liberty bridge; thinking, meanwhile, that there could be no greater enjoyment beneath the sun, as they "spoke" other youthful adventurers on their way.

On a day in autumn, when a farmer from the country had sold out the last of his ox-cart load of potatoes to a resident at the northern side of the dock, and left his team while he went on an errand to one of the stores of Water street, his cattle, attracted by the odor of the salt water that had flowed in from the ocean, made their way, as there was nothing to prevent it at the shore, into the soft black mud the tide had left bare, and when their owner returned he found them buried in it to their shoulders, and the cart to the hubs of the wheels; and a hard time he had, with all the assistance he could get, to extricate them from their sad dilemma.

Nowhere else is the filling up of the dock so apparent as in that portion of it once adjoining the old stage stables, where the water came up to Washington street of sufficient depth at high tide to float a sloop, as well as being a favorite boat-landing. A popular stopping-place it was for the children, as they leaned against the railing of the bridge, watched the schools of minnies that could be seen there, and the boys as they fished for them with a pin-hook. There was always something to attract attention, besides, about the stables. On a summer day, when music had been heard in the streets about town, that sounded like the notes of a bugle or French horn, one of our "colored brethren," politely speaking, made his appearance there with a tin horn, a couple of feet in length, and some five inches in width at the lower extremity. It had no keys, and not even the wooden plug by which the sound is regulated in a plain trumpet, and yet the performer produced from it most attractive music, in such tunes as Washington's March, Hail Columbia, and the popular airs generally of the time. He was dressed in the garments of a southern slave; his woolly head surmounted by the coarsest of wool hats. The account he gave of himself was that he was one of the "chattels" of a company of stage proprietors in South Carolina, and besides working in their stables, he often took the place of the regular driver on one or another of their several routes. Though one of the roughest specimens of his race, both in feature and expression, he was not wanting in sagacity and intelligence, and having had a fancy to get a sight of the north, he had taken French leave of his owners and made his way hither. He was passed the second day afterwards by the Portland stage, on his way to the British possessions, where he doubtless found a home for the rest of his days.

The boys of central Portsmouth, where the writer had his home, taking no part in the feuds between the "north-enders" and the "south-enders," rambled whither they pleased, and knew what was going on in all sections.

The Cultivation of Roses.

"Roses are her cheeks,
And a rose her lips."

The best way for ladies to cultivate this rare species of roses is by studying and practicing the rules of hygiene, as taught in the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, only $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Grand Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If suffering from those painful weaknesses incident to the female organism, use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a never-failing remedy for these complaints.

Balky Horses.

The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals puts forth the following rules for the treatment of balky horses:

1. Pat the horse upon the neck; examine the harness carefully, first on one side and then on the other, speaking encouragingly while doing so; then jump into the wagon and give the word go; generally he will obey.

2. A teamster in Maine says he can start the worst balky horse by taking him out of the shafts and making him go round in a circle till he is giddy. If the first dance of this kind doesn't cure him, the second will.

3. To cure a balky horse, simply place your hand over the horse's nose and shut off his wind till he wants to go, and then let him go.

4. The brain of the horse seems to entertain but one idea at a time; therefore continued whipping only confirms his stubborn resolve. If you can by any means give him a new subject to think of you will generally have no trouble in starting him. A simply remedy is to take a couple of turns of stout twine around the foreleg, just below the knee, tight enough for the horse to feel, and tie a bow knot. At the first check he will go dancing off, and after going a short distance you can get out and remove the string to prevent injury to the tendon in your further drive.

5. Take the tail of the horse between the hind legs, and tie it by a cord to the saddle-girth.

6. Tie a string around the horse's ear, close to his head.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poison, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Eruptions, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its power in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and injurious ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no fear need be felt in taking them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Blotches or Eruptions, Sour Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their active upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, taint mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, roaring in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice affected, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried right up and EFFECTIVELY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. DR. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. Alpine Silver Mining Co.,
OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane. Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: "The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing; a one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all crude substances contain more or less of these principles, and in the distillation of woody fibre all tinctures, saturated solutions,

is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Company as a minor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a Catarrh, for which I tried everything I ever heard of, but was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief is obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered. I have both internal and external, I rapidly recovered. and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours, GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

WALTHAM, MASS., Jan. 8, 1878.

I have purchased the RADICAL CURE OF GEO. H. ROGERS, Druggist, Rumford Building.

New Hampshire Items.

Fish Commissioner Powers on the 23d inst., took 20,000 young fish to be placed in Sunapee lake. They were hatched on the 10th of April, and 10,000 of them are land-locked salmon; the rest are trout of the blue-backed and Rangeley lake species. Conical-shaped cans are used to transport the fish, each having a capacity to hold about 5000.

The eighty-ninth annual meeting of the New Hampshire Medical society will be held in White's opera hall, Concord, on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 17th and 18th.

On Wednesday, in Concord, before the full bench of the supreme court, a hearing was being had on the motion to grant a new trial to Buzzell, now under sentence of death as accessory to the Brookfield murder, on the ground of the discovery of new evidence. Should the motion be denied, Buzzell will be hung on the 12th of July.

The Cultivation of Roses.

If suffering from those painful weaknesses incident to the female organism, use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a never-failing remedy for these complaints.

How to Kill the Potato Bug.

An exchange contains the following information: To kill the potato bug when late enough for him to be round, I take one gallon of gas tar, one pail of water, which I put into an old barrel or any other vessel that is large enough to hold it. I let it stand three or four days, then take a watering pot and sprinkle the potatoes. Two dressings will save the crop. If you want more, take the quantities on a larger scale. It should be well stirred up two or three times a day. I saw in a paper a day or two since the following: "Three or four flax seeds in every hill of potatoes when one plants, is a sure remedy." The writer said, "I know, for I have tried it." This, if true, is a simple remedy.

—The wheels of a clock always travel in cog.

—While the Cheyennes are on the war path they do their utmost to pepper their enemies.

—Oatmeal should be sown in a pot of boiling water; stir well before planting it on the table.

—The postmaster of New York, driven nearly wild by the carelessness of people who direct letters merely to certain towns without designating the State and county, has published a circular which contains some rather singular facts concerning the reduplications of names that occur in the post office directory. It is pretty generally supposed that "the Hub" is the only "Boston" in the country, but this circular shows that there are no less than twelve, while there are five Baltimores, four Chicagos, eight Cincinnatis, seven Philadelphias, thirty Washingtons, five Omahas, etc. Often in a single day as many as 50,000 letters are posted in New York alone having incomplete directions.

THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1879.

Morals of Election in Conway.

A correspondent of the Dover Press gets up a "celebrated case" to give aid and comfort to the democrats in their efforts to repeal the United States laws protecting the ballot boxes. Since the repeater operations at Manchester have been punished the frauds in that city have not been so boldly attempted, but the country can now claim to be the scene of like operations. Willey is described as being "dragged away from home on an alleged crime of illegally voting for a candidate for Congress." The fact was, Willey, who was a minor, was arrested at North Conway and tried there, near the place of his birth and where his parents could have appeared and testified had the fact been that he was of lawful age to entitle him to vote. But the democratic managers of North Conway concluded it was too glaring a case to contest, and they went bail for Willey over night, the successful candidate for representative, Mr. Mason, and Dr. Lycurgus Pitman, the father of the eloquent lawyer who "conducted the defence," being sureties at the time of the hearing before the commissioner and nearly all the period since. At the trial before the Circuit Court last month, the government shew by Willey's statements, the United States census and a lady who fixed the time of his birth, that he was not of age last November. This fact being established, Mr. Hatch, the ingenious lawyer of this city, who tried the case and through whom the "clear, concise and pointed points" of Hon. G. W. M. Pitman were put, started for the first time the theory that Willey did not vote for Mr. Norris, the democratic congressional candidate—though he had before admitted that he had voted the whole ticket; and upon this theory, three jurors concluded it was safe to differ from the nine who were for conviction. The case was heard at first at North Conway; Mr. Pitman, the lawyer, appeared in the evening but did not see fit to call the parents of Willey, living a few miles distant, but preferred to take the chances before a jury. The eloquent counsel before the jury said he worked without fee, and it is rather ungenerous for the Conway correspondent to give the senior Pitman all the credit for arranging the defence by which the jury "as was expected, failed to agree."

The facts shew that Willey was a youngster whom the democrats of Conway used to swell their majority, and though he had never been and hardly ever had heard of Mr. Norris, he was made to say he did not vote for him though he carried the rest of the simon-pure democratic ticket! Willey adduced no testimony save his own and that of a brother, though by the laws of the United States a person under indictment and about to be tried, if unable to pay the fees of such witnesses as may be material to his defence, is entitled to have the process of the court to summon such witnesses and to have their fees paid by the government. Of course to such an able practitioner as Mr. Pitman this law was known, and if the young man had been of age, the fact was easily established. The true story of the case is, the not voting for candidate for Congress was the result of a review of the situation after other avenues of escape were cut off by the prosecution; and the sharp and little-thought-of-points claimed by the enthusiastic admirer of the lawyer from Bartlett, who acted as consulting counsel, and not as an attorney in the case, must after all be credited to the sagacity of the distinguished and experienced jury lawyer who handled the case before the court rather than to the rose-colored efforts of the political sachem from Lower Bartlett.

The best citizens of Carroll county, not in the republican ranks alone, by any means, but of democratic proclivities, condemn this outrage upon the ballot-box. Democrats are of course gratified at the success of their party, but a victory obtained by such unwarranted violation of the rights of suffrage as this case meets, as it deserves, their unqualified condemnation. Instead of there being any hardship upon Willey it was simply a proper proceeding on the part of the officers to enforce the laws, the violation of which had been brought to their notice, and very many of the Press correspondent's statements as to the preliminary trial and the conduct of the officers must be taken cum grano salis.

Maine Greenback Convention.

The greenbackers of Maine held their State convention in Portland on the 3d inst., and nominated Joseph H. Smith for governor. The platform is as follows:

This convention reaffirms the cardinal principles enunciated in the platform of the national greenback convention of Maine in 1878, and looks with pride and satisfaction at the endorsement of the same by the people at the September election. The convention also congratulates the people of Maine upon the reforms inaugurated by the nationals, and carried forward by the last legislature of Maine.

The decay of American shipping is a subject that justly causes anxiety and alarm. We demand such legislation as shall cause its early restoration.

That the increase of coin-bonded indebtedness of the government in time of profound peace from $1,000,000,000, in 1866, to $2,000,000,000 in 1879 is a fact so startling as to alarm every friend of the country. That the reduction of the rate of coin interest, and that at the same time increasing the principal to such an amount as to vastly increase the coin interest, continually, under the pretext of economy by the reduction of the rate of interest, is such a deception and fraud upon the people as to merit the most severe condemnation.

That we favor the unlimited coinage of gold and silver to be supplemented by full legal-tender paper money sufficient to transact the business of the country; that we favor the immediate use of coin in the treasury for the reduction of the bonded debt.

That we favor the substitution of greenbacks for national bank notes, that the volume of our money should not vary with the chance production of the precious metals or the caprice of corporations.

That a graduated tax on incomes is imperatively demanded.

That we oppose all subsidies or legalized monopolies.

We favor few and simple laws, and those vigorously enforced.

We hereby denounce communism in all its forms and phases.

The convention was noisy but not ill-tempered, and the proceedings closed amicably.

New Hampshire Legislature.

The New Hampshire Legislature met on the 4th inst., the two branches organizing with officers as follows:

Senate, J. H. Gallinger of Concord, president; James E. Dodge of Manchester, clerk; L. W. Holmes of Keene and George H. Bartlett of Sunapee, doorkeepers.

House, Henry H. Huse of Manchester, speaker; Alpheus W. Baker of Lebanon, clerk; Charles G. Emmons of Bristol, assistant clerk; John Underhill of Chester, sergeant-at-arms; William A. Caswell of Northwood, George A. Perkins of Goffstown and George A. Dickey of Derry, doorkeepers.

Naval Matters.

The Senate on the 3d inst. confirmed the nomination of Pay Inspector Augustus H. Gilman to be pay director; of Paymaster Joseph A. Smith to be pay inspector; and of Passed Asst. Paymaster I. Goodwin Hobbs to be paymaster.

Rear Admiral Howell informs the navy department of his arrival at Marseilles on May 19th, in the flagship Trenton. The Wyoming was to sail from Villafranca on the 19th for Italy, Tripoli, Trieste, Constantinople and Smyrna, and return to Villafranca September 15th. The Alliance was at Malaga, May 12th. The Despatch arrived at Gibraltar on the 16th of May, and was to sail for Rome on the 20th. The Enterprise and the Quinnebaug were at Alexandria, Egypt, to sail for Jaffa, Smyrna, Constantinople, Athens, Trieste, coast of Italy and Villafranca, to arrive at Villafranca about September 10th. The admiral proposed to leave Marseilles with the Trenton about the 29th of May for Gibraltar, Cadiz, Spithead, Copenhagen and probably Stockholm, the Scheldt and Gravesend, arriving at the last named place about August 15th. The health of the European squadron remained excellent, in spite of the inclement and unseasonable weather prevailing in the Mediterranean.

News and Notes.

The mail business of Oak Hall, Boston, occupies the time of five men exclusively. Samples, prices, and rules for measurement are sent to any address. Perfect fit and satisfaction guaranteed. The 5th special sale is now being held.

There was much excitement at Littleton, West Virginia, on the 3d inst., incident to the arrest of seven of the gang of "Red Men" who have infested Wetzel county. The men were to have been tried that day, but no justice could be found willing to risk his life in doing so, for several were notified by the Red Men that they would be killed if they assisted in bringing any of the gang to justice. The services of a justice from another district were obtained, and the trial set for the next day. Gov. Matthews has taken a very decided interest in the matter, and expresses a determination to have the lawlessness crushed out. About fifty men of the gang attacked the house of a prominent citizen of Mannington on the morning of the 2d inst., but, finding the occupants well armed and prepared to receive them, desisted and rode off.

The great storm which a few days ago visited Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, is now said to have helped the crops immensely in the aggregate, notwithstanding the destruction wrought in limited areas. Rain was previously badly needed, and vast amounts of it fell over a wide extent of country, obviating all present danger of drought.

Rev. Dr. H. P. Arms of the Norwich, Conn., Congregational church, was eighty years old on the 1st inst. No pastor of this church has ever died under eighty years of age.

Harry Nichols, of Meriden, Conn., twenty years old, has applied for a divorce from his wife, Mary Green Nichols, who is forty-six years old, on the ground that he was bull-dozed by the woman into the marriage, which has never been consummated. Nichols was in the reform school, where Miss Green was the laundress, and he says some words about marriage passed between them jokingly one day, but he thought no more about it until after his discharge, when the woman came to him and insisted that he marry her, threatening him with the law if he refused, and as he feared to be sent back to the reform school he unwillingly consented to have the ceremony performed.

Henry Orton, of Lanosville, Conn., twenty-six years old, hung himself on the 31st ult., in consequence of a disagreement with his wife, who is about twenty years old.

The Senate on the 3d inst., in executive session, called up and confirmed all the pending nominations for promotions in the army, some three hundred in number.

The largest sales of wood on record occurred in Boston last week, and the woollen goods market is more active than for many years.

At Franklin, Ohio, on the 15th ult., a novel and interesting wedding took place in the court room. Mr. Ed. Wilson and Mrs. Hettie Danforth were the happy couple. What made the case more interesting was, that just ten minutes before the ceremony was performed Mrs. Danforth was granted a divorce from her husband, Charles Danforth. As soon as the divorce was granted, Mr. Wilson stepped forward and took Mrs. Danforth's arm, and requested Judge Hord to make them husband and wife, which request he promptly complied with.

Slevin, the watchman who turned State's evidence, and "gave away" the burglars concerned in the Manhattan savings bank robbery, says the gang was assessed $600 each and the whole amount was sent to Washington to prevent the passage of the bill introduced into Congress to duplicate the stolen bonds, because if it passed it would be difficult to negotiate the originals. It would be interesting to know exactly how the money was spent, but probably all Slevin knows is that it was put into the hands of some lobbyist. The amount was only a few thousand dollars, but the bill did not pass.

Church Williford and I. P. Caston, of Charlotte, N. C., have both been courting the same girl. A day or two ago Caston saw Williford sitting in a chair, and going up behind him shot him dead. The murderer was taken to a jail in another county, to prevent the citizens from lynching him.

George L. Walker, a four-years-old son of Sarah A. Walker of Raynham, Mass., was choked to death on the 2d inst., by the sliding door of a hencoop falling on his neck while he was at play.

Two remarkably fine scales for weighing coin have been placed in the New Orleans mint. The largest has a capacity of about 686 pounds avoirdupois, and when loaded to its full weight will indicate a variation of one-thousandth part of an ounce. The other is so delicately adjusted that it will give the precise weight of a human hair.

Miss Maude Howe, daughter of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, took the character of Aspasia in some tableaux in Rome recently, at which the king and queen of Italy were present. Ristori robed her, and Castellani lent her some almost priceless jewelry which he has just sold to the British museum.

Ninety-five of the French senators and deputies are Freemasons. This number includes three of the ministry, namely, LeRoyer, Ferry and Tirard; four ex-ministers, namely, Gambetta, Jules Simon, Jules Favre and Cremieux, and also Victor Hugo and Louis Blanc.

It is said that the law passed by the legislature of Georgia, offering $5,000 for the head of the late William Lloyd Garrison, is still on the statute-books of that State, having never been repealed.

George Hoover, formerly one of the pillars of the Millville (Ind.) Dunkard church, has gone crazy because he was expelled for recently marrying again, six months after he became a widower.

William L. Mason, an elocutionist of Boston, has disappeared, having, as alleged, forged the name of his father's firm for $11,000. He also forged the name of M. Doherty & Co., for $787.

The New Orleans city council has unanimously passed a protest against the passage of the majority report on the State debt. They petition the convention not to adopt said report; they consider it destructive to the public credit.

A young son of Mr. John Barrett was crushed to death in Salisbury, Mass., on the 2d inst., by a pile of lumber falling on him.

A CARD.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1878, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

There seems to be no country under the sun where Dyspepsia is so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and is to be found in almost every household; and consequently such a household remedy as the Bitters is of inestimable value to the American people. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. For sale by all druggists and respectable Dealers generally.

AROUND HOME.

C. Sullivan & Co. are selling fresh Penobscot salmon at twenty cents a pound.

In consequence of the wet weather the meeting in the gospel tent is postponed to Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Children's meeting in the afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Wallace Hackett of this city has been appointed deputy clerk of the circuit court of the United States. Col. William H. Hackett, the clerk of this court, intends to leave soon on a trip to Europe.—Times.

The store of Mr. Parker, dealer in Yankee notions, jewelry, revolvers, etc., at North Berwick, was entered by burglars Sunday night, the 1st inst., and goods to the amount of $200 or $300 taken.

Strawberry Bank and Mt. Sinai encampments of Odd Fellows have another drill with swords this evening at Odd Fellows' hall, preparatory to their trip to Charlestown, Mass., on the 17th of June.

At the annual meeting of the Universalist society, held on Monday evening of this week, the old board of wardens was re-elected, viz.: William Simes, Edward J. Monlton and John Hodgdon, 2d. The affairs of this parish are in a generally prosperous condition.

The Pullman train, due here at nine o'clock on Wednesday evening, when entering the depot at Newburyport, struck a man by the name of Crowley, killing him instantly. No one on the train know of the disaster until the arrival at this city, the news having preceded them by telegraph.

We understand that Mr. Alfred Stavers intends to erect a brick block three stories high on the site of the old Franklin block, and that work will commence as soon as the plans are perfected. The upper story will be all taken up by a hall and ante rooms, and will make an excellent hall for the use of military companies, affording superior facilities for drill.

George E. Hodgdon, Esq., of this city, chairman of the greenback State committee of New Hampshire, denies the truth of the rumor printed in the local and Boston papers to the effect that Howe Call, Esq., is likely to desert the fiat money party and go back to the democratic fold, and that the managers of the democracy are trying to open the doors wide enough to entice him to enter. Mr. Hodgdon says that Mr. Call has been invited by the [greenbackers of Maine to stump that State in the coming campaign for the greenback candidates, and has signified his acceptance of the invitation.

This evening, at Music hall, the ever-popular actress, Maggie Mitchell, will appear in "Lorle, or the artist's dream," a beautiful five-act drama never before given in this city. She will be supported by a company numbering twenty-two persons, including Mr. William Harris. The ticket tariff is lower than ever before on the occasion of Maggie Mitchell's appearance, a state of things which is evidently appreciated by the public, as about three hundred and fifty reserved seat tickets had been sold up to Wednesday evening. Parties wishing good seats had best callat Dr. Preston's to-day.

On Friday, the 30th ult., Mr. Jacob Day of York lost a valuable cow, and on Saturday afternoon Mr. Samuel C. Donnell of the same town lost a very valuable horse, both dying of the same complaint, colic and stoppage. York corner is "coming up;" the boys there have formed a base ball club, and the village rumor is that they propose to challenge the Bostons, though our informant does not vouch for the truth of it. The bountiful rain which commenced falling on the 3d inst., was gladly welcomed in York, where vegetation was beginning to show the need of more moisture.

Mrs. Grace Allen, referred to in our police court record for Wednesday, the 4th inst., was visited on the evening of that day by an officer of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, upon information received that her little child of three years was being improperly treated and generally neglected. The charge was fully confirmed, the woman being found at her home on Water street in an intoxicated condition while her little girl was running about the room in a state of almost entire nudity. Complaint was made and the mother was locked up for the night. The child will be properly cared for.

At the Maine greenbackers' State convention, on the 3d inst., Brackett Hall of North Berwick was the vice president from York county, and E. C. Moody of York the secretary from the first congressional district.

Mr. E. B. Phillips, the new president of the Eastern railroad, entered upon the discharge of his duties on the 2d inst. He does not propose to inaugurate any radical reforms in the management of the road, or to make any changes in the subordinate offices. Mr. Phillips has not said that it will require an expenditure of $200,000 to put the road in good running order, as has been currently reported in the papers.

Mr. J. Marshall Hawkes, principal of the Jones school, has made an engagement of a permanent character with one of the largest book republishing houses in New York, with which he has before been connected in map work, and is to receive a much higher salary than is paid the grammar school-masters in this city. Mr. Hawkes has resigned his position as teacher, and will soon enter upon his new duties. His labors will be chiefly drawing, mapping, designing and general book publishing work, having his headquarters at Boston. Mr. Hawkes has spent his summer vacations for several years past in the preparation of maps of counties in Maine, and seems to have an abundant talent for this work, for which he has been especially selected by the New York house in whose employ he is to enter as a permanent attache.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, June 4; Batchelder, J.

There was a very heavy grist at the mill this morning, as the record below will show.

John Travers, Charles Trant, Joseph Quint, William F. Cullen, William O'Brien, Frank J. Normile and Nelson P. Peterson, seven drunks, were each assessed $9.90, fine and costs.

Arvilow V. Palmer, another drunk, was ordered to the county farm for sixty days; costs $6.90.

William Maxwell and Edward Matthews, for brawl and tumult, were each invited to contribute the frequent $9.90 to the treasury.

Grace Allen, arraigned for drunkenness, was discharged.

Michael Fitzgerald, complained of for keeping a disorderly house, was adjudged probably guilty, and bound over in $100 to appear to answer at the October term of the supreme court.

BOARD OF INSTRUCTION.

Regular meeting, Wednesday evening, June 4th; present, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, and Messrs. Gardner, Locke, Knight, May, Sherburne, Hoyt, Hackett, Pender and Wendell.

In the absence of the mayor and secretary, Charles W. Gardner was choosen chairman pro tem., and Dr. E. B. Sherburne was chosen secretary and served until the arrival of Secretary Pender.

Committee on salaries made a report through Mrs. Knight. The subject was discussed and the report accepted.

Bills of J. W. Thompson, F. Barri & Co., Russel & Odion and Wm. B. Lowd's estate were ordered to be paid.

Resignation of J. Marshall Hawkes as master of the Jones school was received, and accepted to take effect as soon as a suitable substitute can be obtained by the district committee.

Mr. Locke moved an amendment to the rules as to hours of the schools, so that one session only be held. Negatived.

Mr. Hackett gave notice of his resignation as a member of the committee on examination of teachers.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

TRIMMED SKIRTS VS. UNTRIMMED SKIRTS.

The latest innovation is that of entirely plain skirt with polonaise or overskirt and basque. But in either case, the upper skirt is short and comes high on the sides. A rich striped silk, corduroy or satin, forms the lower skirt, while the overdress is of fine plain material. Plain velvet skirts are also to be observed. Then again we see skirts of similar fabric, but having only a faint show of trimming, as for example a narrow row of side plaits around the lower edge, on fans let in at intervals. The fans are indeed quite a feature in new costumes and are placed anywhere and everywhere. But though I am willing to prophesy that untrimmed skirts will prove as contagious as the small pox, yet for the present we find the opposite styles formidable by reason of their numbers. 'Tis not a risk to say that anything and everything is fashionable. A month ago I wrote that there was a rage for trimmed skirts, and to give an accurate idea of the different ways which prevail would be to cover a quire of paper and bring on a headache for a week. Oftentimes a prolonged overskirt opens back from the front, or is so short as to seem only a prolongation of the basque. Then comes an expanse which to the eyes of rival dressmakers seems a battle ground whereupon a deadly conflict rages as to who shall display the greater intricacies of every kind; the weapons of their warfare being folds, bands, tuckings, plaitings, puffings, pipings, flounciings, scallopings, fringes, laces, ribbons, bows and loopings, buttons and such like, disposed horizontally, perpendicularly, diagonally, in straight lines or curved; in long extensions or coming to an untimely end; boldly staring or modestly peeping out, half hid by something else. I hope my dear sisters who read this will understand it, for if they do, they will have accomplished a good deal more than I have been able to. Yet I insist on the moral of all this, which is—liberty—a glorious liberty to follow out your own instincts, and provided something pretty is the result, go fearlessly onward. Nevertheless what wonder that as an antidote we turn our tired eyes to the new plain or almost plain skirts, with overdress of plain material above. There will be a contest between the two all summer, but we are the gainers, for we can choose what we please. It is manifest, however, that the many light fabrics worn during warm months must have ornamentations, so here is an advantage on the side of trimmings.

MIXTURES OF COLORS

are as noticeable as plentitude of ornamentation. Bright blue costumes which would have horrified us a year ago are now worn composedly by leaders of fashion, while again we see garnet plentifully trimmed with yellow stripes; red, yellow, and blue are placed side by side without a qualm; nothing is too pronounced, and the only positive color seen as yet, is bright pink; that being still reserved for children's wear. Yet pale colors are not excluded, for oftentimes we see the most delicate combinations. One of the boldest ideas of the season are the costumes of "cheese cloth," trimmed with the most flaring "bandana" or negro handkerchief goods. These peculiar outfits will be worn by young ladies at lawn tennis or archery gatherings, where their complexions will be shaded by cotton parasols of gay bandana; "cheese cloth" is the name given to what in reality is a very flimsy, unbleached muslin selling at five cents per yard. A parting word as to new and desirable designs. The Gwendoline train, at once simple and elegant, falls long at the back, is disposed in panier style on the hips, and turned back in long revers on the front. To this the Anatolia basque would give a very stylish completion.

In children's outfits, may be mentioned the Beulah costume adapted to girls of from ten to sixteen, and having a blouse waist, draped overskirt, and skirt finished with deep, kilt plaited flounce. The Isabel costume for from fourteen to sixteen consists of a cuirass basque with panier drapery and trimmed skirt; the Maida dress would be pretty for girls from eight to twelve; the "Daisy" is a graceful blouse dress for children from six months to six years; and for boys from six to eight, the Antoine can be recommended.

SPRING CHANGES.

So many people with the spring, have just moved in new quarters, or are having a general renovation of their old ones, that I am tempted to give a word of advice about the new piano which of all is the last and most important. None are more sought after by people who understand such matters than those manufactured by Haines Bros., 124 Fifth Avenue. They furnish an instrument of the best material and finest tone at a moderate price, and though every style is presented, yet for those in search of an upright it may be added that this is a specialty with them, and is therefore seen in not a few of the most elegant houses here.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

They abide steadily by Good Works.

Generals G. T. Beauregard, of La., and J. A. Early, of Va., still continue to faithfully and energetically discharge their duties as commissioners on behalf of the State and people, and will give the next grand Semi-Annual Drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery (the 109th in number of monthly drawings), their personal supervision, and assume the sole management of the distribution which occurs promptly at noon on Tuesday June 17th, 1879, at the Opera House in New Orleans. For further information address, ere it is too late, M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction therefor be fined five dollars.

Lively Stock Operations.

The current of recent events has given great impetus to business in Wall street, and many successful turns are reported where immense profits are made in short periods. The most successful way that we have heard of yet for operating in stocks is by the Combination Method of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y. By this system thousands of orders in various sums are pooled into one vast capital and operated under the most experienced and skillful management, thus securing to each shareholder superior advantages and profits, not possible in any other way. Profits are paid at the end of thirty days. A gentleman in Boston, made $737.20 on an investment of $100. Many others are doing as well or better. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with equal proportionate success by this Combination or Co-operative Method. $15 would make $75, or 5 per cent on the stock; $100 would return $900, or 9 per cent. during the month, and so on according to the market. The new circular containing "two unerring rules for success" and full information, so that any one can operate with profit. Stocks and bonds wanted. Deposits received. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 59 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Ring Bone, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellow blotches upon face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprietor, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
"THE LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of chaff, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Sick Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Are they not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprietor, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profous, watery, thick, mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs on ulcerated throat, ulcerated nasal lining, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged glands, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid preparation may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and THOROUGHLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures the worst attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

GILMORE & Co. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.
Arrears of Pay and Bounty.
Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp for GILMORE & Co., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.
Pensions.
All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & Co. Moderate Fees. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSABLE.
Daniel J. Spiage, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market. Our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. A Prospectus giving full particulars sent free, on application to the Secretary. mch22d&w3mos

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet odoriferous principles are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all other tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the poisonous secretions from body to way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as concert singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I doctored with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I was continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, with Pulmonic Lozenges, and had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,

GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

WALTHAM, MASS., Jan. 8, 1876.

Mr. Holbrook purchased the RADICAL CURE of GEO. H. ROGERS, Druggist, Rumford Building.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of medicated plasters (form of liniment, lotions, ointments, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as certified to by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been verified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now the best in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is a fair and generous trial. The price, 25 cents, although it cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the plaster in the world for the least money, any other article can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for larger profits and endeavor to substitute others. Don't allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

New Hampshire Items.

Charles Miller of New Ipswich recently lost four children in nine days from diphtheria.

An elevator heavily loaded with iron, and containing four men, fell about fifty feet in Ira Parker & Co.'s glove factory at Littleton on the 4th inst., and all the men were hurt but none killed. The accident was caused by overloading the elevator, causing the flange on the driving pulley to break. All the injured are doing well.

The beautiful residence of S. S. Houghton, Esq., of Boston, in Orford, was struck by lightning on the 1st inst., while Mr. Houghton and a few of his friends were at dinner. The lightning descended the chimney and spent most of its fury in the cellar; on its way it threw portions of brick in two rooms; it shattered the stoves, and a split shaft of lightning took to the ell, unsoldering one row of tin and passing down a water pipe. The water has not run since. No serious damage was done. The Pavillion stock barn, with its tower 160 feet high, close by, was not affected.

The legislature in convention, on the afternoon of the 4th inst., elected senators as follows, to fill vacancies: Hiram Hodgdon, district four; Dudley C. Coleman, district six; Charles F. Cate, district eleven; Emmons B. Philbrick, district twenty-two.

—The suggestion that the police might save some broken limbs and much profanity by kicking banana skins off the sidewalks, leads us up to a suggestion of the propriety of the police serving the people who throw them there in a similar way. —Boston Advertiser.

—Sashes are again coming into favor. They are worn in a variety of ways, draped loosely about the hips or tied closely about the waist, and are of all widths and lengths, the preference being for very wide ribbons, the present desire being to shorten the waist as much as possible.

—General Grant's Arabian horses—those presented to him by the Sultan—have arrived by sea at New Haven. They were taken to a blacksmith's to be shod, and many persons came to see them, offering to purchase the old shoes, or even a single nail, at almost any price.

—Rev. Mr. Warfield says that the condemnation of all amusements is wrong. Among those he does condemn are dancing, billiards, the theatre and the opera, games of chance, checkers and dominoes. There doesn't seem to be much of anything left but a tit-tat-too.—Boston Herald.

—A will written by a colored citizen of Albany reads as follows:—"This is the last will and testament of me, Wm. H. Cross. I give all my things to my relations to be divided among them the best way they can. N. B.—If anybody kicks up a row or makes a fuss about it he isn't to have anything."

—A new novel is called "A Lady's Four Wishes." An old bachelor says he hasn't read the book, but he knows what her four wishes are; "First, a new bonnet; second, a new bonnet; third, a new bonnet; fourth, a new bonnet." From this, one might suppose that the old bachelor was a married man.

Portsmouth Chronicle

FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1879.

"Election Day."

Thursday was inauguration day at Concord, and Nat Head of Hooksett assumed the chief magistracy of the State. The weather was favorable, and the city was thronged with spectators. Many prominent men, including the governors of Massachusetts and Rhode island, were present.

The early train from this city started on time with the troops and others who were to take part in the inauguration ceremonies, although there appeared at one time to be a hitch as to the Cavalry going, owing to the fact that after getting their horses on board the train they were informed that the orders from railroad headquarters were that the attendants on the horses should pay fare, although the road had established a precedent by previously allowing them to go free. This new rule caused Capt. Coffin and his officers and men to feel indignant, and the captain gave orders to have the horses disembarked, which would have been done but for the generosity of Samuel Frye, Esq., he becoming personally responsible for the payment of the fares.

The troops from this city and other places in the south of the State arrived in Concord before ten o'clock, and were given a short time for refreshments. Shortly before eleven Governor Prescott and staff, Gen. Head, the governor elect, Gov. Talbot and staff of Massachusetts, and Ex-Governors Goodwin, Harriman, Cheney, Weston and Straw, arrived, escorted by the Amoskeag Veterans of Manchester, (who were accompanied by a delegation of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery of Boston,) and a salute was fired by the Dover Light Battery.

The line was formed on Main street, and moved at noon, the Amoskeag Veterans having the post of honor. The military display was the largest and finest ever seen in Concord on inauguration day. The Portsmouth City Guards were especially noticed for keeping their alignments during the march; and the Cavalry were complimented for their soldierly appearance and proficiency in drill, though compelled to use horses unused to drilling.

The Portsmouth companies arrived home shortly before ten o'clock P. M., and escorted Gov. Goodwin to his home, that gentleman responding to the attention with a brief address in which he complimented them on the manner in which they had borne themselves as soldiers, to the credit of the city and the State militia.

A number of the officers attached to the navy yard went to Concord to join in the honors paid to Gov. Head, and were handsomely entertained. They speak in the highest terms of the military display.

Ohio Conventions.

The greenback State convention of Ohio was held in Columbus on the 4th inst., and a full ticket nominated, on a platform the principal planks of which are demands that all interest-bearing bonds be immediately paid in "fiat" money, and that the national banking system be abolished. A "conciliatory" plank was put in, denouncing "all references to our late civil war" which may have a tendency to annoy the rebel brigadier, as "revolutionary." A. Saunders Piatt was nominated for governor, and Hugo Preyer for lieutenant governor. There was a small split in the convention, Gen. Carey, Gen. Sherwood and others withdrawing; it is said another convention will meet at Toledo, June 17th, to nominate a new ticket.

The democratic State convention of Ohio met in Columbus on the 4th inst.; the expectation of the democratic managers, when they called the convention for the same place and day as that of the greenbackers, was that a coalition could be effected, but this was prevented by the "straight out" action of the greenback convention. The three leading candidates were Bishop, the present governor, Americus Vespucius Rice, and Gen. Tom Ewing, the inflationist and advocate of paying the national debt in worthless paper. The first ballot gave Rice 262 votes, Bishop 205, Ewing 160, and six scattering; on the second ballot the Bishop men went over to Ewing, and he was nominated with a rush, Rice being given the second place on the ticket. Having surrendered to the inflationists, the convention then adopted a platform in which a mass of words are used without anything very particular being said, except that the abolition of the national banking system is plainly demanded, the rest being hifalutin twaddle.

A despatch from Ohio, Thursday evening, says that Rice peremptorily refuses to run on the ticket with Ewing.

The Maine Campaign.

Mr. Alexander Troup, editor of the New Haven Union, the most ably conducted greenback paper in New England, at the late greenback State convention in Maine made a long speech in which he declared the purpose of the greenback leaders to pour all of their resources into Maine and crowd the State with speakers in order to elect the greenback candidates, after which they would be transferred into Massachusetts to elect Gen. Butler, thus assuring the electoral votes of two eastern States to the greenback party in 1880. Mr. Troup is a man of sanguine temperament, and promised a greenback victory in Connecticut last fall; but there is no doubt that the Maine greenbackers will make a most vigorous campaign. In fact, they have already begun in many of the farming towns by holding school-house meetings. They are circulating papers; their friends in other States are raising money, and there is good reason to believe that there is no lack of funds, as there was no lack last year, when the managers had large sums of money contributed—a $15,000 draft being cashed at one time for them. They propose to take the aggressive and will employ every device to catch votes. Already the Indiana "Greenback Sankey" is there with his song-books.

The Negro Exodus.

Gen. Thos. W. Conway and Rev. John Turner, representatives of the general committee in St. Louis for the aid of the negroes who are leaving the south for homes in Kansas and other western States, are in Boston and stopping at the Parker house. The object of their visit is to consult the friends of the colored people in that city and vicinity in regard to the best way to aid them in their desires to obtain homes where they can be protected in the civil and political rights that belong to every American citizen, and to give reliable information in regard to the nature and extent of the exodus, the character of the people who are embraced in it, their motives in entering upon it, and their needs. Upon all these points these gentlemen are thoroughly informed, and their information is reliable. They report that the demand for the labor of these colored people from various sections of the country—extending from Kansas as far east as Pennsylvania—is very large, and that tens of thousands can find steady employment at good wages. They also learn from reliable sources that there are eight or ten thousand of these colored people now camping on the banks of the Mississippi river awaiting transportation, which the steamboat captains and owners, under threats of the planters, refuse to give them. Their plan now is to procure a steamboat and sail down the river and pick up and transport these waiting colored people to St. Louis, where there are agencies which will transport them to localities where their labor is needed, and where they will be paid honest wages for it and be protected in all their rights. This they propose to do, despite representative Chalmers' advice to the governor of Mississippi to seize the boat and tie her up and to arrest and imprison all on board of her, and thus test the question whether or not a regularly registered vessel, bearing the flag of the United States, engaged in a legitimate business, can navigate that river. Upon that question they will find but one sentiment among all loyal men here at the north. Their mission will commend itself to all fair minded men as one of great importance, and one which deserves sympathy and aid.

News and Notes.

Walter Farnsworth has recovered from the city of Boston $197,033, for land taken by the city.

Harrison Smith, of Carmel, Me., was kicked on the head by a horse, on the 3d inst., and fatally injured.

Charles Elias Prescott of Portland, Maine, who was convicted of murdering Harry Williams in 1878, carrying the body through the city and then burying it, has made a confession, stating that Nell Fray, the woman with whom Prescott was intimate, committed the murder. He says he and Williams were drunk; he had trouble with Nell, and she struck him with a club. Prescott then took the body and buried it. Prescott said that another murder had been committed in her house, and that the body was buried in her cellar; but no trace of it could be found.

John Kelly and John Curtis were arrested in Boston on the 4th inst. for passing counterfeit $5 notes on the Pawling National Bank of Pawling, New York; $735 in counterfeit bills and $28.67 in good money were taken from the prisoners.

An East Woburn, Mass., family went on an extended spree, and on Sunday afternoon, the 1st inst., the husband inveigled the wife into a shed, where he threw a rope (made ready before) over her head and hoisted her from the floor. She did not escape until the rope had made a deep mark around her neck.

Fanny Shepard, daughter of the gatekeeper at Harper's Ferry, who was the first man killed in John Brown's raid, has just died at Washington from the effects of an abortion.

Mrs. Nicholas Guebel of New Haven has gone crazy from religious excitement.

It is stated that the legal tender test case, which has been submitted by Messrs. Chittenden and Butler to United States District Judge Blatchford, has been decided pro forma in favor of the validity of the legal tender law. This will take the case before the United States supreme court in the October term, and the final decision may be expected by January or February next.

Hamilton's torpedo and cartridge factory, at West Farm, N. Y., was blown to pieces on the 31st ult., and a workman and a girl were torn to atoms.

Mrs. Kate O'Neil of Broad Brook, Conn., accidentally drank oil of peppermint, on the 30th ult., and died in a few hours.

Louis Haun, while bathing in the river at Middletown, Conn., struck his foot against something peculiar on the river bottom. On being brought to light it proved to be a cloth bag containing 125 pairs of shears, well finished and but little rusted.

The Connecticut tramp law was not as stringent as some of those passed by other States, but it seems to have served its purpose. Hardly a dozen arrests have been made under it, the wandering vagrants having moved on to other scenes as soon as it went into force, and no injustice has been done, as its opponents anticipated, to honest workingmen travelling in search of employment. The gain to the State by the law, the Hartford Courant says, has been in the peace and security of hundreds of families, and in money, and no law of the last legislative session "can show anything like an equal return of benefit."

Two lady boarders in the house of Jennie D. Kennon at Lawrence, Mass., awoke early Wednesday morning, the 4th inst., to find a negro ransacking their effects. One of the ladies seized a revolver, which was in easy reach, and attempted to shoot the burglar, but the weapon did not work. The burglar escaped by jumping through the window. The police were notified, and an hour afterward arrested a colored man, George H. Roberts, whom they found prowling about the streets. He stoutly denied his guilt, though the women positively identified him.

The murder of a United States deputy collector of internal revenue, and six men of his posse, is reported from Smithville, Tenn. The officials were ambushed by a party of moonshiners whose illicit distillery they were going to capture.

Dime-novel reading is held responsible for the practices of the youthful band of burglars recently discovered at South Royalton, Vt. The boys belonged to respectable families, but the yellow-covered trash turned their heads, and they organized with secret signs, grips and passwords. Solemn oaths bound them, and their rendezvous was a cave in the hillside. One of the thieves gave his sweetheart an elegant gold ring, stolen from the village jewelry store, and this led to the detection of the gang.

Minister Stoughton, just returned from St. Petersburg to New York, says of nihilism that the difficulty in Russia is greatly exaggerated by correspondents professing to date late letters from St. Petersburg. A few miscreants who think they can gain something by assassination have banded together, but their numbers are insignificant and their purposes wicked. His opinion based on his own observation is that the mass of the people are fond of their government and their emperor, and that the army is loyal.

B. R. Corwin, of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, is to be tried on charges of perjury and falsehood arising out of his testimony for the defence during the trial of Dr. Talmage by the Presbytery.

The numbers of Littell's Living Age for the weeks ending May 24th and 31st and June 7th, respectively, contain the following articles: William Cobbett, and South Africa, Edinburg Review; The Pathans of the North-west frontier of India Blackwood; The Expedition of Philip II to England, Fortnightly: Mauritius, and Dr. John Aiken, Fraser; Two Impostors of the Eighteenth Century, Cornhill; Mr. Gladstone's "Probability as the Guide of Conduct;" Mr. Goschen's "Cultivation of the Imagination;" The Melancholy of the Educated English, and Republican Intolerance in France, Spectator; The Evolution of games, and Hard Up, Saturday Review: with continuation of Jean Ingelow's "Sarah de Berenger;" the whole of a story by Thomas Hardy, and the opening chapters of a new work by the author of "Patty;" and the usual poetical selections. For fifty-two such numbers of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 2,000 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with the Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Co., publishers. The constant reading of this carefully edited weekly magazine will afford one of the finest selections of current literary writings to be had. Some of the best informed readers of the day have been the constants patrons of the Living Age for many years.

The canker worm has commenced his ravages in Stratham, and apparently on a more extensive scale than last year or the year before. When he gets fairly down to business it is astonishing what an amount of damage he can do in a brief period. We have heard it said that this pest attacks only apple and elm trees, but there is a pear tree not far from our office which shows a number of dead limbs caused by its work last year, and a cherry tree from which we have often eaten fruit has been nearly ruined in the same way.

The momentous question as to who it was that struck Billy Patterson is thrown entirely in the shade by the public anxiety to know the whereabouts of Howe Call, Esq., politically. The CHRONICLE first published the current rumor that Mr. Call was intending to return to the democratic party; then we published a statement by authority of George E. Hodgdon, Esq., chairman of the greenback State committee, to the effect that the rumor was false, and that Mr. Call was in full accord with the party that proposes to create wealth by act of Congress; and now the Times of Thursday evening says that Mr. Call "positively declined last evening, in the presence of 'Squire Hodgdon, to allow the associated press agent in this city to contradict the long-current and recently-published report that he had returned to the democratic fold."

Mr. Albert Dixon, the well known butcher of Eliot, recently purchased a pair of ducks of Mrs. Maria Raitt, who lives on Sturgeon creek in Kittery, put the birds in a covered basket and drove home, and on arriving there set them at liberty in his yard with his other fowls. Soon afterward the ducks were missed, and could not be found; but next morning Mrs. Raitt was astonished to see them march into her yard, evidently coming from the river. Mr. Dixon lives about a quarter of a mile from the river, and the distance from his place to Mrs. Raitt's, by water, is fully four miles. The lady has repurchased the ducks from Mr. Dixon, thinking that if they are so much attached to their old home as their unexpected exploit would seem to indicate, it would be too bad to send them away. Nothing particular is thought of it when a cat, dog or horse finds its way home over a previously untraversed road, but a duck is generally considered a stupid creature, expert only in mud-shovelling, and we never before heard of one finding its way much of anywhere except to a puddle.

A large audience—very large considering the number of people absent from the city, at Concord—went to Music hall Thursday evening to see Maggie Mitchell in "Lorle," and all went away well pleased. Maggie seems just as young and as much of a favorite as ever.

The 26th anniversary meeting of the Portsmouth Baptist Sunday School Convention was held in the Franklin street church at Dover on the 4th inst., the attendance being large notwithstanding the weather, which was unfavorable. Delegates were present from ten societies.

Joseph Warren Commandry of Knights Templar, of Boston Highlands, propose an excursion on St. John's day, June 24th, and the suggestion received with most favor is for a trip to the Isles of Shoals, with dinner at the Appledore house, and a subsequent visit to Newcastle, the party remaining over night at the Wentworth. The party, including members of the commandry, their ladies and the band, will number about one hundred and eighty persons.

The schooner Lone Star left Tredick's wharf on Thursday morning to go on a fishing trip, on the low ebb tide, but when off Oyster island point struck a rock, heeled over and filled with water. She probably stove a hole in her bottom, and being an old vessel has most likely made her last cruise. She was built in Swampscot twenty-three years ago, and has had a number of owners, among them the Laighton Brothers, of the Shoals, and C. Morris Tredick, to whom she now belongs.

The Dover Democrat of June 4th says: "The new schooner Charles H. Trickey arrived at the wharf to-day, three days' passage from New York, with 350 tons of coal for the Cocheco company. Her dimension are 115 feet keel, eight feet hold, and 32.2 feet breadth of beam; 280 tons government measurement. She is built of New Hampshire oak and hackmetack, and furnished with every known improvement for convenience and safety. She is the strongest and handsomest light draught vessel ever seen in this river. Her cost was $14,000, and she is owned by the Dover Navigation company."

The schooner yacht Una, (formerly the noted sloop yacht of that name,) having been remodelled from her waterline up, and a great improvement made in her sheer and stern, took a party of forty invited guests out for a trip on the 1st inst., and went about five miles outside the Shoals. She was over-hauled and repaired in Newburyport last year, we are informed, at a cost of $1200; but her owner, Capt. John Dow of North Hampton, not being satisfied with the way the work was done there, had her again fixed at this port, by Mr. Warren Keen, by whom the work has been done so as to suit Capt. Dow and the vessel's commander, Capt. Godfrey. She developed a high rate of speed on her trial trip, though the wind was light, and worked like a top. She should be a favorite with pleasure parties this season, for she is a staunch and commodious craft, and is commanded by an experienced and careful skipper.

A Temperance Lecture.

Mrs. Annie Oatman, wife of John Oatman of Pittsfield, Mass., was found dead in bed on the morning of Wednesday, the 4th inst., under circumstances that created a suspicion of foul play; but investigation showed that the couple had been on a spree for two weeks past, and that the woman's death was the result of drinking too much rum. On the previous day a visitor at their house found her lying drunk on the floor, and placed her on the bed, with her intoxicated husband, where she died some time during the night. She was buried Wednesday afternoon at the expense of the town, her husband remaining dead drunk while the funeral was in progress.

The Teeth.

Nobody need have offensive breath. A careful removal of substances between the teeth, rinsing the mouth after meals, and a bit of charcoal held in the mouth, will always cure a bad breath. A lump of charcoal held in the mouth two or three times a week, and slowly chewed, has a wonderful power to preserve the teeth and purify the breath. The action is purely chemical. It counteracts the acid arising from a disordered stomach, or food decaying about the gums, and it is this acid which destroys the teeth. Every one knows that charcoal is antiputrescent, and it is used in boxing up animal or vegetable substances to keep them from decay. Upon the same chemical principle it tends to preserve the teeth and sweeten the breath. There is no danger in swallowing it; on the contrary, small quantities have a healthful effect on the inward system, particularly when the body is suffering from that class of complaints peculiarly incident to summer. It would not be wise to swallow that or any other such gritting substance in large quantities or very frequently, but once or twice a week a little would be quite salutary rather than otherwise. A small bit of charcoal merely held in the mouth a few hours, without chewing, has a good effect. At first most people dislike to chew it, but use renders it far from disagreeable. Those who are troubled with an offensive breath might chew it very often and swallow it but seldom. It is peculiarly important to cleanse and rinse the mouth thoroughly before going to bed, otherwise a great deal of the destructive acid will form during the night.

—A. Clement of Trenton, N. J., has a pairs of horses which he claims are forty years old. They must be good trotters—two-forties.

—"Gentlemen of the jury," said Mr. Phelps to the twelve men of Worthington, Minn., who had convicted his daughter of selling cider without a license, "all I've got to say is, you're a set of jackasses, and you may wave your ears over that solemn truth." Mr. Phelps was fined $10 for contempt of court.

—The gallery of the Paris Louvre seems to be a school of morals as well as of art. A mother, in showing her little boy the Venus of Milo, was asked by him, "What did they cut her arms off for?" "Because she put her fingers in the sugar bowl," was the reply. Little Jecky secretly resolves to be no longer liable to such a terrible infliction.

—It seems that the Turkish legationist at Washington, half an hour after gaining the hand and heart of a young lady there, said: "You know you will not be my only wife in my own country?" "Then I will not be your wife at all, here or there," replied the spirited American, and the link which bound them a few moments before, was peremptorily snapped.

—A case involving originally just ten cents for railroad fare has just got into the Iowa Supreme Court. A passenger was unable to buy a ticket before entering the cars, and the conductor demanded ten cents extra. The passenger refused and was put off the train. The lower courts have given him $1000, but the railway appeals. The costs and lawyer's fees have already amounted to several thousand dollars.

—A writer in a Canada paper says: "I have received a warm protest against my use of the phrase 'villainous narcotics' last week, because it is thought I meant to include Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Certainly I did not mean to include it as among the 'villainous narcotics,' for it has been used in my own family to my personal comfort." If that atrocious infant-destroyer is to be excepted, what is a "villainous narcotic?"

—Referring to the allowance of pin-money given to English ladies, the London Queen, a high authority, in an article on the subject says that $2500 a year is the usual sum allotted in the highest grade of life, even in the case of men who have from $100,000 to $160,000 a year. A lady whose husband has from $15,000 to $30,000 would get annually from $1000 to $1500. What a charmingly independent life!

—The most famous Madeira ever known was the "1814 pipe," which was fished up in that year from the timbers of a wrecked vessel in the Scheldt, where it had lain thirty-six years. The greater portion was purchased at an auction at Antwerp by Louis XVIII. The King presented his Consul at Antwerp with dozens, which he sold to the Duke de Raguse. In 1858, after the death of his Duchess, four dozen remained in her cellar, which were sold for over their weight in gold to Baron Rothschild.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

Lively Stock Operations.

The current of recent events has given great impetus to business in Wall street, and many successful turns are reported where immense profits are made in short periods. The most successful way that we have heard of yet for operating in stocks is by the Combination Method of Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y. By this system thousands of orders in various sums are pooled into one vast capital and operated under the most experienced and skillful management, thus securing to each shareholder superior advantages and profits, not possible in any other way. Profits are paid at the end of thirty days. A gentleman in Boston, made $737.20 on an investment of $100. Many others are doing as well or better. Capital in any amount from $10 to $100,000 can be used with equal proportionate success by this Combination or Co-operative Method. $15 would make $75, or 5 per cent on the stock; $100 would return $900, or 9 per cent. during the month, and so on according to the market. The new circular contains "two unerring rules for success" and full information, so that any one can operate with profit. Stocks and bonds wanted. Deposits received. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 59 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offloaded by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and in just the place for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial Disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They act gently, without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulder, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and included in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, scaling up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, alteration, sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, constipation, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquidropping may be snuffed, or Nice applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which good results can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. Alpine Silver Mining Co.,
OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing: one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S

RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and root is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is dirty, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all quacks are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as their manager, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal tones and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was as hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have reduced me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

Daily Chronicle.

An Open Polar Sea.

I was the more positive of an open polar sea from the fact that the water opens at the north first; in fact there is a much stronger current south than north, proved by the drift of icebergs, and our own average drift of nine miles per day when we were beset. The amount of water to effect such a constant drifting must be given by subterranean passage of large rivers, most probably from the vicinity of the great lakes, on account of their altitude on the western hemisphere, and accounting for the apparent lack of superficial rivers on the Asiatic side of the earth; they must have them, they are there; the laws of nature require them; the strong current from Behring's straits to the bay of Panama proves their existence, and their apparent absence proves that by subterranean channels they must enter the Arctic circle.

But there are other proofs of the fact that the climate is warm enough to effect an open polar sea, viz.: the thermometer readings of the Polaris, joined with the fact that Hall's basin (or what Mr. Morton termed Kane's open polar sea) was open long before Kennedy's channel opened, and there was an opening in the channel way up to Newman's bay, though not navigable on account of the great quantity of hard blue ice constantly grinding in the ebb and flow of the tide; in fact one could hardly call it an opening, as it was the most of the time choked by moving masses of both pack and berg ice; yet the breaking, grinding, moving mass proves that a large body of open water was both the occasion of its breakage and constant gain in southern movement. And another proof of subterranean origin is the lack of the superficial iceberg which almost wholly disappears or is unseen north of Kennedy's channel, and clearly demonstrates the fact that the solid, hard, blue ice was formed from a like body of fresh water, subterranean, as its specific gravity would in no way allow it to be or remain submarine. Cape Alexander, and in fact all the mainland capes, are natural abutments required to stop the too frequent breakage of icebergs from the mer de glace, and to prevent the too rapid movement south of those already detached. The Arctic circle might justly be termed the earth's dispensary, where the ever-watchful, all-seeing eye is ever attending to the requirements as regards superficial specific gravity, in order to insure that the sun may be on the same meridian in its appointed time as well as to reproduce the seed time and harvest; for when we take into consideration the fact of the continued removing of metallic substances from their lower power of altitude into other and opposite longitudes, then common sense teaches us there must be some modus operandi in nature to readjust the specific gravity of the earth, else of a certainty the heaviest side would overcome the attraction of the cooler surface of the earth to the rays of the sun, nor would the heated surface be charged with sufficient quantity of caloric to act as a repellant from the sun's rays; the Arctic circle furnish the required amount of submarine formations, rocks, earth and ice, with which to readjust the specific gravity of the earth's surface. Nature would have to depend on the spasmodic and convulsive agents to readjust the specific gravity of the earth's surface, which would of necessity tend to utilize the earthquake and volcano as a readjusting agent rather than as a means of conveying material to the poles to be dealt out as required by the great first cause.

The magnet point of attraction, now conceded to be a moving point, it going the entire circuit of the parallel annually, may likewise be considered the point where the centrifugal force is fully established, and from thence the 73d parallel to the 83d parallel may be properly termed the rim of the open polar sea, whose altitude is effected by hydraulic power of subterranean rivers, which are the agents used to furnish the arctic regions with sediment from mountain streams, together with ocean sands, shell and submarine formations, are sent as adjusting material from the Arctic circle to the four quarters of the globe when and wherever required. For were there no such mode of conveying the material mentioned to the Arctic circle, the earth would of necessity in obedience to cause become so changed as to uncover the central heats at the points ninety, and in obedience to cause, the same effects would inevitably follow if the centripetal force were suspended for a great length of time; the tidal wave would but once flood the equator, but the constant and sole application of the centrifugal force would certainly long before this have uncovered the central heats of the earth at the points ninety, and tidal waves after tidal waves of fire would be distributed from the poles to the equator, simply for the reason that effect follows cause. The 78th parallel being the point of meeting and cessation of both centripetal and centrifugal forces, the magnet zone which commences in the 73d parallel and extends to the 83d parallel may be justly termed the rim of the open polar sea; the 83d parallel being the point or place where the centripetal force is fully established, but decreasing as it nears the 78th parallel, where it altogether ceases and the centrifugal force commences. The joining of the two forces and their consequent ceasing here creates the inertia that holds the iceberg and large bodies of pack ice together with huge ledges of rock and large tracts of land thereon, which there await the storm or tidal wave that gives them the momentum which places them within the influence of the centrifugal force, when the tide and ocean wave distribute them as required.

Yours, etc., N. J. COFFIN.

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1879.

Gov. Head's Inaugural Message.

In opening his message Governor Head urges upon the legislature the importance of doing a few things expeditiously and well rather than many things that are not necessary, and alludes at length to the finances of the State, with the following statement of the results achieved since 1870: On June 1, 1870, the indebtedness of the State was $2,779,291.98; of this sum $2,752,200 was represented by the State bonds bearing six per cent. interest; $2,139,200 of these bonds, or all but $613,000, have been redeemed since that date. The indebtedness of the State on the first day of June, 1879, as reported by the State treasurer, was $3,573,550.-90; $2,206,100 of which sum, or about five eighths of the whole, is represented by the municipal war loan bonds (so called) which were distributed to the cities and towns in 1872. From the report of the treasurer it appears that the revenue of the State for the year ending May 31, 1849, was $825,884.43. The expenses for the same period, including $94,-704.40 expended in the construction of the new State prison, have been $569,-205.26, an excess of expense over the revenue of $43,360.83. The expenditures for the coming year probably will not vary materially from those of the past year; but we may reasonably expect a considerable reduction the following year, by reason of there being no session of the legislature, and with the new prison substantially completed. He recommends the assessment of an annual State tax of $400,000.

RETRENCHMENT.

On the question of retrenchment the governor thinks that past expenditures have been so wisely made that there is little necessity for additional frugality in State disbursements. Few, if any, of the officers of the State receive more for the discharge of their duties than a similar service would command in private business, and there are none whose services can profitably be dispensed with. Our public institutions are generally doing the work for which they were designed as economically as it can be done well, and the State debt which grew out of the late war is being taken care of without placing heavy burdens upon the people. But it becomes us to respect the universal demands for rigid economy and such careful consideration in appropriating public money as a prudent man gives to his own disbursements.

INSURANCE.

The people of this State paid last year for insurance against fire nearly $445,000, of which $417,764.92 was paid in premiums to stock companies, and the balance to mutual companies. They received during the year from stock companies in settlement of losses, $360,848.58, or 86 per cent. of the gross premiums. There were in force, on the first day of January, policies covering risks to the amount of $64,000,000, about one-half of which were written last year. Our system of supervision seems to be well adapted to save those seeking insurance from becoming the victims of unsound companies and unscrupulous agents, making it reasonably certain that policy-holders are receiving the protection for which they have bargained and paid. The foreign companies doing business in this State make favorable exhibits of their standing and are believed to be worthy of confidence. The New Hampshire company, our only State stock company, is stronger than ever before, its profits on its business out of the State having largely exceeded its net losses at home. The amount paid for accident and life insurance during the year was $260,383.77, and the amount received by representatives of insured persons, $219,484.28. This, however, does not include the receipts or payments of the numerous mutual relief associations which have been organized among the members of secret societies and others. These associations have been growing steadily in favor for several years, and are carefully and economically managed; they commend themselves alike to the charitable and to the provident. The stock life insurance companies doing business in this State are all located and managed elsewhere, and it is difficult to ascertain exactly their condition; but the rigid scrutiny to which they are subjected under our law detects no reason for suspecting that they are not sound.

SAVINGS BANKS.

The report of the bank commissioners shows the whole number of saving banks in the State to be sixty-six, with 87,279 depositors, and aggregate deposits amounting to $26,282,136.09. This is a decrease of 4129 in the number of deposits, and of $1,991,801.29 in the amount of deposits during the last year. Only 549 deposits exceed $2000. The State tax paid by the banks in 1878 was $262,922.-95. Forty-five of the banks have declared annual dividends at the rate of five per cent.; five, at the rate of four and one-half per cent; eleven, at the rate of four per cent., and five have declared no dividends. These facts indicate that the banks have been well managed and fairly prosperous. In view of the fact that large amounts have lately been drawn from these banks, the governor recommends the reduction of the tax upon deposits to 3-4 of one per cent.

TAXATION.

The governor thinks that the tax laws as revised by the last legislature have done much to equalize the burdens imposed upon the people, but complains of the ambiguity of their terms, and says that a system of taxation which requires property-holders to fix value of their possessions, thereby making as many standards of value as there are taxpayers, seems wrong in principle and sure to prove pernicious in operation. The remedy for the present evils he finds it exempting from taxation all money loaned upon mortgages within the State, and providing that the taxes upon mortgaged property, unless otherwise especially agreed by the parties, shall be paid by the mortgagor, and a fair proportion of them charged to the mortgagee and be counted in liquidation of the debt. The acts for taxing legacies and peddlers he says should also be amended.

THE STATE CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

The reform school is commended as doing its work in a most excellent manner, while the usual annual appropriation of $5000 for the deaf and dumb, and of $3000 for the blind, will insure the continuance during the next two years of the generous care which the State has bestowed upon these classes of unfortunates. The recipients of this charity are children whose parents are unable to bear the expense of their education. The asylum for the insane now contains 275 patients, a number which would be larger if the poorer class of insane were not debarred from the benefit of the institution by the high price of board and attendance. He disapproves of the keeping of insane people at the county farms, and calls attention to the desirability of devising some measures whereby the present provision by which adult persons who have no property may be admitted to the asylum, upon their friends complying with certain conditions, at three dollars per week, the expense of their support above that sum being met from the annual appropriation of $6000 paid from the State treasury, may be extended.

THE NEW STATE PRISON.

After reviewing the causes which make a new State prison necessary, the governor says that the new building is located about one mile north of the State house. The property of the State comprises twenty-one acres of land, with a frontage of more than 2000 feet and a depth of 550 feet. The prison buildings are as follows: Centre building, three stories in height, containing cook-room, warden's offices, guard-room, hospital and chapel; the south wing will be used for a female prison, with sufficient capacity for twenty convicts; the north wing contains 248 cells, and in the west wing are the heating apparatus, washing rooms and solitary cells. The whole length of the building is 381 feet. The work-shop is 280 feet in length, forty in width and two stories in height, the yard to be enclosed with a brick wall 20 feet in height, and the whole structure to be of brick with granite trimmings.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

The governor thinks the time has come when a permanent policy should be adopted in regard to the normal school at Plymouth. The school ought to be supported with $5000 annually, and if this cannot be done it might as well be abandoned, as the school cannot be made self-sustaining. If, however, it be concluded that, in doing what we have, we have gone too far to retract with honor and profit, then the school should be finally adopted by the State, and pledged an annual appropriation sufficient not only to supply its present needs but to enable its managers to extend its operations and greatly increase its usefulness.

THE MILITIA.

The New Hampshire National Guard, constituted by the last legislature, is composed of thirty companies of infantry, four sections of artillery, and two troops of cavalry. This force is organized into one brigade of three regiments. During the year, three new companies of infantry have been organized, one at Laconia, one at Nashua, and one at Hillsborough. One section of artillery at Peterborough has been disbanded. Until last year our State pursued an economical policy in dealing with its citizen soldiery, remaining content with the skeleton of a militia. This perhaps was wise; but now when the regular army is being crippled and reduced upon every possible pretext and occasion, and so hampered that it is not available for the suppression of local disturbances, or for effective action in case of sudden emergencies of any kind, it is the duty of the several States to provide themselves with reliable military force of their own. He recommends that the salary of the adjutant, who also acts as inspector and quartermaster general, shall be raised to $1000 a year.

AGRICULTURAL INTERESTS.

The governor sustains the desirability of generous dealing with the agricultural interests of the State, and a saving to the State of its farming population. The agricultural college is in a better condition than at any previous time in its history. For some reason it has not commanded that public favor and patronage in the past that it deserved. It has, however, increased in numbers from year to year, and there are more pupils now than ever before. It asks for no appropriation from the State. The governor suggests that manufacturers of fertilizers sold in the State should be required to pay a license for the privilege.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

The governor also urges the desirability of an urgent enforcement of the fish laws, the preservation of the old records of the State, shows the good effects of the tramp law passed by the last legislature, recommends that the management of schools should be left largely to towns and districts, and commends the good results accruing from the laws in favor of temperance.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Winegar, a widow lady nearly seventy years old, of Millerton, N. Y., was assaulted by a tramp on the 4th inst., and so frightened that she died instantly. A large number of men set out to hunt down the scoundrel.

At Ipswich, Mass., on the 4th inst., Deacon Nathaniel Bradstreet, aged sixty-three years, was thrown from a runaway team and instantly killed.

The New York State supreme court has decided that elevated railroads and surface railroads are subject to tax as real estate.

An examination proves that John H. Westervelt, for the past five years democratic treasurer of Paterson, N. J., is a defaulter in $7900. He has left the city.

John Hammond, alias California Jack, has been sentenced to the State prison of Vermont for nineteen years, for two burglaries committed at Chester.

Herman Dressel of Springfield, Vt., has been convicted of sixty-one offences under the liquor law of that State, the fine for which will be $610. He was treasurer and business manager of a club organized with written articles and regulations, for the purpose of supplying themselves with lager beer. The defence was that the thus furnishing of members with beer was not contrary to the statute. The court held that club organization was not a defence, and under instruction the jury so found.

The supreme court of Iowa has decided constitutional and valid the law prohibiting the sale of wine and beer within two miles of any municipality where such sale has been prohibited by vote of the people, or within two miles of a voting place at any election.

A gang of men employed in clearing up the ruins of a fire in Cincinnati, Thursday afternoon, were buried by the fall of the walls; six men were killed, and three seriously wounded, the rest of the party escaping with slight injuries.

Three Cheyenne Indians who killed a signal sergeant and a private soldier at Fort Keogh, Dakota Ter., were on the 3d inst. sentenced to be hanged on the 7th of July. On the night after they were convicted two of them hanged themselves in their cells.

By a boiler explosion in a brickyard at Freedom, Pa., Thursday, two men were killed, two fatally injured, and three badly hurt. Low water in the boiler caused the accident.

At Rohrersville, Washington county, Md., on the 3d inst., Lewis S. Miller, aged fifteen years, shot and killed Charles Norris, about the same age. Miller was teased by boys who called him nicknames, procuring a musket, loaded it, followed the boys and shot Norris, who died instantly.

Mrs. Scott Dunklee, of Brattleboro, Vt., was thrown from a carriage directly under the wheels of a loaded wagon drawn by six horses, on the 4th inst., and instantly killed by being run over. Her little daughter, who was in her arms when she was thrown out, had one hand badly crushed.

Litolff's Musical World for July, containing five pieces of music for the piano, has been received; single numbers sold at the low price of twenty-five cents; published by Arthur P. Schmidt, No. 40 Winter street, Boston. Among the new pieces of sheet music published by this house may be found "Whether my heart be glad or no," song by Walter Kennedy, and "Lonely," by G. W. Masston.

AROUND HOME.

See notice of sale by auction at noon to-day of very desirable dwelling and large lot. No postponement.

It has been decided to hold the regimental muster of the 1st Regt. N. H. N. G. at Manchester next autumn.

Rev. John A. Goss of this city was elected president of the New England Christian Convention at its annual session in Lynn, Mass., on Thursday.

We omitted to mention, in Friday morning's CHRONICLE, that Col. Wm. H. Sise was escorted to his home by the Cavalry and City Guards, on arriving from Concord, Thursday evening.

The Eastern railroad will immediately fill in the pool made in the north millpond at the Creek by the branch railroad to the Eldredge Brewing Co.'s premises, the city putting in the necessary culverts.

The schooner H. B. Gibson, of this port, Sawyer master, arrived on Friday from Summerside, Prince Edward's Island, with a cargo of 4000 bushels of potatoes and 2500 dozen eggs for Cyrus L. Brown & Co.

The committees of the State Senate were announced on Friday. Senator Broughton is on banks, (chairman,) State institutions, and manufactures. Senator Philbrick is on finance, (chairman,) judiciary, agriculture, and elections.

The county commissioners organized on the 4th inst. by the choice of Newton Johnston as chairman and Wells C. Underhill as clerk; after which the county officers tendered a complimentary supper to Messrs. Tilton and Cram, the retiring commissioners.

Mr. George G. Kimball of this city, long connected with the associated press office in Boston, goes to Washington to exchange places in the office there with Mr. James G. Holland. Mr. Kimball has nearly recovered from the injuries he sustained at the disaster on the Old Colony railroad last fall, at the time Reagan, the oarsman, was killed.

The trustees of Langdon park, at their late annual meeting, re-elected the old officers—Frank W. Miller chairman, T. Salter Tredick secretary, Henry M. Clark treasurer. Mayor Sise accepts the appointment, ex-officio, of trustee for the year. Mr. Jas. R. Yeaton having lease of the fields on either side of the park, it was voted to request that he be appointed special police officer there. The park is out of debt, but also out of funds.—Weekly.

Great Falls has been afflicted with a thirty hours' pedestrian race, commencing Thursday evening last and ending on Friday. P. Roland Eaton of Dover made 114 miles and took the first prize, $100; Teomas Smith took the second prize, $50, with 113 miles; George Harrington the third prize, $30, with 107 miles; and Jerry Reagen the fourth prize, $20, with ninety-five miles. The latter three all belong in Great Falls.

We are informed by friends of the late Capt. Henry Frisbee, of Kittery Point, who lost his life in New York on the night of the 24th of May by being drowned from the Union Flag, that there was no foundation for the report that foul play was suspected in the case. He did not step ashore from the vessel after her arrival in New York, and his body came up in the dock where he was drowned, and without a mark upon it to indicate violence in any way. His brother, Capt. Charles Frisbee, who brought the body to Kittery Point for interment, has no doubt whatever that the deceased accidentally fell overboard.

There was quite a young riot at Concord railroad wharf on Friday. As the story is told us, the second mate of the schooner Sunlight, having been paid off, went ashore on the wharf to settle some difference with one of the crew by a fight. How much of a fight there was we cannot say, but a number of other persons finally got mixed up in it, and it ended by the second mate running away through the street, shouting "Murder," and pursued by a party of avengers. City Marshal Entwistle got in the way of the procession, stopped it, and locked up the second mate, a man representing himself to be the mate of the Sunlight, and Mr. Punch Gilligan of this city.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, June 6; Batchelder, J.

Catharine Reagan, for brawl and tumult, was fined $5, costs $8.04.

John Dwyer was bound over in the sum of $100 to appear at the October term of the supreme court to answer to a charge of keeping a disorderly house.

Thomas Collins, for drunkenness, was assessed $9.90, which he will board out.

George Ramsbottom paid $9.90 for his drunk.

THE SEAMAN'S FRIEND SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of this society was held on the 2d inst., at the Sailors' Home on State street. The following extracts are from the secretary's report:

"Our Sailor's Home remains under the excellent care of Mr. and Mrs. John Stevens; 9414 meals have been served at the restaurant, in addition to which, food to the amount of $1401 has been sold and taken away, showing, as we often have had occasion to say, that cheap and healthy cooked food supplied a real want in hard times, affording timely help in many cases to heads of families who are obliged to be away at work during the day. Beside a few regular boarders, 402 transient lodgers have been accommodated. Donations from friends and the annual subscription of $108.50 testify to the continued interest and confidence of the community. The Seaman's Society at Concord, always our sympathizing ally, has just passed its semi-centennial anniversary and we hope it enters on its second half-century with faith in holding on. Mr. Loyne has visited during the year 400 vessels, supplying the seamen with papers and inviting them to religious services."

The thanks of the society were most cordially extended to the friends who have given books and magazines to the reading-room; also to those who have kindly sent daily and weekly papers through the year.

Resolutions of regret for the death of a friend and life-member, Admiral Parrott, were passed.

The resignation of Mr. A. W. Haven, for many years a trustee, was accepted, and thanks tendered for his long term of service. Mr. E. P. Kimball was elected to the office and requested to become acting trustee, as soon as the report of the permanent fund is received, the meeting standing adjourned until that time.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Assistant Naval Constructor George F. Mallett has reported for duty at the navy yard.

The clothing, blankets, etc., brought home from Rio Janeiro last fall by the storeship Guard, and since stored on the navy yard, have been thoroughly cooked recently, the bales being opened and the contents exposed for some hours to a heat of 250 degrees Farenheit. The same or some other effective means should be employed with the canvas and cordage brought home by the Guard, and now in store on the yard.

MR. WAITE IN WORCESTER.

We are repuested to publish the following from the Worcester, Mass., Spy, to show how Mr. A. A. Waite's ministrations were regarded in that city:

It will be seen by the following correspondence that Rev. Mr. Waite, who has made so good an impression in the city is to speak in Mechanic's hall next Sunday, by invitation of the Young Men's Christian Association:

Rev. A. A. Waite:—We, as members of the different evangelical churches of Worcester, represented by the Young Men's Christian Association, recognizing your work as an evanglist in our city, deem it a privilege to express in unqualified terms the respect and esteem we entertain toward you and your spiritual work. We therefore invite you to address the people of Worcester once more in Mechanic's hall, before you leave us, that we may be able to publicly recommend you as a faithful servant of Christ, wherever in the providence of God you may be called to labor.

J. O. BEMIS,
In behalf of the Y. M. C. A.

WORCESTER, May 22d.

Mr. J. O. Bemis; Dear Brother—With thanks I accept your invitation, and would appoint next Sunday, May 25th, at 4 P. M., at which time my remarks will be upon "Infidelity" and especially adapted to young men. Yours in the work,

A. A. WAITE, Evangelist.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

☞ The Best and the Cheapest Place to Buy CUSTOM-MADE CLOTHING, is at BROWN'S, No. 33 Market Street, Portsmouth, the Agency for one of the Principal Custom-Made Clothing Houses of Boston. Lower Prices than ever before offered in Portsmouth, for cash. No need to go or send to Boston, as you can select, at the same Lowest Cash Prices, Custom Suits from Elegant Styles Spring and Summer Suitings, at $15, $18, and $20;—Pantaloons at $4, $4.50 and $5.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed, shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which ionstitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50.

Sold by all Druggists.

Snow has disappeared from the summit of Mount Washington, but in Tuckerman's ravine it is about thirty feet deep.

George French of Concord, employed as section-man on the Concord & Claremont railroad, was thrown from a hand-car Wednesday morning, the 4th inst., and the car passed over his body, severely injuring him.

The Way Vanderbilt Succeeded.

When Commodore Vanderbilt was running steamboats, he beat all rivals by crowding on steam to the utmost, and even running down his enemy if necessary, to accomplish a triumph. When he went into railroading, he adopted a much shrewder and more successful way, by uniting vast lines and their tributaries under his own management, thus capturing all rivals, by sharing with them the immense pool of profits that were made by his skillful manipulation. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., accomplish a much greater success in stock operations by their new Combination Method of dealing. By this system the orders of thousands of customers are pooled into one vast sum and co-operated under the most experienced management, thus giving to each shareholder all the benefits of large capital and best skill. Profits divided monthly. Any amount from $5 to $25,000 can be used with great success. $15 will make $75 profit. $80 would return $720 or nine per cent on the stock during the month, according to the market. The new circular (mailed free) has "two unerring rules for success" and full explanations, so that any one can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. city.

Established 1756.
The Gazette s published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it it the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors from pimples to a humor, Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or "Thick Neck," and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Cough, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Proprietor, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are sugar-coated, Purgative, and Concentrated.
Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They cause no nausea or disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation.
For Sick Headache, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climates, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sneezing, coughing, expectoration, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total destruction of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged glands, tickling cough, hoarseness. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. A single package may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY CLEANSED the cells of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which some of the most dangerous cases of Catarrh which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures even the attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, the money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all saints are insoluble compounds of woody fiber, all fibrous tures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison, which is found in every into the stomach and thence into the blood. This cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Parker Romp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated, in this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, and so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had three sympathetic coughs without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Contrary to CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one who has had such a severe ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,

GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

[illegible] Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of imitations in the form of Belladonna, Iodine, Mustard, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evinced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free to any one who may desire them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world for all who may suffer in pain. All we ask is that every sufferer in pain and in a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although it costs double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any other country can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them with a view to substitute others. LAGER BEER.

The new enterprise started by the Eldredge Brewing Company—the manufacturing of lager beer, theirs being the first and only establishment of the kind in the State—has involved a large outlay of capital, and demands more than a passing notice. In a previous article we referred to the ale business of this company, which has not only sustained itself in producing a superior quality of ale, but has been steadily gaining a foothold on the trade, and stands to-day first-class in its every minutiæ.

Lager beer is one of the mildest and least exciting in its effects, of the brewed liquors. It is claimed to have been invented by the Germans, and its devotees have placed on its shrine as emblematical of its popularity and for its patron saint, Gambrinus. We believe history mentions Gambrinus as king of Brabant in A. D. 1200, but whether the introduction is due to him, or this kingly character adopted by the manufacturers is a myth, we are not able to say. Tacitus, the Roman historian, in his writings of the customs of the Germans, say: "Potui humor ex hordeo aut frumento in quandam similitudinum veni corruptus." [For drink they have a liquor made out of barley, or wheat, changed by fermentation into a kind of resemblance to wine.]

We might consider lager as a late introduction into the United States. Its use was first confined to the west, where the larger part of the German emigration made their homes. The creating of beer gardens, with their pleasant surroundings and pastimes of music and dancing, furnished a resort for whole families. The social nature of these gatherings, the quiet and good order which seemed naturally to blend into their existence, made them popular, and proved them as a source of enjoyment, attractive to all classes. It was by these means that lager ingratiated itself into public favor, and is now is one of the favorite drinking compounds. Its tonic qualities have induced many families to use it, and in many towns it is allowed to be sold when spirits and other brewed liquors are prohibited.

The making of lager differs in some essential points from that of ale. The grinding, mashing, and the boiling of the malt, the cooling process, by pumping it into the basin, and then showering it over the refrigerator and passing from it by conductors into the fermenting vats, are similar. But here it loses its identity with ale; as lager (the word "lager" means to move slow) is kept at a low temperature, taking from ten to twelve weeks to prepare it for the market, while ale is forced into a high temperature, and is produced in about seven days. The sample of lager which this company has introduced to the public exceeds the anticipations of the connoisseurs, as they claim that its quality possesses all of the requisites in aroma, etc., of the famed New York and Milwaukee brands. The success of the first brew, with the working of new material, machinery, and other important details, to contend against, gives a bright promise of prosperity in this venture of the Eldredge Brewing Company. The ingredients which it is positively asserted are only used, are malt and hops. When the liquid has acquired the necessary ripeness it is forced from the vats by means of a steam air-pump (the pressure being made on the surface of the liquor) into eight and ten-gallon kegs, which are made of the same strength and on the same principle as those used for ale. All of the modern improvements which are used in improving and facilitating the work have been adopted. The labor attending the making of the wort is performed in the main building, but is not connected with the working material used in the brewing of ale. After the liquid passes over the refrigerator, it is conducted by pipes into the fermenting tubs in the ice vault, and from these into the vats in the cellars below, where it undergoes the final process. A steam-pump sensitive to the slightest touch of the finger, and used for forcing the beer from the vats into kegs, and a steam pump for general purposes, are from the Niagara Machine Works in New York, and exhibit fine specimens of mechanical skill. These are duplicated by hand pumps, in case of any disarrangement of the others.

The company has purchased six cars for freighting the beer. They are painted of a maroon shade, and on the sides, in letters of blue and gold, is "Eldredge Brewing Company," number of car on the door, and "Lager Beer Refrigerator Car." Intervening between the last two is a decoration representing three kegs of lager. On the inside is a division for the ice, which keeps the beer at the right temperature. The cars are very handsome, and will prove an attractive traveling advertisement. The first shipment was made on these cars on the 16th ult., to M. Hurley, of Lynn, John Ganey, of Salem, M. Carney & Brother, of Lawrence, P. Cummiskey, of Lowell, and C. A. Locke, of Great Falls.

We have refrained from giving an analysis of the operations or the technical terms connected with the making of lager. What the consuming public wants to know of, is the standard of its purity and quality. That verdict has been rendered. Neither have we given a dissertation of the merits or demerits of it as a beverage, but merely say that if statistics are reliable, many distilleries have been obliged to close on account of the influence of the introduction of lager beer.

THE ICE VAULT,

So called, is seventy-one feet long and forty feet wide, with a height of seventy-two feet. It is built of brick, and every means has been taken in its construction to secure strength. The walls, (including the brick, and air chambers that extend around the four sides of the building, which are covered with four-inch felting,) together with the inside finish of sheathing, are three feet thick. There are twenty-eight cold-air flues, and thirty chambers for the foul air, which escapes through the several ventilators in the rooms, and is carried through the chambers up the side and passes out through the ventilators on top of the building.

All of the inside frame work is of iron. The first floor, or cellar, is ten feet high. The beams are nine inches thick, with girders of twelve and one-half inches. These are supported by ten columns, the same number in each room, nine inches in diameter. This room contains thirty-four vats, each holding fifty barrels. The second room is about the same as the first, and is also called a cellar. This room has thirty-five vats, holding fifty barrels each. The third floor is called the fermenting room, and has thirty-five tubs with a capacity of fifty barrels each. The fourth room is twenty-six feet high, and comprises the ice-chamber and dripping-floor. There is no division in the rooms except the massive iron work that supports the ice (twelve hundred tons) which is packed in one solid mass to the depth of twenty-two feet. The beams of the floor are ten and a half inches square, with girders of fifteen inches; the additional strength being necessary to sustain this immense weight, which is a severe test to the walls of the building. Under these iron rafters is the dripping-floor, which is covered with zinc and stands from a foot and a half on the sides, to four feet in the centre. All the water that comes from the melting of the ice drops into this vast basin and is used for general purposes, cooling the beer, etc. This floor is packed with four inches thickness of felting, the same as on the sides, and prevents the hot air from the rooms below penetrating into and melting the ice. Two inches below this is a sheathed floor, perforated with oval holes, which conducts the hot air into the chambers on the sides of the buildings. Six large patent ventilators are placed in the centre, extending up into the dripping room, and counteract the effects of hot air which may escape into it. The fifth room is formed by the angles of the roof, and is used for general storage. All of the floors are arched, and covered with concrete three inches thick

There are nine windows on the front and ten on the ends of the building, each having three sets of sashes and lights. The outside of the building presents quite an imposing appearance, and facing as it does two public thoroughfares and two railroads, it is a conspicuous advertisement. About one-third from each end are iron plates, six and a half by nine feet, set into the walls, on which are inscribed in block letters of gilt, "Eldredge Brewing Company" and "Ice Vault." In the centre is "1875," the date of its being built. At about the centre stands Gambrinus, in his kingly robes, and very gracefully holding in his right hand a goblet of the foaming lager, while his left rests on a stand around which is entwined leaves and flowers. The figure is of zinc, eight feet high, and shows the conception of an artist in its general contour, and gracefulness of position. The Ice Vault is in front of the western end of the main building, and shuts a part of it from view. It was built under the supervision of Mr. Enoch J. Conner, and shows the work of a skilled mechanic.

Portsmouth Chronicle

MONDAY, JUNE 9, 1879.

Congress.

The Senate on Friday passed the bill repealing the juror's test oath law. Edmunds and Conkling made things so uncomfortable for the democrats by their speeches against the bill, that Thurman left the chair to make a speech in defence of the democratic party.

The Senate finance committee on Friday voted by one majority not to consider until December next the Warner silver bill, which in the House had the solid vote of the democratic members from the solid south. This kills the scheme of the silver speculators, unless the Senate shall vote to take the bill out of the hands of the committee.

News and Notes.

Two men were killed by lightning at Asbury Park, N. J., and a house and barn burned at Sanford, Me., on Friday, by lightning.

Two monuments to the confederate dead were unveiled at Winchester, Va., on Friday.

The dean of the faculty of the Homeopathic medical college at Cleveland, Ohio, Dr. J. Edward Smith, and the janitor of the college, have been convicted of body snatching by a jury.

Peter Peters, fifty-six years old, fatally shot his wife, fifty-one years old, at Rochester, N. Y., Friday, and then blew out his own brains.

Felix McCann was hung at Norwich, N. Y., Monroe Guy at Hillsboro, Mo., and John Blan at St. Charles, Mo., on Friday—all for murder.

Eli S Holmes of Duxbury, Mass., sixty years of age, committed suicide on Thursday by blowing out his brains with a gun fastened to a sink, with a string fastened to the trigger. He was found by the neighbors, who had been requested by him to call at the house when they should see no smoke issuing from the chimney. They found him lying on the floor with the top of his head completely blown off, portions of the scull being blown into an adjoining room. Every indication showed the most complete deliberation and determined intent.

Michael Shea of Bath, Me., has recently received $600,000 by the death of an uncle in Ireland. This is the second heavy legacy he has had within a few months.

George Kent, Esq., brother of the late Ex-Gov. Kent of Maine, is still, at the age of eighty-three years, discharging the duties of a responsible position in the treasury department at Washington.

George Benson of Solon, Me., who was accused of murdering William Jackson of that place last July, committed suicide Thursday night by taking morphine. He had been considered insane for two or three years. He left writings saying he was innocent of the murder.

A pressman, named John O'Brien, was drugged in one of the saloons on the city front last Monday, and while in an insensible and helpless condition was taking aboard the American ship "Valiant," which was lying in the stream about to sail for Cork. O'Brien, on recovering his faculties, found means to send word of the capture to his friends on shore, who, in their turn, communicated a plan to him for his deliverance. Accordingly, in pursuance of preconcerted arrangements, several of O'Brien's friends on Tuesday noon hired a boat and sailed out into the bay. As the boat neared the ship, which was being towed down the bay, O'Brien, who had been on the lookout for her appearance and who was a good swimmer, leaped overboard, and after swimming a good distance, gained the boat and was picked up by his friends and taken in safety to the shore.—San Francisco Examiner, May 25.

Naval Matters.

The U. S. S. Saratoga sailed from Fayal, Western islands, April 30th, on a cruise.

The Wyoming arrived at Leghorn on the 20th ult., from Villafranche.

The Wachusett sailed from Boston on the 5th inst., for New Orleans, and will proceed up the Mississippi to enlist boys for the service.

News from the Ticonderoga, off the west coast of Africa, indicates that the boundary commission has finally adjourned without any result, as the English members were unwilling to take Commodore Shufeldt as arbitrator, while the Liberians were perfectly willing to do so. It is not easy to indicate the next step.

Lieut. Comdr. Benjamin P. Lamberton is detached from the Alaska as executive officer, and placed on waiting orders.

Medical Director S. F. Coues is granted leave of absence from the naval hospital at New York for two weeks from June 4th.

Capt. H. S. Bishop is detached from command of the marine guard of the Powhatan on her arrival at New York, and ordered to report to the commander of the corps.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. Oscar Barron, Jr., the well-known proprietor of the Senate restaurant at Washington, D. C., will assume control of the Fabyan house this season.

Hanson Perkins of Bath disappeared suddenly three weeks ago. His whereabouts are unknown. It is supposed he has gone to Canada. He leaves a wife and three children. Perkins is wanted by the town authorities for a criminal offence.

Logmen have been at Hanover for several days endeavoring to dislodge the large number of the Bowman 50,000,000 feet drive, which has been delayed in the vicinity of the falls between Hanover and West Lebanon. The recent rains have been of much service.

Never before now has the potato-bug pest been so terrible at the present time of the season, in the northern part of the State. Swarms are daily seen, and in many places in the upper Connecticut valley they do not allow the tops to gets out of the ground before they are attacked and destroyed.

A. W. Bridgman, who has been extensively advertising from Andover, in this State, to send vines, rose bushes, flowering plants, etc., very cheap by mail, is said by the St Johnsbury, Vt., Caledonian to be a swindler and dead beat of the first water. A letter to that paper from a correspondent at Andover says: "In reply to yours will say of A. W. Bridgman, he has been stopping here and advertising vines, etc., but has not had anything of the kind here. He has gone from here now, though his family remain. His past record has been bad—he is what you might call a rascal. Other parties have sent him money besides you." The last heard of the fellow he was operating at Oxford, Pennsylvania.

Political.

A number of Mississippi planters have issued a protest, in which they assert that northern philanthropists who encourage the sending of steamboats to take negroes to Kansas will do great harm to planters, and that the taking of negroes to the northern part of the country would be to the detriment of the negroes, who are well cared for now. The trouble is that there is a difference of opinion between the blacks and planters as to what "well cared for" means. The planters have taken the best of care to prevent the negroes from enjoying the civil and political rights guaranteed them by the constitutional amendments, and the freedmen seem to be disposed to hunt for some place where they will not be subjected to quite so much careful supervision. That's what's the matter.

Alexander McGregor, an officer of the confederate army, writes to the Cincinnati Commercial that neither negroes nor white republicans can secure the shadow of justice in Mississippi, and that he was driven from the State by a series of persecutions under a law of 1878 forbidding any white man to purchase cotton or farm produce from a negro! This law, he avers, compelled the negroes to emigrate to live.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1873, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first-class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

AROUND HOME.

1st Lieut. David Whipple is detached from duty at the marine barracks at the navy yard on the 15th inst., and ordered to the Powhatan.

Mr. Rufus McIntire, formerly of York and a machinist by trade, but for the past eighteen years a hard-working and successful farmer of Aroostook county, died on the 8th of April last at Plymouth, Me., after a brief illness, at the residence of his son.

Grass is looking finely throughout that part of York county bordering on the Piscataqua river, and the farmers say that one more good rain between now and the 4th of July will ensure an abundant yield. Other crops also promise to be fully up to the average.

A branch of the Woman's Temperance Union was formed at York centre on the evening of the 5th inst., the meeting being addressed on the subject of temperance by Mrs. Harriet Jones, the treasurer, and Mrs. Stevens, the president of the State organization of Maine. A branch of the Union was organized in Kennebunk by the same ladies on the 28th ult.

The Pullman train from the east for Boston over the Eastern railroad had a narrow escape from disaster on Wednesday morning of last week. A huge rock had fallen from the embankment and rolled on to the track near North Berwick, but fortunately it was discovered in season to prevent an accident to the train, which was delayed half an hour in consequence of the obstruction.

Last year the residents near the head of York river complained that they could not catch a fish of any kind for their own consumption, as parties lower down had nets stretched right across the river, and of course intercepted every fish that attempted the passage up. This work was stopped by a law passed by the legislature of Maine at its last session, and the people at the river's head now catch alewives and other fish in fair numbers.

The "Punch" Gilligan mentioned in Saturday's CHRONICLE as an active member of the procession which City Marshal Entwistle headed off and conducted to the station house, must not be confounded with the younger "Punch" Gilligan who made himself so popular with his employers and the guests at the Shoals last summer by his promptness and activity in attending to his duties. He wants it understood that he is no such person, and deprecates any such injurious suspicion.

About two weeks ago a fine dog of the setter breed came to the house of Mr. John Parsons, in the northern part of Kittery, and after he was tried with a large variety of names it was found he would answer to that of "Jack." He was very handsomely marked when he first appeared, but some of the spots have since disappeared, which looks as if he had been "prepared" for some show. Mr. Parsons still retains the animal, no owner having appeared to claim him, and considers him quite valuable.

The editor of the Kennebunk Star tells the following story in his paper: "Two chickens from one egg! Don't be chicken-hearted now, and say you don't believe it, for we know it is a fact. A light Brahma egg, of a very large size, was placed under a hen in our hennery, more out of curiosity than anything else, and the nest was watched closely. The day before the time for hatching, the nest was examined, and all was right. The 22d day of the hen's setting, she was taken off, with seven Brahma chicks from six eggs—the balance of the eggs being unbroken."

Hon. Stillman B. Allen's offer of a substantial prize to the boy who shall raise the largest quantity of corn on a plat of ground of a specified size, has set lots of the Kittery, Eliot and York boys to work to secure the reward. As all the particulars—distance between rows and hills, number of times hoed, number of days' work performed, etc.,—have to be returned when application is made for the prize, we shall not be surprised if some valuable information should result from this sensible contest, for each boy is at liberty under the terms to plant his corn as closely or as openly as he pleases, to hoe it forty times or not hoe it at all, and to use any kind and quantity of dressing that he chooses; and as a consequence of this wide range of conditions a good many novel experiments are now in process of trial.

Unpaid taxes to the amount of $3000, for years prior to 1875, are due the town of Kennebunkport.

Mr. John Wentworth, of Spruce creek, Kittery, is erecting another large barn on his farm, which is one of the best in the town.

The York cornet band gives an open air concert on Thursday evening of each week at Willis Moulton's store at "the corner."

"Gander parties" from Great Falls to York beach on Sunday are the usual thing now. On the 1st inst., a party of thirty went down.

Mr. Robert Merritt, of Boston, is in town building a brick oven for Mr. George F. Wallis, who is to start a bakery at No. 91 Congress street.

The "grand pedestrian match" at Great Falls was not a profitable affair for the managers, and the Journal of that place says there is not likely to be another. Happy village!

Mr. Coleman Barrell, who lives near the foot of Beech ridge, York, has gone into the cultivation of the sugar beet quite extensively this season, having four acres planted.

A semi-annual dividend of 2 1-2 per cent to owners of stock in the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire will be payable at the treasurer's office in Boston, on and after Monday, June 16th.

The schooner Gov. Goodwin arrived at Doane's wharf on Thursday last, with two hundred barrels of mackerel. The mackerel fleet is now off Nantucket, and better fares are being taken, and of better fish than the first catches.

The potato bugs are reported as swarming in York, Kittery and Eliot; our informant says that the turkeys feast liberally on the bugs, but will not touch the hideous-looking slugs. The farmers are fighting the pests with tar water, Paris green, and salt.

Mrs. Rufus Duran of Kennebunk depot, whose husband eloped with Mrs. Martha A. Noble of that village last January, has withdrawn her application for a divorce. Mr. Noble has been divorced from his wife, the court giving the custody of their child to the father.

The dedication services at Elder Waite's gospel tent on Miller avenue took place on Saturday evening. The services were conducted by Elder Waites, assisted by some of the evangelist clergymen of this city. The tent was well filled, nearly every seat being occupied. He took for his subject "Glad Tidings," coupling it with chalk illustrations on the black board. Three services were held on Sunday, all being well attended.

Friday evening near ten o'clock, Mr. Daniel J. Ayers, night watchman at Jones' brewery, discovered fire in the attic of that building. By prompt measures on his part, assisted by a number of persons who were in the building, the fire was extinguished after gaining considerable headway, saving the building, and probably the city from a severe conflagration, as the wind was blowing a gale from northwest at the time.

Mrs. Nathaniel Wiggin of Greenland, while attempting to get into her carriage Friday forenoon, in that town, was violently thrown to the ground by the horse suddenly starting. The wheels passed over her head, face and arm, severely injuring her, though not fatally. The horse then went off on a run, and when near the residence of Mr. John Christie, on Middle street in this city, attempts were made by workmen in the vicinity to stop him, when he sheered and overturned the carriage, which was smashed into splinters. He was finally brought up by a stone wall.

The parties mainly responsible for the street disturbance, Friday, were brought before the police court on Saturday. The evidence was to the effect that William Smith, the ex-second mate of the schooner Sunlight, had a fight on the wharf with one of the vessel's seamen, and was giving him a thrashing, when the mate, Miles J. Blake, jumped ashore to lend the sailor aid, and Michael Gilligan of this city also took a hand in the game against the second mate, who very sensibly and also very rapidly retreated from such an unequal contest, and was pursued by Gilligan and the mate, who overtook him when he was resting near the Kearsarge mill, crept up to him and pelted him with brick-bats, and followed him up as he again ran away, until City Marshal Entwistle put a stop to their fun. The second mate was not put on trial; what was done with Gilligan and Blake can be seen in the police court report.

Mr. Charles O. Eaton, of York, will immediately rebuild the Summit house, near Mt. Agamenticus, which was burned last year. Parties in this city and Kittery have agreed to lease it for a term of years, and competent guides will be employed by them to show to visitors the trout streams which abound in that vicinity. The house will be a popular stopping place for sportsmen, and parties visiting the big hill.

A partly-finished French-roofed building, owned by Mr. Arthur Littlefield, at Wells village, was blown down, Friday afternoon, and totally wrecked.

Mr. Albert Junkins, of the Scotland district of York, is building a new house. Mr. Samuel Blaisdell, of Beech ridge, York, is having a big barn framed, and will have an old fashioned raising on the 4th of July.

The new Methodist Episcopal church at Spruce creek, Kittery, is receiving the finishing touches, and it is expected the dedication will take place on or near the 20th inst. The church will seat about two hundred persons. The society is to receive the gift of a bell from one of the parishioners, a lady.

The Peppercll house at Kittery point has received many improvements since last season. The grounds have been newly laid out and a number of fine flower beds made, and a concrete walk has been constructed from the house to the public road. The stables of the hotel are to be under the charge of Mr. Sid. Butterfield.

Charles Hook, one of the two Hook boys who were sent to State prison from Dover a year or two ago for committing a series of burglaries in that city, was pardoned out recently on petition of numerous citizens of Dover, he being broken down from disease contracted in the prison. He was kindly cared for after his release, but died on Thursday of last week.

At about half-past eight o'clock, Saturday morning, fire was discovered in the house owned and occupied by Samuel Hiltz, near York harbor, by neighbors, who seeing smoke coming from the building entered it and extinguished the fire without its having done much damage. It is said that the building is heavily insured and mortgaged to one of the Portsmouth banks, the bank holding the insurance policy as collateral security.

In the appointment of committees of the House, two chairmanships are given to members from this city, viz.: On insane asylum, Dr. Curtis; on military accounts, Mr. Pendexter. The other representatives from this city are on committees as follows: Wendell, on revision of statutes; Hadley, on national affairs; Call, on banks; Coffin, on insurance; Mathes, on retrenchment and reform; Beacham, on State prison. Campbell of Newcastle is on roads, bridges and canals; Hatch of Greenland on judiciary; Jenness of Rye on agriculture; Marston of North Hampton on claims; Palmer of Hampton on mileage; Sanborn of Hampton Falls on incorporations.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, June 7; Batchelder, J.

Miles J. Blake, for assault on William Smith, was fined $3, costs $10.69. Paid.

Michael Gilligan, assault on William Smith, fine $3, costs $11.09. Paid.

Charles Bracy, drunk, $9.90. Paid.

ON PROBATION.

A council of ministers was called to meet at Kennebunk, Me., on the 2d inst., to install Rev. G. A. Lockwood as pastor of the Congregational society in that town; the council met pursuant to call, but did not install Mr. Lockwood, his idea of a hell not being entirely satisfactory. The council commended the earnestness of his Christian purpose, his "otherwise clear views of truth," and his devoted ministry for nine years past, yet because of Mr. Lockwood's suspense in the matter of eternal punishment between the theories of an eternity of conscious misery and that of the final extinction of the incorrigibly wicked, the council advised that the installation be deferred.

There was a large meeting of the church and parish in the vestry on the evening of the same day, and Mr. Lockwood was invited to remain with the church as its acting pastor, the meeting affirming "entire confidence in Mr. Lockwood as a sincere, devoted and earnest minister of the gospel," and promising him "cordial support in all his efforts for the building up of the kingdom of Christ."

On the 5th inst. Mr. Lockwood received an invitation from the Congregational church in Oxford to supply the pulpit in that place for a year.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00 and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergymen who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. eod&w7t9

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or sheltered, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

Water for Cows.

The cow is often compelled to drink water that would kill a human being in a month, if one was forced to drink it even in the small quantities required by the human system, and those remarks will be enough to show the necessity of pure water, if we would keep the cow in good health and have her produce good milk. Pure water is always accessible. It may cost some trouble and some time to provide it, for if it can be furnished in no other way the well must be resorted to, and there it can be obtained. It makes no difference, however, if it is a trouble; if we want good milk and good butter, we must do it. On farms supplied with windmills it is a matter of little consequence, but as every farm does not have a windmill the common and more tedious way of drawing must be resorted to. Good feed, kind care, and pure water must be regarded as the foundation of good milk.—Live Stock Journal.

The Cultivation of Roses.

"Roses are her cheeks,
And a rose her lips."

The best way for ladies to cultivate this rare species of roses is by studying and practicing the rules of hygiene, as taught in the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, only $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Grand Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If suffering from those painful weaknesses incident to the female organism, use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a never-failing remedy for these complaints.

—Swell society belles have exact portraits of their favorite dogs sketched and painted on their fans.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of the World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of emi-nence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMAN.—Especially ample facilities of a superior order for the cure of all functional diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, and have perfected without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical practice. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which it is recommended, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural cause, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Dependency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not call this medicine a "cure-all," but I admirably fulfills a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all cronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 300 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.00 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all smells are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. This way into the stomach and thence into the blood. This a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home; unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had three symptoms continued without relief they would have reduced me as easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking and gurgling sensations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of imitations in the form of Rubber, Lead, Leather and other Medicated Plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evinced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free to any one desiring them. Imitations have been made in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask is from every sufferer to give it a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although the cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the fact that the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any quantity of them can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for the sake of gain, and endeavor to substitute others, thinking thereby to palm off upon you a worthless article. Ask for yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BOSTON, June 4th.

"And the voice of the graduate is heard in the land," sings the "funny-man" of one of the numerous newspapers that pass in hasty review before my daily vision.

If I was familiar enough with the defunct languages, I would give you the above selection in Latin, for the sonorous syllables of that musical tongue are still echoing in my ears, which auricular organs were wide spread a couple of hours ago, to hear the few gracious farewell remarks which were delivered by President Warren to the graduates of the various schools and colleges of Boston University, whose commencement exercises took place this afternoon in Tremont Temple, "What a lot of pretty girls there are here," remarked an appreciative lady-friend in my ear as we passed out; "Harvard itself couldn't do better." No—nor Harvard couldn't do as well in one way; it couldn't show a single pretty girl-graduate among all its schools, whereas our more fortunate University numbered 47 ladies to 123 gentlemen to-day. And yet there were those who said, a dozen years ago, that if the doors of our colleges were open to women, they would not attend! Sounds very much like one of the more recent arguments against opening the polls to women, doesn't it? But don't be alarmed; I'm not going to preach suffrage to you; but I am going to do something very unusual with me, and give you a statistic or two, (that word bears singularization very well, doesn't it!)

The College of Liberal Arts was represented to-day by 10 ladies and 12 gentlemen; the School of Medicine by 10 ladies and 25 gentlemen; the School of Oratory by 26 ladies and six gentlemen; and the School of All Sciences by two ladies and six gentlemen, who being already A. B.'s, became A. M.'s. The Schools of Theology and Law, and the Colleges of Music and Agriculture have no lady-graduates this year. Two ladies have, in former years, however, graduated with full honors from the Theological School, both of whom are now successfully preaching. Rev. Anna Oliver, now of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the first lady in the country to graduate from a school of this kind, and her name has since become quite generally known. Rev. Anna Shaw has not as yet come so prominently before the public as has her predecessor. There are two ladies now pursuing the course at the school.

From the Law School no lady has ever yet graduated, although three have studied there at different times. One, several years ago, remained only a few months, I believe, and left to be married. The second, an Ohio lady, was at the school last year, but did not return. And this year a Boston lady has been seeking legal lore, and she intends, so she says, to finish the course if she lives long enough. This Law School, by the way, is rapidly gaining a most enviable distinction. I have heard a number of gentlemen, whose opinions are not to be slighted, pronounce it unquestionably the best school of the kind in the country. Certainly it turned out a noble set of young L. L. B.'s to-day—47 of them. The only other department of the University which approached it in point of numbers was the Medical School, which graduated 35. And those who know the Law School well say that its students will never be fewer while it is blessed with its present Faculty, and particularly while Judge Bennett of Taunton, the most popular Dean that a school ever had, is at the helm.

There were no ladies among the graduates of the College of Music this year, though there have been formerly. Miss Lillian B. Norton, the young American prima donna who has made such a notable success in opera in Italy this season, being one of the graduates, as well as of the New England Conservatory of Music, the Director of the latter institution, Dr. E. Tourjee, being also the Dean of the former.

I nearly forgot to tell you that out of the ten orators, three were ladies.

Among recent new departures whereby once close paths have been opened to women's feet, is the School of Carving in wood and stone, and of modelling, which was opened to lady-students during the past season at the Museum of Fine Arts. It has, I hear, been altogether successful. So has the School of Art Needlework, which was also opened at the Museum last October. In the seven months of its course (for the term closed a short time since) it had no less than 235 pupils, of whom 190 paid the regular tuition fees of $5.00 for six lessons, and 45 were free pupils, who are given 12 lessons and then are expected to work on orders an equal length of time. Twelve or fifteen of these latter became skilled workers and will doubtless make an easy, profitable and pleasant livelihood out of their charming occupation.

The designs used at the school are very carefully selected, none being accepted till they have been submitted to the committee of design, composed of noted artists and others. I understand that the work done here is mostly that known as the Kensington embroidery, which is wrought with high-colored English crewels, and silk and floss, upon satin, felt, broadcloth, linen, and many other materials, the effect being very realistic,—artistically realistic. The Kensington stitch is long and uneven, entirely different from the smooth, glistening, satin-y "laid" work, which is still, however, very much used, there being no substitute for it upon flannel, linen and cotton for undergarments, for infants' wardrobes, and for bed and table linen. To be in style, each napkin, table-cover and towel in the house should have a large, handsome initial embroidered on it with white linen or cotton. Another late fancy wherein this laid work is beautifully and effectively used, is the satin vest and cuffs, embroidered in bright flowers either in vines or tiny single blossoms, which is an important item in every lady's toilette this season.

But I don't know that these kinds of embroidery are taught at the Needlework school, for I unfortunately missed the opportunity to visit the school during the season, or even to see the final exhibit of the winter's work, which was given at the Art Museum a short time ago. All that I have really seen from which to judge of the kind of work done there is a great book of Kensington designs which Mr. J. C. States, the well-known dealer in embroidery materials, showed me the other day. He has made nearly all the designs which have been used at the school, and he is very proud of them, as well he may be, for upon one great cloth page after another are most graceful and artistic combinations of gorgeous tropical flowers and foliage; of dainty ferns and tiny blossoms; of floating butterflies and brilliant-plumaged birds; sprays, and vines, and massy bouquets; an almost endless, but always happy variety of designs, the fancy to conceive and the hand to execute which, seems never to fail this most successful artist. It was here, by the way, that I picked up the bits of information given above, with much more for which I wish I had space, for there is nothing dearer to the feminine heart than is beautiful needle-work. ROBIN.

Portsmouth Chronicle

TUESDAY, JUNE 10, 1879.

The Brewer's Convention.

The United States Brewers' Association held its annual meeting in St. Louis, Mo., last week, and re-elected its old officers. Congressman David Wilber, of New York, was denounced unsparingly for voting in favor of a committee to investigate the liquor traffic. Mr. Wilber is a hop-raiser, and hence the anger at his course. A committee was appointed to consider the establishment of a brewing academy in the United States. The president of the association was presented with a silver epergne costing $2,500; and resolutions were adopted declaring that malt liquors are conductive to temperance and that prohibition operates with a greater injustice against this class of manufacture from the fact that malt beverages are bulky and perishable while distilled liquors may evade law. The members were urged to spare no pains to "disabuse the public mind of the false impressions about beer given by temperance agitators." A committee was appointed to look after concerted action in patent litigation.

Bills of the bell-punch character were condemned as showing "a deplorable tendency on the part of legislators to intermeddle with the customs and the personal and social habits of citizens." It was agreed to support for State legislatures only such men as will discriminate between malt and distilled liquors in their legislation. A feature of the closing day was an address from Green B. Raum, commissioner of internal revenue, who said that the government derived over $10,000,000 a year from the tax on malt liquors. He congratulated the brewers on the rapid increase of their manufacture, and requested co-operation and suggestions on the subject of the use of stamps.

The report shew 557 members of the association and $27,000 in the treasury. The product of beer last year was 9,470,000 barrels, this being 300,000 barrels more than for any previous year.

News and Notes.

William Brown and Samuel Batson of Wilmington, Del., both colored boys under fourteen years of age, quarrelled over a game of ball, Saturday, when Brown hit Batson with a bat and killed him.

A bloody tragedy at Ottawa, Ill., resulted Saturday from a long standing feud between the White and Connor families of that city and vicinity. Lawrence White was shot dead by D. F. Connors, and Connors himself was immediately thereafter killed by a bullet from some unknown hand.

At Natick, Mass., Sunday evening, some children were playing with empty freight cars, when Frank Renouf, two years and a half old, was run over and his head and both arms cut off.

George Parry won a prize of $1000 in a Chicago pedestrian contest, but did not stop walking until he had footed it out of town with all the money, leaving nothing for his backer and trainer.

A jury at New Orleans, in the case of Mrs. Vredenburg vs. members of the Crescent City rifle club, gave a verdict of $15,000 for plaintiff, whose husband was killed by a pet bear kept on the club grounds.

James Burns murdered a man at Gainesville, Ga., two years ago, but was not suspected. He confessed the crime, but nobody believed him, and he had no means of proving his guilt. He told where the body was hidden, and it was found there; yet he was discharged from custody, the authorities believing that he was innocent of participation in the deed. Almost discouraged, he still set about collecting evidence against himself, and had so far succeeded that, when he lately reasserted his guilt on his death bed, he was believed.

Wednesday night of last week, at Las Vegas, Cal., an Italian, who last fall murdered a Frenchman and a Mexican women, and who was sentenced to be hanged, but was allowed a new trial, and a Mexican, who on Wednesday murdered a man, were taken from jail and hanged in the public square by citizens.

"Oh, you can't shoot," said a man tauntingly to a ten-year-old boy, who was playing with a gun in Charleston, S. C. The boy thereupon shot the man through the heart.

At Dorset, Vt., the other day, a four-year old boy and a three-year old girl eloped and had got a mile from home before they were captured by their parents.

Elijah Smith, aged twenty years, who says his home is in Millburn, N. J., was arrested at New Haven, Saturday, for attempting to poison Philo S. Crofut and family, in whose employ he was, by putting strychnine into their coffee. He confessed, giving as a reason for the deed his hatred for Crofut's son, who had reproved him for remaining out late at night.

The steamer C. H. Mather, Capt. Haverty, of the Pentucket Navigation Company, while attempting to pass the rapids between Haverhill and Lawrence, Mass., Saturday, having six coal barges in tow, struck on a rock, knocking a large hole in her bottom, causing her to sink in one hour from the time of striking.

The $10,000 suit against the Parsons paper company of Holyoke, Mass., by Dr. N. B. Chase, because of serious injuries received from a plank thrown out of a Holyoke house window last fall, by a careless employe, is settled by the company paying the plaintiff $7500, the costs and the latter's counsel, all of which will amount to about $8500. The doctor can hardly recover from his injuries.

Mrs. Honora Lacy was burned to death near Chester, Pa., Saturday evening, by the contents of the carriage in which she was driving being set on fire by a match.

A messenger of the Illinois Central railroad was robbed of $9000 in Chicago, Ill., by having red pepper thrown in his eyes, Saturday.

The Orangemen of Montreal have decided not to parade on the 12th of July.

Three young men, named Chas. Fifield, Wm. O. Pinkham and William Rowell, were drowned in Salem, Mass., harbor on Sunday, by the upsetting of a sail boat.

The third trial of John B. Calder, late cashier of the wrecked Grocers & Producers bank of Providence, R. I., ended in that city Saturday night, as the previous trials did, in a disagreement of the jury. The Providence Journal says: "It is understood that the jury, after being out eleven hours, stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal. The charge of Judge Stiness was remarkably full, clear and explicit, and left no doubtful point of law for the embarrassment of honest jurymen. Those who followed the testimony in the case and listened to the charge from the bench are perplexed as to the failure to find a verdict. If the weight of popular sympathy is to be greater than that of the law and the evidence, it scarcely seems worth while to waste the money of the State in trying to secure adequate punishment for one of the most flagrant crimes against property ever committed in our city."

The U. S. S. Vandalia arrived at Port Royal, S. C., on Friday, from Aspinwall and Key West.

The Sanitarian for June contains several seasonable articles, one of special interest being on the origin of the yellow fever epidemic in New Orleans in 1878. Published by A. N. Bell, No. 47 Lafayette place, New York city, at $3 per year; single number, thirty cents.

The third number of the United Service, the new quarterly review of military and naval affairs, keeps up in interest with the promise of the first two numbers. It is finely printed in large, easily-read type, and contains, besides editorial notes, thirteen articles of especial interest to military and naval men, and far from uninteresting to the non-professional reader, most of them written by officers of high reputation in the army or navy. Lewis R. Hamersly & Co., No. 1510 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, publishers; price, seventy-five cents per number; or $2.50 per year.

New Hampshire Items.

William Clare, a young lawyer of Liverpool, Eng., was drowned in the lake at Wolfeboro' on Sunday, by the capsizing of a boat. He was to have started for England on Monday.

Col. D. M. White, of the Second Regiment New Hampshire National Guard, met with a painful accident on Friday, losing all the fingers of one hand by a circular saw accident.

A heavy frost in the upper part of this State and Vermont, Saturday night, did much damage to crops.

In Alexandria, Saturday, Mrs Abijah Powers, aged eighty-two years, fell from the second to the first floor of her house, striking on her head, causing a fracture of the skull. Her recovery is impossible.

Dr. Henry Ingerham of Walpole has been bound over to the supreme court in $200 bonds for practising without a license.

The consolidated Pearl street and Olive street Congregational societies of Nashua will be called hereafter Pilgrim church, it being a lineal descendant of one of the seven Congregational churches organized by the pilgrim fathers. The society is to be known as the Second Orthodox Congregational society.

Congress.

The post-office appropriation bill, increased from $353,000 to $415,000 on the letter-carriers' account, passed the House on Saturday. The Senate was not in session.

Man as a Bonnet Buyer.

"New bonnet, new bonnet—$12 for a new bonnet!" exclaimed Mr. Slick the other evening, as his wife suggested a change from the winter styles.

"Yes, only $12," she humbly replied.

"Twelve dollars for a bonnet is a confounded outrage, and I know it!" he went on. "Why, I can buy two fine silk hats for that money, and have some strawberry change left! It's a dead swindle to ask $12 for a bonnet."

"Well, I can't do better, Mr. Slick. That's the price, and I must pay or go without."

"You don't know how to buy—that's what ails you!" he growled. "I'll bet money I can buy a $12 bonnet for $8. It's all in knowing how to handle the sale-men."

"I wish you'd try it!" she suggested.

"I will, by George! I will! I'll bring you up a new bonnet in the morning, and I'll get it $4 cheaper than you dare to!"

Mr. Slick was as good as his word. He went into a millinery store next forenoon with his eyes teeth all sharpened, and with the idea in his mind that every bonnet in the store was priced at exactly $12. He looked around a little, selected a bonnet that pleased him, and pointing his cane at it and calling up his deepest voice, he inquired:

"Are you asking $12 for that bonnet?"

The woman flushed, looked from the bonnet to the man, and was trying to reply, when he said:

"These are not the times for outrageous prices, and all buyers realize it. I'll give you $8 for that bonnet, and not a cent more."

"That—that bonnet"—

"Eight dollars, and no more!" he interrupted; and she put the article in a box and took his money.

"What'd I sell my wife, eh?" he whispered, as he went out. "I tell you it takes a man to buy goods, no matter whether it's fence posts or paper cambric!"

When he sat down at home and took the cover off the box and held up the bonnet, Mrs. Slick inquired:

"How much did she charge you?"

"Eight dollars, madam; while you would have paid $12!"

"Richard!" she said, as she tried to laugh all over at once. "I was with the lady next door when she ordered that bonnet for her cook, and the price was to be $4! You see, it—"

He held up his finger, counted three fives out of his wallet, and left them on a chair for her.—Detroit Free Press.

AROUND HOME.

The schooner A. T. Haynes arrived at Doane's wharf on Monday with 200 hogshead of salt.

The schooner Active was loading at Doane's wharf with 275 barrels of mackerel for Philadelphia, on Monday.

A referee term began at the court house in this city on Monday, Hon. Joseph F. Wiggin, referee. The hearings will be resumed on Thursday.

The hand-line fishermen out of this port report very poor luck lately. One experienced fisherman in three days last week made just sixty cents gross.

A little daughter of Mr. John Lyons had her leg broken by the fall of a pile of boards on which she was playing, at Fernald's lumber yard, Monday afternoon.

Hon. Frank Jones' garden attracts the attention of every one who drives or walks in the neighborhood of his residence. A piece of statuary was set up in his grounds last week.

The fishing schooner Anna M. Nash came in on Saturday with 130 barrels of mackerel. During the trip one of her seines was set around a school estimated to contain 500 barrels, but the fish bursted the net and all escaped.

Dover is beginning to show signs of recovering from the leg mania. A boys' foot race in Eagle hall, Friday night, was not a financial success for the managers. A "ladies' go-as-you-please match" of five hours' duration came off Saturday night in the same hall, prizes of $20, $15, $10 and $5 being offered.

On the occasion of the new schooner Charles H. Trickey going to sea last week, several of the solid men of Dover went down the river in her and returned in the tug, when a squall arose which gave them a fine opportunity to take a new experience in navigation. The C. H. Trickey is a fine vessel, and looks better than she will probably pay.

We are requested to correct a statement regarding the proposition to have one session in the schools, as reported in the proceedings of the late meeting of the board of instruction. The amendment proposed was to have one session in the master's division, as asked for by all the parents and guardians of all the children attending school in this grade but two, some two hundred and twenty-five or more.

There young fellows from Great Falls, driving a livery stable team from that town, ran the toll at Newcastle bridge, Sunday afternoon; but Major Urch headed them off on Sagamore road, showed his badge as special police officer, and they were mighty glad to settle the matter privately so as to keep their names out of the police court reports. They will probably try to show off their smartness at the expense of somebody less active and energetic than Major Urch, next time.

The little schooner Lone Star, sunk last week by striking a rock off Oyster island, was floated on Sunday morning and taken alongside of Tredick's wharf, at the head of the dock. A piece of her keel is knocked off and her garboards started, and she is probably badly strained all over, being an old vessel; it is doubtful if she is worth repairing, though she has been a good boat in her day, and able to hold her own at sailing or in a sea-way with many vessels of much larger size.

Right Rev. Bishop Healey of Portland, bishop of the Catholic church of the diocese, was at St. Mary's church in this city on Sunday, and administered the rite of confirmation to about one hundred persons, being assisted by Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan, the pastor of St. Mary's, and clergymen from Exeter, Dover, Great Falls and Salmon Falls. The church was crowded with an interested congregation. We are glad to learn that the bishop's health is much improved since his illness of the past month.

The Times says that as Mr. John Pickering of Greenland "Bay-side" was at work cultivating in his field, Saturday forenoon, the horse got his foot outside of the trace, and upon Mr. Pickering attempting to put it inside, the animal kicked him, striking him just above the knee, breaking and splitting the bone. Mr. Pickering was alone at the time, and his condition was not known to his family until he failed to answer the call for dinner, when search was made and he was found in the above condition. His hurt is a serious one.

Chase's woollen mills at York are running on full time.

The post office at Kennebunk landing was discontinued last week.

A barn owned by Patrick Hughes, situated on the river bank in Dover, near the mills, was burned Saturday afternoon, with a small house near by. The fire it is said was caused by a man smoking in the barn. Loss about $1000.

EASTERN RAILROAD IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

The annual report of the Eastern railroad in New Hampshire has been issued. The directors say:

The illness and death of the late treasurer, Mr. T. J. Lee, prevented the making of the customary report at the annual meeting May 6th. We have now the pleasure of presenting a statement of our financial condition on the 30th day of April. Since the last annual report, the directors have effected a compromise which has been duly accepted by the corporation, and leased to the Eastern railroad company your railroad for a term of sixty years and two months, from October 1st, 1878, at a rental equal to four and a half per cent per annum upon the capital stock, dating back from June 1st, 1877. All litigation has closed, and, so far as practicable, all bills for legal services have been paid. On the 6th day of January a cash dividend of three and a half per cent, and a return to contributors of the one per cent paid by them to carry on the suits, with interest, was paid. The funds on hand will pay all liabilities, and we expect hereafter to make semi-annual dividends of two and a quarter per cent. The leases and contracts are all properly recorded, and as the income is known and fixed, no future report seems needed. The annual meeting, as fixed by the by-laws, is the first Tuesday in May, and dividends will be paid on or before June 15th and December 15th of each year.

The financial statement appears as follows:

June 26, 1878.
By balance on hand		$5,383 84
Eastern railroad		22,000 00
Eastern railroad		11,250 00
Contributions from shareholders		9 00
Interest		60 00
		$37,178 74
April 30, 1879.
To dividends paid	$16,618 50
" " (Old)	40 00
Contributions returned	3,8 4 98
Legal expense	7,866 74
Sundry expenses	504 07	28,894 27
Balance on hand		$8,284 37

A dividend of two and one-quarter per cent will be payable at the treasurer's office on and after June 16th. The office of the treasurer, E. A. Abbot, is at No. 160 High street, Boston.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been left for record in the office of the register of deeds:

Joseph L. Elkins, of Newmarket, administrator of the estate of Charles F. Davis, late of Epping, to Sarah F. Wright, of Barnum's Island, N. Y., land, $1600.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, June 9th; Batchelder, J.

Frank Dougherty and Michael M. Riley, for concealing about them more intoxicants than they could convey from one place to another with steadiness, were each requested to contribute $9.90 to the municipal treasury, which they did.

Rachel Russell was complained of for rude, indecent and disorderly conduct, but no one appearing against her she was discharged.

THE CITY LAW-SUITS.

In the supreme court on Wednesday of last week Judge Stanley delivered the opinion of the court on Israel Marden vs. city of Portsmouth, that the hiring of Marden as city marshal was not a contract, but that the city could vary the terms of hiring at any time. Therefore the court allowed him the difference of salary between $700 and $800 per annum for five days—from Oct. 4th, 1874, when he took office and when the salary was $800, to Oct. 9th, 1874, when the ordinance was passed reducing it to $700 and taking away the witness fees which before the officers were entitled to—and two witness fees which were earned during the same five days. Thus Marden gets $2.86, instead of 227.48 and interest for five years which he claimed, or $154 which the referee allowed him. The other officers who sued got nothing, and will be liable for costs to the city, with the exception of Samuel Hurley, who will get seventy-seven cents, one witness fee.

In Charles H. Sides vs. city of Portsmouth, Judge Bingham gave an opinion sustaining the verdict of the jury for $449.16.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Mr. Henry Paul of Eliot had a fall of some nine feet at the navy yard on Monday afternoon, and was badly hurt.

It is reported that the Kearsarge will go to sea as soon as her steam-launch is ready, which is expected to be about the 18th inst.

MARRIED.

ROGERS—SPINNEY. In South Eliot, Me., June 8th, by Rev. E. H. Kimball, John E. Rogers and Emerretta A. Spinney, both of South Eliot.

DIED.

PETTIGREW. In this city, June 8th, Mary R. Pettigrew, widow of William Pettigrew, aged 79 years, 10 months and 12 days.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly commended for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. eod&w79

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

Political.

Mr. Chalmers, chairman of the House branch of the democratic caucus committee, has gone home to Mississippi, possibly to superintend in person the bombardment or capture of those steamers laden with negro refugees. Mr. Chalmers is a veteran bull-dozer, who owes his seat in Congress to a system of successful terrorism, and he very likely feels competent to head off the "exodus."

The committee on investigation appointed by the democrats of the Senate to collect evidence to justify their scheme to unseat Senator Kellogg of Louisiana and give his seat to Spofford, democrat, has had the usual varied luck of democratic investigating committees, in "catching Tarters." On Saturday a witness who had been summoned from New Orleans in Spofford's interest was examined, and swore that neither Kellogg or any one in his interest paid him money to vote; that on the contrary the democrats raised and used a fund of $45,000, obtained from the State lottery men, to endeavor to induce the Packard legislature to go over to that of Nicholls.

The Cultivation of Roses.

"Roses are her cheeks,
And a rose her lips."

The best way for ladies to cultivate this rare species of roses is by studying and practicing the rules of hygiene, as taught in the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, only $1.50. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Grand Invalid's Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. If suffering from those painful weaknesses incident to the female organism, use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a never-failing remedy for these complaints.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

"The Flurry in Stocks"

Always means an opportunity for some shrewd and lively operator to make a handsome profit. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have established the new combination system for operating in stocks, so that capital in any amount from $5 to $50,000 can be used profitably at any time that may suit the customer. By pooling the orders of thousands of patrons into one immense sum, and operating them as a mighty whole, under the most experienced skill, vast profits are made which could be gained in no other way. These are divided pro rata among shareholders—monthly. An investment of $10 returns $50, or 5 per cent on the stock. $100 pays $950, and so on, according to the market. A St. Louis patron made over $300 per cent on an investment in October by the combination method. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular (mailed free) has "two unerring rules for success," and full information so that any one can operate with profit. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.
TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION
BUFFALO AND LONDON.
INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary Consulting Department, of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers: Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres. JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents postpaid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. Send pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while vitiscating its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and do confidently assert that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under a POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness.
I do not call this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfills a singlness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

American and Foreign PATENTS.
[ESTABLISHED 1865.]
GILMORE & CO., successors to CHIPMAN, GILMORE & CO., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office. Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.
Old Bounty Land Warrants.
The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.
Arrears of Pay and Bounty.
Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.
Pensions.
All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address

OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined bodies.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT, by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all results are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all time tried, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of secretion, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen,—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at New York. The cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks, without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, not able to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have remained so, as easy victims. When in this distressed condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years. Respectfully yours,

GEO. W. ROLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

☞ Plasters have now been given the public for years, and have universally improved manhood. Medicines in the form of liniments, lotions, painting and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as no need by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best popular in the art of medicating. All we ask from every sufferer is to test a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although we do not believe the cost of any other plaster, let withstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the plaster in the world for the least money. Neither money can be bought, numbers of unsolicited testimonials will be found, ready to bear witness to the merits of the article, and endeavor to substitute others, or allow yourself to be imposed upon. A Lost Planet.

A sad event has occurred in the family of asteroids. Hilda is lost. One of the nearly 200 members of the planetary sisterhood revolving between Mars and Jupiter can no longer be found in her accustomed celestial haunts, though the sky be swept by the most far-seeing telescope. The family holds an insignificant position in the solar scheme. It is already very large and constantly increasing, while several of its members have been lost before, and no commotion was created by their disappearance. Why, then, should such a lamentation be made over the lost Hilda? Simply because she is the most important asteroid astronomers have ever picked up. Her orbit circles far outside of the others, and brings her the nearest of them all to the planet of Jupiter. She is a well-behaved planet on ordinary occasions, but when she comes closest to the giant of the system, she cuts up all manner of antics, in obedience to his resistless will. Curiously enough, these vagaries or perturbations are carefully measured by astronomers, and the tiny planet can thus give more information concerning the mass of Jupiter than any other member of the solar system. Therefore is Hilda's loss deeply to be regretted, and therefore will unceasing efforts be made to discover the whereabouts of the wanderer.—Providence Journal.

Easy Lessons in Etiquette.

We have been profoundly interested in a work that has just been sent us, the author whereof, Prof. B. F. Fanning, aims to give to the world easy lessons in etiquette for gentlemen. It is a useful work. Among other things, the Professor says a gentleman "never fails to lift his hat to a minister of the Gospel." Possibly, but the minister would a great deal rather see a gentleman lift his pew rent.

"No gentleman," says the Professor, "ever gave a military salute to a lady."

Well, hardly; we should say he wouldn't. The military salute varies from a simple, graceful wave of the hand to three ruffles of the drum's color, trumpets sounding the flourish, and arms presented, and so on up to the President, who is entitled to a salute of twenty-one guns, and "the highest honors—all standards and colors dropping, officers and troops saluting, drums beating, and trumpets sounding." Now, if the gentlemen of America got into the habit of raising such a racket as that every time they met a lady, it would be rather more startling than a chronic Fourth of July. Prof. Fanning is correct. This sort of thing wants to be discouraged.

"When calling on a new lady acquaintance, the hat should be taken to the parlor and held in the hand."

This is one of the best instructions in the book. When you don't know all about the lady and her family, young man, freeze to your hat all the time. We once knew a young lady who kept her father and four brothers in nice, new, stylish hats all the time, by simply instructing the servant to just skin the hat rack every time a young man with a giddy hat was fresh enough to leave his hat in the hall. We'll bet a dollar Prof. Fanning has been there himself. And then, besides, a "plug" hat is such a comfortable thing to hold in one's hand. When you can't think of anything to say, you can stroke the hat the wrong way, and then exert your energies during the rest of the visit to getting it smooth again. And then, if occasion demands, you can use it as a cuspadore.

"A gentleman," says the Professor, with becoming severity, "never dances with his overcoat on."

And we may add that he hardly ever dances with his overshoes on, and the instances in the best society in which a gentleman has danced through an entire set with his ulster drawn closely over his head, his trousers stuffed in the legs of his india-rubber hunting boots, and an umbrella held over his head, are rare indeed. Society cannot be too grateful to the Professor for mentioning this little matter of etiquette.

"A gentleman," continues the Professor, "always wears gloves."

This is solemn, sober, earnest, inspired truth. When you meet a—a—person anywhere, in the street, in the cellar, at the lunch-stand, in swimming, in bed, and you see he wears no gloves, shun that person, he is no gentleman. Prof. Fanning says so, and Prof. Fanning knows. Why, a real gentleman wears gloves when he washes his hands, and when he trims his nails.

"Always," insists the Professor, "offer your hand to a lady with the back of the hand down."

If you don't believe this, try offering the hand to a lady with the back of it up. The lady will immediately kick the stuffing out of you.

"Use your fingers," remarks the Professor, "with grace and delicacy."

Yes, try scratching your head with them, for practice. When you are able to do that gracefully and delicately, you can let your fingers go their own ways at their own sweet will. They will have attained the perfection of grace and delicacy.—Hawkeye.

Caught at Last.

The notorious depredator Kate-Arch, who has for so many years eluded the most accomplished and skillful detectives, has been caught at last in Buffalo, N. Y. For further particulars, ask your druggists for a bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, admitted to be the best remedy for catarrh yet compounded.

Portsmouth Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 11, 1879.

The Senatorial Campaign.

The caucus of the republican members of the legislature to select a candidate for United States senator comes off this week. It was claimed in Concord on Monday that Mr. Chandler had the control of the federal patronage of Portsmouth and Dover, and that his man was to be nominated on the first ballot. Mr. Chandler has put a great deal of work into this contest, and as a manager of lesser lights in the political world he is unsurpassed. The representatives more than ever before are unable to discover by what motive they are moved. In fact, the generalship of this campaign is a new system in political tactics, and the adroit manipulation by the unseen hand challenges admiration for the process, as an art, more than it evokes commendation as to the results. The mysterious manner of this campaign may well startle the gentleman whose turn comes next, and confirm the trite saying that "politics are mighty uncertain."

A First-Rate Notice.

If any man in the State should feel grateful to Gov. Head it is Ex-Gov. Weston. When Weston was governor he was managed by a clique of democratic politicians. He was the sort of man like Sir Joseph Porter, who "always voted at his party's call,

And never thought of thinking for himself at all."

He is President of the New Hampshire Fire Insurance Co.; indeed he takes to office naturally, and the neat thing is seen in Gov. Head (after the manner in which Weston and his Manchester clique treated Gen. Head when entitled to be senator,) rendering good for evil by coming out in his message and spreading an advertisement for Weston's insurance company which would at ordinary rates for reading notices cost the establishment at least five hundred dollars. We think the company should remunerate the newspapers of the State which have published this advertisement, and our share may be sent by money order at our risk.

News and Notes.

The steamer Hercules, belonging to the Philadelphia & Reading coal company, was libelled in Newburyport on Monday by order of the Rockport Granite company and Manufacturers' insurance company of Boston, for sinking the schooner Charles S. Walker on the 30th ult., whereby one life was lost, near Cape Ann. Bonds were given.

John King, a crippled newsboy of Cincinnati, whose life has been one succession of mishaps, and who still, in his middle life, lodges in one little back room, where he sleeps and cooks his own food, has just made the Cincinnati public library a gift of 2,500 volumes which during ten years he has picked up at cheap book stores. Though the books cost him not over $250 they are said to make a remarkable collection, much more valuable than most private libraries of a similar size.

In Buffalo, N. Y., on Monday, a gang of eight young desperadoes were arrested by the police. They confessed to over one hundred burglaries and larcenies in Buffalo and elsewhere. The police are on the track of the balance of the organization.

It is declared by an English resident of Zululand that Cetewayo is so far not at all damaged by the war, but has in fact gained enormously in arms and ammunition captured during the struggle. His chief wealth lies in his crops and his cattle—he has gathered the former and kept the latter. Some of his warriors have been killed, but as he loses more or less every year, either by murdering them himself or by their flight into Natal, he does not miss them.

A London journal congratulates the country that, for the first time in the history of the nation, a time of general business distress is not made worse by high-priced bread. It says: "The loaf which, thanks to American corn, the people can put on their tables to-day, is a bigger and a better loaf than they have ever been able to put on their tables under similar circumstances before."

An escaping convict at Lincoln, Nebraska, was shot dead, and a tramp at Beverly, N. J., was shot dead in a discussion with a constable, Sunday.

On the morning of March 25th, the safe of the Arlington mills, Lawrence, Mass., was found open and $4000 missing. On Monday last the detectives arrested Lewis H. Cass, machinist of the mill, and William Moreland, a finisher there. It is stated that the officers are in possession of facts connecting both with the robbery, and have recovered a portion of the stolen money.

Mrs. Smith and Covert Bennett were on Monday sentenced to be hanged on the 25th of July for the murder of Policeman Smith, the husband of the former, in New York. The murdered man was found dead in bed, his head having been split open with an axe.

A letter from Bangkok gives an interesting account of the reception of Gen. Grant by the king of Siam, who paid every cordial attention to the ex-president, ex-secretary Boric and others of the party. A grand palace was especially devoted to the Americans. Visits of ceremony were made and returned by the king and court, and banquets were given in their honor. The royal entertainment lasted seven days.

The wheel mill of the Warren powder works, at Rockland, Me., blew up at six o'clock Monday morning. One workman, John Young, was entering the door at the time, and was badly hurt by the explosion, but his injuries are not thought fatal. The other buildings were uninjured.

Mrs. Howard Paul, the English actress and singer, is dead.

Somebody stole $500 from Mrs. Lyman of Dalton, Mass. She suspected her youthful son, and whipped him until he declared that he was the thief; but investigation proved him innocent.

Squire Jones, a farmer residing in Carter county, Ky., having become infatuated with a courtesan, on Friday attempted to bring her into his house. His wife resented the insult, when Jones threatened her with a knife. She seized a small axe, and with the blunt portion knocked him down and endeavored to escape. He recovered quickly and rushed after her. She turned to protect herself and struck him over the head with the sharp edge, the weapon cleaving his skull, killing him instantly.

A terrible riot occurred Monday afternoon at McIntosh, Liberty county, Ga., a station on the Atlantic & Gulf railroad, between a party of negro excursionists from Bryan county and those belonging to the place. It began in a fight between two negroes, whereupon the captain of the negro militia company from Bryan county, a part of the excursionists, ordered his company to charge, which they did, bayoneting everybody within reach, the captain himself killing one man by running him through with his sword. There was intense excitement at this outrage. The Liberty county negroes rallied and drove the military company into the cars, and opened fire on them, killing four and wounding many more, only stopping shooting when the train got out of the way, which they tried to prevent by tearing up the track. All the parties engaged were negroes.

Captain Beyer has overtaken the band of renegade Indians from the San Carlos reservation, who have been marauding and murdering through Arizona of late, in the Mimbres mountains, and killed four, including Chief Terrifia, and wounded four others. The pursuit of the remainder will be continued. So far the savages have killed five men and stolen many horses and cattle.

Congress.

The legislative appropriation bill, modified in committee so as not to be unsatisfactory to the republicans was on Monday reported to the House by Mr. Atkins, chairman of the appropriations committee, with the information that it was the committee's unanimous report. The rules were suspended and the bill passed, the republicans going solidly for it; about twenty democrats, including Cox of New York, voted against it.

Later in the day Mr. Ryan, republican, of Kansas, having the floor, sent up the army bill exactly as the democrats reported it last week, and moved its passage under suspension of the rules; to prevent this motion prevailing, a democrat moved that the House adjourn, and the latter motion prevailed, two republicans voting for it and five democrats against it.

The judicial appropriations bill was so amended in committee, by the aid of two democratic votes, that it was confidently expected that the republicans of the House would agree to it and that the President would sign it. The democratic members of the committee yielded far more than the republicans had expected they would do. At the time of adjournment, Monday evening, it was thought that by Tuesday night the House would have passed a large part of the appropriations.

Political.

As the result of a long trial in the United States court, one leading democrat in Jennings county, Indiana, has been convicted of a violation of the election laws by importing illegal voters into that county last October. And still Senator McDonald says that he wants the methods of conducting elections in Indiana copied by other States.

A greenbacker who is addressing the masses in Iowa tells his audiences that communism in France means the same thing as socialism in Germany, and socialism in Germany the same thing as nihilism in Russia, and nihilism in Russia the same thing as greenbackism in the United States.

New Hampshire Items.

The State valuation is fixed by the State board of equalization as follows: Rockingham, $28,771,269; Strafford, $22,404,603; Belknap, $8,607,196; Carroll, $7,058,061; Merrimack, $31,738,642; Hillsboro, $51,535,017; Cheshire, $21,240,939; Sullivan, $10,407,670; Grafton, $18,667,670; Coos, $6,527,636; total $206,959,017. Apportionment of State tax is fixed on this basis. Number of ratable polls in the State found to be 86,704.

It has been decided that the First Regiment New Hampshire National Guard will go into camp for four days, commencing on the 10th of September, at Manchester, when the soldiers' monument will be dedicated.

Louisa G. Robinson, of Concord, aged thirty-two years, the wife of a laborer, committed suicide Monday by hanging. Melancholy was the cause.

Down With the Potato-Bug.

The Providence Journal has the following, which may be of decided interest to the farmers in this region, who do not lack for bugs on which to try the easily procured remedy mentioned. Whether it drives the bugs or not, it cannot do any possible injury:

Mr. Leach, of Warwick, reports having cleared his field of potato bugs, by the use of a mixture of whitewash and kerosene, in proportion of four quarts whitewash, and one gill kerosene, sprinkled occasionally on the vines.

A correspondent writing from Old Orchard beach to the Portland Advertiser gives the following account of how some of the people there have circumvented the bugs:

Brown, the shoe dealer, whose squashes were attacked last year, and who by a prompt application of kerosene oil killed every bug (also every squash,) has this year taken time by the fore-lock and killed all his squashes with lime. This is condemned by all on the camp-ground as taking a mean advantage of the bugs.

Campbell covers his garden with a shingle, but the bugs have attacked the shingle and eaten nearly through it; the result is a foregone conclusion; his garden will have to be taken into the house.

Rights in the Roads.

If a farm deed is bounded by, on, or upon a road, it usually extends to the middle of the roadway. The farmer owns the soil of half the road, and may use the grass, trees, stones, gravel, sand, or anything of value to him, either on the land or beneath the surface, subject only to the superior rights of the public to travel over the road, and that of the highway surveyor to use such materials for the repair of the road; and these materials he may cart away and use elsewhere on the road. No other man has a right to feed his cattle there, or cut the grass or trees, much less deposit his wood, old carts, wagons, or other things there. The owner of a drove of swine that stops to feed in front of your land, or a drove of pigs which root up the soil, is responsible to you at law, as much as if they did the same things inside the fence. Nobody's children has a right to pick up apples under your trees, although the same stand wholly outside your fence. No private person has a right to cut off or lop off the limbs of your trees in order to move his old barn or other buildings along the highway, and no traveler can hitch his horse to your trees on the sidewalk, without being liable, if he gnaws the bark or otherwise injuries them. If your well stands partly on your land and partly outside the fence, no neighbor can use it except by your permission. Nay, more, no man has a right to stand in front of your land and insult you with abusive language, without being liable to you for trespassing on your land. He has a right to pass and repass in a becoming and orderly manner—a right to use the road, but not to abuse it. But notwithstanding the farmer owns the soil of the road, even he cannot use it for any purpose which interferes with the use of it by the public for travel. He cannot put his pig pen, wagons, carts, wood, or other things there, if the highway surveyor orders them away as obstructing public travel. If he leaves such things outside his fence, and within the limits of the highway, as actually laid out, though some distance from the travelled path, and a traveller runs into them in the night and is injured, the owner is not only liable to him for private damages, but may also be indicted and fined for obstructing a public way. And if he has a fence or wall along the highway, he must place it all on his land, and not half on the road, as in case of division fences between neighbors. But he owns the soil, and if the road is discontinued, or located elsewhere, the land reverts to him, and he may enclose it to the centre and use it as a part of his farm.—Judge Bennett.

—There is a woman in Alabama whose position is to be pitied. She was, as a single woman, avoided by the whites on account, as they said, of her having colored blood in her veins. She then sought the society of negroes and married one. Now the whites are raising a disturbance, because they claim her to be white, and call her marriage "miscegenation."

—A short time ago a western marriage was performed by telegraph, the bride being in Wisconsin and the bridegroom in Minnesota. After a short honeymoon meddlesome lawyers have got hold of the case and gone to demonstrating that they are not legally married; that a clergyman's authority to marry extends only throughout the State, and that the actual presence of all the parties is essential. If a marriage contract made in this manner is illegal what shall be said of other bargains and compacts made by telegraph, such as happen every day.

—About the 10th of December last a young man, son of a professor in the gymnasium at Darmstadt, in Germany, walked with his betrothed, a young and pretty girl, to a pond some two miles off in the adjoining woods; there they tied themselves together and jumped in, intending to end their troubles in suicide; however, the icy cold water brought the gentleman to his senses, and he contrived to free himself and scramble out, leaving the poor girl, in spite of her cries to drown, which she did. He was recently tried, and sentenced to three years and nine months' imprisonment for the offence.

AROUND HOME.

Barnum's great show is coming, and will be here on Saturday, the 28th inst.

The schooner Wingaersheek, Capt. Donnell, has recently been repaired on the marine railway at Kittery.

Class day exercises at Miss Morgan's seminary take place this year on Thursday afternoon and evening, June 19th.

Evening nine o'clock trips over the river in the steamer James Sampson, and return at 9 3-4 o'clock, when the moon lights up the harbor, are frequently enjoyed by those who appreciate the situation.

The Pullman cars on the day trains between Portland and Boston are beginning to be well patronized. The conductors ought to know that the disused steps, which are lying about the station in this city, might be of service to old persons of either sex, in leaving and taking the cars.

The new station at North Berwick is now used jointly by the Eastern and Boston & Maine railroads, which seems quite like the lion and the lamb when we consider how much money was foolishly squandered by these corporations when the Boston & Maine began to build through North Berwick.

Messrs. Philbrick, of the Farragut and Atlantic houses at Rye beach, are having built in Concord a new "tally-ho coach," to be ready for use in time for the opening of the houses on the 15th inst. The body of the vehicle is painted bottle-green, and the wheels yellow. The coach will be drawn by four horses, driven by an experienced English coachman who has come across the Atlantic bearing high recommendations for skill and care.

The schooner Elizabeth M. Smith, of this port, Capt. Raymond, which left Boston on Saturday for the Isles of Shoals with an assorted cargo for Laighton Bros. & Co., encountered a severe gale just after leaving port, and carried away her foremast near the deck and her mainmast at the gaff. In this condition she drifted to Cape Cod where she managed to set her mainsail and two jibs, and arrived off the Shoals on Tuesday. As she hove in sight the Laightons went to her assistance and towed her in to the anchorage. No accident to the crew is reported.

Barnum's magnificent advertising car, of which we had a glance last summer, will arrive in this city from Lewiston, Me., on Saturday next, or sooner. It brings the corps of advertisers, bill posters, etc., who will while the car remains cover the walls and bill boards with giant pictorial posters announcing the coming of Barnum's "Greatest Show on Earth" on Saturday, June 28th. The car is in charge of Col. F. A. Keeler, the celebrated lion slayer and giraffe trapper, who will cordially welcome all visitors, and entertain them with an account of his exploits in southern Africa while hunting and purchasing animals for Barnum.

Speaking of the "ladies' grand pedestrian match" in Dover last week, the Democrat says: "The woman's walking match at Eagle hall, Saturday night, was pronounced by some a great success and by others extremely ridiculous. Speaking on merit alone we should say the ridiculous had the best of it. Five silly women and girls entered for the race, but it is reported that all but one were hired to go in for $5 to $10 apiece, and only one paid any entrance fee. These contestants ranged in age from sixteen to fifty years. We are disgusted with making a record of any such feminine nonsense. Women ought to be in better business than running races on sawdust."

A PROPOSED FINE BUILDING.

Mr. Alfred Stavers has had plans drawn for a new building to occupy the ground on which the Franklin block formerly stood. The proposed structure is to be of brick, three stories high, and with a frontage on Congress street of 132 feet, divided on the ground floor into six stores, each store to be sixty feet from front to rear, and nineteen feet wide in the clear, the main entrace to the second and third stories taking up ten feet of the building's frontage. On the Vaughan street front will be three stores, with a wide entrance-way to the upper stories; and on the Fleet street side four stores and another entrance to the upper stories, one of the stores to be fitted up as a first-class dining room.

The second story will have offices along the front, a corridor four feet wide extending from side to side of the building along their rear, making the finest suite of offices in the city. The rear of the second story will be taken up by two large halls, the principal one 75x54 feet, with a stage, 28x21 feet with dressing-rooms on either side, and a semi-circular gallery capable of seating 600 persons. The smaller hall, intended as a banquet hall, for dances, etc., is to be 51x43 feet. A corridor ten feet wide will run the whole length of the building between the halls and cloak and waiting rooms, etc., and there will be exits from the halls on three streets.

The upper story will be occupied by two halls, one 54x40 feet and the other 48x40, connected by a bridge over the main hallway, and fitted with ante-rooms, cloak and store rooms, and every other needed accommodation. The upper halls (which can be used as one hall if required) will furnish superior quarters for lodges or military organizations. There are three places of exit also from the upper story—one on each of the streets bounding the lot.

The block will be heated throughout by steam, and every modern improvement will be studied in the interior arrangements. It is to be of brick, with terra cotta trimmings, and if put up according to the plans will be as handsome a business block as there is in the State. There can be no doubt that the stores and offices would all let at a good rental, and at the present low prices of labor and material the erection of such a building should prove a successful venture.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The navy yard ferry steamer Emerald will shortly come off the ways, having been put in order for the summer season.

One of the steam launches, on her way to the Plymouth on Tuesday, became disabled in the Narrows, and was towed back to the yard by the launch now used for ferry purposes during the overhauling of the Emerald.

The dry dock is being caulked on the inside.

SAMUEL CLEAVES & SON.

—The man who was hit in the eye with a lump of anthracite explained to his friends that he had merely got coaled in it.

—Sarah Bernhardt, the artist and actress, is by no means stout; still this does seem to be a little exaggerated: "An empty carriage drove up to the door and Sarah Bernhardt dismounted from it."

—The following remarkable statement appears in the Cincinnati Commercial: "Our Washington correspondent is fearfully and wonderfully misinformed, but he writes well and makes error interesting."

—Scribner for May had pen and ink sketches of Wilhelmj and Remenyi. The picture of Wilhemji indicates that he was hit with the biggest piece of the boiler, and was standing nearest it when the explosion occurred, but there is no doubt in the world that Remenyi was blown a mile and a half the highest, and lit in an osage hedge when he came down.—Burlington Hawkeye.

—At Washington, N. C., the girls and boys seem to be paired off to a large extent, and the local paper says:—"Cupid has nearly exhausted his quiver, and as a sequence bleeding hearts are met at every turn; some are nursed with tender care, while others are left to pine and bleed alone and grow pallid with despair. Alackaday." Be still, sad heart.

—"Fatzinitza" is the latest Boston theatrical sensation. It succeeds "Pinafore" at the Boston, and the cast includes Miss Phillips, Miss Beebe, and Messrs. Tom Karl, Barnabee, and Fessenden. The music, by Suppe, the German composer, is light and merry, the plot comical and original, and there is a great chorus and literally an army of supernumeraries.

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.

JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Montana.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D., New York City. cod&w7t9

FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which ionstitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

Look out for the name and address J. I. FELLOWS', St. John, N. B., on the yellow wrapper in watermark, which is seen by holding the paper before the light.

Price, $1.50 per Bottle, six for $7.50

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

A Terrible Fate.

The correspondent of a Swiss paper tells of a terrible accident that occurred recently near the Russian town of Baku, on the Caspian sea. A man of the name of Rewaleff lived with his family in a small building which had been erected in the neighborhood of an exhausted naphtha spring, for the refining of naphtha. As is the custom in Russia, Rewaleff was in the habit before going to bed of closing all the doors and windows of his house, so as to exclude as much as possible the external air. At four o'clock in the morning, his wife having occasion for a light, Rewaleff rose and struck a match. The next moment the air was on fire. The gas from the old naphtha spring had risen through the interstices of the floor in the house, and finding no means of egress, had filled it with inflammable fumes. In a few seconds all the eight children of Rowaleff were either stifled or burned alive in their beds, and the wretched father and mother managed to crawl to the door, their skin hanging in shreds from their scorched bodies, only to die miserably a few hours later. The entire stock of naptha was of course destroyed and the building burned to the ground.

Flirting at West Point.

In the flirtations the cadets carry themselves with perfect grace, a large measure of assurance, modestly expressed, and an air of foreordained victory. For cool gallantry no one has yet eclipsed the cadet who last Wednesday evening promenaded down the long line of ladies and gentlemen gathered under the maples to witness the review, with the handsomest young lady at West Point, her white cloak flung jauntily over his shoulder and his left hand carrying the trail of her fleecy dress. Some of his comrades gazed enviously on this original warrior, and the unclassified public with admiration too great for expression.—Letter to Tribune.

Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
HON. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see our "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent postpaid for $1.00) or "Invalids' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Stricture, Hydrocele, Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Cataract (Scale on the Eye), Strabismus, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and efficient remedy for the class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it, for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before dreamed by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions arising from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a single end of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in The PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent post-paid, on receipt of $1.00. It treats fully of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

American and Foreign PATENTS.
[ESTABLISHED 1865.]
GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, HOSMER & CO., Solicitors. Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office. Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & Co. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.
Old County Land Warrants.
The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,207,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by return. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.
Arrears of Pay and Bounty.
Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay, and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.
Pensions.
All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & Co. before the Supreme Court of the United States, the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & Co. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH. RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streaks, and well-defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing, one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy, every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all snuffs are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all timulants, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by simple inhalation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing, and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. This a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one who has had aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,

GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

COLLINS' Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of imitations in the form of liniments, lotions, pain-drops, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evinced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in manufacture, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is the boon of a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although its cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, a similar remedy can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for selfish motives and endeavor to substitute others. Do not allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

Daily Chronicle.

Chronicle Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9th.

The political conundrum in Ohio, as a result of the various nominations, has set the presidential figurers at work on the possibilities, and I have picked up a few "straws" from their arithmetic. At a social dinner party the other day, composed of men of differing views politically, there was an interchange of opinions as to the personnel of the next national campaign, which were very interesting. I can no more than give an outline of the general drift. It was admitted by all that the nomination of Ewing in Ohio had changed the aspect of affairs essentially, seeming to divide the Ohio democracy between Thurman and Ewing, or in other words to indicate a desire for a more pronounced inflationist than Thurman without adopting the greenback programme entire. This was interpreted with reference to 1880 to be favorable to Mr. Tilden on his hard money platform, from the very fact that Mr. Ewing's extremes views will not be acceptable to the democratic party as a whole, and that with him or one like him the democratic party could not hope to carry any eastern or Pacific coast States, and only Ohio and Indiana (possibly) of the western States,—which would still leave them short of eight electoral votes of the forty-five necessary to be added to the solid southern strength to choose a President. As between the Ohio idea and the New York idea, therefore, there was a general agreement that New York was far ahead. Mr. Tilden represents the old fashioned democratic idea of the financial question, and that idea is the only one that can prevail in New York, New England, the middle States, or the trans-Mississippi States. And more than this, these conferees appeared to agree that Mr. Tilden is the only representative democrat of this school who has a great constituency at his back—who has, in fact, a possibility of the required forty-five electoral votes behind him, New York and New Jersey having more than enough. As the time approaches for the making up of the issues, therefore, it appears to them that the democratic party will necessarily turn to Mr. Tilden as their candidate for the office which they proclaim to been unfairly taken from him before. On the other side, the distinguished diners inclined to the belief that the race will be between Blaine and Sherman for the nomination. The result of the Ohio republican convention showed that Grant hadn't so strong a hold as anticipated, and there has developed a strong undercurrent of opposition to him in New England and the north-west, which would manifest itself openly if it proved that he was striving for the nomination. As it is well known that Grant will not allow the use of his name unless the demand for it is well nigh unanimous, these men judge that he is as good as out of the race now. They think that Sherman is accomplishing something for himself by work through the official machinery, but that his support, while strong, is secret and uncertain, while Blaine's is enthusiastic and open. There will be a sharp contest, with the chances in favor of Sherman's work through his men in the great custom houses and other offices at his command. At this point the conferees parted politically, the republicans of course claiming that they can carry the country with Sherman, while the democrats are confidently asserting that with Tilden against Sherman they can carry not only New York and New Jersey but Pennsylvania and Indiana. As an appendix to this democratic prognostication, it should be said that Speaker Randall is a warm Tilden man; that he will be, in a complimentary way, Pennsylvania's first choice for President, with the understanding that the second choice is Tilden with Randall for Vice President, and a strong bid for the twenty-nine electoral votes of the Keystone State.

Aside from the intial work of President making, very little appears to be doing in Washington now. Everything begins to turn thus early towards the campaign of 1880. The very legislation and speeches in Congress bear upon it, and as the campaigns of this year open up, this fact becomes more and more apparent. The State of Maine, as for example, will be the field of the hardest fought battle known for years. Tons of documents have already been forwarded to that State, and money and speakers will go forward to aid the partisans on either side. Washington appears to be the headquarters of all the State campaign committees.

Portsmouth Chronicle

THURSDAY, JUNE 12, 1879.

The Senatorial Campaign.

Political circles in Concord were greatly exercised on the evening of the 10th inst. by the distribution among the members of the legislature, and the politicians generally, of a thirty-two page pamphlet entitled "Reply of Mr. William E. Chandler to the slanders of the Honorable Bainbridge Wadleigh, lately United States Senator, together with a request for explanation of some acts of Mr. Wadleigh while Senator." The pamphlet charges that Mr. Wadleigh while in the Senate was the tool of a corrupt ring of the Washington lobby, and engineered through the Voelter-patent-extension bill for a consideration, carrying it by misrepresentation and other improper means. It also charges him with "dodging" whenever any important vote came up in the Senate, and advises him to give up politics and go back to the practise of law. Mr. Wadleigh's friends, after the distribution of the pamphlet, claimed that his prospects had been improved rather than injured by it.

Congress.

The Warner silver bill is apparently shelved for the present session, the Senate on the 10th inst. refusing to take up the Coke resolution for bringing the measure directly before that body. The legislative appropriation bill, as it passed the House on the 9th inst., was reported to the Senate and referred to the committee on appropriations. The House passed a joint resolution providing for the final adjournment of Congress on the 17th inst., and discussed at length the bill making appropriations for certain judicial expenses of the government, finally passing it by a vote of 102 yeas to 86 nays. A joint resolution was also passed appropriating $3000 for the erection of a monument to mark the birth-place of George Washington.

A Rhode Island Sensation.

Mr. Pearce, postmaster at Bristol, R. I., has "been in the papers" a number of times within a few months. On the 7th inst., as he was walking in the street, a young girl stepped up to him, placed a revolver close to his body and pulled the trigger, but did not kill him for the very good reason that the revolver did not go off, the chamber on which the hammer fell containing an empty cartridge. A press despatch from Newport, under date of June 10th, says: "Miss Kate Fitzgerald, scarcely out of her teens, is to be arraigned at Bristol for attempting to shoot Postmaster Pearce, Saturday night. She accuses him of having caused her ruin. It will be remembered that the postmaster's wife attempted to take his life [by shooting him in bed] while he was asleep a few weeks ago, and the whole affair was enveloped in mystery. A week later Mrs. Pearce attempted to kill herself, and now she lies in a critical condition. Pearce has been paying attention to Miss Fitzgerald, and it is alleged that their indiscreet intimacy has occasioned trouble, she being said to be a frequent visitor at his office. His questionable attentions to the destroyer of his domestic happiness have long been known to his unfortunate wife, and this attempt upon his life occasions a profound sensation, Pearce being a member of one of the aristocratic families of the State."

Political.

The San Francisco Chronicle has taken the trouble to hunt up the record of Mr. Dennis Kearney's life, and finds that as first mate of the clipper ship Shooting Star he was a brutal and cowardly officer; as a drayman he denounced the men who were anxious for an increase of wages; as an early reformer he spoke in favor of the Chinese, and was one of the most unrelenting opponents of the first anti-coolie club.

Thurman has a glorious future—behind him—St. Louis Post.

Naval Matters.

Commodore Foxhall A. Parker, commandant of the naval academy, died at Annapolis, Md., on the 10th inst.

By direction of Secretary Thompson, a board of officers will be detailed to inquire into the grounding of the frigate Constitution off the Isle of Wight some months ago, and her subsequent disablement during a gale at sea, necessitating her putting into Lisbon to undergo repairs. The object of the inquiry is to ascertain if the officers in charge were responsible for the mishaps.

News and Notes.

Singleton Van Buren, grandson of the late President Martin Van Buren, died at New York, June 9th, aged thirty-nine years.

Frank Walton, a Philadelphia lad, found his father in the yard of his residence in the grasp of a gigantic negro, who had him on the ground and was choking him nearly to death. The boy told the negro to stop or he would shoot him, and, after warningly counting "One, two, three," fired, inflicting a fatal wound.

Charles Pike and a dozen other men were prostrated by lightning while hoeing onions in a field at Southport, Conn., the other day, some of them remaining unconscious for several hours.

The Maine medical association met at Portland on the 10th inst., President M. C. Wedgewood of Lewiston presiding.

John F. Young, of Ossipee, who was injured by the powder mill explosion at Rockland, Me., on Monday, the 9th inst., died Tuesday morning.

Recently some New Milford, Conn., men saw a hawk attempting to fly, in the coils of a black snake, which had coiled itself around the neck and body of the hawk, binding the wings close and having his teeth fastened in one of the hawk's legs. The hawk had his talons fastened in the snake's body. The men killed the snake, which was five feet in length, and captured the hawk, which measured four feet from tip to tip of the wings.

A dyke on the river Po, in the province of Mantua, Italy, has given way, and the inhabitants of twelve communes are encamped on the dykes, and entirely destitute.

Hon. David A. Wells was married in New York on the 10th inst. to Miss Helen A. Dwight, a sister of Mr. Wells' former wife.

It is officially announced that the tests of Dr. W. B. Hills of Boston on the stomachs of the father and mother of Francis E. Hayden of Fitchburg, Mass., have not yet revealed poison. The analysis is not yet completed. The inquest on the body of the sister of Hayden will probably be held next week. Arsenic was found in her stomach.

The destruction of wild beasts and snakes is one of the duties undertaken by the authorities of the East Indies; but, though the struggle has been carried on for centuries, man has not yet triumphed in it. Last year no less than 22,851 wild beasts and 127,295 snakes were destroyed, at an expense of 103,000 rupees, or $51,400. Nearly 17,000 persons were attacked by snakes during the year, and 3000 persons were victims of tigers, leopards, wolves and other ferocious quadrupeds.

Anderson Haskell, a wealthy farmer of Richmond, Mass., on the 10th inst. made an assault with a club on H. B. Wadham, a neighbor and an aged man, inflicting injuries from which it is feared that the assaulted man will die. The occasion of the assault was a dispute about the trespassing of Wadham's cattle.

The wife of Dr. Alonzo F. Hull, of New York city, was found dead in her bed on the morning of the 11th inst., blindfolded, gagged and bound hand and foot. A trunk at the bed side was rifled, and a diamond ring and and emeral one stolen from her finger.

New Hampshire Items.

While riding on the highway past the house of Thomas Potter in Gilford village, on the 10th inst., Mr. George Crosby of Gilford was met and attacked by Thos. Potter and Arthur, his son, who attempted to seize Crosby's horse on pretence of ownership. In the melee Crosby received a severe cut in the hand from an axe in the hands of Arthur Potter, who had taken the axe from the wagon. The Potters are under arrest for an assault with intent to kill.

A young man named Elliott, agent for the Singer sewing machine company, mysteriously disappeared from Bartlett about two weeks ago. He left his team at the boarding-house where he had been stopping for several days. It is rumored that circumstances indicate foul play. The authorities are investigating the matter.

Dr. Thomas Benson Dearborn of Milford died June 10th of consumption, after an illness of which has kept him from practice for the past nine months.

A barn belonging to David Tenney of Groton was burned on the night of the 9th inst., together with fifteen tons of hay, a pair of oxen, three horses and four cows; loss about $1500; insured $1000. The cause is unknown, but is supposed to have been incendiary.

Rev. L. L. Tilden and wife of Nashua celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Monday.

Mrs. Sylvester Jones of Canaan died while sitting in a chair at Enfield on the 10th inst., from fright occasioned by the actions of a horse she had been driving.

—Francis Newman, brother of Cardinal Newman, is a professed deist, seriously believes in a creed he has constructed for himself, reads the Bible he has composed himself, and holds it sinful to eat solid food, except fish, because fish has no affection.

—A lighthouse keeper near the mouth of the Potomac has devised an ingenious plan for the slaughter of the ducks and geese which light on a sand bar near his station. He has a battery of twelve muskets firmly fastened to two heavy timbers, these are then very heavily loaded and connected with the lighthouse by a long wire cable. As soon as he sees geese near enough he pulls his cable and explodes all the guns at once, and then takes his skiff and picks up the game. One shot this season gave him thirty-three geese.

—A man who professes to have a "decorative soul mourns over the death of croquet because it simulated the picturesque in stockings and brought about the Renaissance in slippers.

—Last June a valedictorian got through his oration without making any quotation from Longfellow's "Psalm of Life." What was the consequence? In less than two months he was engaged as editor of a newspaper at a salary of $10,000 a year, and in less than five months was engaged to a beautiful girl, the only child of a widow lady in the last stages of consumption and worth $900,000 in United States bonds. A word to the boys is sufficient. —Chicago Tribune.

An Income Without Care.

By the combination method of operating in stocks a handsome income can be secured without care. Capital in any amount, from $10 to $50,000, may be used with equal proportionate success. By this system Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., pool the orders of thousands of customers, of various sums, into one vast amount, and co-operate them under the most skillful management, dividing profits monthly. Each share-holder thus obtains all the advantages of the largest capital and experienced skill, and the percentage of profits is very great; $20 will pay $100 in 30 days; $200 will return $1,825, or 7 1-2 per cent. on the stock, and so on, as the market varies. A prominent publisher of the Rock Island (Ill.) daily Argus, made $104.15 on an invest of $20.00, in October. Hundreds of others are doing even better. Messrs. Lawrence & Co.'s new circular has "two unerring rules for success in stock operations" and full information, so that any one can deal in stocks. All kinds of bonds and stocks wanted. New Government bonds supplied. Deposits received. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

Caught at Last.

The notorious depredator Kate-Arrh, who has for so many years eluded the most accomplished ank skillful detectives, has been caught at last in Buffalo, N. Y. For further particulars, ask your druggists for a bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, admitted to be the best remedy for catarrh yet compounded.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1878, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

There seems to be no country under the sun where Dyspepsia is so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and is to be found in almost every household; and consequently such a household remedy as the Bitters is of inestimable value to the American people. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. For sale by all druggists and respectable Dealers generally.

AROUND HOME.

Mr. Waite will address the Woman's Temperance League at the mission hall this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

On Wednesday of this week a flag staff one hundred feet high was put up in front of the Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle.

The rate of taxation in Portsmouth this year is $2.09 per hundred dollars, being an increase of nine cents over the rate of 1878.

The encampments of this city will meet for drill in Odd Fellows' hall this evening, when tickets for the trip to Charlestown will be ready for issue.

The New York papers chronicle the arrival at the Windsor hotel in that city of Hon. Frank Jones of this city, ex-member of Congress from the first district of New Hamshire.

Dennis Murphy, a lad ten years old, while in the act of throwing stones from the South mill-bridge on the 11th inst., fell into the water, but was speedily rescued by some of his young companions.

A little child of Mr. Benj. F. Parker was badly shaken up on the 11th inst., by a fall from the stairs in the Cabot street school-house, striking head foremost, fortunately on a thick mat, or the result might have been even more serious.

Rev. James DeNormandie's sermon on "The Unpardonable Sin" has been printed in a sixteen-page pamphlet, with large, clean type, and can be procured gratis by calling at the bookstore of Mercer Goodrich, under the city rooms.

A number of new row and sail boats have been put on the river this spring. Mr. Lewis Holmes has added to his fleet of letting-boats a handy little sail boat built by himself during the winter, and which looks as if she might sail well, and be both comfortable and safe.

The spring meeting at Granite State park, Dover, opened on the 10th inst. with a race for three-minute horses, which was won by Stella Blake, of Wolfeboro', in 2:40, 2:40 1-2, 2:41, with Sweet Milk second and Honest Allen third. A free-for-all race was won by Careless Boy, beating Joe Ripley, Unknown and Thomas L. Young, in 2:28, 2:29 and 2:32.

The Boston Globe of the 11th inst. says: "A band of temperance workers from Dover, N. H., under the lead of William Hurd, a reformed man, have opened a camp-meeting on Market street in Amesbury, Mass., to last a week. A tent capable of holding 1000 people was erected, and the first meeting held Tuesday afternoon. The meetings will be addressed by people from the vicinity."

The schooner Elizabeth M. Smith, before reported arrived at the Isles of Shoals in distress, dismasted, had on board when she left Boston about $6000 worth of stores for Laighton Bros. & Co., damage to which by wetting and washing overboard was done to the amount of $2000 or $3000, during the gale which carried away the schooner's spars and drove her thirty miles out of her course.

Mr. Editor: I want to advertise Pickering Hall; can't you get some of your correspondents to make up some poetry, putting in something about the "bosom of old Neptune," it being at the anchorage of our fine whaleboat fleet, the circuit of which is thirty miles on the ocean, where is also opportunity for cove and river boating; then also, for such as would like a walk or ride, this is the central point of divergence to all our avenues—in fact it is the very key of our city attractions. A. J. PENHALLOW.

The Virginian, of Norfolk, Va., in mentioning the transfer of Capt. Henry J. Bishop, U. S. M. C., from the position of fleet marine officer of the North Atlantic squadron to shore duty, pays him the following compliment which his acquaintances in this vicinity will not doubt is well merited: "Captain Bishop has been attached to the North Atlantic station for the last three years, having served on the staffs of Admirals Le Roy, Trenchard, Howell and Wyman, in the flagships Hartford and Powhatan. He will be ordered to duty at the New York navy yard, after an extended leave of absence among the White Mountains with his family. Our community regrets his departure. A genial, whole-souled gentleman, he has won the regards of all whose fortune it was to meet him, and whose wishes are that he may again be stationed in our midst. He carries with him to his new post the best regards of our people."

On Wednesday evening of this week about sixty Good Templars of this city went to Dover in excursion teams, to make a fraternal visit to the lodge of the order in the latter city.

A young son of Police Officer Nowell went to sleep on one of the benches in Elder Waite's tent, on the afternoon of the 11th inst., and fell through between the benches to the ground, receiving several bruises.

Dr. Jeremiah F. Hall of this city attended the meeting of the Maine medical association at Portland on Tuesday of this week. Dr. Hall was delegate to the meeting from the New Hampshire medical association.

It is proposed to have on the Piscataqua at an early date a regatta, which will include all boats belonging to Portsmouth and Kittery, when the question as to the relative merits and speed of our pleasure yachts will be decided.

The steamer Appledore makes her first regular trip to the Shoals on Friday, the 13th inst. The Appledore island landing-stage was towed out by the Clara Bateman about ten days ago, after a thorough overhauling and caulking at the Kittery marine railway; it was towed out by the newspapers a couple of weeks earlier.

The steam fire engine Sagamore, stationed at the south mill bridge on Wednesday, the 11th inst., to pump water from the pond at low tide so that the workmen could cement the foundation for the new bridge, proved a source of amusement to the boys but an annoyance to persons passing in teams. There were several narrow escapes from accident during the day, owing to horses becoming frightened and almost unmanageable.

On Wednesday, the 11th inst., Mrs. J. M. Knapp and another lady were thrown out of a carriage at the corner of High and Ladd streets, through the horse becoming frightened at a pile of dirt in the street, Mrs. Knapp being somewhat injured, the other lady escaping unharmed. The carriage was considerably broken by collision with an iron post on the corner of Commercial alley and Market street, where the horse fell and was secured.

On Tuesday, the 10th inst., the election committee of the State legislature heard the first case, that of Wiggin of Stratham, republican, and voted unanimously to recommend that he be admitted to the seat which he claims. The facts in the case are these: At the fall election there were three candidates in the field, and Mr. Wiggin, the republican nominee, lacked on the second ballot three votes of an election. It has been shown that one man who had no right to vote, voted for his opponent, and that the votes of two men who offered to vote for him before the result was declared were refused. His counsel, Messrs. Herbert F. Norris and C. P. Sanborn, had the case all ready and the committee made short work of it.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

On Wednesday afternoon, the 11th inst., about half-past one o'clock, as the workmen belonging to the department of steam engineering at the navy yard were hoisting the engine on board the steam launch of the Kearsarge, which was blocked up in the boat shop, the engine struck the side of the launch, knocking the shores from under her and causing her to fall over on her side. In her fall Mr. Elbridge Prior of this city, who was engaged in working on the launch, was caught beneath her and instantly killed, his head being crushed between the composition casting at her stern and the floor. Mr. Prior was a superior ship-carpenter and a quiet and unpretending citizen, and highly respected by all who knew him. He was an esteemed member of Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows, and of the Light Artillery. He leaves a wife, but no children.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHT.

There was an exhibition of the Brush electric light on board the steamer Harrisburg, Capt. Worth, at Concord railroad wharf on Tuesday evening of this week; it is years since so many of our best citizens, including not a few ladies, have gathered of an evening in that vicinity, and the number of spectators would have been much larger had public notice been given through the press that the display was intended. Two lights were employed, the effect being brilliant beyond anything ever before seen in this city; the steamer's deck and the neighboring wharf were illuminated so that fine print could be easily read, and the gas-lights near were quite eclipsed. The courteous officials of the steamer were ready to answer all enquiries regarding the light, and a good many of them were made. The electric light is at present used on the steamer only for the purpose of facilitating the discharge of coal at night, and cannot be utilized for masthead and side-lights for vessels at sea until it is further improved, so that less of it can be shown and the rays directed just where they are needed. In case of sighting another vessel close aboard at night it would be of great value as it is, for the other vessel's attention would be instantly attracted, and her crew could see instantly how the vessel showing the big light was heading; but were it to be exhibited all the time the crew of the vessel carrying it would be unable to see the ordinary ship's lights, or even high land, until within dangerous proximity. Skillful electricians and mechanicians are now at work on the light, and confidently expect to so improve, simplify and cheapen it that it will come into general use on all steam vessels at least. Should the Harrisburg make another trip to this port this season the light will be again shown, due notice of which will be given.

YORK LETTER.

YORK, June 9th.

A man calling himself Prudy has recently been canvassing this town for subscribers for a coming historical work on York county. He has, it seems, gotten himself into trouble by using names of prominent citizens without their consent, which in the eye of the majesty of the law is said to be forgery. A warrant for his arrest was placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Joseph Lancton of Kittery, who arrested Prudy on Friday and took him before Justice Dennett of Kittery, when the case was settled by Prudy paying the expenses up to that hour. The complaint was made by Mr. Willard A. Grant, one of the overseers of the poor, whose name Prudy had used as a power to secure the names of others. There are several bona-fide subscribers who claim they have a good clue upon Prudy, under Sec. 1 of Chap 126 of the Revised Statutes (Page 857), and some threats have been uttered that he may be prosecuted under that section.

Among the names he has used without the owners' consent, are Wilson M. Walker, postmaster, J. D. Bragdon, selectman, John A. Swett, Wm. H. Swett and Willard A. Grant. The work for which Mr. Prudy is soliciting subscribers is doubtless a meritorous one, but his method of securing names is far from it. Some people who would doubtless have signed for the work will not do so now, as the matter has become public talk, and his course highly censured. P.

—The most fashionable tidies of home manufacture are ornamented according to individual caprice by ladies, who being adepts in drawing are wont to amuse themselves by sketching in indelible ink on gray linen. The effects produced are often very striking, and the work is certainly quite inexpensive.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.
JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Montana.

"Truth lies in a nut-shell," and "brevity is the soul of wit." To be brief, when the shell is broken, the truth will be discovered, that the Grand Central Hotel, on Broadway, New York, now kept on both plans, the American $2.50 or $3.00, and the European $1.00, and upwards, per day, gives more satisfaction for the same money, than any other first-class house in Gotham. An elegant Restaurant, at moderate prices, is conducted by the Grand Central.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.
I think it the best medicine I ever used.
W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

A Noble Missionary Work.

A few young girls belonging to a west side church have set about a noble missionary work to increase the attendance on their beloved pastor's ministrations. They go out just before the evening services hour and lure young men to follow them, pilot their victims in by a harmless looking side door, and give them in custody of two venerable deacons as sinners desirous of turning from the error of their ways, and before those young men have recovered from their shock of surprise and disappointment they find themselves stowed away in front seats between trustworthy members, and being prayed and preached at by the officiating clergyman in a manner which for directness discounts that of Nathan.—Chicago Tribune.

—The watchword—tick.

—A French porter cut the forefinger of his left hand with a knife with which he had been cleaning out his pipe. Poisoning by nicotine was the result, and he lost his arm.

—Pat was a greenhorn, and worked for an Essex county farmer, and being set to fill up a cart, was told not to load on the tail first or it would tip up. Pat did just what he was forbid, and up went the cart. His employer came back in a rage and asked him what he meant. Pat was dumbfounded. He went around to the front of the cart, laid hold of the tongue, and at last gasped out: "And shure, sir, is this not the tail?"

—A woman in Los Angeles, Cal., became possessed of the notion that her little girl might, by slow starvation, be brought to such a physical condition that she would be translated to the spirit world without dying. With that end in view she fed the child on fruit only, steadily diminishing the quantity, until the victim was horribly emaciated. Neighbors then interfered, much to the displeasure of the mother, who declared that the little one had reached a point where visions of spirit life betokened the nearness of the expected change.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it it the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878 — WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION — BUFFALO AND LONDON — CAPITAL STOCK $1,000,000
(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Rob't V. Pierce, Pres. F. D. Pierce, V. Pres.
Jno. E. Pierce, Sec. Lester B. Smith, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Each department of our facilities is of a superior order for the cure of all those critical diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, St. Vitus, Convulsions (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Calculi (Stone in the Bladder), Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 4 BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated more thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE. (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensation, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exhaust the medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50, or treats infinitely on those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

THE
Alpine Silver Mining Co.,
OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company now proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all roots are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin healthy and assimilates the nutritive properties found on its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. Thus it permanently removes all conditions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling through Upper Canada, I was induced by Mr. Foster, a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, C. W. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head ached, ears ached, who was stone deaf, and almost distracted on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much comfort one dollar's worth of application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years. Respectfully yours

GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

☞ Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, not withstanding the immense number of worthless imitations, of high sounding titles, boxes, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evidenced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cures have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is to hold to a single trial. The price is 25 cents, although the cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any other remedy can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for sinister motives and endeavor to substitute others. Do not allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for Wine in Washington.

How different was the scene at the White House, Tuesday night, to the debauch enacted at the palatial home of the Mexican minister, Monday evening! The behavior of the Senor's guests on that occasion was enough to make us blush, not alone for our countrymen, but for our countrywomen. Women calling themselves ladies joined with the men in making this ball a scene of debauch seldom equalled even in Washington—noted for intemperance.

Men were carrying away bottles of champagne in their coat pockets. Ladies (?) tore the gold and silver skewers from the cold meats, and stuck them in their hair. One man was seen with a bottle of champagne between his heels, a glass in one hand and another bottle of champagne in the other. As fast as a dish was used it was tossed under the table, till the floor was strewn with broken glass and china. The next morning a wagon-load full of the costly broken stuff was carried away from the door.

And this is the National Capital, and these same ladies and gentlemen (?) consider themselves the creme de la creme of Washington society. We read of the black death which in 1348 swept over Europe, killing as many as 15,000 in one day; but far worse than the black death or Asiatic plague is the liquor curse which holds our land in bondage, killing 60,000 a year, and indirectly causing the death of 60,000 more.—Washington Correspondent.

An Amended Proposition.

It occurred in Bodie, that city of whiskey, wealth and wickedness. A case was on trial in the justice's court, and during a recess one of the interested parties approached a juror and said:

"Say, boss, if that ar suit goes agin me I'm nigh on $2000 loser in minin' property. Now, I'll give you an even $500 to hang that jury."

The incorruptible scion of American liberty reflected a moment and replied:

"It'd be a cussed onsartin job for one man to take a rope an' strangle that hull gang, an' I'm afraid afore I got through I mout dance a jig under it myself; but if it's all the same to you, pard, I mout wade in thar with a six-shooter an' wipe out the crowd. Then'd be more to my hand than hangin', and the job could be done quicker. If that's satisfactory, produce the coin an' I'll git to work."—Eureka (Nev.) Sentinel.

Preventing Seasickness.

Of the many annoyances to which the traveling public is subject at this particular season, seasickness is, perhaps, the most distressing. A perfect cure for this malady would rob ocean travel of half its terrors. No drug, however, has been discovered which acts as a specific. The cause of the seasickness is largely, if not wholly, due to the involuntary and unexpected motions to which the passenger is subjected on board ship. These cause undue pressure upon the stomach and liver, and derange the action of those organs. To prevent this, attention has recently been called to an old plan, which is said to be very successful. It consists in regulating the act of breathing according to the pitching or rolling of the vessel, drawing in the breath as she rises, and breathing out as she falls into the trough of waves. After a little experience the practice, it is said, becomes involuntary.

Dead Men's Estates.

Few things are more exaggerated than the amount of property men own. If they can justly lay claim to $100,000 of representative value, they are usually set down at $500,000 at least, and often at $1,000,000. When they die, their estates are reported more nearly aright; but even then the over-estimate continues. The late Caleb Cushing is a good illustration of this. When his decease was announced, he was asserted to have left something like $1,000,000, which his friends knew to be greatly enlarged, although they believed him to have been in very comfortable circumstances. He had never got any money to speak of until he made Washington his home and entered upon practice there. Some years before his death, he received several very large fees, and it was common to say, "Cushing is growing rich in his old age." It is now discovered that he has left very little, if anything, available—not enough, even, to pay debts due some of his businessmen. Cushing was not a good manager, nor was he, in any sense, practical. He had lived to be well-nigh eighty; he had been some thirty years a widower; never had children nor any one dependent on him. He had, to the last, extraordinary health. He had filled important and remunerative positions; he had enjoyed a large practice, which should have been very lucrative, and had always lived most simply and economically. Nevertheless he died poor, as so many men of intellect and culture have done. He had a most remarkable talent for mental acquisition—he had one of the best-stored minds of his time—but scarcely any faculty for money-getting. The head that gains scholarship and the hand that gains dollars are very seldom united.

Caught at Last.

The notorious depredator Kate-Arch, who has for so many years eluded the most accomplished ank skillful detectives, has been caught at last in Buffalo, N. Y. For further particulars, ask your druggists for a bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, admitted to be the best remedy for catarrh yet compounded.

—Is it not about time to reproduce that side-splitting and centennial joke on Amos Keeter, of New Jersey?

FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1879.

The Senatorial Contest.

Senator Wadleigh's reply to the attack of Mr. William E. Chandler was issued and distributed about Concord on Thursday. It is a seven-page pamphlet, and addressed to members of the legislature. In beginning, Mr. Wadleigh gives his story of "Patent bill 300," and after alluding to the legislation for reform demanded by the honest patentees of the country, says that some of the most eminent patent lawyers, acting in behalf of patent associations and patentees, prepared a bill which was considered by the Senate committee for weeks, and finally unanimously reported. It passed the Senate without division or a dissenting vote, and would have passed the House but for the lateness of the session; he claims that the bill was a good one, and would have benefitted honest patentees and the public if passed. Mr. Wadleigh answers the charges about "dodging" votes on important questions before the Senate, and charges Mr. Chandler with accumulating a large fortune by corrupt means.

The republican legislative caucus for the nomination of a candidate for United States senator met in Phenix hall, Concord, at eight o'clock Thursday evening. At midnight we received the result of the 7th ballot, as follows:

Stevens	79
Blair	76
Moore	21
Marston	4
Cragin	4
Bell	1
Patterson	1

At a quarter past twelve the 8th ballot was reported:

Stevens	91
Blair	91
Scattering	4

On the last ballot, the result of which reached here at one o'clock, Hon. Henry W. Blair was nominated.

Murder in Maine.

Sam Haines, a notorious thief, under arrest in Rockland, Me., for numerous recent store robberies in that city, made a murderous assault upon his keeper, John Robbins, at the lock-up between eleven and twelve o'clock on the night of the 11th inst., and escaped. Robbins had been very careless with the prisoner, allowing him in the outer room of the police station with him and to have access to various loose articles that he might use in an attempt for freedom. At the time mentioned Haines suddenly sprang upon Robbins, who was probably dozing, and struck him a terrible blow with an iron stove shaker, crushing in his skull and knocking him to the floor, and made his escape. An alarm was given by a prisoner in the cell below, and when the police arrived Robbins was found weltering in his blood. The wound was dressed by physicians and he was taken home. Recovery is considered impossible. Men at once started to scour the country in that vicinity in search for Haines, who is a most desperate fellow.

Naval Affairs.

The Saratoga arrived at Madeira on the 22d of May, from Fayal.

The despatch boat Tallapoosa, Lieut. McRitchie, arrived at New York on the 10th inst., from Hampton roads with torpedo boat Alarm in tow.

Rear Admiral T. H. Patterson, commanding the Asiatic station, reports from Yokohama to the navy department, under date of May 14th, the following movements of the vessels under his command: The Monongahela, his flagship, was absent from Yokohama from April 13th to the 27th in search of the Pacific mail steamer Alaska, which was overdue; she experienced a strong gale while out and sustained some damage to rigging and boats. The Ranger returned to Amoy, April 24th, from Formosa, to which point she was sent to make inquiries regarding the burning of the Forest Belle. The Palos arrived at Shanghae April 25th, from Tientsin, and was to be docked and painted. The Monocacy was at Shanghae May 14th, and expected to go to Cheefoo and Tientsin. The Ashuelot expected to leave Hong Kong May 12th, for Shanghae. The Richmond arrived at Hong Kong May 15th. The health of the squadron was good.

News and Notes.

A Washington dispatch to the Boston Transcript reports that "Senator Randolph, chairman of the military committee, speaking of the Fitz-John Porter case, says he fears there is not time to consider it at the present session. The sentiment of the committee inclines to an early disposition of the case. In addition to the democrats on the committee who favor the exoneration, are two republican members, Burnside and Cameron. This will insure the adoption of the finding of the court of inquiry."

William Warner, formerly a leading operator on Wall Street, New York, and afterwards in San Francisco, died in Springfield, Mass., June 10th, aged sixty-three years. His life was singularly eventful. He was at two different times a millionnaire, but he died penniless.

Messrs. Brainerd & Co. made a blast a few days ago which was probably the heaviest ever made in the Portland quarries. With 112 1-2 pounds of powder they moved, for a distance of four and a half inches, a stone 118 feet long, 25 feet wide and 14 feet thick, containing 41,300 cubic feet and weighing 3442 tons, and without breaking the stone, except slightly in one place. This piece is nearly as long as four ordinary freight cars placed end to end, and very much higher and wider.

Mrs. C. T. Stearns of Wichendon, Mass., while sitting near a table, was seized with a fit, and falling to the floor a kerosene lamp was overturned, setting fire to her dress, which, together with the carpet, burned until the fire went out of its own accord. She is very dangerously burned, and her recovery is doubtful.

A transmitting telephone has been placed in the Congregational church in Mansfield, Ohio, the wires leading to the houses of several aged and invalid persons. It surmounts a floral decoration on the table in front of the open platform,—a very unnoticeable position. The speaker pays no attention whatever to it, yet every word uttered in the auditorium is easily heard in the rooms of the dwellings which the wires reach. The first communication from the minister was from Scripture: "The word is nigh unto thee; His word runneth very swiftly."

There died at New Haven, Conn., on Monday, the 9th inst., at the age of ninety-three years, Miss Mary Hand, the last surviving daughter of Gen. Howard Hand, an officer of the continental army. Miss Hand was, in early life, the friend and confidante of Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg.

A Mr. Stanton and his wife were chloroformed and robbed in their chamber at Rutherford park, New York, on the night of the 10th inst.

In accordance with section 4397 of the revised statutes, and in compliance with the request of Professor Baird, collectors of customs, keepers of lighthouses, and other officers of the treasury department are directed to render all the aid they properly can, without interference with their regular official duties, to the assistants of the United States commissioners of fish and fisheries, who are soon to begin inquiries and obtain data as to the number and character of the vessels engaged in the fisheries, their crews, the field of operations, the catch, etc., along the various parts of the eastern coast.

Schooner Addison G. Proctor, Capt. McInnis, arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Monday, the 9th inst., and reported the loss of two of her crew, Henry Apt and John McVicar, who left the schooner May 17th on St. Peter's bank to attend to their trawls, and a fog setting in, were unable to find the vessel. The dory being provided with a compass and sail, the men were enabled to put into St. Pierre, after being exposed three days and nights without food or water, and arrived in Gloucester on the evening of the day on which the schooner got home.

A postal card mailed in Boston, Feb. 25th, for a tour around the world via Liverpool, arrived in Boston on Wednesday, the 11th inst., having completed its journey in 106 days. Its companion, mailed for the opposite circuit, via San Francisco, has not yet come to hand.

At the recent burning of a hotel in Hagerstown, Md., Mrs. Patterson, daughter, and Miss Gerry, a niece of Hon. Elbridge Gerry of Portland, Me., narrowly escaped death, losing all their money and wardrobe, except the night clothes in which they were rescued.

Robert E. Hughes, of Collinsville, Conn., a boy ten years old, was recently found dead in Farmington river with his skull broken, having fallen from a tree which he had climbed in search of a birds' nest, and had his brains dashed out on the rocks below. Foul play was at first suspected.

Miss Sarah W. Clark, aged ninety-two years, among the oldest persons in Newburyport, died on the morning of the 11th inst. By this death the will of Annie Noyes, deceased, distributes $5000 to her legal heirs: $2000 to the Massachusetts bible society, $500 to the Old Ladies' society of Newburyport, and $2000, with the residue, probably as much more, to the Home missionary society of New Hampshire.

Danforth H. White, aged sixty-three years, who boarded with Daniel Arnold, a farmer at Quincy Point, Mass., committed suicide shortly before noon on the 10th inst., by shooting himself in the head with a shot gun, blowing away the right side of his face. The shot entered his mouth and came out back of the head. He was found in the tool-house sitting in a chair with the muzzle of the gun on his chest. He had been an invalid several years, and leaves no family. General despondency was the cause.

A woman and her son lately died in Northbridge, Mass., from what physicians call "cider tremens," and it is thought the woman's husband will not survive long, he being ill with the same disease. It is said that since last fall this family have drank fifty-two barrels of cider! There are one son and a relative besides the persons mentioned. The doctors say the blood of these people is entirely changed to an acid liquid by the use of the cider.

Albert Morgan, publisher of the Boston Express, has been indicted by the grand jury of Middlesex county for alleged libellous publication in the Express.

The Atlantic oil refinery at Point Breeze, near Philadelphia, was struck by lightning on the 11th inst., and burned, with the Norwegian ship Hudson, the Norwegian barques Magnum and Ellisif, the Austran barque Fa, the Russian barque Ilion, the German barque F. Reck, and the Italian barque Guiseppe Quinto, all loading at the works for Europe.

Miss Emma Sands, eighteen years old, started on Sunday, the 8th inst., to walk from Westford, Vt., to her home in Essex, taking the railroad track lest she should meet some one if she kept the travelled road, and has not since been seen. Foul play is suspected.

On Monday, the 6th inst., as five men were being let down in a crib into the pit of the Melbourne, Vt., slate quarry, the rope broke, letting them fall a distance of 140 feet. They were all more or less injured, and are all in a critical condition.

Mr. Clark P. Whitney of Westminster, Vt., had a very valuable mare stolen from his stables about four years ago. After thorough search all hope of finding her had disappeared. Last week he received information which led him to believe she was in possession of the mayor of New Haven, Conn. He went down, and writes home that the mare is his.

The matter of excessive salaries to savings bank officials is again being agitated in New York, and a number of examples are cited where excessive compensation for services is allowed. For instance, the Brooklyn savings bank has in its service an officer who is styled "Controller of the bank," who is a son-in-law of the president and draws $9000 a year and house rent free, while his duties are entirely clerical and his position a purely subordinate and unnecessary one. The house rent is easily worth $1500 a year, which makes, with the sum paid him, a pretty good salary for a man who has almost nothing to do. He receives $2000 more than the sub-treasurer of New York, who has $100,000,000 in his charge, and $2000 more than the postmaster, who is responsible for some $43,000,000 a year.

New Hampshire Items.

A student, at New London, named Wheeler, of Dunbarton, is reported to have committed suicide there. He was missed Tuesday, the 10th inst., and was found in the woods Wednesday, having shot himself.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire Historical Society was held at Concord on Wednesday, the 11th inst., and was fully attended. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Charles H. Bell of Exeter; vice-president, B. F. Prescott of Epping; treasurer, J. E. Sargent of Concord; corresponding secretary, George G. Fogg of Concord; recording secretary, Amos Hadley of Concord; librarian, S. C. Eastman of Concord; publishing committee, William L. Foster, John J. Bell, Erastus P. Jewell. Reports of various committees were read. Thirty-five resident and eleven honorary members were elected. The annual address was delivered in the evening by Hon. J. W. Patterson of Hanover.

—A little urchin being asked, "What is Rhode Island noted for?" replied, "It is the only one of the New England States which is the smallest."

A CARD.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1878, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS

There seems to be no country under the sun where Dyspepsia is so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and is to be found in almost every household; and consequently such a household remedy as the Bitters is of inestimable value to the American people. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. For sale by all druggists and respectable Dealers generally.

AROUND HOME.

The Times says that Mr. George F. Monroe has resigned his position as tenor in the Unitarian choir.

Portsmouth Grange will hold its regular business meeting on Wednesday evening, June 25th, at the residence of Bro. Israel S. Hoyt of Newington, at half-past seven o'clock.

President Phillips, of the Eastern railroad, went over the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad on Thursday upon a tour of inspection, returning to this city in the evening.

The tenth annual commencement of Robinson female seminary at Exeter occurred Wednesday, the 11sh inst., with a very large gathering. In the evening the graduating class held a brilliant reception in the town hall.

The second day's racing at the Granite State park, Dover, on Wednesday, included two "events." The first race, for horses that had never beaten 2:40, was won by Alice, owned in Danvers, Mass., in three straights heats; time 2:36, 2:44, 2:35 1-2. The second race was for horses that had never beaten 2:36, and was won by Robert B. Thomas, owned in Boston, in 2:34, 2:36, 2:38—the first heat being won by Arthur T., owned in Great Falls, in 2:36.

Our old friend "Dr." Gray of the Dover Press says "lager beer is a splendid drink; so much so, that we would recommend Frank Miller to try a bottle or two before breakfast, as we know it would add health, wealth and happiness to his present life." Our health is perfect, thank you; our happiness complete (except for the devastations of rum;) and we don't want any wealth that comes from rum or beer. And we advise you and all other people of sense to let lager beer and all other fuddling liquors alone. The Portsmouth CHRONICLE also is getting decidedly beery of late.—Weekly.

The committee of arrangements of the New Hampshire Press Association have under consideration for this year an excursion to Portsmouth, Rye beach, Newcastle, Dover point, Kittery, the navy yard, the Isles of Shoals and other places of interest in this immediate vicinity, the second week in July being proposed as the time, if the legislature be not then in session, and perhaps even if it is, as the trip will last only from Thursday, the 10th, to Monday, the 14th. Editors and printers eligible to membership, are invited to join the association and the excursion. Thomas W. Lane of Manchester is treasurer, and will answer any inquiries.

A thirty-six hours' foot-race commenced in Eagle hall, Dover, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon on Tuesday, the 10th inst., and ended at 11 o'clock P. M. on the 11th. There were thirteen starters, and the winners were Patrick McLaughlin, 142 miles; Frank Hanson, 140; Dennis Haley, 120; Capino, an Indian, 114. Wednesday evening there were two supplementary races, one of ten miles for a purse of $25, which was won by a man named Canovan, of Rochester, in one hour and twenty-five minutes; the other was a race against time—twenty-five miles in four hours, for a purse of $15, by James Burns of Dover. The hall was thronged during the last hours of the race.

The strike among the foot bottomers in the employment of Strong, Burt & Moore, of Dover, has assumed large proportions. About 450 men in Dover and its immediate vicinity, employed by that firm, have quit work, alleging that they are unable to live comfortably on the wages paid, and that they are obliged to buy "findings" from the firm at a higher price than they can be procured for elsewhere, on pain of summary discharge if they go where they can purchase at the cheapest rate. The strikers have formed a union to contend against the last reduction of their wages, and it is said have the full sympathy, and if need be will receive the material aid, of the shoemakers of Farmington, Rochester and Great Falls.

Between eight and nine o'clock on the morning of Nov. 1st, 1777, the Continental ship-of-war, the Ranger, eighteen guns, Capt. John Paul Jones, commander, weighed anchor and sailed out of Portsmouth harbor. It went out on that gallant cruise on the English coast in which it met and captured the English war-vessel, the Drake, of superior force both of men and guns. The Ranger was built in a New Hampshire harbor by a New Hampshire mechanic, and sailed from a New Hampshire port. It was manned by a crew of the Piscataqua, and largely by hardy mariners from Dover. On the very day on which Jones was assigned to the command of that vessel, Congress adopted the flag of the stars and stripes, and history tells us that when the Ranger went out of Portsmouth harbor for the first time our national flag floated upon the breeze. On the 14th of February, 1778, it received a salute from a French admiral, undoubtedly, as one of the Ranger's officers wrote that day, "the first salute ever pay'd the American flag."—Rev. Dr. Quint in Memorial day address at Dover.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, June 12; Batchelder, J.

Lizzie Fitzgerald, the alleged wife of Michael Fitzgerald, was complained of for the larceny of $12 from Joseph Clay, and was bound over in $100 to appear at the October term of the supreme court to answer.

Michael and Lizzie Fitzgerald were bound over in the sum of $100 each to appear before the supreme court to answer to a charge of keeping a house of ill fame. Jail in default of sureties. A few days ago Michael Fitzgerald was before the police court on a charge of keeping a disorderly house, and promised to leave the city immediately, which he did not do, and now will not be able to do if he wants to until after the October term of the supreme court.

Sarah Skillings, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $5.76; paid.

Another charge, against the woman Skillings and Joseph Clay, jointly, was nol. pros'd.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening.

A petition from Frank Jones and others, requesting the board to cause several of the streets on the outskirts to be put under the supervision of the street department, was referred to committee on streets.

Resolution was received from common council, empowering the committee on fire department to sell the steam fire engine Dearborn to the best advantage, which was concurred in.

Petition from Charles H. Rollins and others, requesting the board to cause repairs to be made on Chestnut and Court streets and Court place, were referred to committee on streets, to make such repairs as they may deem necessary.

Communication was received from Robert Shillaber, informing the board of a nuisance maintained by Daniel Sullivan on Deer street, and requesting the board to adjudge the same to be a nuisance. Voted that the board visit the premises, on Monday, the 16th inst., at three o'clock in the afternoon.

Dr. Potter asked leave to encumber Pearl street for building purposes; granted.

Committee on drains reported on the petition of Samuel Frye and others for a sewer on Cass street, and recommended that the drain be laid. Report of committee adopted.

Message was received from common council, giving notice that they would meet the board of aldermen in convention next Thursday evening for the purpose of electing city treasurer, and transacting any other business which may come before them.

William J. Laighton asked permission to cut down a tree in front of his house on State street; referred to mayor with power.

Charles H. Mendum asked to have sidewalks relaid on Vaughan and Market streets; granted.

The petition from the barbers to have the Sunday ordinance amended to include the closing of barber shops on the Lord's day, was referred to committee on police.

Committee on nuisances reported that they had visited premises complained of on Washington street, and found them in good condition; also visited the premises complained of by Mrs. Kenney, and recommended that Mr. Brewster be ordered to remove the nuisance, and put the premises in good sanitary condition; report accepted and adopted.

Bills to the amount of $4442.15 were ordered paid.

Voted that the bill of Samuel P. Treadwell, for services as city treasurer be referred to committee on accounts.

Committee authorized to purchase a new steam fire engine reported that they had contracted for a second-class steamer from the Amoskeag Manufacturing Co., the price to be $3000 and the steamer Dearborn.

The election of collector of taxes was postponed for one week.

Voted that the city clerk render to the board a statement of the appropriations at the next meeting following the approval of the monthly bills.

ROCKINGHAM CONGREGATIONAL CONFERENCE.

The Rockingham Conference of Congregational and Presbyterian churches met in Northwood on Tuesday, the 10th inst., at ten o'clock in the forenoon, in the Congregational church.

The exercises opened with a prayer meeting, followed by a sermon by Rev. T. V. Haines of North Hampton, at the close of which came the appointment of officers, Rev. Mr. Haines being chosen moderator. At two o'clock in the afternoon reports of the state of religion in the churches were received; followed by a discussion on the topic "Can the present system of international Sabbath school lessons be improved?" opened by Rev. C. E. Houghton. At half-past seven o'clock in the evening the conference considered the "Duty of Christians toward the missionary and other benevolent organizations, and especially at present, with reference to the large legacies which have lately fallen to some of these societies," the opening addresses being by Rev. George A. Perkins and Rev. George E. Street.

On Wednesday at half-past eight o'clock A. M. a prayer meeting was held, and at half-past nine o'clock the business meeting. At ten o'clock "The mission of the church" was considered, the question being discussed under four heads, as follows: first, "The specific work of the ministry," opened by Rev. Edward Robie, D. D.; second, "The specific work of the laity," opened by Rev. Mr. Bouchere and Deacon James Leavitt; third, "What part may women take in this work?" opened by Rev. Wm. A. Rand and Rev. Albert Watson; fourth, "What should the church do with members proved dishonest?" opened by Rev. J. H. Stearns and Rev. Lyman White. At two o'clock P. M. a sermon was delivered by Rev. C. T. Melvin of Atkinson, followed by the communion.

The meeting of the Rockingham County Woman's Missionary Society was held on Wednesday at eleven o'clock A. M.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.
JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Monann.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.
I think it the best medicine I ever used.
W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Political.

The Portland Advertiser publishes an interview with the democratic leaders in that city, indicating that the democrats will nominate a straight democratic ticket, and will probably renominate Gov. Garcelon.

Inasmuch as it costs $3 in currency to buy a ten-cent loaf of bread in Buenos Ayres, and $300 to buy a pair of boots, the Cincinnati Commercial says "it would have simplified matters and amounted to the same thing if the greenbackers, instead of adopting the platform they did, had resolved that they cordially approved the Buenos Ayrean system of finance, and were in favor of its introduction into the United States." That is bosh, as the Cincinnati Commercial very well knows. What the greenbackers want is to have labor bring $3 for ten cents' worth, while bloated manufacturers are obliged to sell $3 worth of their wares for ten cents. High prices for labor; low prices for everything else; how to have these two at the same time is the problem.

All these events have forced me, though most reluctantly, to the conclusion that the democratic party is powerless and ineffective as an ally, and not a fit instrument of reform in American politics.—Gen. Thomas Ewing in 1873.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

Dangerous Houses.

Houses that have been empty may be fever-breeders when they come to be re-occupied. An English sanitary officer alleges that he has observed typhoid, diphtheria, or their zymotic affections, to arise under these circumstances. The cause is supposed to be in the disuse of cisterns, pipes and drains, the processes of putrefaction going on in the impure air in them, the unobstructed access of this air to the house, while the closure of windows and doors effectually shuts out the fresh air. Persons moving from the city to country homes for the summer should see that the drains and pipes are in perfect order, that the cellar and closets are cleared of rubbish, and the whole house thoroughly aired before occupying. Carbolic acid used freely in the cellar is a good and cheap disinfectant.—Scientific American.

—Mrs. A.—"Somebody's in the next room. I wonder what they're doing." [Looking wistfully at the keyhole.] "I'm a good mind to peek." Mrs. B—"Oh, I wouldn't; it isn't right." Mrs. A.—"I don't care; I'm just dying to know." [Puts eye to keyhole, but immediately takes it away, disconcerted.] "H'm, the key is in." Mrs. B—"Yes; so I found before you came in."—Boston Transcript.

—A German clergyman who was travelling stopped at a hotel much-frequented by wags and jokers. The host, not being used to have a clergyman at his table looked at him in surprise; the guests used all their artillery of wit upon him without eliciting a remark. The clergyman ate his dinner quietly, apparently without observing the gibes and sneers of his neighbors. One of them at last, in despair of his forbearance, said to him, "Well, I wonder at your patience! Have you not heard all that has been said to you?" "Oh, yes; but I am used to it. Do you know who I am?" "No, sir." "Well, I will inform you. I am chaplain of a lunatic asylum; such remarks have no effect upon me."

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1873. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION BUFFALO AND LONDON. CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago induced several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the Consulting Department of which has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been completed and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. F. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and skill have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms come within the province of our several specialties.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Especially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic ailments peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this department.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform, are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Uterine Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature and other deformities. (See Pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN
By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated many thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE (for conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and in a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threadness, Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not exist this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a diagnosis of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats fully and minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSABLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 51 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 15, 1879. The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, the money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medicinal principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is decayed matter, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all south are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing, and purifying the secretions. Internally administered it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and absorbed into the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem premature for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen,—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as musical manager, I took a severe cold and was laid up in Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is hardly possible for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly and who is coughing and expectorating in his throat to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours, GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

Plasters have now been before the public for a year, and notwithstanding the immense number of imitations in the form of liniments, lotions, pain-killers, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evinced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now the best in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is a candid and careful trial. The price is 25 cents, although it cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any inferior remedy can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for their profit and endeavor to substitute others. Do not allow yourself to be imposed upon. ASK FOR

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTER

And insist upon having what you are willing to pay for.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, and by WEEKS & POTTER, Proprietors, Boston, Mass.

THE MALLORY

Patent Air Closet!

Superior to either Water or Earth Closets for General Use, and for the Sick Room, are indispensable.

They can be set up in any Room, Hall-way or Closet, or at the Bedside of the Sick, and are warranted to be Perfectly Odorless.

Being thoroughly ventilated from the front, and connecting with the chimney, the disagreeable odors and poisonous gases are carried off into the chimney, instead of escaping into the room.

[Written for this paper.]

"The Old Times of Fifty Years Ago."

It is always an excellent idea for those who write for the press to know something beforehand of what they attempt to write. That they are not always thus enlightened is often evident from the amusing errors into which they fall in the effort to discourse of times and events that occurred long before they were born. A ludicrous instance of the kind was visible in a recent article copied into the newspapers from a monthly magazine, (the leading editor of which ought to have been better informed if the contributor to it was not) the subject being "the old times of fifty years ago." In it the reader was informed that at the time "most people lived in houses unpainted, unplastered, and wholly devoid of ornaments;" "fires were built in huge, wide chimneys, and while the face was roasting the back was freezing;" "the household furniture consisted of a few plain chairs, a plain table, and a bedstead made by a carpenter;" "carpets were unknown;" instead of silver as now, "people eat with spoons of pewter or iron;" "clocks were so few, the hour of noon was guessed at by the sunlight creeping up to the noon-mark upon the floor;" "pianos and pictures were but very seldom seen;" richest of all, we were told that "the bible, the almanac, and a few books used in the schools, were about all the volumes seen in the household."

In contrast with so absurd a statement, as very many will remember, taking Portsmouth for an example, most of the houses were painted; all were plastered, and possessed, besides, every requisite for comfort; some of them that survive are not surpassed by the best modern structure in old-fashioned carved work; not a kitchen was there where a cooking-stove was wanting, or a parlor where a neatly made stove, ornamented with brightly kept balls or urns, did not send out its genial warmth, "when winter chilled the day;" the furniture, if it lacked some thing of the richness and display of modern upholstery about it, was thoroughly well made and tasteful in form, as numerous specimens of it that survive bear ample testimony; the idea of a "bedstead made by a carpenter," (while the best of workmen at their own especial trade,) instead of the handsomely-formed articles from the large establishments of Messrs. Langley Boardman and Judkins & Senter, is more than funny; carpets, if not as plentiful as now, were seen in every home possessing anything of taste or the ordinary comforts of life; pianos, then regarded as an article of elegant luxury, were by no means uncommon, though not so numerous as to be regarded often, as in later years, a nuisance, when heard at all hours, even in the hot nights of midsummer, through open windows, when weary ones have a fancy for falling into slumber; nor was there any deficiency in pictures, brought home by shipmasters, and an occasional traveller, from abroad, or procured in the larger cities; with regard to the iron and pewter spoons that, according to the writer of the article, people ate with, it would have been an odd fancy on their part to do so, when those of silver had been in use, certainly, for much more than a century; and as to clocks, not a dwelling could have been found that had not in its furnishings something of the kind, if no better than one of the wooden Yankee clocks of Connecticut.

The writer of the above-mentioned production, from what he says of the books seen in households, must have had an idea that a very benighted people were living at that time, not to be familiar with the writers of the past; few families there were who had not a stock of books somewhere about their premises; in many of their dwellings, as well as upon shelves, were capacious secretaries and bookcases, well stored with the best works of the last and the earlier portion of the present century; and if some very silly novels were in vogue besides, they are quite equalled at present by such weak specimens as "That Wife of Mine" and "That Husband of Mine," that those who read them now will look back upon, when they are a few years older, with surprise that they could ever have gone beyond the first dozen pages, when so much better reading, even in the lighter class of literature, is always to be had.

It is true that such vast advances have since been made, the world would seem to have been then in its infancy; still it had made much progress in civilization, culture and refinement, fifty years ago.

The last ballot was declared at 12:36 A. M., Friday. Senator Gallinger of Concord and Representative Mathes of Portsmouth were appointed a committee to notify Mr. Blair of his nomination. That gentleman appeared and made a brief speech, and the caucus adjourned at five minutes before one o'clock.

An Earnest Temperance Man.

Benjamin Clow was recently appointed liquor-prosecutor at North Adams, Mass., and from his proceedings so far appears to contemplate making things lively. On Thursday morning last he went to a saloon kept by one Darrow, and with a cocked revolver in one hand and a billy in the other, stood on the pavement and ordered Darrow to come out and be arrested, threatening him with the revolver in case of resistance. Darrow refused, but was brought before the court by another officer; no action was however taken on his case. Clow was during the day presented with a scythe by a large delegation of citizens in front of the bank, as an additional weapon for defence. His actions are severely criticised, from the fact that he paraded the streets loaded down with weapons, and it is said to be doubtful if his appointment continues.

News and Notes.

Merrimac, Mass., was excited Friday morning on learning that J. H. Cleary's store and the Boston & Maine depot had been entered during the night, and the safe in each blown open. Goodwin & Sargent's store, and the post office, were also broken into. How much plunder the thieves secured is not reported.

Mr. A. Bancroft, chief of police of Woburn, Mass., wandered away from home a week or more ago, and was found in New York with his mind entirely gone.

A "lock-out" which will throw 12,000 people out of work is announced likely to take place in Fall River, Mass., on the first of July.

Thursday forenoon an officer entered Auburn, Me., jail to give the prisoners a morning walk, and neglecting to lock the door as the cells were opened, "Kit" O'Connell bolted through, locked the officer in and escaped.

A young man named Edward Arras has been arrested in New York on the complaint of Eva Geis, sixteen years of age, who charges that he shot her a year ago, inflicting a wound of which she is likely to die. Her misery is increased by the fact that she also will soon become a mother. She accuses Arras of having betrayed her under promise of marriage; and he shot her, she says, because she threatened him with arrest.

Albert T. Stevens of Belfast was killed and Charles Bradford of Bangor seriously injured by the falling of a cottage in process of repairs at the Northport, Me., camp ground Thursday afternoon.

At Welland, Ont., on Tuesday, Charles Garrett was fatally shot in the street by William Alexander, one of whose lady friend had been seduced by Garrett.

Sarah Brooks, a colored woman fifty years old, living in the family of William Hoyt of Stamford, Conn., killed herself by cutting her throat with a case knife Monday morning, the 9th inst. She had lived long in Stamford as a servant and saved a considerable sum from her earnings. It is reported that she left a will bequeathing her earnings, in amount about $3000, to Rev. Mr. Braithwaite, rector of St. Andrew's Episcopal church in Stamford.

At Suffield, Conn., during a thunderstorm on the 10th inst., Harold Higley, aged seventy-one, was killed by lightning while in the field hurrying toward his house, and Arthur Graham, who was behind him, was paralyzed, but will probably recover. A. J. Easton's barn at Boston Neck was struck and burned. At Windsor Locks, Thomas Furey's little girl was struck while going home from a store, and her breast was well blackened. Another little girl, belonging to Andrew Outerson, was also hit, but both will recover.

A colored man, now living in New York but a native of Virginia, has invented and patented a fire escape for the use of fire companies which is highly commended by experts in such matters. The invention is said to be the first on which a colored man has secured letters patent in this country. It is of slight construction, but strong enough to sustain the weight of a heavy man with a length of hose, and can throw out a sixty-foot ladder thirty feet or more from a perpendicular line. It is also very cheap, while the ordinary hook and ladder accoutrements cost about $2500 and are exceedingly heavy.

Thursday afternoon Larned Powers, one of the most respected citizens of Cornish, was thrown down and run over by a pair of horses and wagon loaded with calves, breaking one leg and receiving other injuries. He is not expected to recover. His age is about seventy years.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Marion is reported as having been spoken off New Orleans bar June 11th, bound for Pensacola.

The Vandalia has arrived at Hampton roads from a short cruise in the gulf of Mexico.

—"This can't be beat," as the man said when he bought the porcelain egg.

—An Ithaca, N. Y., poor-master went to a circus the other day, and found five men whose families were supported by the town, buying tickets for the show.

—A minister at a colored wedding, who wished to be humorous, said: "On such occasions it is customary to kiss the bride, but in this case we will omit it." To which malignant remark the bridegroom pertinently replied: "On such occasions it is customary to pay the minister ten dollars, but in this case we will omit it."

—Little Billy was told, "Never ask for anything at the table. Little boys should wait until they are served." The other day little Billy was forgotten in the distribution, and was not served at all. What could he do? Presently, after reflecting seriously, he asked, "Mamma, when little boys starve to death, do they go to heaven?"

—The eighth wonder of the world is that a fellow will chew dog-leg pretzels three weeks old with great gusto in a beer saloon, but will go home and kick the table over if the sponge cake happens to be a little dry on one side.

—Cardinal Morichini, Bishop of Albano, was a very learned and amiable man, who possessed a fund of quiet humor. One day a discussion was going on in his presence concerning a certain Italian orator and statesman noted for his verbosity. "Yes," said Cardinal Morichini, "he is an admirable speaker; he doesn't know what he is saying, but he says it so well."—Paris Globe.

—Prince Peter of Oldenburg is at the head of the Imperial Russian College for Girls, and is very diligent in performing his duties. He lately decided to see for himself whether there were any grounds for the complaints of the poor food furnished at the Smoling convent, where 800 girls are educated. Proceeding to the institution just before the usual dinner hour, he avoided the main entrance and walked straight toward the kitchen. At its door he met two soldiers carrying a huge steaming cauldron. "Halt!" he called out, "put that kettle down." The soldiers, of course, obeyed. "Bring me a spoon," added the prince. The spoon was at once produced, but one of the soldiers ventured to begin a stammering remonstrance. "Hold your tongue," cried the prince; "take off the lid. I insist on tasting it." No further objection was raised, and the prince took a large spoonful. "You call this soup," he exclaimed; "why, it is dirty water!" "It is, your highness," replied the soldier; "we have just been cleaning out the laundry."

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.
JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Montana.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.
I think it the best medicine I ever used.
W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

AROUND HOME.

Rev. C. B. Pitblado of this city preaches in Newark, N. J., on Sunday.

Senator Philbrick of Rye has introduced, and the Senate passed and sent to the House, a bill for the protection of lobsters.

Arrangements have been completed for an open-air concert on Market square on Monday evening next by the Dover cornet band, commencing at eight o'clock.

Citizens desirous of procuring the report of the county commissioners for the past year, will receive them on application to City Clerk Vaughan at the city rooms.

Mr. Nathan Tarleton had a valuable watch stolen from the pocket of his vest while at work on a building in Newcastle, near the lower bridge, a few days ago.

We are glad the foot racing is over in Dover. We suppose it is over. We hope so. It is well enough in reasonable quantity, but too much of it is worse than none. We have had enough of it.—Dover Democrat.

A picture of the old Wentworth mansion at little harbor, painted by a Mr. Frost of Cambridge, Mass., causes many people to stop in front of the window of Mercer Goodrich's bookstore under the city rooms.

Messrs. J. Calvin Garland and Oliver Garland, of North Hampton, have petitioned the legislature to so alter the boundary line between that town and Rye that their farms at Breakfast hill may be located in the latter town.

The Exeter daily Gazette appears to be taking a rest; we have not received one for a week or more. The weekly Gazette still keeps moving along. Exeter we should suppose abundantly able to support a daily paper, but it won't do it.

The races at Dover trotting park closed on Thursday with a contest between horses that had never beaten 2:50, five horses starting. Stella Blake won in 2:36, 2:38, 2:38, Sweet Milk winning the third heat in 2:41. The meeting was a success financially.

The semi-annual dividend of three dollars and a half per share upon the stock of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad will be paid on Saturday, the 28th inst., from half-past ten o'clock A. M. to four o'clock P. M., at the office of William H. Hackett; after that at the treasurer's office in Manchester.

Mr. William Hurd, of Dover, was before the police court in Amesbury, Mass., on the 10th inst., and had to pay a fine and costs for striking a young man with a billet of wood. Quite likely the young man deserved a rap over the head, but the law does not approve of such a method of admonition.

Sheriff Kent has made the following appointments of deputies: John W. Smart, Newmarket; John N. Brown, Seabrook; Charles A. Shepard, Raymond; E. A. J. Saward, Deerfield; J. A. Trickey, Northwood; William Clark, Londonderry; Isaiah A. Dustin, Derry; Thos. J. Nichols, Plaistow; George W. Tilton, Epping; Samuel E. Woodman, Kingston; T. B. Hoyt and James W. Odlin, Exeter.

The "devil's fiddle" of a few years ago is fairly discounted by a new instrument of torture just received by the small boy, in the shape of a tin horn which is sold for a cent, and which for its size and cost can produce a louder and more hideous squawk than anything ever before invented. It would be a blessing if some speculator would engineer a "corner" in these infernal machines, and run the price up to a million dollars apiece.

The funeral of the late Elbridge Prior will take place on Sunday afternoon at half-past one o'clock from the Middle street church, and will be attended by the Knights of Pythias, New Hampshire Lodge of Odd Fellows, the Light Artillery, and Extinguisher Co. No. 5, of which latter organization Mr. Prior was foreman. Mr. Prior's former fellow-workmen, and others who may desire to attend the services, are invited to meet with the Knights of Pythias at Pythian hall at half-past twelve o'clock. Steamer James Sampson will leave navy yard bridge, Kittery, at twelve o'clock, for this city, returning after the funeral.

It is said that all the passenger cars on the Portsmouth & Dover railroad are to be run through to Boston instead of compelling passengers to make the uncomfortable change at Portsmouth station. The long-asked-for station on Folsom street in Dover is likely to be established under the practical management of the new president.

The meetings in the gospel tent during the past week have been but moderately attended, the weather having been so cold, particularly in the evenings, as to make the prospect of sitting in a tent for an hour or two not an inviting one. We understand that considerable interest has been manifested by some of those who have attended the meetings, and with the advent of warm weather, if such weather ever gets here again, the tent will probably be filled at each evening service.

The annual meeting of the Great Falls Manufacturing Company took place in Great Falls on the 12th inst. There was a large attendance of stockholders present. The report of the treasurer showed the corporation in a flourishing condition. The following gentlemen were chosen directors for the ensuing year: T. Jefferson Coolidge, Samuel R. Payson, Chas. H. Dalton, Charles W. Freeland, George R. Minot, Thomas Wigglesworth, Edward Spalding, David H. Buffum; clerk, Emery J. Randall. After the close of the business meeting the company sat down to their annual dinner at Central hall, J. B. Smith of Boston catering.

A ROUGH TRIP.

The schooner Elizabeth M. Smith was towed in from the Isles of Shoals on Friday by the steamer Appledore, and is lying at Spring wharf. Capt. Raymond says the squall that dismasted the schooner struck her without any warning, at about half-past twelve o'clock on the night of the 6th inst., when she was about eight miles northeast of Thatcher's island, she being then under fore and main sails. The foremast went instantly, carrying the head of the mainmast with it. There was a heavy sea running at the time, and it was only by the most strenuous and exhausting exertions that the deck was finally cleared. The crew had no rest from that time until after they had got a jury rig on the schooner, Tuesday noon, by which time they were completely worn out, and the vessel had drifted off sixty-five miles toward Cape Cod. There was no insurance on the vessel.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Surgeon General J. Winthrop Taylor paid an official visit to the navy yard and the U. S. S. Kearsarge, Friday forenoon, and received the regulation salute.

Minute guns in honor of the memory of the late Admiral Enoch Greenleaf Parrott will be fired at the navy yard to-day.

The tug Leyden goes out to sea to-day to stow away in Davy Jones' locker a lot of condemned previsions.

"PICKERING HALL."

The Pickering hall recently noticed in your columns is situated near the outlet of the south millpond, on the Little Harbor branch of our river; it is an unpretentious-looking building, about seventy-five feet long and twenty-five wide; an architect is engaged to make proper inspection and repairs, and then it will be ready for public gatherings. It is now thoroughly clean, and will afford shelter and substantial accommodations far better than a tent; board benches will be the standing fixtures, but settees can be obtained if required. The rental will be graded accordingly, it being the intention of the proprietors to make it cheap, hoping thereby to attract extensive notice of our splendid river, ocean and inland advantages for recreation and refreshment.

Under the windows of this hall is the anchorage of the whaleboat fleet, numbering seventeen fine boats, which with one exception are manned and managed by one person each. The list of skippers is as follows:

Elwin Newton, Oliver Adams (is accompanied by George W. Adams,) Daniel Broughton, Thomas Freeman, William Jenkins, Robert Slaney, John Harvey, Sr., John Harvey, Jr., Charles Wallace, David Burke, James Burke, Henry A. Meloon, Benjamin Meloon, Daniel Clark, Henry Hunnefield, William Holmes, and John Caswell.

Sometimes these vessels stretch off forty miles on the ocean, and each being capable of carrying from five to ten passengers, they afford opportunity for a little sea-voyage which many persons might find more beneficial than any other mode. P.

COUNTY OFFICERS' REPORT.

The annual reports of the county commissioners and other county officers, for the year ending May 1st, 1879, have been distributed to the tax-payers throughout the county. The county farm expenses were increased somewhat over those of previous years, by the expense of a new steam pump and trap, and in changing the steam heating apparatus from high to low pressure, but the result in saving of fuel will more than reimburse the county in a short time. The commissioners speak in high terms of Supt. Haven L. Scott and his wife in managing affairs at the county farm, and express the hope that the county may long have the benefit of their valuable services. The commissioners on the 1st of January, 1878, took personal charge of the paupers in Portsmouth who receive assistance from the county, and thereby made a saving of more than $1000 over the previous year. The court room in Exeter has been fitted with steam heating apparatus, at a cost of $618, and the economy and convenience over stoves show this to have been a wise proceeding. The commissioners recommend that the sum of $83,000 be appropriated for county expenses for 1880, $20,000 being for payment of bonds and interest; and for 1881, $98,000, $36,000 being for payment of bonds and interest. The estimated value of the county farm and buildings is $60,000, and the personal property on the farm, $18,947.29. The total receipts by the superintendent were $1,720.67. The sum of $11,601.54 was expended for paupers off the farm; paupers at the New Hampshire asylum for insane cost $424.85; the State reform school received $130.29 for board of boys sentenced to the institution; jail expenses were $5,223.01; court expenses, repairs, etc., $3,906.88; justices' and officers' fees, $937.03; registry of deeds, $240.30; new index of deeds, $636.31; probate expenses, $213.42; coroners' inquests, $167.72; miscellaneous, $797.17; making total payments by the commissioners, $50,707.53.

The superintendent of the county farm makes a minute report of his institution. The average number of inmates for the year was 219; number at date of report, 220. The total number of weeks' board furnished paupers and prisoners was 11,380 5-8. There were 14 deaths and one birth. There are over 50 hopelessly insane in the asylum. The cost per week for board of all averages $2.27. The physicians and chaplain make very favorable reports.

The sheriff reports 67 prisoners committed to Portsmouth jail, and 22 to Exeter jail, during the year.

The number of prosecutions by the solicitor have been 158, of which 37 resulted in conviction and sentence, the rest being variously disposed of, 96 being left on the docket.

ELDER WAITE.

Very naturally Mr. Waite meets with considerable criticism in so novel an undertaking as a tent church. The association of tent and circus is so close that we think of it as a show—"circus religion," a contemporary denominates it. But it is hardly fair to condemn it by your own prejudice in this respect. The question is: Does he do any good—or on the other hand, does he do harm? If Mr. Waite presents an honest view of Christianity, and calls the attention to it of a class of people who would not be otherwise led to consider it, he is so far doing a good work. It is an open field, and if he is faithfully filling it he is doing a duty which no one else could do. Whitfield, Wesley and others have had their peculiar methods of reaching the public ear, and have gained it with good results, that have shown themselves in generation after generation. There have been some marked results from Elder Waite's preaching. We do not refer to the froth of excitement that rises to the surface, and which doubtless has its evil effects; but if in the minds and hearts of the multitude there is produced a more thoughtful disposition and a kindlier leaning toward better things than their ordinary motives of action, is it not well to encourage the man in his good work? We believe Mr. Waite has no evil motive in his undertaking, but that on the contrary, he is honest and unselfish, with as good intentions and as much philantrophy as ever an evangelist had, and believes that he is doing God service. Every evil effect of the excitement has been paraded and magnified, until we might question who was the worst man for a community—Waite or Kearney. Until we are satisfied that the community is made worse by Mr. Waite's preaching let us withold our judgment.—Jonrnal.

Success in the Stock Market.

Few people understand how large fortunes are amassed so rapidly in stock operations. Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., have just published "two unerring rules for success," and full details, so that any one can operate. Mailed free. Their new combination system of dealing in stocks is wonderfully profitable. By this method thousands of orders, in various sums, are pooled into one immense capital, and co-operated as a mighty whole, thus securing to each shareholder all the advantages of vast capital and best skill. Profits divided every 30 days. $15 would make $75 profit, $100 would return $1,000, or 10 per cent. on the stock in the month, and so on, according to the market. A New York Fashion Editress and prominent newspaper correspondent, made over 375 per ct. profit on an investment, Oct. 5th, 1878. Many others are doing as well or better. Large or small amounts can be used with equal proportionate success by this system. All kinds of stocks and bonds wanted, Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y. City.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

INCORPORATED JANUARY, 1878. WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION. BUFFALO AND LONDON. CLIFF STREET, NO. 81 AND 83.

(Successors to R. V. PIERCE, M. D.)
DR. R. V. PIERCE, having acquired a world-wide reputation in the treatment of Chronic Diseases, resulting in a professional business far exceeding his individual ability to conduct, some years ago invited several medical gentlemen to associate themselves with him, as the Faculty of the World's Dispensary, the flourishing Department of which, has since been merged with the INVALIDS' HOTEL. The organization has been commonly and incorporated under the name and style of World's Dispensary Medical Association, with the following officers:
Hon. R. V. PIERCE, Pres. F. D. PIERCE, V. Pres.
JNO. E. PIERCE, Sec. LESTER B. SMITH, Treas.
NINE PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS of eminence and ability have been chosen as the Faculty.
CHRONIC DISEASES of all forms coming to the province of our several specialists.
LUNG DISEASES.—This division of practice is very ably managed by a gentleman of mature judgment and skill. Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Diseases treated with the most successful results.
DISEASES OF WOMEN.—Specially are our facilities of a superior order for the cure of all those chronic diseases peculiar to females.
NERVOUS DISEASES.—Paralysis, Nervous Debility, Epilepsy (Fits), Chorea (St. Vitus's Dance), Neuralgia, and other nervous affections, receive the attention of an expert in this specialty.
NOT NECESSARY TO SEE PATIENTS.—By our original system of diagnosis, we can treat many chronic diseases as successfully without as with a personal consultation. For particulars see "People's Common Sense Medical Advisor" (1,000 pages, sent post-paid for $1.50) or "Invalids' and Tourists' Guide Book" (100 pages, 10 cents post-paid).
SURGICAL CASES.—Among the operations which we are called upon most frequently to perform are those for Nasal Polypus, Harelip, Tumors, Fistula in Ano, Piles, Hernia (Rupture), Hydrocele (Dropsy of the Scrotum), Varicocele, Ovarian and Uterine Tumors, Colon (Stone in the Bladder), Strictures, etc., etc. We also treat successfully, by a new method without surgical operation, Cancers, Club-feet, Spinal Curvature, and other deformities. (See pamphlet entitled, "Motion as a Curative Agent," sent on receipt of 10 cents.)
Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, BUFFALO, N. Y.

WOMAN

By an immense practice at the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, having treated such thousand cases of those diseases peculiar to woman, I have been enabled to perfect a most potent and positive remedy for these diseases.
To designate this natural specific, I have named it
Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription
The term, however, is but a feeble expression of my high appreciation of its value, based upon personal observation. I have, while witnessing its positive results in the special diseases incident to the organism of woman, singled it out as the climax or crowning gem of my medical career. On its merits, as a positive, safe, and effectual remedy for this class of diseases, and one that will, at all times and under all circumstances, act kindly, I am willing to stake my reputation as a physician; and so confident am I that it will not disappoint the most sanguine expectations of a single invalid lady who uses it for any of the ailments for which I recommend it, that I offer and sell it under A POSITIVE GUARANTEE (For conditions, see pamphlet wrapping bottle.)
The following are among those diseases in which my Favorite Prescription has worked cures, as if by magic, and with a certainty never before attained by any medicine: Leucorrhœa, Excessive Flowing, Painful Monthly Periods, Suppressions when from unnatural causes, Irregularities, Weak Back, Prolapsus, or Falling of the Uterus, Anteversion and Retroversion, Bearing-Down Sensations, Internal Heat, Nervous Depression, Debility, Despondency, Threatened Miscarriage, Chronic Congestion, Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, Impotency, Barrenness, or Sterility, and Female Weakness. I do not extol this medicine as a "cure-all," but it admirably fulfils a singleness of purpose, being a most perfect specific in all chronic diseases of the sexual system of woman. It will not disappoint, nor will it do harm, in any state or condition.
Those who desire further information on these subjects can obtain it in THE PEOPLE'S COMMON SENSE MEDICAL ADVISER, a book of over 900 pages, sent, post-paid, on receipt of $1.50. It treats minutely of those diseases peculiar to Females, and gives much valuable advice in regard to the management of those affections.
Favorite Prescription sold by Druggists.

American and Foreign PATENTS.

[ESTABLISHED 1865.]

GILMORE & CO., Successors to CHIPMAN, BOSMER & CO., Solicitors, Patents procured in all countries. No fees in advance. No charge unless the patent is granted. No fees for making preliminary examinations. No additional fees for obtaining and conducting a re-hearing. Special attention given to Interference Cases before the Patent Office. Extensions before Congress, Infringement Suits in different States, and all litigation appertaining to Inventions or Patents. Send stamp to GILMORE & CO. for Pamphlet of sixty pages.

Old Bounty Land Warrants.

The last Report of the Commissioner of the General Land Office shows 2,897,500 acres of Bounty Land Warrants outstanding. These were issued under act of 1855 and prior acts. GILMORE & CO. pay cash for them. Send by registered letter. Where Assignments are imperfect we give instructions to perfect them.

Arrears of Pay and Bounty.

Officers, Soldiers and Sailors of the late war, or their heirs, are in many cases entitled to money from the Government of which they have no knowledge. Write full history of service, and state amount of pay and bounty received. Enclose stamp to GILMORE & CO., and a full reply after examination, will be given you free.

Pensions.

All Officers, Soldiers and Sailors wounded, ruptured or injured in the late war, however slightly, can obtain a pension by addressing GILMORE & COMPANY.
Cases prosecuted by GILMORE & CO. before the Supreme Court of the United States; the Court of Claims and the Southern Claims Commission.
Each department of our business is conducted in a separate bureau, under the charge of the same experienced parties employed by the old firm. Prompt attention to all business entrusted to GILMORE & CO. is thus secured. We desire to win success by deserving it. Address:

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Spiane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing; one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medicinal principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all snuffs are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and thence into the blood. This a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For three years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. Very reluctantly, I confess, had I tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It is a marvelous remedy for one whose head aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in the throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

[illegible] Plasters have now been before the public for many [illegible] and notwithstanding the numerous number of imitations in the form of [illegible], lotions, painkillers, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evinced by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been certified to by well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is the humble price of a trial. The price of Collins' Plaster is but one-half that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the best plaster in the world for the least money, any similar remedy can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for selfish motives and endeavor to substitute others. DO NOT allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

A "Silk Culture" School.

A novel and interesting experiment has been initiated at the Permanent Exhibition building in Philadelphia, by the opening of a "silk culture school." It seems that for several years the business of raising silkworms has been growing in the United States, and that large sums have been paid by France for the eggs of American silkworms, the export of which to that country in 1877 amounted to $338,280. During the Centennial Exhibition the previous year the chief of the French commission declared that the native silk shown in the North Carolina exhibit was not surpassed in France. All branches of the business, from egg-hatching to reeling the silk, are now carried on at Fayetteville, in that State, and also at Vineland, New Jersey, and Silkville, Kansas. The most profitable branch is said to be the raising of eggs for exportation, since those raised in this country are free from disease. All processes connected with the industry are to be taught in the Philadelphia school; and the inception of this enterprise will doubtless be followed by a general stimulus of the business in all parts of the land where the mulberry, whose leaves furnish the food of the silkworm, grow. It is stated that this can be raised wherever the apple tree flourishes; and our older readers will remember the famous moras mullicaulis speculation, based upon this fact and the expected profit in raising food for silkworms, which created a great excitement in this country forty years ago. At one time the slips of the Chinese mulberry, scarcely as large as a pipestem, sold for three or five dollars; but the severity of the winter in 1844 ruined most of trees and blighted the speculation. Since then, the business of manufacturing American silks has become a great one, and is still growing.—Cleveland Leader.

Caught at Last.

The notorious depredator Kate-Arrb, who has for so many years eluded the most accomplished and skillful detectives, has been caught at last in Buffalo, N. Y. For further particulars, ask your druggists for a bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, admitted to be the best remedy for catarrh yet compounded.

—Charles Sumner was no musician. It is related that a lady friend once told him that if he were to buy a music box set to "Old Hundred," she did not believe that he could make it play "more than seventy-five."

—"Bull Run" Russell has left the London Times and gone to Zululand as correspondent of the London Telegraph. He is sixty-two years old, of which he has spent thirty-eight years as correspondent of the Times.

—The play "Diplomacy" has not been fortunate to professionals this side the Atlantic. First, Montaigue died; then Granger, fell sick; then George Drew's illhealth caused her retirement; and finally its stage manager, B. C. FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

The Promoter and Perfector of Assimilation.

The Reformer and Vitalizer of the Blood

The Producer and Invigorator of Nerve and Muscle.

The Builder and Supporter of Brain Power.

Fellows' Compound Syrup is composed of Ingredients identical with those which ionstitute Healthy Blood, Muscle and Nerve and Brain Substance, while Life itself is directly dependent upon some of them.

By its union with the blood and its effect upon the muscles, reestablishing the one and toning the other, it is capable of effecting the following results:

It will displace or wash out tuberculous matter, and thus cure Consumption.

By increasing Nervous and Muscular Vigor, it will cure Dyspepsia, feeble or enterrupted action of the Heart and Palpitation, Weakness of Intellect caused by grief, worry, overtax, or irregular habits, Bronchitis—Acute or Chronic, Congestion of the Lungs, even in the most alarming stages.

It cures Asthma, Loss of Voice, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Epileptic Fits, Whooping Cough, Nervousness, and is a most wonderful adjunct to other remedies in sustaining life during the process of Diphtheria.

Do not be deceived by remedies bearing a similar name: no other preparation is a substitute for this under any circumstances.

A New Telegraph Scheme.

It was announced on Wall street in New York, Friday, that the entire capital stock of the new Central Union telegraph company had been taken up by such capitalists as Jay Gould, Russel Sage, F. L. Ames of Boston, J. B. Alley of Lynn, and President Garrett of the Baltimore & Ohio road. Offers were made for twice the amount of the company's capital. The company has purchased all the Dominion telegraph company's lines, and within ninety days, it is claimed, will have 6000 miles of first-class wire in full operation to Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Louisville, Nashville, New Orleans, St. Paul, Kansas City, San Francisco and Omaha. Lines will be constructed with special reference to the cheap transmission of press news as well as general business.

News and Notes.

James P. Robbins, keeper of the Belfast, Me., lockup, died on Saturday morning from the effects of the assault made upon him by the thief Haines.

John Devine, in Concord, Mass., State prison under a sentence of eight years for shooting two men in East Cambridge on the 4th of last July, hung himself in the prison on Friday evening.

Manley Stevens, Jr., night-watchman at Hunter's creek, near Detroit, Mich., went home early Saturday morning and found Jno. House there. Suspecting him of criminal intimacy with his wife, he shot him twice through the head and three times through the chest. He then shot his wife through the head, and wound up by shooting himself through the head, killing himself instantly. Mrs. Stevens and House were alive at the latest accounts.

The old Artic exploring ship Resolute, which formed part of Austin's expedition in search of Sir John Franklin in 1850, is about to be broken up at the Chatham dockyard in England. Ornaments and handsome pieces of furniture are to be prepared from the timbers, which the British admiralty intend to present to the president of the United States as a souvenir of the occasion when the Resolute was found by American whalers, and the United States had her repaired and refitted, and presented her to the British government.

A sergeant of the marine corps, on board a United States vessel at Sitka, has wooed and won the "Little Buttercup" of that bleak region. She is the accomplished daughter of "Sitka Jack," an Indian chief, and made the acquaintance of her future husband while peddling fresh fish to the crew.

When the hour for the meeting of the Senate arrived, Friday, the senators of both parties were in caucus, and Mr. Ben Hill the only senator in his seat. Mr. Thurman rapped for order, and said: "The senator from Georgia will come to order." Mr. Hill and the people in the galleries enjoyed a quiet laugh.

Jonathan Morrill of Amesbury, Mass., in the police court at Newburyport, Friday, was fined $15 and costs for catching three shad in Merrimac river. His seine and boat were confiscated.

Coffee growing has proved successful with a few planters in southern Florida, and its cultivation there promises to be extended.

Artificial ice, said to be superior to nature's product, is manufactured in the south at a cost of only seventy cents per ton. It is turned out in blocks two and a half feet long by ten inches in thickness.

It is stated that the Fall River line to New York will put on the additional steamers Old Colony and Newport to run from Newport, making an additional cheap line to New York, and that the fares by the Providence and Bristol, which steamers will run from Fall River, will be placed at three dollars, the rate which the Providence line charges,—and this, it would seem, is cheap enough for the summer passage in these magnificent steamers.

A discrepancy of $9000 has been found in the accounts of Ex-County Treasurer Reynolds, of Vincennes, Ind., a prominent democrat and hitherto popular citizen.

A Swede named Goldsmith, and his wife, are trying to cross the Atlantic ocean to England in a little boat called the "Uncle Sam," the shortest craft that has ever attempted the passage, though not of the least tonnage. The "Uncle Sam" was built with the intention of going around the world in her.

Miss Emma Sands, eighteen years old, started on Sunday, the 8th inst., to walk from Westford, Vt., to her home in Essex, taking the railroad track, and not arriving there great excitement ensued, foul play being suspected. It is now evident that the girl ran away, (which at first was not thought of, her character having always been good,) as a man named N. Austin saw her pass through Winooski at five o'clock on the Monday morning after she left Westford, going toward Burlington. He gives a minute description of her, having been attracted toward her by the fact of her trying to conceal her face with her shawl. He also identified the girl's picture, and is positive this woman is the missing one. She next was traced at Burlington, where she bought two calico shirts, a pair of brown overalls and a cheap reticule, for which she paid $3.58. The woman also had her hair "banged" somewhere in Burlington, and procured a straw hat. She was next discovered asleep in a passenger car in the Burlington depot by the night watchman, dressed the boy's clothes she had purchased.

A despatch has been received by the president of the Pacific Mail company that the steamship Acapulco, from New York, had arrived at Aspinwall, but had been forbidden to land her cargo. It appears that she has on board a consignment of hardware and agricultural implements in boxes, which a representative of Chili claims are arms and ammunition for Peru, and he protested to the Colombian government against their being transported across the isthmus as being a violation of the laws of neutrality.

The congress held at Paris with reference to the projected ship canal through the isthmus of Panama has decided in favor of a canal from Panama to the gulf of Limon; and it appears that the cost of this would be little short of $250,000,000. This is very large sum to invest in such an enterprise, when in the course of the next few years there well be not fewer than three competing lines of railway across North America.

The fire in the Philadelphia oil works at Point Breeze, caused by lightning on Wednesday of last week, started afresh on Friday, and an immense amount of oil and other property was destroyed. Over half a mile of wharf property on the Schuylkill is in ashes. The losses by Wednesday's fire were about $300,000, and by that of Friday $150,000.

Steamship Odor, from Bremen, arrived at New York on Friday, and reported that on the 8th inst., she ran down and sank the Nowegian barque Collector; four seamen and one passenger were drowned.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles T. Lincoln, of the firm of Ira Parker & Co., glove manufacturers, of Littleton, was drowned Saturday morning while fishing on "Slant rock" at Seaconnet point, near Providence, R. I.

Augustus Thorndike, a recently-discharged convict from the New Hampshire State prison, was detained under suspicion of horse-stealing at West Groton, Mass., Friday morning, by Mr. Freeman Hopkins of that place, agent of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. From information gleaned from Thorndike, it was soon ascertained that he had stolen a horse, wagon and harness belonging to Mr. Daniel Gilman of Gilford, on the Tuesday night previous. Thorndike was taken to Laconia Saturday and put in the county jail. He has a notorious record as a criminal, having served much of his time for the past twenty years as an inmate of the State prison and county jails.

In the suit recently tried in the supreme court for Hillsboro' county, to recover the rental provided in the lease of the Peterboro' railroad to the Nashua & Lowell railroad, the court has rendered its decision, affirming the validity of the lease and ordering judgment for the unpaid rental. The defence was purely technical, and based upon alleged irregularies on the part of the defendant corporation in the execution of the lease. The decision of the court sustaining the lease on all points would seem to render unnecessary further continuance of the war of pamphlets and circulars. Counsel for plaintiffs were George G. Sawyer and John H. George; for the defendant, F. A. Brooks and Harry Bingham.

The steamer Mount Washington commences her regular trips on lake Winnipesaukie this morning, in connection with the Boston & Maine railroad.

The Nashua City Guards, Capt. A. D. Ayling's company, has subscribed $50 toward a testimonial of good will from the Second Regiment to Col. D. M. White of Peterboro', who recently lost the fingers of one of his hands by a circular saw accident.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Esterprise sailed from Havre, France, June 1st, on a short cruise.

Leave of absence has been granted to Lieut. W. W. Rhodes, commanding the iron-clad Mahopac at Brandon, Va., for one month from June 14th.

The commissions of Augustus A. Gilman as pay director, Joseph A. Smith as pay inspector, and I. Goodwin Hobbs as paymaster in the navy, are dated May 15th, 1879.

A court of inquiry has been in session for a week or ten days at the Washington navy yard, for the purpose of investigating complaints involving the accounts of certain men who were attached to some of the monitors when stationed at Savannah three or four years ago. The complaints affect the integrity of the pay department of the vessels, of which Passed Assistant Paymaster George A. Deering was in charge, and are made by a dealer named Hunt, who supplied sundry articles to members of the crews. It is charged that the necessary sums were withheld from the pay of the men to meet the accounts, but the money so withheld was never paid to Mr. Hunt, and consequently must have inured to the benefit of the paymaster or some of his assistants. In justice to Paymaster Deering, who denies the allegations in toto, and presents evidence to refute them, a court of inquiry was deemed necessary. Mr. Hunt, through his attorneys and lawyers, some three or four in number, is pressing the matter vigorously, and with some indications of animosity, and the court is giving him every opportunity to establish his very serious charges. Paymaster Deering has always sustained the very highest reputation for integrity, and if there is anything in this matter which is not correct, it is believed that the investigation will show that it was not with his knowledge or connivance. Four or five years have passed since the alleged improper transactions occurred, and it seems a little late in the day to bring the matter forward.—Army and Navy Journal.

A Story for Repudiators.

There is a very interesting episode in the history of Illinois which is apropos of the situation in Louisiana at the present time.

In her early days Illinois was ambitious of developing her resources by a grand system of internal improvements. The Illinois canal was projected, and the work of building it carried out. The State assisted the enterprise with bonds to the amount of several million dollars. After a few years these bonds came to be regarded by the people as a great burden. The State was poor, and the people found great difficulty in paying their taxes. The interest on the bonds was not promptly met, and the debt gradually grew, until it amounted to more than seven millions of dollars. Then there was loud talk of repudiation.

A convention was called to meet at Springfield, the capital of the State, for the purpose of repudiating the whole debt. Lyman Trumbull was at the head of the movement, and repudiation was looked upon as an accomplished fact. The value of the bonds fell until they were regarded as almost worthless.

The convention met, and the repudiation ordinance was prepared. It was about being adopted when Stephen A. Douglas, who was sick at his hotel, asked to be taken into the convention. He was carried on a mattress, and lying on his back, for he was too weak to sit up, he wrote the following resolution, which he offered as a substitute for the repudiation ordinance:

"Resolved, That Illinois will be honest, although she never pays a cent."

The resolution took like wildfire. It touched the honest sentiment of every member of the convention. It was adopted with the wildest enthusiasm. It dealt a death blow to the repudiation sentiment throughout the State. The canal bonds immediately advanced in value and in a short time were quoted at par. Telegrams were received from New York that Illinois could have all the money she wanted.

What was the result? Capital and emigration flowed into the State, and Illinois is to-day one of the richest and most prosperous States in the Union. She has more miles of railway than any of the other States. Her broad prairies are one great grain-field, and are dotted with hundreds of thousands of peaceful, happy homes. Thriving cities and beautiful villages are found everywhere within her borders. This is what honesty has done for Illinois. What would repudiation have done?—New Orleans Times.

THE SUBSCRIBER takes this method of informing the public that he has purchased the Steamer JAMES SAMPSON, and will continue to run her as formerly between Portsmouth and Kittery. This boat was built in 1876, and is constructed of the best material; has double engines and is first class in all her appointments. It will be my aim to merit the public confidence, and I assure them that the boat will be in charge of reliable and competent men. Thanking the public for their generous support in making this a permanent institution, I shall as heretofore run the JAMES SAMPSON on stated times, and will inform the public of any change.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS
There seems to be no country under the sun where Dyspepsia is so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and is to be found in almost every household; and consequently such a household remedy as the Bitters is of inestimable value to the American people. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. For sale by all druggists and respectable Dealers generally.

THE SUBSCRIBER continues for sale this standard machine. Twenty years of constant and successful competition with the combined skill of all other makers has perfected a machine that may justly be called the standard. It is now the most simple and combines more practical and excellent features than any other machine, and will be sold at greatly reduced prices this year. It is time for farmers to purchase articles that have true and known merits and not be deceived by the plausible stories told by irresponsible parties; too much money has already been wasted in this way. NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Mr. Doane's sloop boat "Ada" is making it warm work for the other fast boats on the river.

Fifteen men were "required" on the navy yard, Friday, and twenty-five more this morning.

The York stage left this city Saturday forenoon with a full fare of passengers, and the top and trunk-racks loaded with baggage.

Mr. Edw. Marshall, of the Marshall house at York habor, is putting up a private residence for his family near the hotel, twenty-eight feet by thirty-eight on the ground.

Schooner Satellite, Capt. Adderton, from Manchester, Mass., and schooner Dauntless, Capt. Tatton, from St. John, N. B., for Dover with a load of lumber, were at Portsmouth bridge on Saturday.

Mrs. John Chapman and Mrs. Plaisted Perkins, of Boston, have arrived at their summer cottage at Kennebunkport, to spend the season. They drove from Boston in their private carriage, unattended by any male.

Mr. William A. Peirce of this city, one of the State railroad commissioners, was at Saratoga, N. Y., last week, as a representative from New Hampshire to the national convention of railroad commissioners held at that place.

The estate on Cass street formerly owned by Howard M. Messer was sold at auction on Saturday by Hon. M. Bufford, administrator, to Samuel S. Frye, who bought subject to widow's rights of dower and homestead, etc., at $21.00.

An Exeter correspondent says: "George W. Buxton, superintendent of the Exeter manufacturing company, is dangerously ill. About a year ago he was bitten near the end of his forefinger by a cat, and the symptoms now developed are common in hydrophobia."

The ancient church edifice at Kittery point, built in 1730, remodeled first in 1840, and again in 1874, has been recently improved in externals by a new steeple, new pediment ends, blinds, and painting. It is now one of the most attractive country churches in York county. Rev. T. N. Lord supplies its pulpit for the present.

At the fifty-seventh annual meeting of the New Hampshire Historical Society, held in Concord on Wednesday, the 11th inst., Col. William H. Hackett of this city was appointed a member of the committee to take into consideration the best method of preserving town reports and other public documents, and Rev. James DeNormandie was chosen a member of the library committee. Hon. Daniel Marcy of this city and Hon. Warren Brown of Hampton Falls were among the new members elected.

The potato-bugs are reported as getting more and more numerous in York county; the seaweed and rockweed along the beaches of Gerrish's island and York swarms with them, the farmers asserting that a load of the weed would consist of about equal parts of weed and bugs. The recent frosts did little damage, except in a few localities where corn was touched and had to be replanted. The grass-worm, a grub very similar in appearance to the worm found in apples, has operated in spots in a few places, causing the grass to have a burnt look, and totally killing it; but this worm has not yet become common enough to do any appreciable damage to the grass crop.

A Hampton correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter give the following account of the brilliant success of an experiment in gardening: "One of our inexperienced gardeners, wishing to raise some early beans for the market, and to save the trouble of procuring poles, acted upon the advice of one of his neighbors, and planted a sunflower seed in each hill with his beans. They soon sprang up and looked flourishing for a week or two. The shoots of the beans entwined themselves affectionately around the stocks of the sunflowers, and the experiment bid fair to be succesful until the morning of the 7th. After the beautiful shower Mr. L— took a stroll into his field to look after his bean patch, but soon returned with a dejected look upon his countenance, and told his wife that the sunflowers had grown so much faster than the beans that the latter had all been pulled up by the roots. So Mr. L— concludes there will not be a great saving after all."

James Blaisdell, of Beech ridge, York, raised the frame of a new house on Thursday of last week.

The very handsome show of pictures on the Congress street bill boards, put there by Barnum's "paste-pot brigade," attacts the attention and admiration of all passers.

Edward Sawyer, son of the late Thomas E. Sawyer of Dover, has been elected secretary and treasurer of the St. Paul & Pacific railroad company, having his office in St. Paul, Minn.

Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., of Kittery, who has been confined to his bed for eight or ten days past by an affection of the muscles of the back, has so far recovered as to be able to move around a little out of doors.

Miss Kate E. Furber of Dover, for some time past organist of the Catholic church in that city, has resigned, and accepted a similar position in a Boston church. A lady from Lewiston, Me., has taken Miss Furber's former position in the Dover, church.

Edward Riley was arrested in Dover Thursday last, and locked up to await a requisition from the governor of Massachusetts, to which State he will be taken to answer to the charge of burglary in breaking and entering the house of Wm. H. Lackey of Westboro'.

A singular and nearly-fatal accident. Deacon Greenleaf C. Brown, a well-known resident of Stratham, while hauling wood on Thursday, slightly wounded the back of one his hands with a knot, which caused a slight flow of blood. Friday, while cultivating in one of his fields, he struck at a fly which was bothering his horse, and broke an artery in his hand, causing the blood to spurt from the wound so freely that he fell to the ground exhausted and insensible. When found he was in a critical condition. A ligature was necessary to stop the flow of blood. At last accounts he was improving, but very weak.—Times.

Walter Moulton, son of Asa Moulton, of York, a few days ago caught in Mother Ben's creek a huge snapping turtle, estimated by those who saw it to have weighed between eighty and one hundred pounds. The boy saw the big snapper on the bottom, and punched him with a pole, which the snapper bit and held on to, and by which he was pulled out upon the bank. The captor turned him over on his back, procured a wheelbarrow and transported him home, and moored him in the yard with a rope; but during the following night the captive chewed the rope in two, and made himself scarce.

POLITICS IN STRATHAM.

On a petition of citizens of Stratham that Josiah B. Wiggin of that town be admitted to a seat in the House of Representatives, the committee on elections of the House made a favorable and unanimous report, giving the vote of the town, as it should have been declared, as ninety-four for a Mr. Jones, democrat, and ninety-seven for Mr. Wiggin.

The report being before the House, Mr. Dodge of Manchester, republican, said that the evidence in the case of Mr. Wiggin seemed to be all on one side. The report of the committee was a just one, as near as could be made. He wished to give some statement of the evidence. In the first place Mr. Wiggin had some of the best men on both sides in his favor, both democrats and republicans, and their evidence was to the effect that at the election it was understood that Mr. Wiggin was elected, and that it was so stated by the moderator; but the vote was not so declared. Near the closing of the polls, several candidates had not voted. Finally these candidates did vote, and Mr. Wiggin also. When the vote was declared it was announced that no election had been made. No warning had been given in regard to the closing of the polls, except a simple question by the moderator, "Are your votes all in?" At that time two gentlemen presented their votes, but the moderator said, "The polls are closed and you are too late." They persisted that their votes should be taken, but the moderator refused to take them. Mr. Dodge also gave circumstances of democrats voting illegally. He severely criticised the proceedings of the moderator in closing the polls in such an arbitrary manner, and in depriving citizens of their legal right to vote. He claimed that Mr. Wiggin had as good a right to a seat as any member in the House. The moderator had violated his oath of office.

On a vote the report of the committee was adopted without a division, so Mr. Wiggin takes the seat out of which the democratic moderator attempted to cheat him.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.
JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Montana.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.
I think it the best medicine I ever used.
W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

Political.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican is very much dissatisfied with the nomination of Hon. Henry W. Blair for United States senator. This will go far to convince any doubting republicans that the choice was one eminently fit to be made.

Congress has several times adjourned out of respect for dead men. It should now adjourn out of respect for the living. —N. O. Picayune, dem.

Mr. H. M. Dixon, whose former card on the methods of Mississippi politics has been noticed in the Tribune, has published a second one in which he charges distinctly that $3,000 was raised to be used in stuffing ballot-boxes in Yazoo county in 1875, and promises to produce the receipt to show who had the money, and to exhibit the false key to the ballot-box. If a few more democrats like Dixon were to follow his example and reveal the secrets of the party as fearlessly as he has, the public would begin to realize that half the truth concerning the democratic "regeneration" of the south has not been told by the "lying northern newspapers."—N. Y. Tribune.

—One J. Reed, of Minnesota, has patented a recipe for manufacturing a "substitute" for tobacco, which is as follows: Take "spikenard, red clover, hyssop, hops, slippery elm bark, tarred rope, pennyroyal, mullen leaves, when skunk cabbage can not be had, kinnikinic, wild-cherry bark and ginseng." These, as the manufacturers of artificial fertilizers say of their materials, "must be thoroughly mixed."

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of the city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

BUTLER & LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

—"What is your business here?" asked an irate beauty of an Irish hotel servant whom she found at her door. "To answer the belles, marm," said the ready Hibernian, with a look of respectful admiration which won him a smile and a quarter.

—"Man alive," exclaimed the judge, in a heated discussion of a tangled theological point with a friend, "I tell you you are a free agent. You do not have to obey any one." "Yes," said Goodman, meekly, "but I do, though." "Who?" shouted the judge, "who?" "My wife, her two sisters and the baby," howled the good man, meekly triumphant. Red lights and slow curtain.

—They have caught the king of turtles in the river below Philadelphia. The monster was eight feet long and five feet broad and weighed 800 pounds. Its head was twice the size of a man's, and its flippers "two feet longer than a man's arm." Great stories are told of its violent struggles when captured, and its combat at death. Professor Cope, of the Academy of Natural Sciences, has obtained possession of its shell.

—A queer instance of love's vicissitudes has occurred in Becket, Mass. Two young swains, brothers, have been courting sweethearts in their teens, one going to Otis and one to Chester. The other day the Otis girl, the belle of the region, was persuaded by her lover, while on a visit to Southwick, to step over the line into Granby, Conn., and get married. Then the pair returned home, the bride going to her parents, and the marriage was announced. Repentance has followed the girl's rashness, however, and now she declines to have anything to do with her husband, talking even of a divorce. The other young man immediately married his girl, going no farther than the town clerk's office for his wedding tour, and the father-in-law is so cut up by the hasty marriage that he has got even by having his son-in-law fined for keeping an unlicensed dog.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of
$1.50 per year, paid in advance, or
$2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a WEEKLY INVITATION TO CUSTOMERS, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution established. Rash, Eruptions, Salt-rheum, Tetter, Ringworm, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has established the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, compounded of cheap, crude, and dry ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required in their use. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Inflammation, Acid Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or blown or applied by the aid of Dr. PIERCE'S Nozzle. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFECTLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and easily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.

CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.
The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.
Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.
The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.
Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.
N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1879: "The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, by which the essential medical principles are obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is foul, worthless, and totally unfit for use; an organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all foods are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all medicines, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus affording immediate and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and blood. Thus it acts. That a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen.—About twelve years ago, while travelling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as their singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home, unable to sing a note. For five years afterwards I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated. In the winter I contracted no cold, but the attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head; was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all the advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. Its harmless character, the absence of aches, eyes sobe, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the clotted secretions in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours, GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

WALTHAM, MASS., Jan. 8, 1878.

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

Plasters have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the immense number of remedies in the form of liniments, lotions, pain-killers, and quasi plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as evinced by over one hundred unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have been cured, and it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best plaster in the world of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is a fair and reasonable trial. The price is 25 cents, although it cost is double that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of the proprietors to make the plaster the world for the least money, any other remedy can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent them for larger profits, and endeavor to substitute others. Don't allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

A New Way to Win a Wife.

A radiant young fellow shook our hand with a vise-like grip yesterday as he ejaculated in volcanic words: "Congratulate me! congratulate me! I am the happiest man this side of the Elysian Fields. At last! at last! Why, I am walking to triumph! Why is it? Won a lottery prize? Laugh! She has consented—she has promised to marry me—the prettiest girl in Kentucky—the girl who jilted me seven times before she said yes. Five long years have I loved her. I wooed her ardently, tenderly, gallantly. I had money; I was young; I was not bad looking. But she refused me. I sought honors and eminence in my profession. I gained them. I laid them at her feet; she declined them. Seven separate times had I addressed her, and seven separate times had I been refused. I was in despair. I was losing my own respect and probably hers and I determined to quit, to go away to look upon her face no more. I packed my trunk for Leadville. I started out to buy my ticket, when a plan flashed to me—a plan, a plan! I went back. I tried it. I won." "And the plan?" "I hired myself to her father as a coachman."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Amusements at Sea.

All the Cunard and other large steamships possess a good library for light reading, besides which there are usually many little solacements for relieving the tedium of the first-class passengers.

When the weather is fine there are games of shuffle-board on the deck that draw a number of players and onlookers. The pieces of wood are flat discs, easily handled in shoving them along to a goal, as in the case of bowls. This forms an agreeable recreation and affords good exercise.

When outdoor amusements are impracticable the saloon has its clusters of passengers busy at something or other. One party will be playing whist; another is eagerly watching a game at chess; a third party will be listening to a thrilling tale of the sea by an old salt; a fourth party is attending to a game of backgammon.

In the evening when lamps are lighted, there is sometimes a kind of musical concert, for which an obliging young lady, or perhaps a musically-inclined purser, presides at the piano. Often in ships of this description there is a good deal of heavy betting. The bets will be as to the day and hour of arrival at port, what will be the number of the first pilot-boat that presents itself, and so on; some of the bets being sufficiently ridiculous and the cause of much fun, but also the loss of a good deal of money. In all the well-regulated vessels the ship's officers are strictly excluded from gaming or betting.

The youngsters who happen to be on board have their own amusements in the games and sayings of children. In these juveniles the cow is an object of much interest. The poor animal, which is required for the sake of its milk, occupies (as we have it) a booth at the corner of one of the paddle-boxes. There, well-bedded, and tied up cow-fashion, it is observed munching its food with the most perfect placidity, although a thousand miles from home, and the sea all around with long sweeping waves, might be supposed to disturb its equanimity. For air it has a door with the upper half left open. Stretching over the lower half-door, the children look in and make their comments on the comfortable quarters, speak of the nice smell of the hay, and wonder if the cow is ever seasick. We have seldom seen a fractious child-in-arms who has not been soothed by being treated to a look at the cow.

This practice of taking cows to sea is one of the luxuries of modern travelling. A concern such as the Cunard has an establishment of cows at Liverpool and New York, and there is a change of animals each voyage. A curious life that for a cow. Twelve days browsing in a field and stretching its legs, and the next twelve crossing the Atlantic. If one of these cows could write the story of its life it might tell of having crossed the Atlantic 150 times and seen a good deal of the world.—Good Words.

What are the Profits!

This is the absorbing point that is of chief interest in every business transaction. By the combination system of operating in stocks, Messrs. Lawrence & Co., Bankers, N. Y., unite the orders of thousands of patrons in various sums, into one immense amount, and operate them as a mighty whole, thus obtaining all the advantages of the largest capital and best skill. Profits are distributed pro rata among shareholders every month. In this way large gains are secured in short periods, and capital from $10 or $15 to $50,000 can be used with equal proportionate success. $20 will make $100 in 30 days. $150 will pay $1,500 profit, or 10 per cent. on the stock, and so on, according to the market. A citizen of Troy, made $815.75 on an investment of $50. Many customers are doing better. The new circular has "two unerring rules for success," and full details so that any one can operate profitably. Stocks and bonds wanted. Government bonds supplied. Apply to Lawrence & Co., Bankers, 57 Exchange Place, N. Y.

Caught at Last.

The notorious depredator Kate-Arch, who has for so many years eluded the most accomplished and skillful detectives has been caught at last in Buffalo, N. Y. For further particulars, ask your druggists for a bottle of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, admitted to be the best remedy for catarrh yet compounded.

Portsmouth Chronicle

TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 1879.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Alaska was to have sailed from Alaska for San Francisco on the 7th inst.

Norfolk, Va., advices of June 13th, contain the following: "United States sloop-of-war Vandalia, now in Hampton Roads, will come up to the yard to-morrow. Capt. D. B. Harmony will be ordered to the command of the flagship Powhatan on her return here in September. The Powhatan sailed for New York on Monday."

The U. S. S. Trenton sailed from Gibralter for Spithead on the 10th inst.

The Adams was at Panama on the 4th inst., to sail soon for San Francisco.

The U. S. S. Enterprise arrived at Antwerp June 3d, from Havre.

Voyaging to Europe by Balloon.

Another project of this kind, as we learn by the newspapers, is on foot by Professor King at Philadelphia, who contemplates starting on his trip in 1880, when, according to Mother Shipton's prophecy, the world is coming to an end. One event is doubtless as likely to occur as the other. We have been promised so many wonderful things, in air-voyages, of late years, as to make us quite as incredulous as we are thus far in regard to the success of Keely's motor, that was certainly to be exhibited at the Centennial, but did not make its appearance. At Hoboken, opposite New York on the Hudson, a man was at work, not many years ago, for a long while, upon a flying-machine, that, the very last heard of it, was said, before astonishing the world, to be waiting only for the completion of a steam-engine by which it was to be propelled. Besides various other schemes of the kind that came to nought, about four years ago or less, an air-ship was announced to leave Baltimore on a certain day, and reach New York in three hours; but just as it was to start, a tornado, or something like it, knocked the invention all to flinders, perhaps saving the credit of the inventor in its want of success; and so the New Yorkers never got a sight of the new craft, that was to sail through the air instead of upon the water, they were told to look out for. About the same time a Professor Somebody, who claimed to have had much experience in ballooning, constructed an immense article of the kind, in which he was to take a trip to Europe, or so he announced, which was exhibited in an uptown district of New York, and in which people were allowed to ascend to the height of a hundred feet and more, when they were pulled down again by means of a rope; the famous Talmage, of Brooklyn, improving the opportunity, in one of its ascents, to marry a couple ambitious of so absurd a notoriety. The balloon, the public were told, like the Hoboken flying-machine, was to be propelled by a steam-engine; the latter, however, did not make its appearance, but a crank was seen about the size of that of a grindstone, at one end of the balloon, that, it was said, was to turn some sort of a contrivance which was to take the place of the steam-engine. When the people of the larger city had seen enough of the humbug and visitors to it became scarce, it was removed to a similar situation in Brooklyn where the same process went on, freqent ascents being made, until a day, when the young adventurer who had been assistant to the professor, was to start without fail, for Europe. The newspaper reporters climbed to the summit of the bridge-tower on the Brooklyn side of the river, to see his departure, as did others to church-steeples and the roofs of dwellings, but instead of journeying to the other side of the Atlantic, the "daring and intrepid aeronaut" landed on Long Island, half a dozen miles from his starting-point. New York and its neighborhood, having had enough, by that time, of so shallow an imposture, the Professor's assistant went off with the balloon to the western section of the country, where, after making various ascents, he started on one from which he and his companion never returned, the balloon being seen over Lake Erie struggling in a terrific storm of thunder and lightning that arose very soon after it left the ground. The unfortunate occupants were supposed to have perished in the lake.

P. T. Barnum, the irrepressible and inimitable, was said to have announced about that time that he would expend the next season sixty thousand dollars in trying to accomplish what others had failed to do in the same way; but probably concluded to use the money in some enterprise, that, with his skill, would be more sure of success.

The Philadelphia professor will doubtless make money with his balloon during the summer in the ordinary way, but as to travelling in it to Europe, he is just as likely to visit the moon. J. H. B.

News and Notes.

The boat-race on the river Tyne, at Newcastle, England, between Wm. Elliott, the English champion, and Edward Hanlan of Toronto, Canada, for £200 a side and the sportsman's challenge cup, was pulled on Monday, an immense crowd of spectators being present. Hanlan won easily by eight lengths.

Dr. A. F. Packard, of Sangerville, Me., committed suicide by shooting himself in the head on a railroad bridge in Bangor on Sunday night.

The steamer Orphens blew up in Stettin harbor on Sunday, and many lives were lost. Ten bodies were recovered in a few hours after the accident.

Mrs. Eliza Upham, of Worcester, Mass., was fatally burned by her clothes taking fire Saturday night from a broken kerosene lamp. The lamp was broken during a row in which Mrs. Upham was acting as a peacemaker.

James D. Reed of South Middleboro, Mass., while hewing wood near his residence Friday, cut into a fever sore on his leg that caused his death within a few minutes.

Schooner Marion arrived at Gloucester, Mass., on Saturday, from the banks, bringing in an immense ground shark which became entangled in her trawls. It measured sixteen feet in length, weighed 2000 pounds and its liver filled two and one-half barrels. It has been presented to Prof. Baird's collection.

John Nugent, a New York policeman, has been held in $30,000 bail for trial on a charge of complicity in the Manhattan bank robbery.

At the New England yearly meeting of Friends at Portland, epistles of brotherly love were received from the yearly meetings at London, Ireland, and several of the States. All the quarterly meetings report their quota of stock voted to be raised last year. The woman's meeting assembled Saturday morning, Mrs Annie G. Ward of New Bedford presiding. Epistles of greeting were received from the yearly meetings at home and abroad.

The barque Monrovia sailed from New York on Saturday for Africa with about fifty negroes, sent there by the colonization society. Among the passengers are ex-senator A. L. Stanford of Arkansas and family, who go to Liberia to settle. Several missionaries are also passengers.

Edward Jackson of Waltham, Mass., recently employed in the watch factory, has eloped with a dashing young woman named Minnie Haven, also an employe in the watch factory, leaving behind a wife and child.

On Monday of last week Samuel Hawes and family of Hanover, Mass., dined on bluefish which he had bought of a peddler, and on Tuesday they were all taken very sick with vomiting and burning sensation in the stomach. One of the family has since died, and the rest are very ill.

Steamer Twilight, of the Coney island line, while proceeding up New York harbor Sunday night with a thousand passengers on board, was run into and badly damaged by steamer Collyer of the same line, causing the wildest fright among the passengers. The Twilight was brought to anchor and order was soon restored, when the Collyer, which was uninjured, soon landed the people. No lives are reported lost.

Ten thousand dollars have been deposited at Provincetown, Mass., by the Spanish government, as indemnity to the owners of schooner Rizpah and Rising Sun, which were seized south of Cuba by a Spanish gunboat and interrupted in their whaling operations.

The fishing schooner George O. Hovey, arrived at Gloucester last week from George's bank, reports seeing two fishing schooners bottom up, but the sea was so rough that no investigation could be made. It is possible that they are two of the missing fleet lost in the February gales.

There was a flurry in the New York stock market on Saturday, Elevated Railroad stock tumbling from 180 to 165.

The spinners at Fall River have unanimously agreed to strike because the manufacturers refuse to increase their wages fifteen per cent. They met Saturday evening and voted to give a ten days' notice on Monday. If they persist, all the mills at Fall River will be stopped, and at least 15,000 persons thrown out of employment.

A bill making civil marriage obligatory before religious rites can be performed was recently passed by the Italian chamber of deputies, and the Pope has issued a letter in the hope of preventing its passage by the senate. He claims the State has no right to interfere in matters connected with marriage, as it is not an invention of man but simple obedience to a command of God.

The Old Colony railroad has paid damages to over 600 persons injured by the Wollaston disaster, amounting to about $250,000. It is understood that the company will pay no dividend in July, making a year of dividends lost on account of the accident.

The will of William Lloyd Garrison has been filed for probate. By it $300 are bequeathed to each of his grandchildren, the remainder of the estate to be divided equally among his five children, who are also appointed sole executors, without bonds. The will is dated February 6th, 1876.

The Canadian government has discovered that, in order to evade the duty on flour, American shippers have placed a Canadian brand upon American flour. The customs department at Halifax has been instructed to require Canadian customs certificates for all flour said to be Canadian, imported via the United States.

George R. Reynolds, the Salt Lake bigamist, was Saturday sentenced to pay $500 fine and to suffer two years' imprisonment. He is the first Mormon convicted, and will be imprisoned at Detroit.

At Boswell, Ind., at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, about one hundred and fifty persons who were engaged in a shooting tournament took refuge in a low shed from a severe thunder-storm. Lightning struck the shed and instantly killed two men, fatally injured three, and less seriously harmed several others.

At Buffalo Gap, D. T., on Thursday night of last week, a waterspout caused a sudden rise in Beaver creek, by which two women, six men and three children on their way to the Black hills in emigrant wagons, were swept away and drowned.

At the cemetery, Friday, while the last rites were being performed, the cross bars supporting the coffin of Mrs. Hull, the victim of the mysterious murder in New York, gave way, precipitating it endway into the grave, and the accident required some twenty minutes to rectify in a bungling manner, before the coffin was properly interred.

At East Cambridge, Mass., on Friday, a jury awarded Josephine Tellier $8000 in a suit against John Lattinaille of Marlboro' for seduction and breach of promise of marriage. Evidence was offered to the effect that the plaintiff was eighteen years of age and the defendant forty-five. Lattinaille and the mother of the girl are cousins.

Mrs. Sigmund Von Low of Vienna, Austria, fatally shot herself at the St. Nicholas hotel in Cincinnati on Saturday. Her husband returned to Europe last month, since when she has had no communication from him, and becoming despondent, she resolved to end her life.

The Franconia Profile Notch railroad is completed to within two miles of the Profile house. The work is being rapidly pushed and will be finished within ten days. The second engine from the Hinkley locomotive works arrived and was set up Friday. It is proposed to run eight trains a day through the summer.

The Colonel's Opera Cloak is one of the latest publications of the "No Name Series" issued by Messrs. Roberts Brothers of Boston. This story abounds in well-delineated characters. It is written and published with special reference to the wants of readers during the holidays; indeed, the author takes some of his characters to a seaside hotel for a brief period. It will require no great degree of mental effort to master this story. There is the usual love episode, in the result of which the young folks who while away their time in the summer vacation can be interested; and in the description of the southern lady, the thrifty and well-trained New England housekeeper will recognize an element of diversity from her accustomed well established ways. The book can be had of Mercer Goodrich, at his bookstore on Market square; price one dollar. It is the second number of the No Name (second) series, and is uniform in type and style of binding with others that will succeed it.

—The bones of an elephant have been exhumed right in the heart of London. That must have been the elephant that so many have in years past gone to the city to see.

—An English clown, Billy Walton, was buried according to his dying wish. There was a procession of the performers in costume and paint, the band occupying the gaudy circus carriage, the air being "In some far sultry clime," and as the grave was filled his brother clowns turned a somersault over it.

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS
There seems to be no country under the sun where Dyspepsia is so prevalent as in the United States. Here the disease has become domesticated, and is to be found in almost every household; and consequently such a household remedy as the Bitters is of inestimable value to the American people. As an invigorating, regulating and restorative preparation, suited to all climates and contingencies, it stands alone among modern medicines. For sale by all druggists and respectable Dealers generally.

AROUND HOME.

The high school exhibition is to be given Thursday June 26th.

See notice of auction sale at noon this day, of dwellings numbered 19 and 21 on Court street.

Mr. John S. Whidden has become a partner with Mr. Hiram C. Locke, in the fruit store on Market street.

Dr. Donaldson, who is visiting the New York Medical Hospital, will return to Portsmouth and resume his practice July 1st.

The men "required" on the navy yard on Friday of last week and Monday of this week, were all "required" to leave again Monday noon.

The ship Wm. H. Marcy, of this port, J. Touro Marcy master, arrived at Queenstown, Ireland, on Sunday, from San Francisco with a cargo of wheat.

Thomas Sheehan and M. J. Ryan of this city had a boat race for ten dollars a side, Monday morning, starting from the Kearsarge at the navy yard. Ryan won.

On Saturday, John S. Locke of Hampton was arrested for an assault growing out of a dispute about property. He was taken before Justice Lamprey and fined $30 and costs, and ordered to give bonds in the sum of $200 to keep the peace; not being able to procure sureties he was brought to this city and lodged in jail.

Cadet Bingham, son of Rev. J. F. Bingham, formerly rector of St. John's church of this city, ranked number three in the late graduating class at West Point. Lieut. Bingham has been appointed to the corps of engineers, and is under orders to return to West Point after a two weeks' furlough, to assist in the instruction of the lower classes.

At the annual meeting of the York manufacturing company, at Saco on Thursday of last week, the report of the treasurer stated that the product of the mills the past year had been about 7,000,000 yards, which had been sold, and a profit of nine per cent on the capital realized. The condition of the company is good, with a stock of cotton sufficient to last till October, and bills payable outstanding to the amount of only a little over $60,000.

The concert by the Dover band, on Market square, Monday evening, did not commence until nearly nine o'clock, the band not arriving until late, when they got here on a freight train. A good many people were on the square shortly after eight o'clock, but before the performance commenced many of them had concluded that the band-stand was all of a concert there would be, and had gone home. A large audience gathered again, however, as soon as the music began. The band played finely.

The schooner Cocheco, of this port, Seaward master, which arrived at New York last week from Baltimore, had on board the largest sea-turtle ever taken into New York. It was eight feet long, about six feet wide, and weighed about 1200 pounds. Capt. Seaward discovered it off the capes of Delaware. A boat was launched, and after a rope had been made fast to one of its flippers, it was with great difficulty brought alongside of the schooner and taken on board by means of the windlass and two strong tackles. The united efforts of four strong men were then insufficient to turn the turtle on its back. It is what is called a "leatherback," and but few of its species have been seen, except in the Mediterranean.

The Manchester Mirror of Monday says: "Arrangements have been made for the New Hampshire Press Association to start on an excursion July 10th. The party will meet at Portsmouth on that day, and steamers and barges will be in attendance to convey them up the river to Dover point, and down to Newcastle and Isles of Shoals. Kittery point and the navy yard will be visited, also Rye beach, Straw's point, Concord point, etc., inspecting the life-saving station and the terminus of the Atlantic sub-marine cable; the party will separate on the 14th. Headquarters will be made at the Rockingham house, Portsmouth, and the Wentworth at Newcastle, both of which are under the management of Messrs. Hilton & Co. The expenses of the trip will be very small, it being expected that the cost for each person will not exceed $12."

Major Augustus S. Nicholson, U. S. M. C., adjutant and inspector of the marine corps, is ordered to inspect the marine post at this navy yard.

REAL ETSATE SALES.

On Saturday last Messrs. Morse & Ilsley of this city sold for George O. Chapman, auctioneer, by order of the executors of the late Rev. Daniel Austin of Kittery, all the real estate in that town belonging to the estate, as follows:

The "Landscape lodge," so-called, to J. Langdon Ward, for $1075;

The "Fernald pasture," containing eleven acres of land, more or less, to the same, for $215;

The "Grant house" and "Riverside-row house," in one lot, to Ephraim C. Spinney, for $810;

Four building lots on Pearson, Water and Newmarch streets, one of them having a barn thereon, to Josiah A. Stover, for $600;

Two building lots, on Pearson and Newmarch streets, to Moses A. Safford, for $155.

After the real estate was disposed of a sailboat and tender belonging to the estate were sold to Wm. F. Fernald for $19.

Messrs. Morse & Ilsley also sold, for the Portsmouth savings bank, the "Wm. B. Dodge farm," in Hampton, Wm. H. Rollins, Esq., of this city, being the purchaser for $2810.

[Communicated.]

A RELIGIOUS EDITOR.

The Times of the 10th inst. copied an item from Foster's Democrat that was interesting to the religious portion of the community, not perhaps from the logical manner in which the subject was handled, but from the fact that it conveyed to the public mind one astonishing fact,—that the editor of the Democrat has certainly taken his Bible from its hiding place, brushed the dust from its covers, and virtually said to the people that he has not lost all faith in the book. This perhaps is only an aberration of fancy, but we judge it is so from his apparent religious zeal.

The item referred to speaks of Mr. Waite's sojourn in Portsmouth, and as it was written for the edification of the people let us glean what we can from his statements, as the public press is a powerful agent when it sounds forth its voice of warning, advice, and improvement. Mr. Foster is opposed to this religious excitement, as it "makes lunatics of the people and sends them to the asylum." We judge by this remark that he has already estimated what it costs to support our State institutions; the county farms, filled with paupers made so by intemperance. We judge that he has estimated the amount it frequently costs our State to execute the law upon those who have perpetrated the most terrible deeds when in a state of intoxication; for through the influence of strong drinks, honor, home, family, and life itself is sacrificed; they all perish on the altar of intemperance, and our daily papers so often proclaim it to the people that the average reader gives it no more than a passing thought. But how the public is startled, when wafted on the swift wings of the press we learn of the dreadful Pocasset tragedy—the victim a bright little girl, the father a religious lunatic,—as dangerous as the drunken lunatic and far more rare,—but murder is murder, whether with a fond kiss and by his own hand a father takes the life of his little child, or with a profane curse he butchers his entire family.

Mr. Foster recommends that "the local press and pulpit sound forth its voice and thunder if needful to the people" to rid themselves of the one whom he evidently considers may have been instrumental in adding a few inmates to our insane asylum. Let the press and the pulpit and Mr. Foster himself zealously take up the words that come from the lips and hearts of many a wretched wife and mother who has seen those whose life was bright with promise made a blight through the demon of intemperance. Let them make mention of those who through its agency are confined within prison walls; those who through its influence have been led to deeds that have ended their life on the scaffold. Let them point to the lunatics who daily walk our streets; the common drunkard, the paupers that fill our county farm; the little children whose lives are made wretched, and oftimes blended with crime, because of their associations. Let them make mention of the gray-haired father whose bowed form and premature old age are fruits of what he has suffered by the unfortunate career of an only son. Let them recall the broken heart of many a mother whose boy to-day is an inmate of some lunatic asylum, not from religious excitement but as the victim of strong drink. Let their censure fall alike upon all,—upon those whose traffic shadows the brightest minds and makes their lives a curse, who people a vast portion of every State with lunatics and fools.

Again, referring to Mr. Waite, the editor of the Democrat asserts "that if he should visit Dover we will make it terrible hot for him." We presume this editor has learned by experience how hot a place must be for one to be glad to make his exit.

Again Mr. Foster says, "We not only disbelieve utterly in that sort of religion which makes lunatics of people but we are decidedly down on that kind." I doubt if Mr. Waite or any of his supporters desire to deprive any other persons of their religious views, simply because they do not coincide with theirs. This editor of course has a perfect right to retain his—if he has any—as well as all those who differ. We live in an age when all are free to follow the dictates of their own consciences. Mr. Waite's talents and eloquence, and his orderly and well-attended meetings, are a sufficient recommendation for the gentleman.

In concluding his item the editor of the Democrat summarizes Mr. Waite's religion as "false and spurious and its father is the devil." One would almost judge from this remark that Mr. Foster knows by experience what pure and undefiled religion is; but whatever his views we will not question them further, for

"It is easy enough for the lovers of sin to Believe in no heaven they cannot get into;
And natural too, for the wicked to doubt of
A hell which they fear they cannot keep out of.

But honest mankind who desire to do right,
Had much better keep the old land-mark in sight
And it always is safe to distrust and to fear,
The logic that's made up of froth and a sneer."

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective alkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.

JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Montana.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.

I think it the best medicine I ever used.

W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this regulation shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

BUTLER & LAIGHTON,

No. 1 Market Square.

A Southern Story for Congress.

Somebody has told this joke on a militia colonel during the war: On one occasion he drew his regiment up along a river bank to attack a Federal gunboat. The gunboat began pouring in broadsides and knocked the sand bank all to pieces, when, finding his position untenable, the colonel give the unique but effective command: "Unbank and sedge." Directly, however, the shells began falling too thickly in the sedge, and he shouted: "Unsedge and brush," an order that was unanimously obeyed. Even here the fire was too hot, and the underbush was being torn to tatters. Unable to stand the pressure any longer he shrieked, "Unbrush and squander." It is a pity to make comparisons, but the democrats in Washington have been taking a lesson from the old militia hero. They have at last got to the "brush," and it looks as if some of them are getting ready even to "unbrush and squander."—Winnsboro', S. C., News, dem.

—The wheelbarrow is the most useful and elegant appendage of a well-regulated back yard. Any one coming in contact with one on a very dark night cannot fail to be struck forcibly with the truth of this remark. He'll tumble to it at once.

—"Nothing seems to me so ill-bred," says a young man, "as to smoke in the presence of ladies." "Well," a friend asks, "how do you manage when there are ladies present and you want to smoke?" "How do I manage? Why, I seem ill-bred!"—Paris Figaro.

—A small boy was seen to approach stealthily the windows of the county jail at Raymond, Miss., a few days ago, and hand in through the bars something having the appearance of an immense crowbar. The police were informed of it, and a posse of men surrounded the jail, while a couple of officers proceeded to the cell to recover the weapon from the prisoner. On reaching the cell they found the prisoner quietly sitting on his stool, devouring a yard-long bologna sausage.

GAZETTE
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of NEWS, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offmored by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it it the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY
By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mineral Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a healthy complexion established. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, Tetter or Ringworm, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.
Extensively has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Rose Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.
If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.
In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and against physicians and prejudice it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets
SIZE OF PELLETS.
THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.
No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These Pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance of the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Fullness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Heated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative influence. And does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and included in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by Druggists.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D., Prop'r, World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

CATARRH
SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up or obstruction of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.
DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY
produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or bitter applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP and PERFectLY APPLIED to all parts of the nasal passages, nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. It is not a douche, but a syringe, and is a valuable accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" in a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by Druggists. R. V. PIERCE, M. THE Alpine Silver Mining Co.,
OF COLORADO.
CAPITAL $2,000,000. 200,000 SH RES.
PAR VALUE, $10 PER SHARE.
UNASSESSIBLE.
Daniel J. Splane, Pres. J. L. Thompson, Sec.

The property of this Company consists of twelve mines and mining locations, located in Lake County, Colorado, in the vicinity of Leadville, upon all of which extensive work has been done, in all cases exhibiting true fissure veins, good pay streak, and well defined lodes.

Three of the leading mines are well opened up and have at the lowest computation over TEN THOUSAND TONS OF ORE IN SIGHT; by May 1st, the Railroad now under construction will be within a short distance of this property.

The Company proposes to sell a portion of its stock at $1.50 per share for the purpose of more completely developing its mines, and for the erection of works for the treatment of its ores.

Applications for the stock may be made to the office of the Company, 61 Broadway, New York.

N. B.—The Mining Record, of New York, the highest mining authority in this country, says Feb. 1st, 1875: The principal owners in this company are hard working men who by their own labor have uncovered large bodies of ore which they now wish to extract and send to market; our readers will do well to make a venture with these worthy men, this money will probably be returned to them twenty fold. The business management has been placed in the care of Mr. J. L. Thompson, an officer of high standing in one of the largest banks in the city. SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

For CATARRH

A purely vegetable distillation entirely unlike all other remedies.

IN the preparation of this remarkable remedy every herb, plant, and bark is subjected to distillation, whereby the essential medical principle is obtained in vapor, condensed and bottled. What remains in the still is inert, valueless, and totally unfit for use in any organism so delicate as the nasal passages. Yet all snuffs are insoluble compounds of woody fibre; all tinctures, saturated solutions.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE

Is a local and constitutional remedy, and is applied to the nasal passages by insufflation, thus allaying inflammation and pain and at once correcting, cleansing and purifying the secretions. Internally administered, it acts upon the organs of circulation, keeps the skin moist, and neutralizes the acid poison that has found its way into the stomach and poisoned the blood. Thus a cure progresses in both directions, and it does not seem possible for human ingenuity to devise a more rational treatment.

SURPRISING CURE.

Gentlemen,—About twelve years ago, while traveling with Father Kemp's Old Folks Concert Troupe as a tenor singer, I took a severe cold and was laid up at Newark, N. J. This cold brought on a severe attack of Catarrh, which I battled with every known remedy for four weeks without avail, and was finally obliged to give up a most desirable position and return home by way of the steamer. The disease had reached my throat, and I was unable to sing at all. The first attack of Catarrh had left my nasal organs and throat so sensitive that the slightest cold would bring on a fresh attack, leaving me prostrated, in this way I continued to suffer. The last attack, the severest I ever had, was terrible. I suffered the most excruciating pain in my head, was so hoarse as to be scarcely able to speak, and coughed incessantly. I thought I was going into quick consumption, and I firmly believe that had these symptoms continued without relief they would have rendered me an easy victim. When in this distressing condition, I commenced the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH, very reluctantly, I confess, as I had tried all other advertised remedies without benefit. The first dose of this wonderful medicine gave me the greatest relief. It immediately penetrated my nose and aches, eyes ache, who can scarcely articulate distinctly on account of the choking accumulations in his throat, to realize how much relief I obtained from the first application of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. Under its influence, both internal and external, I rapidly recovered, and by an occasional use of the remedy since, have been entirely free from Catarrh, for the first time in twelve years.

Respectfully yours,
GEO. W. HOLBROOK.

COLLINS'

VOLTAIC PLASTER

An Electro-Galvanic Battery combined with a highly Medicated Plaster containing the choicest medicinal Gums and Balsams known to modern Pharmacy.

Old Thinkers have now been before the public for years, and, notwithstanding the numerous pretenders to the form of instruments, lotions, paints, and ordinary plasters, they have steadily increased in sale and met with universal approval, as testified by over one thousand unsolicited testimonials in our possession. Many remarkable cases have occurred, and are well-known citizens in all parts of the United States, copies of which will be sent free of charge to any one desiring them. Improvements, in many ways, have been made, as suggested by experience and use, until it is believed that they are now perfect in every respect, and the best placed on the market of medicine. All we ask from every sufferer is a fair and reasonable trial. The price is 25 cents, although there is doubt that of any other plaster. But, notwithstanding the efforts of unscrupulous dealers to make the market flooded with the world for the least money, any other remedy can be bought, numbers of unscrupulous dealers will be found ready to misrepresent their worthless mixtures and endeavor to substitute them. Don't allow yourself to be imposed upon. Ask for

HIGH PRAISE FOR BARNUM'S GREAT SHOW.

Barnum's "Greatest Show on Earth" will exhibit in this city on Saturday, June 28th; it is greater than ever before in all departments, and more than ever deserves its name. The Providence, R., I., Journal speaks of it in the following eulogistic terms, after witnessing the performance in that city:

Barnum is come, and nine thousand men, women and children of this city and vicinity, went to sleep last night with visions of an immense mass of people in a mammoth tent; of graceful, easy bare back riding, of daring, reckless bare-back riding, of wonderful, brilliant bare-back riding, of riding through circles of flame, of hurdle leaping, jumping and dancing on bare-backed horses by women; of four horses cavorting aroned a ring, easily guided and made to take all sorts of positions by a woman; of feats of magic that put everything they ever saw before in the shade; of the most easily performed and most astonishing acrobatic feats; of a woman, all grace and confidence, on a highly trained steed, which she managed by a look or a motion; of exciting bare-back acts by a man that didn't make much fuss over it, but did wonders; of splendid horses going through all sorts of manoeuvres at the will of the master; of a beautiful horse jumping over high gates, neatly, prettily and apparently without exertion; of a leap with double somersault of the backs of six elephants; of funny performances, of all sorts of various other strange sights which are less vivid, not because they were not worth seeing, but because the others were so much beyond them. And as these nine thousand people dropped away in slumber, there were ringing in their ears, the plaudits and the laughter of the multitude—deserved plaudits, and laughter that bespoke rare enjoyment—the jokes of clowns, the music of the band, the words of command, and the speech of the great showman himself. And over all and above all was the satisfied feeling that they had got their money's worth, and more, too, and that at least a dozen times during the evening the impression passed over them that the performance of the particular moment was the best they ever saw in that line. That's about how the people who went to the show felt on getting home after the excitement and enjoyment was over.

To say that Barnum's show this year is the best that ever travelled would be ridiculous. To say that it is the best Barnum ever travelled with is saying all that can be said, and is saying just what Mr. Barnum himself says, and with which the thousands who witnessed it yesterday will agree. There are a few things that everybody recognizes as a part of Barnum's show last year and year before last, but there is much that is new, and even those which are not have many new features, and are seen with new pleasure. It would be impossible, and allow space for our usual variety, to give an idea of of all that is worth noticing in this show. And what is the need of it, when ten or twelve thousand of our readers have seen for themselves, and as many more will see it to-day. It is not guesswork—the statement that nine thousand people were there last evening—it is from a careful estimate by disinterested persons, as well as by Mr. Barnum. The crowd was simply immense, and made the veteran showman happy as a clam. He showed it in his little speech of thanks before the performance was over. There are several things that are worthy of special noltise, as hurdle-riding of Mlle. Linda Jeal, and her dash through flaming circles; the astonishing feats of magic by the Egyptian Jugglers; the wonderful and graceful riding by Madame Dockrill, on one and on four bare-backed horses; the beautiful drawing-room manege act by Miss Emma Lake; the leaping stallion; the poises, plastiques and acrobatic feats by the Herbert Brothers; the daring riding of Signor Sebastian; the beautiful stallions, &c., &c., any one of which is a whole entertainment in itself. But this is only a small part of the show. Nor should the extensive menagerie of animals, many of them rare, nor the Museum, nor the Living Curiosities, be forgotten. An hour may be pleasantly spent in this part of the exhibition. A dozen thousand went to rest in this vicinity last night firm in the belief that Barnum is the biggest man in the world, and his "own and only" the greatest show on earth.

—The governor of St. Petersburg received the other day a note warning him of a plot to poison him. Without showing any emotion, he sent for his cook and said to him: "Read that note. Well, at the first symptom of colic I'll have you strung up."

—"Oh yes," said a feminine lecturer, "you may talk as you please about the gallantry of men in the cars, but how common it is to see a seemingly respectable man dodge behind his newspaper when he sees a lady enter a crowded car! I tell you, my hearers, that the man who does that is the man who plously hates a hireling ministry, and refuses to pay his pew rent on principle."

—A Virginia lady writes: "And now a few words to the girls who may read this. Be careful to whom you write and what you write. Many a loving, trusting letter is sent by a true-hearted girl, and is read by the receiver to a laughing crowd of men, and various remarks are passed about the 'silly girl.' I conscientiously say, on the other hand, that I have never seen or heard of a girl showing her letters promiscuously, even from a man she did not care for, though they are often shown to the one 'dear friend' in strict confidence."

A Family Office.

We clip from the American Ship the following, which indicates that the shipping commissioner's office in New York is a kind of a family machine:

United States Shipping Commissioner Duncan has lately been engaged in proving his accounts before United States Commissioner Gutman as master, as is required by statute. The United States attorney appeared in this examination and made some objections, which were overruled, with a single exception. The report shows that the receipts of the office for 1878 were $34,559.75; that there were expended in the conduct of the office for the same period, $34,062.78. Commissioner Gutman submits the accounts for approval of the court. The salaries charged in the vouchers are as follows: C. C. Duncan, $5,000; C. F. Duncan, $3,800; G. E. Duncan, $3,800; C. D. Duncan, $1,583.33, and H. E. Duncan, $1,266.57. There are seventeen other employes on the list.

Naval Affairs.

Information was received in New York from the authorities at Washington, Monday morning, by officers of the Pacific Mail steamship company, that the United States screw-steamer Marion, carrying eight guns and attached to the North Atlantic squadron, had been ordered from Key West or Pensacola to Aspinwall, to protect American interests at that port. The recent revolution on the Isthmus has found Aspinwall without the presence of any American vessel of war, and the property of the Panama railroad, the Pacific Mail steamship company and others was without protection from the violence of the natives.

The board of naval officers designated to examine the different plans submitted for the refrigerating ship under the recent act of Congress have made their report to Secretary Thompson. They recommend the adoption of the plan submitted by John Gamgee with certain important technical modifications, with the recommendation that the ship be a steel-constructed vessel with wooden deck and wooden deck-houses. The vessel should be about 140 feet long and forty feet beam. The board also says that no vessel of the navy could be utilized for the purpose, as it would have to be thoroughly remodelled. Secretary Thompson has referred the report to the national board of health.

Concerning the Fishes.

There is an adage that "There are as good fish in the sea as ever were caught out of it." So there are, but it is questionable whether there are so many fish in the New England seas as there were when the Puritans arrived at Massachusetts, and Mason and Gorges' colony approached the coasts of Maine and New Hampshire. It is said that there were then so many fish in the waters as to impede the course of the vessels navigating them! It is quite certain that there are not so many at the present time. The Creator has placed everything in the world for the good of man, and gave him dominion over the fish in the seas and the beasts on the land, supposing that he had a sufficiency of brains to look after them; it does not appear, however, that there has been sense enough for that purpose in America.

Within the memory of the boys, lobsters could be caught along nearly every wharf in Portsmouth; but now they are scarce and difficult to be taken, on account of the wasteful destruction of the young and of the mothers. Every good fisherman knows this, and will assert the same fact. Lobsters are exposed here for sale every day which are under the legal size. Bass, which used to be so plentiful in the waters of the Piscataqua, are now reported scarce, because the young have been taken in seines and uselessly destroyed. When does history ever record so wasteful a people as are the people of the United States? Porgies and other fish, upon which the more edible fish feed, are seined and used for manure; thus making what are taken of the latter lean, it being more demonstrable in their livers.

The poaching laws of Europe are made for the benefit of the few against the many, and are well carried out; but the fish and game laws of this country are made for the benefit of the many, and are badly executed. There is room for improvement in this, for the benefit of the community.

Thanks to the fish commissioners of Massachusetts, salmon, which used to be plentiful in the Merrimac river and Winnipesaukee lake, are now there reproduced. Swimming along the coast they are attracted to the Piscataqua, another natural home, and caught in the seines at the mouth of the harbor, which destroy the business of the poor boat fishermen during these hard times. What is the use of the fish commissioners of Massachusetts hindering the poor men of the Merrimac from catching salmon, when they are gobbled up in weirs at the mouth of this harbor?

Salmon Falls owes its euphonious name to the former abundance of that fish on this river; why do not the fish commissioners of New Hampshire see that fish ways are put up at the heads of the river, and that the Piscataqua is restocked with salmon!

The trawling business seems to have ruined boat fishing, and it is difficult to prevent it except by a convention of the three principal nations interested,—England, France and the United States; but, fish commissioners of New England, why don't you look out, so far as possible, for the fishing interests of your coast?

News and Notes.

The Chippewas in northern Wisconsin recently piloted Charles and James Patrick of Eau Claire to a rich deposit of copper and silver ore, which they had stumbled upon in the dense forest of Barron county, and the discovery has caused much excitement in all that region.

The wheat ring which Jim Keene put into operation some months ago has finally raised the price of wheat so that the millers at Milwaukee are likely to have to stop grinding. The ring have extended the insurance on their stock until August, and the commission men and millers see no prospect of relief until the new crop comes in.

Wise heads differ as to the feasibility of the electric light for illuminating cities. A commission appointed by the municipal authorities of Paris to consider the matter report that the cost of the electric light rendered its adoption at present undesirable. On the other hand a committee of the British Parliament report that the electric light is more economical and effective than gas. Meanwhile Mr. Edison is still experimenting, and has evidently failed so far to realize the expectations he held out to the public. He promised to demonstrate by the first of this month that he could not only light a city with his electric process at one-third the cost of gas, but that he could introduce it into houses at one-half the cost.

James Murphy betrayed his pals in a Texas stage robbery three months ago. Apprehending revenge, he afterward voluntarily slept in jail, and went heavily armed by day; but the precautions were not sufficient, and he has been killed with poison.

A gentleman in Copian county, Miss., shipped his strawberry crop to Chicago and sold it for $10,000. He estimates that the money product of one acre in strawberries is equal to that of sixteen acres of cotton.

Phillip McDonald and John McMullen, two fishermen, reported lost at sea, have been taken into New York by the Norwegian bark Miner. On May 24th, in a dense fog, while setting trawls from a small dory, they lost sight of their vessel, and for three days drifted about in the open sea, without food or water. Their boat filled several times, and as they were becoming exhausted it seemed as if they must perish. As they were about to give up all hope a sail was sighted in the distance. Both men took oars and pulled toward it. The fog shut the vessel from view several times, but they finally reached it.

George Allen, who was taken in at the House of Mercy at Pittsfield, Mass., when sick and destitute last winter, and who has been kindly cared for ever since, stole about $35, from the matron and several patients on Saturday morning, and decamped.

The steamer City of Tokio, from Hong Kong, which arrived at San Francisco, Monday, brought 1020 Chinese passengers.

Ike Rector, a negro, and an ex-city detective, in a gambling-house fight at Galveston, Texas, shot Nathan Harris through the heart. The murderer was captured.

James Williams, a rough, confesses that he beat Rev. W. H. McNair at Newark, N. J., and has revealed the names of several rum-shops keepers who hired him to do the deed.

Samuel Bucher, city marshal of Westport, Mo., was instantly killed Sunday by William M. Gossard, a telegraph operator of Kansas City. Goessard had trouble with Bucher two weeks ago on account of fast driving, and Bucher in attempting to arrest him inflicted a severe wound with his cane. Gossard called Bucher from his house Sunday afternoon, and shot him dead. The murderer narrowly escaped lynching in Westport, but was lodged in jail at Kansas City.

Joseph A. Lasthans of Norwich, Conn., eighteen years old, shot himself dead with a pistol last week for some unknown reason. His body was found in the woods on Saturday.

Manly C. Steadman, alias Carlyle C. Steadman, late pastor of the Baptist church at Dover, Me., was highly popular there until it was found out that he was a first-class fraud, and also a bigamist, he having married a highly respectable young lady of Dover, while he had a wife and children living in New Brunswick. Steadman then cleared out, going to Minneapolis, but has been taken back to Dover, and on Monday was held for trial in $2000.

The proposals for the purchase of Portland's interest in the Portland & Rochester railroad were opened Monday. The Boston & Maine railroad bid $126,000; William G. Davis, supposed to represent the Maine Central, bid $155,000, with an offer to take seven per cent bonds at twenty per cent; George P. Wescott, supposed to represent the seven per cent bondholders, bid $175,000. At a meeting of the Portland city council in the evening, consideration of the proposals was postponed for one week.

Mrs. Daniel Chase was severely injured by lightning Monday afternoon, while in bed, at her residence in Middletown, R. I.

A number of spinners in several of the Fall River mills refused on Monday to give ten days' notice as ordered by the union on Saturday night, not sympathizing with the action of the meeting.

A man named Thomas French entered the store of John W. Day, in Haverhill, Mass., Monday afternoon, and, stepping up to a young man standing near the counter, drew a pistol from his pocket, saying, "I'm going to shoot you," and snapped the pistol at him. The charge missed fire, whereupon French placed the muzzle of the pistol in his own mouth and fired, the ball entering his head at the base of the skull. Medical aid was immediately summoned, but late in the afternoon the ball had not been extracted.

Among the musical contents of the Folio for July are two selections from "Fatinitza"—"The dream song" and "Fatinitza march." This number also contains a full-page portrait of E. H. Bailey, the musical composer, and the usual amount of reading matter. Published by White, Smith & Co., No. 516 Washington street, Boston.

Visitors to New York are always interested in the hotel at which they may stop while in the city, and in the present hard times, one combining comfort, luxury and economy is especially desirable. These features are characteristic of the Grand Union hotel, opposite the Grand Central depot. It is first-class in all appointments, having all modern improvements, with over 350 elegantly-furnished sleeping-rooms, rich suites, spacious parlors, dining and reading-rooms, and is kept on the European plan, thus affording guests the privilege of paying only for what they get. It is the universal verdict that the traveler can live at the Grand Union more luxuriously for less money than at any other first-class hotel in the city. Situated just opposite the depot, all expense of carriage hire and baggage express is saved its guests. Street cars and stages run every minute to all parts of the city. It is under the management of courteous gentlemen, who study to make guests fully at home, and justly merits the large patronage it receives.—New York People.

Political.

The Meridian, Miss., Mercury, a stalwart confederate organ, concludes a scolding lecture to the democratic Congress with the following good advice: "Dissolve the caucus, reject all of its expedients that have been prepared, pass the appropriations without riders, send them to the President and get his signature, adjourn and go home to a disgusted constituency that will be the more disgusted the longer you stay."

This is the way Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, announces that State sovereignty must be established: "In declaring that the 'national government' must protect 'national voters' in the exercise of their 'national duties,' Mr. Hayes and his party are endeavoring to establish strange gods in the land, which the people must cast down."

Francis Pitcher of Marlow attempted suicide by cutting his windpipe entirely off, but prompt attendance by a physician saved his life, last week. He is sixty years of age.

A young lady living in the vicinity of the Langdon corporation boarding-houses has been in the habit, of late, of receiving noticeable attentions from a married man, and during the past few weeks has plumed herself not a little, from the fact that her admirer has offered her a seat, on several occasions, behind a horse possessed of considerable speed. Last evening being very favorable for driving, the young lady was invited to view the speed of her gallant's equine, and she accepted. The wife left at home by the husband, hearing of the couple's being out together, put on her hat and hastened to the young lady's boarding-place, where for some time she remained, cautiously watching their return. They came at last, and the faithless husband, with all the politeness possible, assisted his fair friend to alight, and was about conducting her to the door, when his wife rushed to the buggy, quickly snatched the whip from its socket, and, in the presence of the fair one, and a few witnesses, gave her husband a severe castigation. Not at all disconcerted by the application of the lash, he kissed the young lady good night, saying that he would come again soon. As the deserted wife jumped into the buggy and drove off with him in high dudgeon, it is not so certain that he will come again so soon.—Manchester Mirror.

—At St. Ouen cemetery, in France, a husband, after trimming his wife's grave, knelt down, arranged his hair and dress and took off his hat, made a sign of the cross and blew out his brains. He had been a widower since January.

The balance is invariably on his side.—Elmira Advertiser.

AROUND HOME.

The new tide-gates at the south bridge were hung on Tuesday.

The graduating class of the high school will have a reception in Congress hall on the evening of exhibition day, the 26th inst.

Hon. John R. Reding has resigned the office of treasurer of St. John's church, and Mr. Robert C. Peirce has been chosen to and is now acting in that capacity.

The doctors went in large numbers to Concord on Tuesday, to attend the meeting of the State Medical Association. Dr. Odlin of Exeter gave the usual oration. The doctors dispatched the dinner as usual.

Commencement exercises at Phillips Academy, Exeter, took place on Tuesday. The students gave a ball in the town hall in the evening; supper served by Hersey. Portsmouth was represented among the dancers.

Henry F. Wendell sold by auction, on Tuesday, the Beck estate on Court street, consisting of the houses No. 19 and No. 21, the lot measuring about 10,000 feet; Charles H. Rollins, Esq., was the purchaser, for $2300.

Rev. H. L. Kelsey, formerly pastor of the Methodist church in this city but now settled over the Congregational church in Brockton, Mass., was married on the 3d inst. in Claremont, in this State, to Mrs. Nellie S. Moore of the latter town.

Monday evening a series of temperance meetings, to last through the week, were inaugurated in the tent on Miller avenue. They are to be conducted on the very sensible moral suasion basis, a new pledge being used. Mr. Waite, who made the initial address, spoke effectively, showing that as a speaker on that theme he is "at home," and can—if he will confine himself to it—do much good. Quite a number of signers were secured. —Times.

Mr. Willis G. Myers has "Caw's" ink, which is warranted to write black instantly, to flow freely, and not to fade, mould or thicken, and to be non-corrosive. If it possesses all these essentials it ought to be the favorite ink, and we advise a trial of its merits. Good ink is indispensable to good writing, and Mr. Myers claims that here is to be found a combination of all the good qualities required.

The Times of Tuesday evening says: "The U. S. S. Plymouth will go down to the compass station to-morrow, to receive her powder." Gracious! neighbor, you had better improve your mind by going down river Sundays, instead of writing religious editorials. The Plymouth is already anchored at the quarantine grounds, and won't take powder aboard for many a long month to come, if ever; and the "compass station," which was a big nuisance all the while it was maintained, the huge buoys being greatly in the way of sailing vessels, was abolished long ago.

The Gazette, of Haverhill, Mass., says: "The Ocean Breeze is the name of a weekly paper that parties are thinking of publishing at Hampton beach, this summer. The paper is to be largely devoted to the interests of Hampton, Salisbury and Rye beaches, Isles of Shoals, and matters on the Merrimack river. It will contain several original articles, including a poem, illustrated, and other articles illustrated. There will be two stories of local interest, one entitled 'At Last,' a romance of Hampton beach, and the other 'The riches of poverty,' the plot of which is laid in Haverhill. We learn that the first number will appear shortly."

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Minute guns were fired at the navy yard at noon on Tuesday, in honor of the late Rear Admiral Sylvanus W. Godon.

Chief Naval Constructor John W. Easby paid an official visit to the navy yard on Tuesday.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

The June session of this court was held at Exeter on Tuesday, Judge Clark presiding. There was but little business before the court, which adjourned in the afternoon sine die.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.

The friends of Faith Home, to the number of about one hundred, including members of nearly all the various churches, and some who belong to none, made an entirely unexpected call at the home on Tuesday afternoon, and on departing left behind them a similar number of packages, ranging all the way from a pound of sugar to a barrel of flour and a ton of coal, and also $78.50 in money. The trustees and managers return thanks to the friends who have so generously contributed of the good things of this life to the support of the home.

W. A. LOYNE, for the Home.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, June 16th.

The beach season opens favorably here—very much so, considering the unseasonably cold weather of several weeks past. Some boarders have already arrived, and the private boarding-houses have engaged a large number of their rooms. The hotels open to-day, all along the line.

Considerable improvements have been made in the hotels and boarding houses, and their surroundings, since last season; the grounds have in many cases been tastefully laid out, neat lawns arranged in front of some of the houses, and new driveways prepared.

That popular and well known hotel, the Atlantic and Farragut houses—I call them a hotel because they are virtually one establishment—has been largely improved by the Messrs. Philbrick; and will both probably be well filled, as usual. [If the grammar of this paragraph is not satisfactory, the reader can fix it to suit.]

One of the most attractive and best located hotels on the coast is the Sea View house, situated a short distance from the Farragut and where there is a good view of the ocean, and conducted by George G. Lougee, Esq., the proprietor, a landlord who always has an eye to the comfort and desires of his guests, and who is deservedly popular.

The Ocean Wave, the new hotel erected at Concord point by Knox & Co., since last season, is nearly ready for the reception of guests; it is a sightly building, and is said to be very fine inside and to have "all the modern improvements."

The summer cottage on the Tubbs place at Straw's point, for Hon. Dexter Richards of Newport, is nearly completed and is a very handsome structure.

Mr. David Philbrick has had a new roof put on his house, and his barn raised eight feet, at his place on the south road; and extensive repairs have been made on all his buildings, Mr. J. Wesley Dearborn of Hampton doing the carpenter work.

While the beach accommodations, in the shape of hotels, boarding-houses, new roads, etc., have been vastly increased of late years, the means of getting here are little better than of yore, clumsy and slow coaches being the only transportation from the railroad stations. A cheaply-constructed branch railroad from Hampton depot on the Eastern railroad to Rye beach, by way of Little Boar's Head, would be an excellent thing for the summer houses and a great accommodation to their guests; whether it would pay the railroad corporation or not is another queston.

The funeral of Arthur M. Randall, who died on Tuesday of last week, took place at his late home on Thursday, and was attended by a large number of his schoolmates, neighbors and friends of the family. Rev. Ira S. Jones, pastor of the Christian church, was the officiating clergyman. Deceased was the only son of the late Gilbert Randall, and was universally esteemed. He died of consumption, after a lingering illness.

It is reported that the Adventists of Rye are considering the advisability of inviting Elder A. A. Waite to pitch his tent in this town, and hold a series of meetings.

Should the Press Association of the State visit the beach, as it has been intimated may be the case, a reception by the citizens of the town is suggested.

Mr. Thomas H. Philbrick, a well-known citizen and prominent Odd Fellow of this town, who has been confined to his house since December last with paralysis, is slowly recovering, and it is hoped will soon be out again. His friends in the town recently subscribed $40, and purchased for him a nice easy-chair; and his friends on the navy yard, where he was for fourteen years a faithful watchman, recently made up a purse of about $40 for his benefit. SCRIBE.

—It is quite popular to conceal money in stoves, and while the profession of burglary is confined to the male sex it is a more secure place than a safe. No man will have any more to do with a stove than can possibly be helped.

Protect the System from Malaria.

It is possible to do this even in regions of country where miasma is most rife, and where the periodic fevers which it causes assume their most formidable types. The immense popularity of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is very largely attributable to the fact of its efficacy as a remedy for chills and fever, bilious remittents, and as a preventive of the various forms of malarial disease. In those portions of the West and South where complaints of this nature prevail, and in the tropics, it is particularly esteemed for the protective influence which it exerts; and it has been very widely adopted as a substitute for the dangerous and comparatively ineffective sulkaloid, sulphate of quinine. Physicians have not been among the last to concede its merits, and the emphatic professional indorsements which it has received have added to the reputation it has obtained at home and abroad.

A Time-honored Custom.

For the one hundred and tenth time the announcement is made that, in accordance with its vested rights secured by an inviolable charter, The Louisiana State Lottery Company will, as in its regular custom, proceed on the second Tuesday of next and every month to have, in the city of New Orleans, its regular monthly distribution, when $110,400 will be divided fairly among the purchasers of the tickets. The price, Two Dollars; halves, One Dollar each. For further information, address at once, M. A. Dauphin, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La.

The expenditure of brain power too early or too severely in children often results in physical debility; the use of Fellows' Hypophosphites exerts a singularly happy effect in such cases.

SANFORDS JAMAICA GINGER

Enlarged May 1, 1879. Price unchanged.

The only combination of the true Jamaica Ginger with choice aromatics and French brandy which prevents malarial fevers, regulates the stomach and bowels, perfects digestion, and insures protection from diseases and ailments incident to travel, is SANFORD'S JAMAICA GINGER. Put a bottle in your travelling bag. Ask for SANFORD'S. 4w

I have derived much benefit from using Fellows' Hypophosphites in chronic constipation.
JOHN B. MOORE, Forest City, Montana.

No preparation of Hypophosphites I have used can compare with Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites for restoring strength to the nervous system.
I think it the best medicine I ever used.
W. J. HORNER, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many clergyman who were obliged to withdraw from the pulpit on account of "Clergymen's Sore Throat," have recovered by using Fellows' Syrup Hypophosphites and are preaching again. This preparation seems peculiarly and wonderfully adapted to diseases of the breathing organs.

A CARD.

TO OWNERS OF DOGS.

Extract from Chap. 16, Ordinances of the City of Portsmouth:

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. * * any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of the chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

A Mystery Explained.

Parlor scene: Mrs. Brown, who has spent the summer among the White Mountains in search of health, and who seems to have searched the whole mountain side without being able to find a pair of blooming cheeks or an inch of healthful skin: Mrs. White, who has remained at home because her husband could not afford to go, but whose fresh complexion and bright eyes seem to have caught their bloom and brightness from mountain breezes.

Mrs. B.—Dear me, Mrs. White, how well you are looking! If you will not think me impertinent, let me ask how you can keep so healthy in this dreadful city? I have been to the White Mountains, go there every summer, in fact, and I can't keep off the doctor's list at that.

Mrs. W. (smiling).—I'll tell you the whole secret, Mrs. Brown. You remember how poorly I was last spring, some days even being confined to my bed. Dr. —— told Mr. White to send me to the mountains, but I knew he couldn't afford it, and I tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Its effects were so marvelous that I also tried his Golden Medical Discovery, to cleanse my system. In my opinion, one bottle of the Prescription and the Discovery is better than six weeks of the White Mountains for a sick woman. I have only been out of the city a week during the whole summer; then my husband and I went to Buffalo and stopped at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' and Tourists' Hotel. The baths and mechanical apparatus for treating patients were alone worth going to see. Besides, our accommodations were better than we had at Long Branch last year, and the drives and scenery are superb. Let me advise you to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and try the Invalids' and Tourists' Hotel next summer instead of the White Mountains.

—This is the time of the year at which the sentimental youth names a row-boat after his girl, and has it painted green.

GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

By its great and thorough blood-purifying properties, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all Humors, from the worst Scrofula to a common Blotch, Pimple, or Eruption. Mercurial disease, Mipoid Poisons, and their effects, are eradicated, and vigorous health and a sound constitution restablished. Erysipelas, Salt-rheum, Fever Sores, Scaly or Rough Skin, in short, all diseases caused by bad blood, are conquered by this powerful, purifying, and invigorating medicine.

Especially has it manifested its potency in curing Tetter, Blue Rash, Boils, Carbuncles, Sore Eyes, Scrofulous Sores and Swellings, White Swellings, Goitre or Thick Neck, and Enlarged Glands.

If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits, and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from "Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint" only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such Cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect and radical cures.

In the cure of Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and the early stages of Consumption, it has astonished the medical faculty, and eminent physicians pronounce it the greatest medical discovery of the age. While it cures the severest Coughs, it strengthens the system and purifies the blood. Sold by druggists.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

"THE LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC.

No use of taking the large, repulsive, nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients. These pellets are scarcely larger than mustard seeds. Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They act mildly without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Jaundice, Headache, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations from the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Internal Fever, Bloated feeling about Stomach, Rush of Blood to Head, and for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of these Purgative Pellets over so great a variety of diseases, it may be said that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair the properties of these Pellets. They are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. This is not the case with pills put up in cheap wooden or pasteboard boxes. For all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative, or Purgative, is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction. Sold by druggists.

CATARRH

SYMPTOMS.—Frequent headache, discharge falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, thick mucous, purulent, offensive, etc. In others, a dryness, dry, watery, weak, or inflamed eyes, stopping up, or obstruction, of the nasal passages, ringing in ears, deafness, hawking and coughing to clear the throat, ulcerations, scabs from ulcers, voice altered, nasal twang, offensive breath, impaired or total deprivation of sense of smell and taste, dizziness, mental depression, loss of appetite, indigestion, enlarged tonsils, tickling cough, etc. Only a few of these symptoms are likely to be present in any case at one time.

DR. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY

produces radical cures of the worst cases of Catarrh, no matter of how long standing. The liquid remedy may be snuffed, or better applied by the use of Dr. PIERCE'S Douche. This is the only form of instrument yet invented with which fluid medicine can be carried HIGH UP AND THOROUGHLY APPLIED to all parts of the affected nasal passages, and the chambers or cavities communicating therewith, in which sores and ulcers frequently exist, and from which the catarrhal discharge generally proceeds. Its use is pleasant and readily understood, from directions accompanying each instrument. Dr. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy cures recent attacks of "Cold in the Head" by a few applications. It is mild and pleasant to use, containing no strong or caustic drugs or poisons. Catarrh Remedy and Douche sold by druggists.
